

THE FIRST JEWISH AMERICANS

FREEDOM AND CULTURE IN THE NEW WORLD

Oct 28—Feb 26

170 Central Park West at 77th Street | nyhistory.org

This exhibit is based primarily upon loans from the Princeton University Jewish American Collection, gift of Mr. Leonard L. Milberg, Class of 1953, and Mr. Leonard L. Milberg's personal collection.

Lead support for this exhibition provided by Ellen and Leonard L. Milberg.

Additional support provided by Steven and Shelley Einhorn; and Stacy, Jason, Noah, and Talia Helfstein; Helen and Robert Appel; David Dangoor/American Sephardi Federation; Barbara K. and Ira A. Lipman Family; Ambassador John L. Loeb, Jr./The George Washington Institute for Religious Freedom; Jack and Susan Rudin; Pam and Scott Schafler; Jeffrey A. Schoenfeld; Laurie and Sy Sternberg; Norman S. Benzaquen; The David Berg Foundation; Michele and Martin Cohen; Susan and Greg Danilow; Lori and Mark Fife; Ruth and Sid Lapidus; The Lerner Foundation; Martin Lewis and Diane Brandt; Ann and Andrew Tisch; John and Jennifer Monsky; and Paul Biddelman and Donna Bascom.

Image: Thomas Sully, Rebecca Gratz, 1831. The Rosenbach of the Free Library.

NEW-YORK HISTORICAL SOCIETY
MUSEUM & LIBRARY
MAKING HISTORY MATTER