

List of Contributors

Susana Molins Llitas is presently reading for a Masters degree at the University of Cape Town in African Studies, focusing on Islam in West Africa.

Leila Davids is completing an MA in Research Psychology at UCT. Her thesis focuses on the multiple positionings of Cape Muslim women from the late 1600's through to the present.

Shathley Q recently had the dubious honor of being the first African academic to be invited off-continent to deliver a paper on comics. He is currently reading for his PhD, and is heavily involved as a core member of the Igubu Comics Collective, where he is both a regular contributor to Helix, SNLV and igubuZero. He is also editor of wireFrame and Ghostcode Cyber: Dead of Winter.

Margaret Lenta is an Emeritus Professor of English and an Honorary Research Fellow at the University of Natal. Her research interests are in 18th century women's letters and diaries and 20th century South African fiction. She is the co-editor of The Cape Diaries of Lady Anne Barnard, 1799-1800 (Cape Town: VRS, 1999).

Ebrahim Rasool is a politician and Leader of the African National Congress (ANC) in the Western Cape.

Abdulkader Tayob professor in the Department of Religious Studies at UCT. He is currently based at Nijmegen University in The Netherlands, where he is Chair of the Institute for the Study of Islam in the Modern World (ISIM).

Heribert Adam is a political sociologist at Simon Fraser University in Vancouver, Canada. He has published extensively on socio-political developments in South Africa and comparative ethnic conflicts.

Na'eem Jeenah is Associate Lecturer in Political Studies at the University of the Witwatersrand.

Farhana Ismail is a presenter of “Saut al-Nisa” [Women’s Voice] on The Voice 95.4FM and has been involved in a number of Muslim women’s rights campaigns in Gauteng.

Muhammad Haron teaches in the Department of Religion at the University of Botswana.

Tahir Fuzile Sitoto is a Lecturer in Religious Studies at the University of Natal (Pietermaritzburg). He has also served as President of the Muslim Youth Movement of South Africa (MYMSA) in the past.

Ebrahim Fakude is the chairperson of the Gauteng branch of the Muslim Youth Movement (MYM) as well as an occasional social critic.

Rebekah Lee is a D.Phil. student in Economic and Social History at Queen's College, University of Oxford.

Auwais Rafudeen is the Vice-Rector of the Islamic College of South Africa and holds a PhD from the University of Cape Town.

Abdullahi an-Naim is professor of Law at Emory University, in the United States, and has gained international acclaim for his work on Islamic Law and Human Rights.

Margot Badran is a historian of the modern Middle East and Islamic societies, and a specialist in gender studies. She is Senior Fellow at the Center for Muslim-Christian Understanding, Georgetown University. Currently, she is a Visiting Professor at ISIM (The Institute for the Study of Islam in the Muslim World), Leiden. She has recently become the Editor of Brill's new Series on Women and Gender in the Middle East and Islamic World.

Aslam Farouk-Alli is the editor of ARISA. He has just completed an M.Soc.Sci. degree in Religious Studies at UCT.