

List of Contributors

Shamil Jeppie teaches African and Middle Eastern history at the University of Cape Town.

Aslam Fataar is Associate Professor, Faculty of Education, University of the Western Cape

Munadia Karaan is a journalist and Head of News & Production for the community radio station Voice of the Cape.

Muhammed Haron teaches in the Department of Religion at the University of Botswana Somaya Abdullah holds a Phd in Religious Studies from UCT. She is currently based at the Institute for Justice and Reconciliation (IJR) and works on a community healing project. She is also co-editor of ARISA.

Abdulkader Tayob is professor in the Department of Religious Studies at UCT. He is currently based at Nijmegen University in The Netherlands, where he is Chair of the Institute for the Study of Islam in the Modern World (ISIM).

Leila Davids is completing an MA in Research Psychology at UCT. Her thesis focuses on the multiple positionings of Cape Muslim women from the late 1600's through to the present.

Shafinaaz Hassim holds an MA in Sociology from the University of the Witwatersrand.

Tahir Fuzile Sitoto is Lecturer in Religious Studies, School of Human and Social Studies, University of Natal, Pietermaritzburg.

Shahid Mathee teaches at the Islamic College of Southern Africa (ICOSA) and is completing an M.Soc.Sci. degree in religious studies at UCT.

Devarakshanam Betty Govinden teaches in the Department Of Education at the University of Durban-Westville.

Chris Barron is a journalist and writes for the Sunday Times.

shathley Q is currently reading for his PhD at UCT and is as a core member of the Igubu Comics Collective, where he is both a regular contributor to Helix, SNLV and igubuZero. He is also editor of wireFrame and Ghostcode Cyber: Dead of Winter.

Nazeem Manuel is a self-confessed bibliophile and an aspirant Publisher who has already published three titles under the Full Moon Press label.

Gabea Baderon writes poetry, and is presently researching images of Islam in South African media for a Ph.D. thesis.

Hussain Savant lives and works in Johannesburg and writes in his spare time.

Aslam Farouk-Alli is a part-time lecturer in the Department of Religious Studies at UCT and has also taught Arabic at UCT's School of Languages and Literature. He is the co-editor of ARISA.