

STATEMENT FOR #RAPEATUCT

Sexual and Reproductive Rights Programme [1]

Source: uctsurvivors.wordpress.com (15 March 2016)

Over the weekend, as the arrest of the suspected serial rapist dominated the news, we as UCT Survivors ask ?What about all the perpetrators of sexual violence in their class rooms and residences that UCT has not offered a reward for?? If the management of this institution are serious about tackling sexual violence on this campus, they need to be open about the perpetrators that are part of the UCT community. They need to be open about how their structures have failed survivors in the past. Last year, a review of the Discrimination and Harassment Office (DISCHO) was commissioned and UCT management has yet to make it public for comment from the whole UCT community. It details some of the failures of these structures and details management?s negligence towards these structures as well as the questionable qualifications of those appointed to head up the disciplinary procedures that are part of these structures. We as a collective are calling for the immediate release of this document. READ MORE [2]

- AGI on Twitter
- AGI on YouTube
- AGI on Facebook
- Search
- Contact
- Login

The African Gender Institute is a research grouping within the Faculty of Humanities at the University of Cape Town University of Cape Town

Except where otherwise noted, content on this site is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-Share Alike 2.5 License

Source URL: <http://agi.ac.za/news/statement-rapeatuct>

Links:

[1] <http://agi.ac.za/sexual-and-reproductive-rights>

[2] <https://uctsurvivors.wordpress.com/2016/03/14/statement-for-rapeatuct/>