

The Centre for Curating the Archive cordially invites you to attend its symposium, convened by our 2018 Honours in Curatorship students, on “Reimagining” Museums and Archives.

Throughout this year, our Honours in Curatorship students have encountered the term ‘Reimagining’, but found its scope and practice to be un(der)articulated. This intimate symposium, by way of moderated panel discussions, seeks to explore the intellectual and practical implications of “Reimagining”, in relation to both the holdings of museums and archives and the ways in which such holdings are exposed.

Friday, 30 November 2018 15h00 – 19h30 (see attached programme)
Library Room, Norval Foundation Please RSVP by 21 November to:
karen.ijumba@uct.ac.za

RE-IMAGINING

centre for CURATING
the archive

