Please join us for an information session about the engagement with the masjid as a site of research. Researchers Dr. Margherita Picchi and Mujahid Osman will be sharing their projects about the masjid's orientation to Islam, practice, and community with the congregation.

This will be an opportunity for the community to get to know about the masjid as a research site in the study of Islam. For further information, please contact Jaamia Galant at jaamia@googlemail.com.

Mujahid Osman is a doctoral candidate in the Graduate Division of Religion (GDR) at Emory University, a former CMRM Board member, and madrasa student.

Margherita Picchi (Ph.D. University of Naples "l'Orientale", 2016) is a Humboldt experienced research fellow at the Freiburg Institute of Advanced Studies (FRIAS) of the Albert-Ludwigs-Universität in Freiburg, and an honorary research affiliate at the Centre for Contemporary Islam (CCI) of the University of Cape Town.
