

07
DECEMBER

VULNERABLE SELVES

Conversations in Islamic Counselling

SEMINAR

SNAPE BUILDING, TEACHING
STUDIO 2C
UPPER CAMPUS UNIVERSITY OF CAPE TOWN

5pm - 7pm

Online Link: https://bit.ly/Vulnerable_Selves

Sabnum Dharamsi

A counsellor and clinical supervisor, co-founded the pioneering course 'Counselling in the Context of Racism' as well as a contemporary model of Islamic Counselling with her partner Stephen Abdullah Maynard. Sabnum is currently co-authoring "Islamic Counselling; a virtue driven approach", to be published by Cambridge University Press.

Stephen Abdullah Maynard

A counsellor with nearly four decades of experience, is founder of the Lateef Project, a UK based Islamic counselling service. Together with his partner Sabnum Dharamsi, they co-developed a certificate programme, Counselling in the Context of Racism (c.1990) as well as a contemporary therapeutic model 'Islamic Counselling' (c.1996).

Dr. Muna Bilgrami Discussant

Research Associate in
Dept of Religion at University of Johannesburg

Prof. Wahbie Long Discussant

Professor, Department of Psychology, UCT.

Chairperson

Prof. Sa'diyya Shaikh

Director of Centre for Contemporary Islam,
Department for the Study of Religions, UCT