Guide to the usage of this Handbook

The following is a general overview of the structure of this Handbook for the guidance of users. The contents are organised in a number of different sections (see below) each of which has a particular focus. The sections are interlinked by cross-references where relevant.

- (a) General Information: This section includes information on Faculty officers, the list of qualifications offered, a guide to terms and codes, and lists of the various prizes, medals and scholarships awarded on academic merit.
- (b) Faculty and qualifications rules: This section covers the Faculty rules and the rules which apply to each of the various qualifications and programmes offered by the Faculty. These rules should be read in conjunction with the general University rules in the General Rules and Policies Handbook (Handbook 3). Students are expected to acquaint themselves with the rules in both Handbooks and to check annually whether the rules or curriculum requirements have changed since the last edition.

Important rules: All students must familiarise themselves with the Qualification and Programme Rules in this Handbook. In addition, students must refer to Handbook 3, General Rules and Policies and particularly take note of the following:

- rules relating to registration and examinations;
- rules relating to changes of curriculum;
- rules relating to leave of absence;
- rules on Academic Conduct, N.B. the rules concerning dishonest conduct and plagiarism.

Detailed information on the undergraduate entrance requirements can be found in the University Prospectus. The PhD Degree rules are published in Handbook 3, General Rules and Policies.

- (c) Courses: This section contains entries for each department, school or unit in the Faculty, and for departments outside the Faculty whose courses are frequently taken by Humanities students. Each lists members of staff, the structure of majors, and the courses which are offered by the department, school or unit. Course descriptions are set out in alpha-numeric order based on the course code prefix.

List of Departmental Letter Codes

In numerous instances courses are referred to through use of their codes. To assist students a list of departmental letter codes is given below. This is not a comprehensive list, but includes those teaching courses most frequently taken by students in this Faculty. In cases where a code is not understood, the department should be identified from the list, and then the departmental entry in this Handbook, or the Department itself, should be consulted.

Structure of Course Codes

The code structure is uniform and it gives important information about the course. Each code has eight characters, as follows: AAA1nnnS, where

AAA	is a 3 alpha-character group identifying the department
1	is a number representing the year of study in which the course is usually taken
nnn	is a 3 character number that identifies the course uniquely
S	is a single alpha-character suffix, giving information about the duration and semester placement of the course

Suffixes which are most frequently used in the Faculty are:

F	First semester course
S	Second semester course
W	Whole-year course
H	Half-course taught throughout the year
Z	Non-standard period

Summer/Winter Term courses:

P	November - December
U	November - January
L	June -July

The following examples show how the codes work:

ELL1013F English Literary Studies

ELL	designates an English course
1	designates a first year course
013	serves to distinguish this course from other first year English courses
F	designates a first semester course

HST2047S Gender and History

HST	designates a History course
2	designates a second year course
047	serves to distinguish this course from other second year History courses
S	designates a second semester course

Abbreviations and Definitions

Concession: Formal Senate approval exempting a student from complying with a required rule.

Co-requisite: A subject or course for which a student must be registered concurrently with (at the same time as) another course.

Pre-requisite: A subject or course that a student must have completed in order to gain admission to another (usually a more senior) course.

Curriculum: Prescribed course of study for a degree or diploma.

DP (Due Performance) requirement: Required minimum level of performance during the semester or year to qualify a student to do an examination in a particular course or module.

Exemption: Exemption from a course means that the student need not register for this course since he/she has studied a sufficiently similar course before. He/she is granted credit for the course studied before.

Continuous assessment: Evaluation of a student's performance (by means of written, oral or practical work) during the year, before the final examination in a particular course.

NQF credits, HEQSF qualification levels and HEQSF course levels:

All South African tertiary institutions are required to align their qualifications with the prescriptions of the national Higher Education Qualifications Sub-Framework. Each qualification has an exit level and is required to have a minimum number of HEQSF credits at that level. One credit equals 10 notional hours of learning.

The HEQSF requires the following credits per qualification:

- Postgraduate Diploma (exit level 8): Minimum total credits: 120, minimum credits at level 8: 120.
- Bachelor Honours degree (exit level 8): Minimum total credits: 120, all at level 8.
- Master's degree (exit level 9): Minimum total credits: 180. Minimum credits at level 9: 120; maximum credits at level 8: 60. (A full dissertation master's will be 180 credits at level 9).
- Doctoral degree (exit level 10): Minimum total credits: 360 at level 10.

Programme, qualification and specialisation: A programme is a purposeful and structured set of learning experiences that leads to a qualification. Within a qualification (e.g. Master of Social Science) there may be various specialisations (for example a Sociology or Justice and Transformation specialisation in the MSocSc). In some cases there is a single programme within a qualification.

Specialisations: Within a postgraduate programme there may be several "specialisations," each of which has its own plan code.

Named qualification vs. specialisations in a "generic" qualification: Special application must be made to the Higher Education Qualifications Council to use the full name of a programme, e.g. Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology as opposed to Master of Arts with a specialisation in Creative Writing.

Programme/course convener: Academic staff member in charge of offering the degree or diploma programme or a course within the degree or diploma programme.

Psychology

To become a Psychologist in one of the recognised areas of Psychology, namely Neuropsychology, Clinical, Counselling, Educational, Organisational and Research Psychology, a student must complete a recognised Master’s degree in Psychology and an appropriate practicum at a recognised training institution. The duration of a practicum is 12 months. Persons registered from 1 January 2005 in addition will have to write an examination set by the Professional Board for Psychology.

The Department of Psychology at the University of Cape Town provides training leading towards registration in Clinical Psychology and registration in Neuropsychology. The School of Management Studies in the Faculty of Commerce provides training leading towards registration in the fields of Organisational Psychology.

Social Work & Social Development

Practice in the field of Social Work is regulated by the Council for Social Service Professions, with which all Social Workers must register. The Council lays down the minimum standards of both academic and practical training requisite for professional registration, and the Department of Social Work and Social Development provides training in terms of these standards.

Under current legislation, the minimum requirement for professional registration with the Council is a 4-year BSW degree. Students registered for the BSW degree are required to register as student social workers from the second year of study.

The South African Council for Social Service Professions will accept the UCT 3-year BSocSc(SW) degree plus an Honours degree offered by the Department of Social Work and Social Development as equivalent to the BSocSc(SW) 4-year degree for registration as a Social Worker.

NOTE: Those students who registered prior to 1988 and completed the BSocSc (B curriculum) degree must be in possession of the BSocSc(SW) Honours degree or the Advanced Diploma in Social Work to qualify for professional registration with the Council for Social Service Professions.

FACULTY RULES AND CURRICULA FOR QUALIFICATIONS AND PROGRAMMES OF STUDY

POSTGRADUATE CERTIFICATES AND DIPLOMAS

The following rules shall be read in conjunction with the University General Rules and Policies in Handbook 3. By virtue of inclusion on the Institution's DHET approved Programme and Qualification Mix (PQM), all qualifications included in this Handbook are accredited by the Council on Higher Education's permanent sub-committee - the Higher Education Quality Committee. Where a SAQA ID has not been provided, the qualification is awaiting the SAQA ID. The higher education sector has undergone an extensive alignment to the Higher Education Qualification sub Framework and thus all institutions are awaiting the finalisation of the process and completion of the awarding of SAQA ID's. Please consult Handbook 2 or the HEQSF Programme and Qualification Mix (PQM) on the Institutional Planning Department's website, as approved by the Department of Higher Education and Training, for a list of all UCT's accredited qualifications.

Admission requirements

FG3

- 3.1 Unless otherwise specified, any one of the following may be admitted by Senate as a candidate for the postgraduate certificate or the postgraduate diploma:
 - a graduate of the University;
 - a graduate of another university recognised by Senate;
 - a person with any other qualification which Senate considers to be equivalent to a Bachelor's degree.
- 3.2 Admission is on the recommendation, and at the discretion, of the Head of Department.

3.3 Candidates must apply by the deadline set by the University. Late applications may be considered at the discretion of the Head of Department.

3.4 To be admitted to the programme specialisations listed below, a candidate must meet additional requirements as follows:

3.4.1 Postgraduate Certificate in FET Teaching

(a) A person may be admitted as a candidate for the certificate if he/she has completed the requirements of an approved 360- or 480-credit bachelor's degree of this University or of another university recognised by Senate for this purpose.

Except by permission of Senate, a person shall not be admitted as a candidate for the certificate unless:

(b) he/she has completed a degree containing English or Mathematics from the list of the subject method courses English must have been studied for three years (three whole year courses or six semester courses comprising a minimum of 120 credits). Mathematics must have been studied for at least two years (two whole year courses or four semester courses comprising a minimum of 60 credits).

3.4.2 Postgraduate Certificate in Senior Phase and FET Teaching

(a) A person may be admitted as a candidate for the certificate if he/she has completed the requirements of an approved 360- or 480-credit bachelor's degree of this University or of another university recognised by Senate for this purpose.

(b) Except by permission of Senate, a person shall not be admitted as a candidate for the certificate unless he/she has completed a degree containing two school subjects from the list of the subject method courses. Each of the subjects must have been studied in a degree for two years (two whole year courses or two semester courses per year each), comprising a minimum of 60 credits each; with the exception of Life Skills (for which three years of Psychology and a minimum of 120 credits is required) and Mathematics (for which one year of Mathematics and a minimum of 30 credits is required).

(c) Except by permission of Senate, a person shall not be admitted as a candidate for the certificate with a specialisation in Music unless he/she has:

i) completed the requirements of an approved 360- or 480 degree or a diploma in music of this University or of another university recognised by Senate for this purpose.

ii) obtained a minimum of 65% in MUZ2351H MTAII, MUZ2350H Music Theory II, MUZ2375H African Music Theory II or MUZ2363H Jazz Theory II, or equivalent; and passed a music theory test.

iii) obtained a minimum of 60% in instrument/vocal studies at B3 level or equivalent, or audition. Candidates who have not completed instrumental or vocal studies at B4 level are required to take this course during their PGC year.

Please note that there is a cap of 15 enrolments per year for the specialisation in music.

3.4.3 Postgraduate Diploma in Adult and Community Education and Training

A candidate is required to hold a 4-year BEd degree, or a 3-year Bachelor's degree, or a Level 7 Advanced Diploma (HEQSF level 7), in a cognate specialisation. An added advantage is that the candidate has work or volunteer experience in the field of ACET/Vocational Education.

3.4.4 Postgraduate Diploma in African Studies

The undergraduate record must demonstrate that the candidate has promise as a future postgraduate.

3.4.5 Postgraduate Diploma in Educational Technology

A candidate is required to hold an appropriate 360-credit Bachelor’s degree or an appropriate Advanced Diploma (HEQSF level 7). All applicants are required to pass a pre-admission test and interview.

3.4.6 Postgraduate Diploma in Fine Art

Admission to the Postgraduate Diploma in Fine Art is subject to the submission and acceptance of a portfolio of recent creative work and the availability of appropriate teaching staff and studio space.

3.4.7 Postgraduate Diploma in Higher Education Studies

A candidate is required to hold an appropriate 360-credit Bachelor’s degree or an appropriate Advanced Diploma (HEQSF level 7) and to have a record of professional and academic work considered by Senate to be satisfactory for this purpose.

3.4.8 Postgraduate Diploma in Library and Information Studies

A candidate is required to hold an appropriate 360-credit Bachelor’s degree or an appropriate Advanced Diploma (HEQSF level 7).

3.4.9 Postgraduate Diploma in Music Performance

A candidate is required to

- (a) hold an appropriate four-year BMus degree or an Advanced Diploma in Music/Opera or equivalent, of the University or of any other university or institution recognised by Senate for this purpose;
- (b) have a first class pass in the performance requirements for the undergraduate degree or diploma;
- (c) have sufficient musical and other relevant background to satisfy the Board of the Faculty of Humanities;
- (d) if required, perform an audition and/ or submit an audio-visual recording of a recent performance;

Candidates admitted to the diploma are required to pass the Interim Major Recital to be eligible to continue with the specialisation.

Registration and Duration of Study

- FG4 4.1 The prescribed work must be completed in one year of full-time study or, in the case of the Postgraduate Diploma in Music Performance, in two years of full-time study.
- 4.2 Except by permission of Senate, candidates completing the certificate or the diploma on a bona fide part-time basis must complete the prescribed work within two academic years of first registration
- 4.3 No registration for the Postgraduate Certificates in Education will be allowed after the start of the school observation week. No entry to Postgraduate Certificate in Education classes will be allowed after the first teaching week of the academic year. Exceptions to this rule can only be granted by the convener on or before the advertised registration date.

Progress through certificate/diploma

- FG5 5.1 By permission of Senate, a candidate who fails a course may repeat or offer a substitute course, if one is available.
- 5.2 A candidate who fails more than one prescribed course for the certificate or the diploma will not be permitted to renew registration for the certificate or diploma, respectively.

- 5.3 Except by permission of Senate, a candidate for the certificate or the diploma may not register concurrently for any course not formally part of the curriculum.
- 5.4 A candidate may be granted credit for no more than two courses from another university, by permission of Senate.

Examination

FG6

- 6.1 A candidate is required to pass all components of the certificate or the diploma programme.
- 6.2 Except by permission of Senate, a candidate may not repeat a course prescribed for the certificate or the diploma more than once.
- 6.3 A candidate registered for the programme specialisations listed below is subject to the following examination requirements:

6.3.1 Postgraduate Certificates in Education

- (a) A candidate who fails in not more than three courses of their prescribed curriculum may be permitted to retain credit for courses completed and repeat the course or courses failed.
- (b) A candidate who fails three or more prescribed courses; or the School Experience course and two other courses may be required to repeat the whole year.
- (c) A candidate who fails four or more prescribed courses; or the School Experience course and three other courses will not be eligible to repeat the whole year.

Further assessment upon failure to pass School Experience:

- (d) Senate may permit a candidate who fails School Experience to present himself/herself for re-assessment provided that such assessment is completed within one calendar year of the initial teaching practice period; and a candidate who fails upon reassessment will not be able to repeat the course.

Note: The School Experience courses for the Postgraduate Certificate in Education specialisations are: Senior Phase & Further Education Training: EDN3206W.

6.3.2 Postgraduate Diploma in African Studies

- (a) To be awarded the diploma, not less than 50% must be obtained for each course.
- (b) All work must be handed in on time. In the interests of fairness to all students, it is not the policy of the Centre for African Studies to grant extensions. Late work will be submitted to the Academic Committee of CAS and may be penalised. The Academic Committee may refuse to accept late work for grading, in which case a mark of zero will be given.

6.3.3 Postgraduate Diploma in Fine Art

- (a) Students enrolled in the programme will offer for examination an exhibition of creative work at the end of the academic year in which they wish to graduate. This creative work must have been completed during the period of registration and must not have been exhibited prior to examination. In the event that the work is exhibited publicly after the successful completion of the diploma, acknowledgement must be made to the School and the University.
- (b) Guidelines for the documentation of practical work apply.

(c) No re-submission is possible in the event of a Fail grade.

NOTE: No publication or exhibition by a candidate may, without prior permission of the University, contain a statement that the published or exhibited material was or is to be submitted in part or in full for the diploma.

Distinction

FG7

- 7.1 Unless otherwise specified, the diploma may be awarded with distinction where an overall average of 75% or more is achieved and not less than 70% in any one component of the programme.
- 7.2 A candidate for the programme specialisations listed below will be considered for distinction where he/she has met the following requirements:

7.2.1 Postgraduate Certificates in Education

The certificate may be awarded with distinction to a candidate who obtains at least 75% each for the School Experience course and Education course and an average of 75%.

NOTE: The School Experience courses and Education courses for the Postgraduate Certificate in Education specialisations are: Senior Phase & Further Education Training: EDN3206W School Experience, EDN3200W Education

7.2.2 Postgraduate Diploma in Music Performance

A distinction is calculated as follows: Interim Major Recital 30%, two Minor recitals 15% each and the Final Major Recital 40%. A sub-minimum of 70% is required in each recital to qualify for a distinction. An average of 75% must be obtained for a distinction.

The programme for all performances must be submitted to Senate for approval two months prior to the recital. If the programme includes any obscure or otherwise unfamiliar material, the candidate must submit information regarding this material, including appropriate scores, and/or transcriptions, sound and/or audio-visual recordings, and any other relevant information when submitting the programme for approval. No work played in its entirety in an earlier examination at this or any other institution may be repeated in any other examination without permission from the SACM Higher Degrees Committee. The duration indicated should be accurate for the candidate's own performance.

Senate may, on the recommendation of the examiners, require a candidate to repeat once, any or all of the performing requirements. Each of the four recitals must be passed. The recitals are to be performed in the order listed for the curriculum. The student may register for both minor recitals in the same year, if he/she wishes to present them in a single session with a five-minute break.

Postgraduate Diploma in Fine Art (120 NQF credits)
[FIN01]

Convener:
 Associate Professor F Langerman

The Postgraduate Diploma in Fine Art offers a coherent, graduate study path for artists and teachers who have Fine Art degrees and wish to upgrade their academic status, or those who have not yet acquired degree status, but who hold recognised advanced diplomas (HEQSF level 7) or equivalent in aspects of the visual arts. This programme develops practical skills and conceptual thinking in fine art practice. Students work within a studio of senior students and develop a practical proposal of choice. This culminates in a professional exhibition at the end of the year of study that demonstrates a sound understanding of contemporary practice. The submission is accompanied by a visual catalogue with an introductory essay. A weekly reading group introduces core readings and critical issues.

Compulsory (core) courses:

Code	Course	NQF Credits	NQF Level

Postgraduate Diploma in Higher Education Studies (120 NQF credits)

[EDN03]

The Postgraduate Diploma in Higher Education Studies (HES) aims to support lecturers in higher education in professionalising their teaching practice. Courses are offered to equip academics to improve as educators in a rapidly changing higher education environment. These can be taken as stand-alone courses or can accrue towards a postgraduate qualification. These courses are seen as an important contribution to the professional development of academics who seek the opportunity to critically examine their practice in the context of transition and change. Applicants are required to have experience of teaching in a higher education context and should preferably be teaching while undertaking the programme. The implication of this is therefore that students undertake the PGDip HES over two years. The programme is made up of three core courses and one elective course, meaning students are required to take EDN4504F (Learning and Teaching in Higher Education) and EDN4505S (Assessment & Evaluation in Higher Education) in Year 1; and EDN4510F (Higher Education Curriculum & Course Design) and an elective in Year 2.

Programme Convener:

Dr T Mayisela

Compulsory (core) courses

Code	Course	NQF Credits	NQF Level
EDN4504F	Learning & Teaching in Higher Education	30	8
EDN4505S	Assessment & Evaluation in Higher Education	30	8

EDN4501W	Online Learning Design*	30	8
EDN4509W	Researching Practice in Education (Offered in 2025 and every second year)	30	8

Or, any other HEQSF level 8, 30 credit module approved by the Head of the Department.

The programme is offered in hyflex mode. Students from Cape Town are required to attend face-to-face. Students from outside Cape Town can request permission to join online from the programme convener.

*This course is offered in block release format (i.e. 6 full days per course and eight weeks of readings and assignments) – a combination of face-to-face and online format

Those who wish to register for a Masters of Education (HES) upon completion of the PGDIP and do not meet the Masters requirements, must successfully complete EDN4509W, which incorporates a supervised research paper, as an elective.

HONOURS DEGREES

The following rules shall be read in conjunction with the general University rules for Honours degrees in Handbook No 3, and with the rules for Honours specialisations in the Departmental Section of this handbook. By virtue of inclusion on the Institution's DHET approved Programme and Qualification Mix (PQM), all qualifications included in this Handbook are accredited by the Council on Higher Education's permanent sub-committee - the Higher Education Quality Committee. Where a SAQA ID has not been provided, the qualification is awaiting the SAQA ID. The higher education sector has undergone an extensive alignment to the Higher Education Qualification sub Framework and thus all institutions are awaiting the finalisation of the process and completion of the awarding of SAQA ID's. Please consult Handbook 2 or the HEQSF Programme and Qualification Mix (PQM) on the Institutional Planning Department's website, as approved by the Department of Higher Education and Training, for a list of all UCT's accredited qualifications.

Admission requirements

- FH3 3.1 A person shall not be admitted as a candidate for an Honours degree unless he/she is:
- (a) a graduate of the Faculty who has been awarded a Bachelor's degree with the equivalent of a major in the subject in which he/she proposes to proceed to Honours, or has subsequently met the conditions which would have enabled him/her to be awarded the degree with that subject as a major subject, and has satisfied such other conditions as departmental rules may require; or
 - (b) a graduate of any other faculty in the University who has completed courses accepted by the Senate as equivalent to those required under 3.1(a) above; or
 - (c) a graduate of any other university recognised by the Senate for such purpose who has completed courses accepted by the Senate as equivalent to those required under 3.1(a).
- 3.2 A person must comply with any additional admission requirements prescribed for the programme for which he or she wishes to be admitted as a candidate.

Registration date

- FH4 Except where another date is set, a candidate for the Honours degree shall register not later than the Friday of the week preceding the start of the academic year.

Registration and readmission requirements

- FH5 5.1 Full-time study
 Except by permission of Senate, a full-time candidate shall attend and complete the work prescribed for the degree within one year of full-time study.
- 5.2 Part-time study
- (a) A two-year programme may be offered for bona fide part-time students by any department in the Faculty which offers an Honours course, at the discretion of the Head of the Department concerned. Applications from students for the two-year programme shall be submitted, together with evidence that the applicant is a bona fide part-time student, by the Head of the Department concerned to the Board of the Faculty for approval.
 - (b) A part-time candidate shall attend and complete the prescribed work for the degree within two years of part-time study.
- 5.3 Readmission requirements
 Except with the permission of Senate, students registered for a programme of study towards an Honours degree shall be excluded from the Faculty if they have not passed at least half of the credits required for the programme.

Extended Honours programme

- FH6 In exceptional circumstances, the Senate may permit a graduate it deems worthy on academic grounds but who does not have an adequate undergraduate background, to undertake a full-time Honours programme over two years. In such a case, the candidate must complete in the first-year courses prescribed by the Senate, chosen to strengthen his/her background, and may undertake a portion of the Honours programme, provided that this portion does not exceed 30% of the full programme. Such a student shall register as an occasional student in the first year. On successful completion of the first year, he/she will be permitted to register as an Honours candidate, and complete the remainder of the Honours programme in the second year.

Obtaining the degree

FH7 An Honours candidate shall not attend courses not included in the work prescribed for the degree, or write examinations other than those prescribed for the degree, except by permission of Senate.

Note: Where the same course is offered for both the honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

Assessment

- FH8 8.1 The Honours examination shall consist of such written papers and such oral, practical and other tests as may be prescribed from time to time.
Research that involves human participants or animal use for research or teaching must undergo ethics review, according to faculty-specific guidelines. Review generally entails prior approval of a research proposal by a Research Ethics or Animal Ethics Committee. In cases where prior approval is not appropriate, the research proposal should be subjected to appropriate deliberative procedures, according to faculty-specific guidelines. Research papers or dissertations that involve human participants or animal use may not be submitted for examination if they have not undergone any ethics review process.
- 8.2 A candidate is required to pass each component of the Honours programme. Candidates who have attempted and failed a core course for the Honours degree (including the Research Essay) and received a numerical grade <50% will have failed the degree and will be given an academic standing of FAIL.
- 8.3 The names of the successful candidates in the Honours examination shall be published in three classes.
- 8.4 Unless otherwise specified, the research essay/project component of the Honours programme should be 15,000 words in length.
- 8.5 Unless otherwise specified, any research essay component of a full-time Honours programme shall be submitted for examination by no later than 15 November of the candidate's first year of study.
- 8.6 A candidate shall comply with such other requirements for specific programmes as the Senate may prescribe.

Re-examination

- FH9 9.1 A candidate who fails an Honours course will not be permitted to repeat the course but may replace it with another course, provided it is not a core or compulsory course for the programme. Senate permission is required to substitute a core/compulsory course.
- 9.2 BEdHons: A candidate who fails the elective course (specialisation) of the Bachelor of Education Honours will only be allowed to repeat or replace the elective (specialisation) once.

Concession

FH10 Any exemption from or modification of the above rules is subject to approval by the Senate.

MASTER'S DEGREES

The following rules must be read in conjunction with the general rules for the degree of Master and the degree of Master of Philosophy in Handbook No 3. By virtue of inclusion on the Institution's DHET approved Programme and Qualification Mix (PQM), all qualifications included in this Handbook are accredited by the Council on Higher Education's permanent sub-committee - the Higher Education Quality Committee. Where a SAQA ID has not been provided, the qualification is awaiting the SAQA ID. The higher education sector has undergone an extensive alignment to the Higher Education Qualification sub Framework and thus all institutions are awaiting the finalisation of the process and completion of the awarding of SAQA ID's. Please consult Handbook 2 or the HEQSF Programme and Qualification Mix (PQM) on the Institutional Planning Department's website, as approved by the Department of Higher Education and Training, for a list of all UCT's accredited qualifications.

Admission requirements

- FM3
- 3.1 Except by permission of the Senate a person shall not be admitted as a candidate for the degree unless he or she is an Honours graduate of the Faculty, or a graduate of this or another faculty or another university who holds a degree recognised by the Senate for this purpose.
 - 3.2 The Honours degree, or its equivalent, normally shall be in the subject in which the candidate wishes to pursue his/her studies for the degree.
 - 3.3 If the Honours degree has been taken in a combination of language subjects, a candidate may proceed to the MA degree in one of those subjects on the recommendation of the Head of the Department concerned and with the approval of the Faculty Board.
 - 3.4 By permission of the Senate, on the recommendation of the Faculty Board and the Head of the Department concerned, a person may be admitted as a candidate for the Master's degree after completing a three-year Bachelor's degree. In such cases the Master's degree shall not be awarded until at least two years after the completion of the Bachelor's degree by virtue of which the student was accepted.
 - 3.5 Unless otherwise specified, a candidate for the Master's programme must achieve an average of not less than 60% in the Honours year to be accepted.
 - 3.6 A person must comply with the admission requirements prescribed for the programmes for which he or she wishes to be admitted as a candidate.

- 3.7 On applying for admission to the Master's degree by dissertation, each candidate shall submit a proposal for approval and must satisfy the Senate as to the suitability of his or her subject and the conditions under which it will be carried out.
- 3.8 Admission is on the recommendation of the Programme Convenor and/or the Head of Department.

Registration and readmission requirements

- FM4 4.1 Minimum period
 - (a) Except where otherwise determined for specific degree specialisations, a candidate for the degree shall be registered as such for at least one year, provided that a candidate, whom the Senate has permitted to register without an Honours degree or its equivalent, shall be registered for at least two years.
 - (b) In the case of the degree of Master of Fine Art, a candidate must be registered for the degree for at least two years.
- 4.2 Readmission requirements
 - (a) Candidates registered for a master's degree are expected to complete within two years of registration.
 - (b) Except with the permission of Senate, students registered for a programme of study towards a master's coursework degree shall be excluded from the Faculty if they have not passed at least half of the semester courses required for the programme.
 - (c) A research candidate shall obtain permission from the Faculty Board for each succeeding year of registration and must satisfy the Board that there are adequate grounds for the granting of such permission. The Board's decision shall be based on the supervisor's progress report.
- 4.3 A candidate shall not attend courses not included in the work prescribed for the degree, or write examinations other than those prescribed for the degree, except by permission of Senate.

Note: Where the same course is offered for both the honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

Registration dates

- FM5 Except where earlier dates are set for specific specialisations:
 - 5.1 a candidate registering for the first time for the degree by dissertation only may register at any time up until 1 May;
 - 5.2 a returning candidate for the degree by dissertation only must register by not later than the last Friday of February each year;
 - 5.3 a candidate for the degree by coursework and dissertation must register by not later than the Friday of the week preceding the start of the academic year;
 - 5.4 a candidate who fails to register by the required date and who is permitted to register late shall be liable for a late registration fee.

Examination

- FM6 6.1 The degree may be conferred after the acceptance of a dissertation on an approved topic embodying research under the guidance of a supervisor appointed by the Senate, or after the candidate has satisfactorily completed advanced courses of study as prescribed by the Senate, or by a combination of dissertation, advanced courses of study, and a creative and/or practical component. In all cases an oral examination may be required.

Research that involves human participants or animal use for research or teaching must undergo ethics review, according to faculty-specific guidelines. Review generally entails prior approval of a research proposal by a Research Ethics or Animal Ethics Committee. In cases where prior approval is not appropriate, the research proposal should be subjected to appropriate deliberative procedures, according to faculty-specific guidelines. Research papers or dissertations that involve human participants or animal use may not be submitted for examination if they have not undergone any ethics review process.

- 6.2 In the case of examination by coursework and dissertation, a candidate must obtain at least 50% for each coursework component and for the dissertation.
- 6.3 The dissertation
- (a) must be satisfactory in arrangement and expression and must be typewritten or printed;
 - (b) must be prefaced by an abstract prepared according to the guidelines approved by the Senate;
 - (c) must show thorough practical and/or academic knowledge of the approved subject and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical power in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered;
 - (d) may embody such original work of others as may be pertinent;
 - (e) must contain correct and proper acknowledgements of all sources;
 - (f) may include the candidate's own published material on the same subject, if the prior permission of the Senate has been obtained;
 - (g) must include in the title page a signed declaration that the work has not previously been submitted in whole or in part for the award of any degree;
 - (h) that it is the candidate's own work and that any contributions to and quotations in the dissertation have been cited and referenced.
- 6.4 Unless otherwise specified, the dissertation component of a coursework Master's degree shall be not more than 25,000 words in length, while that of a research Master's degree shall be not more than 50,000 words in length.
- 6.5 A candidate shall comply with such other requirements for specific specialisations as the Senate may prescribe.
- 6.6 A candidate shall not be permitted to graduate until any corrections and alterations required by the Senate have been made to the copy of the dissertation, plus a read-only version on compact disc.
- 6.7 Unless otherwise specified, the Master's degree will be awarded with distinction if the candidate obtains an overall average mark of 75% or higher and not less than 70% for any component of the degree.
- 6.8 A candidate whose dissertation is failed will not be allowed to present him/herself as a candidate for the Master's degree again for the examination in the same field of study, but may, with the permission of Senate, be admitted to another field of study.

- 6.9 A candidate who fails a Masters course will not be permitted to repeat the course but may replace it with another course, provided it is not a core or compulsory course for the programme. Senate permission is required to substitute a core/compulsory course.
- 6.9.1 MA in Clinical Psychology
A candidate who fails PSY5002W Coursework - Clinical Psychology will have failed the Masters degree and will have their academic standing recorded as FAIL.
- 6.9.2 MA in Neuropsychology
A candidate who fails PSY5025W Clinical Practicals will have failed the Masters degree and will have their academic standing recorded as FAIL.

Submission of dissertation

- FM7 7.1 Where a candidate intends to submit his or her dissertation or research project for examination, he or she must inform the Faculty office in writing of his or her intention to do so six weeks before submitting the dissertation for examination (see GM17 in the University General Rules, Handbook No.3). Notification of the intention to submit should be submitted electronically, using PeopleSoft.
- 7.2 It is recommended that the dissertation be submitted for examination five months before the graduation ceremony to allow time for the examination process to run its course. The University does not undertake to reach a decision on the award of the degree by any specific date.
Note: Graduation dates are published in the academic calendar available on the university website.
- 7.3 A rebate on the annual academic fee for a doctoral thesis or master's dissertation is granted for submission according to the schedule published in the Fees Handbook.
Note: Candidates who submit by 12 noon on the first day of the new academic year will not be required to re-register.
- 7.4 Candidates are required to submit the final .pdf version of their dissertation on PeopleSoft together with a Turnitin Originality Report which has been signed off by the supervisor/s.
- 7.5 No dissertation, or part thereof, which has previously been submitted for examination for any degree at any university, may be submitted for, or may be accepted for a Master's degree in the Faculty.

Declaration

- FM8 8.1 The dissertation must be accompanied by an undertaking in writing, signed by the candidate, empowering the University to reproduce for the purpose of research either the whole or any portion of the contents in any manner whatsoever, unless this requirement is waived by the Senate.
- 8.2 In the case of the Creative Writing specialisation, the dissertation must be accompanied by an undertaking in writing, signed by the candidate, empowering the University to publish the work in whole or in part in any format the University deems fit, on the understanding that:
- (a) the University will not publish or reproduce any part of the dissertation that has been published by the candidate, while it is in print, other than by placing a copy of the work in UCT libraries;

- (b) the University will not publish or reproduce the creative work that forms part of the dissertation without consulting the candidate (or the candidate's literary executor) and will not publish or reproduce this if firm arrangements have been made to publish this within twelve months of the date on which the University approached the candidate.

Revision of dissertation

- FM9 9.1 Except on the recommendation of the supervisor and with the approval of the Faculty Board, a candidate whose dissertation has been returned for revision must submit a revised dissertation for examination no later than one calendar year after the date of original submission. Such resubmission must comply with Rule FM7 above.
- 9.2 No candidate shall be invited more than once to revise and resubmit his/her dissertation.

Upgrading from Master's to PhD

- FM10 Senate may, on the recommendation of the Faculty Board and the candidate's supervisor, upgrade a candidate's registration on the grounds of the quality and development of the candidate's work.

Publication

- FM11 11.1 No publication may, without the prior permission of the University, contain a statement that the published material was or is to be submitted in part or in full for the degree.
- 11.2 The candidate may publish the creative work once the examination process has been completed.

Concession

- FM12 Any exemption from or modification of the above rules shall be subject to the Senate's approval.

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY

The Faculty offers a number of specialisations and programmes of study within its honours and master's qualifications. The rules and guidelines for each are outlined below. TBA

Admission requirements:

- a. Faculty requirements are set out under rule FH3.
- b. Specialisation requirements:
 - A Bachelor's degree with a major in a field relating to the study of Africa;
 - A multi-disciplinary research project.
- c. Acceptance is on the recommendation of the Head of Department.

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 48

Students have the option of combining core courses in African Studies with relevant core courses from a discipline taken to third-year level in the undergraduate degree, or of following an area of specialisation offered in the Centre, e.g. Heritage Studies or African Literature and Culture.

Prescribed curriculum:

The curriculum comprises four taught courses (96 NQF credits) and a research essay/project (30 NQF credits).

Compulsory (core) courses:

Code	Course	NQF Credits	NQF Level
ASL4200W	Research Essay/Project	30	8
ASL4201F	Debates in African Studies	24	8
ASL4209FS	Land and Agrarian Question	24	8

Elective courses:

Two electives from African Studies or other specialisations offered within the Faculty. One of these should be either a core course or an elective from the disciplines or programmes specialised in during the student's undergraduate studies. As stated above, one should provide a comparative continental concentration in a chosen field. One of these electives may be based outside the broad area of African Studies, providing the course contributes to the overall design of the research project as a comparative case study.

BA/BSocSchons specialising in African Studies, with a focus on African Literature and Culture

This Honours specialisation is designed for students whose core interest is in questions of literature and culture in Africa. Students with an interest in music, film, art, literature and culture and the theories and methodologies which underpin and guide representations of Africa will find this particularly satisfying. Apart from a required course on Literature and Language Studies, students are allowed to structure their other courses to reflect their own interests.

Prescribed curriculum:

The curriculum comprises four taught courses (96 NQF credits) and a research essay/project (30 NQF credits).

Compulsory (core) courses:

Code	Course	NQF Credits	NQF Level

	Another appropriate course in the field of African Literature and Culture

Elective courses:

Two electives from African Studies or other specialisations offered within the Faculty. One of these should be either a core course or an elective from the disciplines or programmes specialised in during the student's undergraduate studies. As stated above, one should provide a comparative continental concentration in a chosen field. One of these electives may be based outside the broad area of African Studies, provided the course contributes to the overall design of the research project as a comparative case study.

Note: To progress to Master's level, an overall average result of not less than 65% must be achieved.

One elective course at HEQSF level 8 (4000 level) may be taken from other postgraduate courses in Anthropology or from offerings in another Department, but only with Head of Department / Convener's permission.

MA/MSocSc specialising in Anthropology (192 NQF credits)
[ANS01]

Programme Convener:
Dr K Mohamed

Admission requirements:

- a. Faculty admission requirements as set out under Rule FM3 apply.
- b. Programme admission requirements:
 - Satisfactory completion of the Honours specialising in Anthropology with an overall average result of not less than 70%.
 - Candidates who have an Honours degree in Anthropology from another university or in a cognate discipline will be considered.
 - Candidates must satisfy the Department Head that they are sufficiently proficient in any language that they may require for fieldwork.
- c. Acceptance is on the recommendation, and at the discretion, of the Head of Department.

Residence requirement:

Anthropology master's and doctoral students are required to spend a period of up to one semester in residence in Cape Town, preparing/finalising a research proposal/research design and at least one further semester in residence while writing their dissertations/theses.
Candidates are required to participate in the Department's weekly research seminar.

This specialisation aims to enable students to develop a comprehensive grasp of the discipline of social-cultural anthropology, its present approaches and theories as well as its theoretical and ethnographic roots. The specialisation is structured around a series of taught courses and seminars preparing candidates for professional entry into the discipline in both teaching and research positions. Its focus is on both the history of, and cutting-edge work in, the discipline. Graduates will be proficient in a range of theory and familiar with an extensive body of ethnography - with a strong comparative focus on Africa. They will also have developed strong critical social-cultural research skills that can be applied in a wide range of areas.

Prescribed curriculum:

Master's students are required to complete a minor dissertation and four taught courses of which no more than two can be at HEQSF level 8 (4000 level).

Compulsory (core) courses:

Code	Course	NQF Credits	NQF Level

ANS5409FS	Ethnographic Problematiques	24	9

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 54

Candidates who have not previously completed an approved course in Ethnographic Research Methods (or equivalent) will be required to fill the elective slot with ANS4401F Ethnographic Research Methods.

Candidates who have not previously completed an approved course in the History of Anthropological Thought (or equivalent) will be required to fill the elective slot with ANS4402S Thinking Anthropologically and therefore to extend the specialisation into a second year.

Candidates who have not previously completed either of the two above-mentioned types of courses will be required to complete an additional course for the specialisation, and will have no elective slots available.

Elective courses:

Code	Course	NQF Credits	NQF Level
ANS4403F	Anthropology of Gender and Sexuality (Not offered in 2025).....	24	8
ANS4405S	Multimodal and Visual Anthropology.....	24	8

ANS5416F	Science, Nature, Democracy (Not offered in 2025)	24	9
ANS5417FS	Water, Society, Ecology.....	24	9

As far as is possible, the specialisation and the compulsory courses will be tailored to the needs and interests of individual students. Special-topic courses may be created if there is demand and if personnel availability allows. Special-topic courses will normally include more advanced work on an issue dealt with at the undergraduate level or emanating from current departmental research.

Subject to approval by the Head of Department, an elective offered by a cognate department may replace one or more of the listed electives.

[ECO01]

Convener:
Professor E Nikolaidou

Admission requirements:

- A Bachelor's degree or equivalent qualification with a major in Economics. Applicants must achieve an average of at least 65% in their final year undergraduate economics courses and at least 60% for ECO3020F (Advanced Macroeconomics and Microeconomics), ECO3021S (Quantitative Methods in Economics) and another 3rd year level economics course.

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 58

- Prospective Economics Honours students from outside UCT are required to have taken third year Econometrics or equivalent and sufficient Maths (typically a full first year course) to gain admission to the Honours programme.
- Foreign students may need to provide assurance of their competence in the English language.
- Recommendation of acceptance is at the discretion of the Director of the School of Economics.

Qualification outline:

The programme is designed to expose good graduates to a range of specialised topics and to refine the skills needed to pursue a successful research and professional career.

Duration:

Offered over one year, full-time. The programme begins in January.

Prescribed curriculum:

The year comprises three core (compulsory) courses and one core non-credit bearing pre-course in the first semester, four elective courses in the second semester, and a research paper.

Non-credit bearing pre-course:

ECO4132S	Economics of Inequality: Causes, Consequences & Policy	14	8

- Subject to the approval of the Graduate Convener, students may substitute a maximum of one of the options with an NQF level 8 course of a similar credit value offered in another department.

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 59

- ECO4112F is offered as a non-credit bearing block course at the start of the first semester and serves as a mathematical foundation course to subsequent courses. Students who obtain less than 40% for this course will not be allowed to continue with this programme.
- Please consult the end of the School of Economics section of this handbook for descriptions of the courses.

Assessment:

To qualify for the honours degree, students must pass 134 NQF (Level 8) credits with at least 50%.

Readmission rules:

Students must obtain at least 40% for ECO4112F in order to continue with the programme.

Students must pass all three first semester core courses or they risk being excluded from the programme before the start of the second semester.

Supplementary examinations will be offered for ECO4006F, ECO4007F, ECO4016F before the start of the second semester, but no other supplementary exams will be offered. Students who do not pass all three first semester core courses may be excluded from the programme before the start of the second semester.

Should students fail one elective course, they will be allowed to register for the same course or another elective in the second semester of the following year. Should a student fail more than one elective, they may be denied readmission.

A student whose research report is given a mark of less than 50%, but who is allowed to make changes to the dissertation and resubmit it, will be awarded a maximum mark of 50%.

Distinction rules:

The Honours degree may be awarded in “the First Class” if a student has an overall average of at least 75% or more, with a subminimum of 70% for the coursework and for the research dissertation.

Further specific administrative requirements:

In addition to completing the University application form, students applying from outside of UCT must also submit the course outlines of their highest level Economics courses as well as the names and contact details of two referees to the Graduate Administrator, School of Economics before 30 September. BBusSc students intending to proceed to Economics Honours in their fourth year must please notify the Graduate Administrator before 30 September. The programme commences in January.

MSocSc specialising in Applied Economics (240 NQF credits) [ECO08]

Convener:

Professor J Burns

Entrance requirements:

- A mark of at least 65% in honours level Microeconomics, Macroeconomics and Econometrics respectively, with an overall average of at least 65% in an honours degree in Economics (4th year) or international equivalent. Before admission to the specialisation a candidate shall have completed quantitative courses in Econometrics, Microeconomics and Macroeconomics at honours level, or the equivalent. A candidate who has not completed these courses, or their equivalent, shall be required to complete these as preliminary works whilst registered as a candidate for the degree in addition to the prescribed courses.

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 60

- Applicants with degrees obtained outside of South Africa are encouraged (and in some cases may be required) to submit a Graduate Record Examination (GRE) score. A strong performance in the quantitative segment (above the 80th percentile) is expected.
- Students who have completed equivalent courses at the master's level may apply for exemption, but not credit, from particular courses.

Qualification outline:

The School of Economics offers a master's specialising in Applied Economics in recognition of the need for a flexible prescribed curriculum which allows students to focus on research while choosing a curriculum best suited to their abilities and interests. The aim is to equip students with essential research skills (both quantitative and writing skills) and knowledge in their chosen area of specialisation. The 120 NQF credit dissertation weighting allows students to qualify for NRF funding.

Duration:

Offered over two years full-time, beginning in January.

Prescribed curriculum:

The curriculum comprises two compulsory courses, two optional courses and a minor dissertation (ECO5066W). Students taking ECO5046F or ECO5021F or ECO5020F are required to take ECO5011F Quantitative Methods of Economics as a co-requisite for these courses. It is not credit-bearing for this specialisation. Lecture attendance is compulsory.

A candidate will ordinarily complete the prescribed courses in the first year, and will be expected to complete the dissertation within the following year.

Compulsory (core) courses:

ECO5076S	Development Microeconomics.....	30	9
ECO5077S	Industrial Organisation.....	30	9

Options may be added or withdrawn according to circumstances each year.

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 61

Students may take one approved course from a cognate discipline as an elective course (in either semester).

Please consult the list of School of Economics courses at the end of this entry for descriptions of compulsory and elective courses.

Assessment:

- a. To qualify for the Master's degree, students must pass all courses including the research component, to the value of 240 NQF credits
- b. Candidates are normally expected to complete all the coursework within one year.
- c. The 120-credit minor dissertation, which should be no longer than 25,000 words in length, is expected to be completed in the year following the coursework.

Readmission rules:

Students who fail may repeat a maximum of two courses of the coursework component once, provided that they scored at least 40% at first attempt. If a student fails an elective, they may substitute it with another elective.

There will be no supplementary examinations.

Satisfactory progress for research as per MoUs (Memorandum of Understanding).

Distinction rules:

The degree will be awarded with distinction if the candidate obtains an overall average mark of 75% or higher, and if the candidate obtains not less than 70% for both the coursework component and the dissertation component of the degree.

Further specific administrative requirements:

The programme commences in January.

FIN5006W CRITICAL PRACTICE AND CURATORIAL STUDIES

The MA specialising in Critical Practice and Curatorial Studies is a research-based, seminar-led programme that advances radical imaginings of curatorial and critical futures from the position of the global south. With an emphasis on the intersections between politics, philosophy, theory and/or visual cultures, the programme advances curatorship and critical practice as innovative research methodologies and discursive infrastructures. The programme questions what it is that is labelled as practice, opening up the field to a variety of forms and possibilities. The course locates practice and curation as a form of knowledge production, with a particular focus on previously marginalised knowledge systems as resources for transformational possibilities. The programme, for instance, pushes the boundaries beyond the conception of curation as merely a display of objects and searches beyond exhibition un/making. It is envisioned as exchange. Curation in this course is presented as a far-reaching analysis of spatial and social dynamics. We will interrogate the ways in which curatorial and critical practice can advance and inform artistic and social epistemes beyond mere after-the-fact reflection. Candidates can choose to embark on a practice-based or theory-based approach to the course, with the aim to rethink the nature of curatorial and practical outputs.

Admission requirements:

- a. Faculty Rule FM3 and University General Rules apply.
- b. A preliminary research proposal must be submitted with the application.
- c. Acceptance is on the recommendation of the Head of Department and selection is based on the assessment of the research proposal and the availability of suitable supervision.

Programme requirements:

- a. A candidate must work under the supervision of a supervisor appointed by Senate.
- b. The supervised research proposal should focus on a clearly defined topic, set out the research questions to be addressed and show familiarity with the appropriate primary and secondary sources.

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 83

- c. Each candidate is required to present at least one seminar paper to the master's class during each year of registration. Attendance at all master's seminars is compulsory.
- d. Failure to attend master's seminars or to present seminar papers as required may lead to suspension from the programme.
- e. A candidate must submit his/her work for review during the third term of the first year of study. Re-registration is dependent upon the success of this review.

Assessment:

Assessment will be by dissertation OR mini-dissertation and a practical component. The full dissertation, with no practical component, is 40 000 - 50 000 words. The practical component can be in the form of a curated exhibition at gallery, museum, project space, public space or virtual/online space. The mini-dissertation is 25 000 - 30 000 words. The mini-dissertation counts 60% and the practical component counts 40% of the total mark.

Submission of dissertation: Faculty rules FM6-9 apply.

Master of Fine Art (180 NQF credits) (HEQSF level 9)

[FIN01]

FIN5004W

Conveners:

Associate Professor F Langerman and Dr T Monoa

The Master of Fine Art is intended for those wishing to undertake advanced study in any studio work discipline or an interdisciplinary course of study approved by the School. Examination is by way of an exhibition (or an equivalent approved by the School) and appropriate documentation.

This programme develops the ability to conduct independent research in an area of choice, with a methodology appropriate to the project. Students refine their proposal in consultation with supervisors during the first semester of study and expand this into a professional exhibition that demonstrates a sound understanding of a range of historical, theoretical and philosophical approaches to art. Theory and practice is seen as integral and the practical submission is accompanied by a 5 000 – 10 000-word explication, the form of which is dictated by the nature of the research project. The programme includes a weekly reading group in the first year, regular seminars, annual progress reviews and a fieldtrip to a major contemporary exhibition.

Admission requirements:

- a. Faculty rule FM3 applies.
- b. Programme requirements:
 - An upper second-class pass in Fine Art IV.
 - An upper second-class pass in an approved 3000-level Humanities course or an overall upper second class-pass in Theory and Practice of Art.
 - A portfolio of recent work and a clear description of the proposed field of study.
 - In exceptional circumstances, the attainment of a level of academic or professional competence which in the opinion of Senate, on the recommendation of the Board of the Faculty of Humanities, is adequate for the purpose of undertaking both the creative and theoretical aspects of the course, may qualify a candidate for admission.

Acceptance is on the recommendation of the Head of Department and is based on the assessment of the research proposal and portfolio of creative work and the availability of a suitable supervisor and studio space.

Duration of degree:

A candidate must be registered for the degree for at least two years.

NOTE: Studio space at the School will be made available to a registered MFA candidate for no longer than two years.

Programme requirements:

- a. A candidate must work under the supervision of a supervisor appointed by Senate.
- b. Each candidate is required to present at least one seminar paper to the postgraduate seminar programme during each year of registration. Attendance at all postgraduate seminars is compulsory. Failure to attend or present seminar papers as required may lead to suspension from the programme.

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 85

- c. A candidate must submit his/her work for review during the third term of the first year of study. Re-registration is dependent upon the success of this review.
- d. A candidate must submit for exhibition under the auspices of the Michaelis School of Fine Art a body of his or her own creative work which makes an original contribution in the selected field of art. This work must have been produced during the period of registration and must not have been publicly exhibited prior to submission and examination without the prior, written permission of the University.

Assessment:

- a. Candidates must submit their body of creative work for examination in the format of an exhibition (or an approved equivalent) under the auspices of the School.
- b. Work submitted for examination must be documented.
- c. A candidate must submit three copies of the documentation for examination.
- d. The degree may be awarded with distinction where the submission achieves a mark of 75% or more.

NOTE: No publication or exhibition by a candidate may, without prior permission of the University, contain a statement that the published or exhibited material is to be submitted in part or in full for this degree.

BA/BSocScHons specialising in Organisational Psychology (120 NQF credits)
[BUS08]

Convener:

Professor A Jaga

Students applying for the Honours specialisation must apply on-line (www.uct.ac.za) in the year preceding that for which the application is made. The deadline for applications is as per the University's specified date.

Entrance requirements:

A bachelor's degree with Organisational Psychology/Industrial Psychology/Human Resource Management as a major subject. Admission into the specialisation is by selection only. Selection is based on academic performance and the University's equity policy. In order to qualify for selection into the specialisation applicants must have an average mark of at least 65% for their third year Organisational Psychology courses. Students who successfully complete the specialisation will be awarded a BAHons or BSocScHons depending on the bachelor's degree they obtained.

Duration of the programme:

One year, full-time. The programme commences in the first week of February. The duration of the programme cannot be extended. Under special circumstances a leave of absence may be recommended at the discretion of the Head of Section.

Compulsory (core) courses:

Code	Course	NQF Credits	NQF Level
BUS4006W	Organisational Psychology Coursework.....	60	8
BUS4030H	Organisational Psychology Research Report.....	60	8

Please note that students who have not done any Finance courses in their first degree must complete FTX1005F Managerial Finance.

Assessment:

BUS4006W: Students are required to obtain at least 50% overall for all coursework modules.

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 97

BUS4030H: Each research submission has an assessment weighting. Together with the final research report these submissions make up the mark for BUS4030H. Students are required to obtain at least 50% for the research report.

Students are required to pass both the coursework (BUS4006W) and the research (BUS4030H) components to be awarded the degree.

Readmission rules:

No component/module may be repeated.

Students who fail FTX1005F can repeat it, or if it is the only module outstanding for the award of the degree, can repeat it by means of a UNISA equivalent.

There are no examinations or supplementary examinations.

Distinction rules:

The coursework and research components are equally weighted (50%). The degree may be awarded with distinction if students obtain an overall mark of 75% or higher and if they obtain not less than 70% for both the coursework and research project of the degree.

Articulation with other qualifications at UCT:

Successful Honours candidates may apply for admission to the Master of Industrial and Organisational Psychology (CM037BUS28) offered in the Faculty of Commerce.

Politics Advisor: Associate Professor Z Jolobe

Economics Advisor: Professor L Grzybowski

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 105

The PPE specialisation is an interdisciplinary specialisation incorporating courses and research in the three disciplines of Philosophy, Politics and Economics. Students entering the specialisation must identify their primary disciplinary focus in order to be placed in a home department. While all PPE students will complete at least one course in each of the disciplines, their research (Honours essay/project or Master's minor dissertation) will be based in their home department, with registration and supervision complying with that department's requirements.

General admission requirements:

For general admission into the specialisation, at both Honours and Master's level, students must have successfully completed:

- A major, or its equivalent, in Philosophy, Politics or Economics,
- At least first year, defined as two semester courses at first year level in each of the other two disciplines (excluding the major).

Acceptance to the specialisation is at the discretion of the Convener and requires the recommendation of the Head of the Department in the home department selected by the applicant.

Admission requirements per home department:

In addition to the above requirements, there are additional, specific requirements per home department.

Minimum admission requirements for Economics as home department:

- For Honours: ECO3020F and ECO3021S (or equivalents), with an average result of no less than 65% in final year undergraduate Economics courses. Acceptance is conditional on passing the pre-Maths and Stats course ECO4112F.
- For Master's: An overall average result of not less than 65% must be achieved at Honours level.

Minimum admission requirements for Politics as home department:

- For Honours: 70% average for the Politics major. See Political Studies section in the handbook for further details of criteria taken into consideration in admission.
- For Master's: An overall average result of not less than 70% must be achieved at Honours level, plus a strong performance in the Honours research component, or at the discretion of the HOD.

Minimum admission requirements for Philosophy as a home department:

- For Honours: 70% average for the Philosophy major. Students who do not quite achieve this mark may be admitted to the specialisation at the discretion of the Head of Department.
- For Master's: An overall average result of not less than 70% must be achieved at Honours level, plus a strong performance in the Honours research component. Students who do not quite achieve this mark may be admitted to the specialisation at the discretion of the Head of Department.

International Relations [POL03]

Programme Convener:

Associate Professor Z Jolobe

Application and Admission requirements:

General application information - External candidates and UCT students must apply formally via Admissions. Candidates for the coursework degrees are required to submit a letter of motivation and sample of academic writing as part of their formal application.

Department admission criteria – Coursework Master’s:

Refer to faculty rule FM3 for minimum admission criteria.

Admission to the Department's specialisations is selective and highly competitive. The Department admits only those candidates that it judges are likely to complete the degree programme successfully. Criteria taken into consideration for admission include:

- Previous academic performance in undergraduate and postgraduate degrees;
- Suitability, viability and acceptance of research proposal for Master’s degree;
- Adequate and available supervisory capacity in the department for Master’s degrees;
- Proportionate representation of candidates from designated groups will be considered.

Additional admission criteria for applicants from UCT:

- A 65% minimum average for the overall undergraduate degree and consideration given to academic performance in Politics courses;
- A 65% minimum average in all undergrad 3rd years courses, with special consideration given to academic performance in 3rd year Politics courses;
- An overall upward trend in course grades;
- Proportionate representation of candidates from designated groups will be considered.

Acceptance to the specialisation will be at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Additional admission criteria for non-UCT applicants:

The same criteria generally apply as for UCT applicants above. The requested supporting documentation (writing samples) must be supplied and is a determining factor in the assessment.

Specialisation objectives:

International Relations at the University of Cape Town tries to strike a balance between International Relations as a field of study that evolved over centuries and International Relations as it is currently studied. International Relations as traditionally studied usually meant a focus on three concerns: war, diplomacy and trade. Now described respectively as conflict or security, diplomacy and negotiation and the international political economy, these remain the central subjects we want to study. Our approach also values, however, the contributions of other sub-fields of Political Studies, especially Comparative Politics, and contributions from other disciplines. In International Relations scholarly debates, African cases and issues are crucial and, for this reason, graduates of our specialisation are often called upon to show their expertise in African and/or Southern African material.

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 109

Additional admission requirements:

Specific additional entry requirements for this specialisation are a past academic history in International Relations, Political Studies/Science or a strong academic background in a related discipline.

Justice and Transformation [POL06]

Programme Convener:

Associate Professor H Scanlon

Application and Admission requirements:

General application information - External candidates and UCT students must apply formally via Admissions. Candidates for the coursework degrees are required to submit a letter of motivation and sample of academic writing as part of their formal application.

Department admission criteria – Coursework Master's:

Refer to faculty rule FM3 for minimum admission criteria.

Admission to the Department's specialisations is selective and highly competitive. The Department admits only those candidates that it judges are likely to complete the degree programme successfully. Criteria taken into consideration for admission include:

- Previous academic performance in undergraduate and postgraduate degrees;

Additional admission criteria for applicants from UCT:

- A 65% minimum average for the overall undergraduate degree and consideration given to academic performance in Politics courses;
- A 65% minimum average in all undergrad 3rd years courses, with special consideration given to academic performance in 3rd year Politics courses;
- An overall upward trend in course grades;
- Proportionate representation of candidates from designated groups will be considered.

Acceptance to the specialisation will be at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Additional admission criteria for non-UCT applicants:

The same criteria generally apply as for UCT applicants above. The requested supporting documentation (writing samples) must be supplied and is a determining factor in the assessment.

Specialisation objectives:

The honours/master's specialisation has been designed to locate current concerns and topical interests in justice and transformation in the more general perspectives of normative theory and comparative studies. The specialisation is inspired by new directions in research and teaching around theories of justice (retributive, restorative, reparative, redistributive) and what it is required to successfully engage with abusive pasts. It links current debates in the area of transitional justice (including human rights law, peacebuilding and social justice) with grounded intellectual perspectives on the field.

Additional admission requirements:

Applicants should ideally have a major in, or some exposure to, Politics as an undergraduate subject. However, depending on which area of concentration the applicant is interested in, the following additional study backgrounds may be taken into account when assessing applications:

- Transitional Justice Majors in Politics, History, Law, Philosophy, Sociology, Literature
- Human Rights Senior courses in Law, LLB
- Conflict Resolution Majors in Politics, Psychology, Law, Social Anthropology, Sociology
- Social Justice in Transformation Majors in Politics, History, Law, Sociology, Social Anthropology, Psychology, Development Studies

The full specialisation comprises a minimum of 4 semester courses in the master's years plus a master's minor dissertation component. Some of the areas of concentration provide for Internships, which may be substituted for one of the elective options (but not for the core courses).

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 112

Application and Admission requirements:

General application information - External candidates and UCT students must apply formally via the Admissions Office. Candidates for the coursework degrees are required to submit a letter of motivation and sample of academic writing as part of their formal application.

Department admission criteria – Honours and Coursework Master’s:

Refer to faculty rules FH3 and FM3 for minimum admission criteria.

Admission to the Department’s specialisations is selective and highly competitive. The Department admits only those candidates that it judges are likely to complete the degree programme successfully.

Criteria taken into consideration for admission include:

- Previous academic performance in undergraduate and postgraduate degrees;
- Suitability, viability and acceptance of research proposal for Master’s degree;

Additional admission criteria for non-UCT applicants:

The same criteria generally apply as for UCT applicants above. The requested supporting documentation (writing samples) must be supplied and is a determining factor in the assessment.

Objectives:

The honours and master’s specialisations in Politics are intended, broadly, to develop skills in political research, primarily in the study of national political processes. Students will learn how to use existing literature and theory to ask important research questions, identify appropriate evidence, and to apply relevant methods of analysis. The core courses focus on issues such as comparative politics, political institutions, political behaviour, public policy, democratisation, African and South African politics, and political theory. The degree comprises coursework and a research project or minor dissertation.

Additional admission requirements:

Specific additional entry requirements are a major in Political Studies or a strong academic background in a related discipline (e.g. Public Administration, Sociology, Psychology, Economics, Criminology, Law, History or Philosophy).

Public Policy and Administration [POL05]

Programme Convener:

Associate Professor V Naidoo

Application and Admission requirements:

General application information - External candidates and UCT students must apply formally via Admissions. Candidates for the coursework degrees are required to submit a letter of motivation and sample of academic writing as part of their formal application.

Department admission criteria – Coursework Master’s:

Refer to faculty rule FM3 for minimum admission criteria.

Admission to the Department's specialisations is selective and highly competitive. The Department admits only those candidates that it judges are likely to complete the degree programme successfully. Criteria taken into consideration for admission include:

- Previous academic performance in undergraduate and postgraduate studies;
- Suitability, viability and acceptance of research proposal for Master’s degree;
- Adequate and available supervisory capacity in the department for Master’s degrees;
- Proportionate representation of candidates from designated groups will be considered.

Additional admission criteria for applicants from UCT:

- A 65% minimum average for the overall undergraduate degree, with specific attention given to academic performance in PPA-related and Politics courses;
- A 65% minimum average in all undergrad 3rd years courses, with specific attention given to academic performance in 3rd year PPA-related and Politics courses;
- An overall upward trend in course grades;
- Proportionate representation of candidates from designated groups will be considered.

Acceptance to the specialisation will be at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Additional admission criteria for non-UCT applicants:

The same criteria generally apply as for UCT applicants above. The requested supporting documentation (writing samples) must be supplied and is a determining factor in the assessment.

Additional admission requirements:

For admission to the MPhil specialisation, students must have successfully completed an honours degree. Previous study in the following subjects would be considered relevant: public administration and management, politics, industrial sociology, economics, African Studies, public law, gender studies, philosophy.

Please note that admission to our specialisation is highly competitive and not all applicants will be accepted.

Programme Convener:
Dr T Meyer

Admission requirements:

- a. Faculty requirements are set out under Rules FH3 and FM3.
- b. Specialisation requirements:
The following students will be considered for admission:
 - Graduates with any majors or of specialisations within the social sciences. Besides Sociology, Industrial Sociology, Political Studies, Anthropology and Environmental and Geographical Science, these would include Economics, History and Religious Studies.
 - Students from other specialisations and degrees may be admitted at the discretion of the Convener and the Postgraduate Committee of Sociology. Any student may be required to take appropriate supplementary access courses. Selection into this specialisation is not automatic and is dependent on good second-class passes (i.e. at least 68%).
- c. Students are admitted either to the honours or the MPhil; admission to and completion of the honours does not imply automatic admission to the MPhil.

Acceptance is not automatic and is at the recommendation of the Convener and the Postgraduate Committee.

QUALIFICATION AND SPECIALISATION RULES AND CURRICULA FOR HONOURS AND MASTERS PROGRAMMES OF STUDY 125

Objectives:

This specialisation prepares students for entry primarily into the professional development community. This community straddles many spheres including community and non-governmental organisations, research organisations, agencies at various levels of government, media organisations and possibly corporate social responsibility offices. It is envisaged that MPhil (Development Studies) graduates will eventually take leading positions in this community; developing and disseminating knowledge about those sectors of society worst affected by socio-economic inequity, and devising strategies for them to gain access to resources and grow their capacity to optimise these resources.

Honours and Masters in Industrial Sociology [SOC02]

Programme Convener:

Associate Professor A Benya

Admission requirements:

- a. Faculty requirements are set out under Rules FH3 and FM3.
- b. Specialisation requirements:
 - For entry into the honours, a BA or BSocSc degree, majoring in Sociology or Industrial Sociology (or equivalent qualification) with at least good second class passes (i.e. 68%) in both third year courses of the major is required. Acceptance is at the recommendation of the Convener and the Postgraduate Committee.
 - For entry into the master's, a good pass (i.e. an overall average of 68%) in an honours degree in Sociology, Industrial Sociology, Development Studies or a cognate discipline is required for acceptance into year two of the specialisation leading to the master's degree.

Acceptance is not automatic and is at the recommendation of the Convener and the Postgraduate Committee.

Objectives:

The aim of this specialisation is to give students a thorough understanding of the social forces and laws that shape the quality and changing nature of work. It examines from local to global forces that are brought to bear on the workplace. Hence it provides students with a comprehensive understanding of the laws and forces at work, in order to enable them to develop appropriate strategies and policies that maximise organisational efficiency while providing humane and fulfilling working conditions. The specialisation is interdisciplinary, providing students with the opportunity to study the contribution of different disciplines to understand workplace relations. Students are thus exposed to cutting edge theories and issues in their courses, with the opportunity to research a topic they wish to explore in greater depth in their research project and dissertation.

Honours and Masters in Sociology [SOC01]

Programme Convener:

Dr N Vally

Admission requirements:

- a. Faculty requirements are set out under Rules FH3 and FM3.
- b. Specialisation requirements:
 - For entry into the honours, a BA or BSocSc degree, majoring in Sociology or Industrial Sociology (or equivalent qualification) with at least good second class passes (i.e. 68%) in both third year courses of the major is required. Acceptance is at the recommendation of the Convener and the Postgraduate Committee.
 - For entry into the Master's, a good pass (i.e. an overall average of 68%) in an honours degree in Sociology, Industrial Sociology, Development Studies or a cognate discipline is required for acceptance into year two of the specialisation leading to the master's degree.

Acceptance is not automatic and is at the recommendation of the Convener and the Postgraduate Committee.

Objectives:

The specialisation is intended to develop sociological knowledge and skill in social research and theoretical analysis to the professional level. To achieve this, advanced and intensive modules and courses dealing with research methods, statistics and social theory, form the core of the specialisation, while students are able to select substantive electives from a wide range of those offered in the department and in other social science departments, based on their own research and career interests.

The Study of Religions [REL]

The Department for the Study of Religions is committed to the study of religions which will contribute to public life in our local, regional, national and continental contexts. It is dedicated to:

- an open, plural, intercultural, and interdisciplinary study of religion in all its forms;
- the in-depth study of African religious traditions;
- the creative and critical analysis of religion as a force in personal, social, economic and political life;
- the promotion of quality education and research in the study of religion as a vital contribution to the transformation and development of South Africa.

The mission statement is implemented through degree specialisations that focus on the broad theme of religion, culture and identity. The Department offers a systematic study of religion in public life, its meaning and significance in South Africa in particular and Africa in general. This broad theme is explored in core courses team-taught by faculty members and also reflected in various research projects and institutes presently housed in the Department.

Core courses provide the thematic, methodological and theoretical foundations for all students who choose to pursue degrees in this department. Additional courses continue this focus within the established areas of specialisation: African Studies, Christian Studies, Comparative Studies, Islamic Studies, Jewish Studies, Buddhism and Critical Theory.

Courses in areas of specialisation

Hereunder follows a broad map of the courses offered in the areas of specialisation. Not all courses indicated below will be offered in any given year. However, they will follow the pattern outlined here.

African Studies

The courses in African studies explore the varieties of indigenous religious belief systems as well as the impact of global religions like Christianity (especially Pentecostalism) and Islam on the continent. Students will be prepared to do research on religion in Africa through different methodological and theoretical paradigms. A specialization in African studies can be pursued in combination with a focus on Christian and/or Islamic studies.

Buddhism

The department offers postgraduate study and supervision in Asian religious traditions with a special emphasis on Buddhism. Currently an Honours level course on Buddhism and Modernity and guided reading projects through Reading Religious Texts are offered. Research interests include the contemporary spread and transformations of Buddhism, Buddhism and Globalisation, conversion and socially and environmentally engaged Asian spiritualities, with a particular focus on Japan.

Christian Studies

The courses in Christian Studies focus mainly on the Sociology of Christianity and on the study of African Pentecostalism. The latter section debates the social impact and trajectories of Christian new religious movements and new forms of believing and being Christian as espoused by the Pentecostal-charismatic churches and ministries, their engagement with media (Internet use, religious broadcasting, production and reproduction of books, DVDs & podcasts, Pentecostal advertising: posters, billboards, handbills), fiscal and political practices.

Comparative Studies

The courses in Comparative Studies are divided into two categories: Issues in the Study of Religion and Religion in Contemporary Society. The first area includes courses in the Problem of Religion, Religion and Ritual, Sacred Space, Religion, Gender and Embodiment, and the History of Religions in Southern Africa. The second area includes courses in Religion and Popular Culture, Religion and Urban Culture and Religion, Education and Society in South Africa.

Islamic Studies

The courses in Islamic Studies explore Islam as religion, culture and civilization in particular contexts and themes. An Honours level course covers fundamental concepts within Islam from phenomenological and socio-historical perspectives. This course is indispensable for any student embarking on research relating to Islam at a post-graduate level. At the Master's level, we offer specialized courses on Sufism, Islam in Africa, Gender, Islam and Feminism.

Philosophy of Religion/Critical Theory

The courses in Philosophy of Religion, Critical Theory and Post-Structuralist Thought address contemporary issues in European philosophy, philosophy of religion, modern Jewish thought and post-colonial theory. Courses such as Philosophers on Religion, Critical Theory, and Levinas, Derrida and the "Other" explore how reason, religion, ethics and subjectivity constitute meaning and value and how our social and historical conditions also contributes to life and meaning formation.

Weekly seminars

In addition to the normal course requirements, students are required to attend the seminars hosted during the course of the year. The intention of the seminars is to expose all postgraduates to seminars delivered by staff members and visitors to the Department. Attendance at all colloquia is compulsory and students will be required to reflect knowledge of their content in examinations. Details of these events will be advertised during the course of the year.

DOCTORAL DEGREES

Doctor of Philosophy (PhD)

The PhD is a research degree on an advanced topic under supervision which can be taken in any of the Departments in the Faculty. Examination is by thesis alone. It is subject to the general rules for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy as published in Handbook No 3, and to the following Faculty rules. Prospective candidates should consult the Head of the Department concerned to discuss both the topic and the availability of suitable supervision.

By virtue of inclusion on the Institution's DHET approved Programme and Qualification Mix (PQM), all qualifications included in this Handbook are accredited by the Council on Higher Education's permanent sub-committee - the Higher Education Quality Committee. Where a SAQA ID has not been provided, the qualification is awaiting the SAQA ID. The higher education sector has undergone an extensive alignment to the Higher Education Qualification sub Framework and thus all institutions are awaiting the finalisation of the process and completion of the awarding of SAQA ID's. Please consult Handbook 2 or the HEQSF Programme and Qualification Mix (PQM) on the Institutional Planning Department's website, as approved by the Department of Higher Education and Training, for a list of all UCT's accredited qualifications.

Admission requirements

- FD3
- 3.1 Unless otherwise specified, a candidate wishing to be admitted to the Doctor of Philosophy must have the required academic background and submit an acceptable research proposal for which supervision is available. Research degrees are encouraged where the field of research is clearly defined, the student wishes to concentrate on a specific research topic, and has demonstrated the ability to do so.
- 3.2 Admission to the Doctor of Philosophy in the following disciplinary areas is subject to additional admission requirements as follows:
- 3.2.1 Anthropology
- (a) University General Rules GP6.1-9 apply.
- (b) Applicants must have graduated from their Masters degree with a minimum of 70% GPA.
- (c) Acceptance is on the recommendation, and at the discretion, of the Head of Department.
- 3.2.2 Dance
- (a) University General Rules GP6.1-9 apply.
- (b) Applicants must
- demonstrate an ability to propound and express ideas clearly and shows evidence of dance insight by submitting a substantial paper on an analytical or historical subject (which may have been previously presented for a degree) to the satisfaction of the Head of Department; and
 - submits a topic outline for a dissertation which he/she intends to complete for the degree, together with a plan of research, the nature of which is satisfactory to the Head of Department and Faculty.
- (c) Evidence of proficiency in a foreign language:

When the relevant material on the topic chosen is in a language other than English, the candidate must at the time of application demonstrate, by examination or other acceptable evidence, a reading knowledge of that language. If the required standard is not achieved, the prospective candidate may either be allowed to register on condition that a course in that language be taken and passed by examination at the end of the first year, or will have to pursue a preparatory course before being permitted to register.

3.2.3 Fine Art

(a) Applicants must have the required academic background and submit an acceptable research proposal for which supervision is available. In Fine Art the application should include presentation of a body of work integral to the proposed course of study. The proposal should indicate the candidate's plans for executing and presenting his or her creative work. A candidate for Art Historical Studies should have at least an upper-second-class pass in Art History honours or honours in a cognate field.

(b) Acceptance is on the recommendation of the Head of Department and selection is based on the assessment of the research proposal and the availability of suitable supervision.

3.2.4 Gender Studies

Applicants must have completed a master's degree in the Social Sciences or Humanities. The degree should have included the successful completion of a research project. The degree should have included focus on gender analysis as a tool of social analysis within a particular area or discipline. Applicants from the University of Cape Town's master's research specialising in Gender Studies must have successfully completed the degree with an overall average result of not less than 70%. A research proposal must be submitted with the application, and applicants will be accepted only where an acceptable proposal for which supervision within the Gender Studies Section is available. Guidelines on writing a preliminary research proposal are available on request from the Department of Feminist Studies.

3.2.5 Music

(i) University General Rules GP6.1-9 apply.

(ii) Applicants must have the required academic background and submit an acceptable research proposal for which supervision is available. A candidate who wishes to include his or her own creative work as part of the thesis must indicate his or her plans for executing this work in the application for admission.

3.2.6 Political Studies

As the Doctoral Degrees Board policy requires, a full PhD proposal should be submitted on admission. This submitted proposal may later be amended, if needed.

It is important to recognise that applicants with funding/scholarships are not favoured in the process of admission; that is, scholarships should not be awarded with the presumption that the Department will accept the applicant.

3.2.7 Psychology

(a) Applicants must have completed a master's degree in the Social Sciences, Humanities or cognate discipline. The degree must have been completed with an overall average result of no less than 70%.

(b) Acceptance is dependent on there being sufficient supervisory capacity in the department.

(c) This degree does not lead to registration as a psychologist with the Professional Board of Psychology.

3.2.8 Sociology

Preference will be given to students who select research topics which are clearly located in the sub-fields of research being currently undertaken by academic staff members of the department.

3.2.9 Theatre

Applicants must have the required academic background and submit an acceptable research proposal for which supervision is available. A candidate who wishes to include his or her own creative work as part of the thesis must indicate his or her plans for executing this work in the application for admission.

Registration

- FD4 4.1 A candidate who is permitted to register for the degree without submission of an approved research proposal is required to submit this approved research proposal to the Faculty Board by no later than six months from the date of his/her first registration.
- Research that involves human participants or animal use for research or teaching must undergo ethics review, according to faculty-specific guidelines. Review generally entails prior approval of a research proposal by a Research Ethics or Animal Ethics Committee. In cases where prior approval is not appropriate, the research proposal should be subjected to appropriate deliberative procedures, according to faculty-specific guidelines. Research papers or dissertations that involve human participants or animal use may not be submitted for examination if they have not undergone any ethics review process.*
- 4.2 If the Faculty Board approves the research proposal, the Board shall recommend the candidate for registration to the University's Doctoral Degrees Board.
- 4.3 If a candidate fails to submit a research proposal by not later than six months from the date of his/her first registration, or if the Faculty Board rejects the research proposal, the candidate's registration shall be cancelled.
- 4.4 A candidate registering for the first time for the degree may register at any time up until 1 May.
- 4.5 A returning candidate shall register by not later than 28 February each year.

Structure of the degree

- FD5 Examination is by thesis alone. Except by permission of Senate, the thesis submitted for the degree shall not be less than 40,000 words (in the case of a thesis incorporating creative work) or exceed 80,000 words. In the case of a thesis incorporating the candidate's original creative work:

- (a) the creative work itself must be the equivalent of a significant and coherent major solo exhibition;
- (b) in the field of Music, the creative work may comprise a portfolio of original musical compositions or practical performance/s which, together with the written part, form(s) a coherent whole;
- (c) in Fine Art, the creative work may comprise an original portfolio, installation or other audio-visual display which together with the written part forms a coherent whole;
- (d) in Drama and Theatre Studies and Dance, the creative work may comprise an original performance or set of performances or a portfolio of practice which together with the written part forms a coherent whole.

Notes for candidates admitted to the Doctor of Philosophy in certain disciplinary areas.

Anthropology

Doctoral students are required to spend a period of up to one semester in residence in Cape Town, preparing/finalising a research proposal/research design and at least one further semester in residence while writing their dissertations/theses. Candidates are required to participate in the Section's weekly research seminar

Environmental Humanities

Candidates undertake an approved co-supervised and cross-disciplinary research project, based on engagement with appropriate literature, and one to two months of field-based research. It culminates in an 80,000-word ethnographic thesis.

Gender Studies

The PhD degree comprises a dissertation not exceeding 80,000 words, undertaken through intensive supervision within the Gender Studies Section. Supervision includes engagement with appropriate literature, methodologies, and critical feedback on process of the implementation and written analysis of the research project.

Political Studies

A Doctoral thesis should not exceed 80,000 words (excluding referencing and bibliography) in length.

Submission of thesis

FD6

Where a candidate intends to submit his or her thesis for examination, he or she must inform the Doctoral Degrees Board office in writing of his or her intention to do so six weeks before submitting the thesis for examination (see GP5.3 in the University General Rules, Handbook No.3). Notification of the intention to submit should be submitted electronically, using PeopleSoft. It is recommended that the thesis be submitted for examination five months before the graduation ceremony to allow time for the examination process to run its course. The University does not undertake to reach a decision on the award of the degree by any specific date.

Note:

- i) Candidates who submit after the start of the new academic year will be required to re-register.*
- ii) Graduation dates are published in the academic calendar available on the university website.*

Senior doctorates

A senior doctorate is awarded for a substantial and original contribution to knowledge in the Humanities. Such contribution will normally be the result of work carried out and published over a period of years, and will normally be such as to have established the candidate's position as an authority in the field. The degree is awarded rarely and only to persons of exceptional academic merit.

The senior doctorates awarded in the Faculty are:

Doctor of Education
Doctor of Literature
Doctor of Social Science

The following rules for the above degrees must be read in conjunction with the general rules for senior doctorates in Handbook 3.

Admission requirements

- | | | |
|------|-----|--|
| FSD1 | 1.1 | A candidate for a senior doctorate shall hold a Bachelors degree of this or any other university recognised by the Senate for the purpose, of not less than eight years' standing. A candidate should normally have had significant involvement with UCT. |
| | 1.2 | Before a person may be registered for the degree he/she shall submit: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> (a) his/her curriculum vitae; (b) a set, or sets as required by the Senate, of copies of the work to be submitted for the degree, and any collateral evidence; (c) a detailed synopsis of the contents of the work, including a statement on the nature and value of the contribution; (d) a written statement affirming that the work submitted is the original work of the applicant as sole author or indicating the extent to which joint work is the original work of the applicant; (e) a statement that the applicant has not submitted this work for a degree at this or any other university. |

- | | | |
|------|-----|--|
| FSD2 | 2.1 | The candidate's registration shall be subject to the Senate's approval. |

The African Gender Institute (AGI) is a feminist research institute located within the Department of African Feminist Studies in the Faculty of Humanities at the University of Cape Town (UCT). We are committed to connecting with African feminist thinkers and activists across disciplinary, institutional and geographic borders. We have aimed to make the boundaries between research, pedagogy and activism porous, so that these arenas can become epistemologically coherent. Two core principles have informed AGI's work: first, the simple understanding of knowledge production as organic and people-centred; second, a respect for the generative and transformative power of collective processes. AGI has lead research projects on: gender justice, sexuality and human rights; peace and conflict studies; religion and sexuality; and capacity building in relation to gender and women's studies knowledges.

Course Outlines:

Please note that where the same course is offered for both the honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

The Faculty reserves the right to cancel course/s if there is insufficient student interest. Confirmation of whether the course/s will be offered will be published on Vula/Amathuba, Departmental and Postgraduate Faculty noticeboards by the first Friday of the semester in which the course begins.

AFS4100W RESEARCH ESSAY/PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor F Seedat

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

A research essay of 14,000-15,000 words must be submitted by no later than 23 October.

Assessment: Research essay / project.

AFS4101FS GENDER AND VIOLENCE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr N Titi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course provides a range of feminist analyses of the connections between gender, culture, sexuality and violence in African contexts and more broadly. It examines the development of theories and the history of organisational and State-based efforts to combat particular forms of violence, especially those commonly identified as 'gender-based violence's'. It also explores current dilemmas - theoretical, strategic and political - facing feminist activists and researchers with a commitment to challenging 'gender-based' violence in the SADC context.

Assessment: Two short essays (15% each); long essay of 4,500-5,000 words (40%) in course writing and participation (30%).

AFS4102W GENDER ANALYSIS & RESEARCH DESIGN

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr N Titi & Dr Z Mkhize

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course will introduce key principles of gender analysis, as theorised by Western and by African-based feminist researchers. Participants will explore the value of gender analysis in the design of both quantitative and qualitative methods of research, paying particular attention to issues of research design. The course will also draw on case studies of research located in the disciplines of political science, cultural studies, criminology and history in order to explore the implications of drawing on gender as a tool of social analysis within research projects grounded within disciplinary frameworks.

DP requirements: At least 50% pass for all assignments.

Assessment: Literary review 15%; first draft proposal 15%; final proposal 30%; proposal presentation 20%; final presentation 20%.

AFS4103FS DEVELOPMENT, CONFLICT AND POLITICAL CHANGE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr N Titi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course explores the politics of development from a gender perspective through a focus on the links between politics, conflict and peace-building in African contexts. The course will address issues such as peacebuilding, human rights, violence, and security in order to provide a critical reading of the ways in which development is gendered in selected African contexts. A key objective is to explore how development trajectories, gender equality, and peace are inextricably connected. The course will particularly focus on the links between conflict, peace-building, and political initiatives in order to offer new approaches to the theories on gender and development in African contexts.

Assessment: Two response papers 20%; group presentations 20%; two essays 50%; course participation 10%.

AFS4106F INTRODUCTION TO GENDER/TRANSFORMATION

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor B Moolman

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course will offer an introduction to contemporary issues concerning gender, post colonialism, development and research. The course will be structured through discussion of themes particularly relevant to issues of gender and transformation: post-colonial identities, the interaction of civil society and the nation-state, information technologies and knowledge production, sexuality and violence. The course will also prepare incoming students for the kinds of critical reading and writing essential to undertaking new research in gender and transformation.

Assessment: Course participation 10%; course assignment 20%; group presentations 25%; examination 45%.

AFS4108FS GENDER, SEXUALITY AND ISLAM

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor F Seedat

Course entry requirements: Prior undergraduate degree including BA, BSocSc or LLB. At least one previous or concurrent course in Religious Studies, or special permission of the instructor. Acceptance for an Honours programme.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide a critical study of gender, sexuality and approaches to the body in Islamic thought and Muslim communities. Drawing on feminist theories of religion, gender and sexuality, students will engage with religious texts and experiences to examine how Muslim communities manage the convergence of gender, sexuality and piety. The course will offer students an opportunity to evaluate international developments in gender, sexuality and Islam and through a focus on local and African continental contexts, diaspora communities and the global south. Areas covered will include historical and contemporary approaches to Muslim marriage and divorce law, Islamic jurisprudence and ethics, social justice and activism, gender-based reform, feminism and equality, and security and violence in Muslim minority and majority contexts. Prior undergraduate courses in Gender Studies and/or Religious Studies will be a strong advantage, otherwise students will require the permission of the course convener.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes and completion of both short assignments

Assessment: Two short assignments 20% each; One term paper 60%

AFS4111FS RACE AND GENDER IN AFRICA AND SOUTH AFRICAN UNIVERSITIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr Z Mkhize

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This module engages with contemporary debates on gender, blackness and decolonisation in higher education on the African continent. This course critically examines African-ness, gender and decolonisation in higher education. The course critiques the debates about being African in an African university, being gendered in African university spaces and debates around decolonisation and transformation.

Assessment: Continual assessment - paper 1: 20%; paper 2: 20%; paper 3: 40%; reflexive blogs: 10%; seminar engagements: 10%.

AFS4112FS GENDER, LAND & SPATIAL JUSTICE: A SENSE OF PLACE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor B Moolman

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide a critical study of gender, land, place and space through an African feminist geographical lens. Drawing on feminist theories of land, place, space and justice, students will engage with relevant readings and resources (video/podcasts, etc.) and experiences to examine how women and LGBTIQ+ communities engage and respond to questions of land, place, and spatial justice. The course will offer students an opportunity to examine local, continental and global contexts and politics in gender/race/class, land, place, space and justice through a focus on local and African continental contexts, diaspora communities and the global south. Areas covered will include historical and contemporary approaches to gender and land in Africa, the social production of space and place; borders/borderlessness, nation; migration and mobility and decolonial approaches to spatial justice.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes and completion of both short assignments.

Assessment: Two short assignments (2,500 words) 25% each. One term paper (5,000-6,000 words) 50%.

AFS5103FS DEVELOPMENT, CONFLICT AND POLITICAL CHANGE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr N Titi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's degree in an appropriate field.

Course outline:

This course explores the politics of development from a gender perspective through a focus on the links between politics, conflict and peace-building in African contexts. The course will address issues such as peacebuilding, human rights, violence, and security in order to provide a critical reading of the ways in which development is gendered in selected African contexts. A key objective is to explore how development trajectories, gender equality, and peace are inextricably connected. The course will particularly focus on the links between conflict, peace-building, and political initiatives in order to offer new approaches to the theories on gender and development in African contexts.

Assessment: The course will be assessed on the basis of both written work and class participation. Each student will be expected to: 1. Submit two response papers (25%). Each response paper should be no less than 1,500 words. 2. Take part in a group presentation (25%). 3. Submit one long essay (40%). Essay should be between 4,000-5,000 words. Please submit it on VULA /Amathuba and in hard copy to Wardah Daniels/ departmental administration. 4. Participate in the course (10%). Course participation is calculated based on attendance at weekly seminars (the course convenor must be informed in writing in the case of non-attendance).

AFS5104FS CONTEMPORARY AFRICAN FEMINIST THEORISATION

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convenor: Associate Professor F Seedat

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's degree in an appropriate field.

Course outline:

This course aims to prepare master's level researchers in gender studies to engage in advanced discussion on contemporary African feminists' theorisation of development, religion and ritual, identity and violence, family and culture, and sexualities. It explores, both historically and contextually, how such theorisations have influenced political and social changes, and how debates on the links between African feminist theorisations, decolonial theory, queer theory and broad African political theory in culture and knowledge-creation have been generated from the c19 to the c21. Some engagement with the dialogues, both disjunctive and fertile, contexted in Latin America, India, and the USA will be included in the syllabus. The course also aims to create and consolidate a peer-group of mid-level researchers in gender studies capable of both analytic and clear engagement with one another and supportive and collaborative thinking.

Assessment: Book review (x3) (1,000 words) 15%; Research community engagement (1,500 words) 10%; Seminar participation and contribution 20%; Short assignment (2,000 words) 10%; Presentation (of a draft of the paper) 10%; Long paper (7,000-8,000 words) 35%.

AFS5105W ADVANCED THEORY IN FEMINIST RESEARCH AND METHODOLOGY

48 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convenor: Associate Professor F Seedat

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course offers critical engagement on advances in feminist theories of knowledge-creation and research methodology. The course covers epistemological theory in feminisms and research and strengthens the approach to qualitative methodologies and basic quantitative analytic skills. The course aims to support master's level researchers in gender studies in the design and implementation of their individual research projects, as well to ensure a peer-based cohort of young scholars capable of critical and engaged discussion with others' research and research processes. It also will also offer diverse opportunities for engagement with senior researchers visiting AFS, in structured discussions on questions of research ethics, qualitative and quantitative analysis of data in feminist research, multilingualism/translation/interpretation in research, and other key areas of debate.

Assessment: Participation in prepared discussion (24 sessions) 25%; Assignment - paper in critical feminist research theory 10%; Assignment - paper in application of quantitative or qualitative analysis of research data 20%; Proposal process and production (8,000 words) 45%.

AFS5106W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor F Seedat

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's degree in an appropriate field.

Course outline:

A dissertation completed under supervision which shows thorough practical and/or academic knowledge of the approved subject and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical power in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered, may embody such original work of others as may be pertinent, may include the candidate's own published material on the same subject, if the prior permission of the Senate has been obtained. The dissertation must be the candidate's own work and any contributions to and quotations in the dissertation must be cited and referenced.

Assessment: A dissertation of no more than 25,000 words in length.

AFS5107H DIRECTED READING IN GENDER STUDIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's degree in an appropriate field.

Course outline:

This course offers students the opportunity to engage in intensive reading/dialogue with a faculty member expert in a particular area of Gender Studies. The course can be chosen in lieu of an elective, in consultation with the agreement of a research supervisor. The course allows the student to pursue a programme of reading in a special subject. The programme is designed in consultation with either the research supervisor or another AFS department member with expertise in the specific area, and will comprise structured reading, in-depth discussion of the material, and the production of a paper/papers (8,000 words).

Assessment: Participation in prepared discussion (8-12) 25%; Long paper (in consultation with the supervisor) (8,000 words) 75%.

AFS5108FS GENDER, SEXUALITY AND ISLAM

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor F Seedat

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's degree. At least one previous or concurrent course in the Study of Religions, or special permission of the instructor.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide a critical study of gender, sexuality and approaches to the body in Islamic thought and Muslim communities. Drawing on feminist theories of religion, gender and sexuality, students will engage with religious texts and experiences to examine how Muslim communities manage the convergence of gender, sexuality and piety. The course will offer students an opportunity to evaluate international developments in gender, sexuality and Islam and through a focus on local and African continental contexts, diaspora communities and the global south. Areas covered will include historical and contemporary approaches to Muslim marriage and divorce law, Islamic jurisprudence and ethics, social justice and activism, gender-based reform, feminism and equality, and security and violence in Muslim minority and majority contexts. Prior undergraduate courses in Gender Studies and/or the Study of Religions will be a strong advantage, otherwise students will require the permission of the course convener.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes and completion of both short assignments.

Assessment: Two short assignments (3,000 words) 15% each; One term paper (7,000 - 8,000 words) 60%; Participation 10%.

AFS5109FS THE POLITICS OF QUEER: BEYOND ENDURANCE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: Acceptance to a master's degree in an appropriate field.

Course outline:

This course aims to introduce students to the questions which arise through diverse queer theorisations, concerning historiography, language, the meanings of embodiment and the power of the border. It also aims to read queer theory and activism generated in the past five decades within the United States and Europe through engagement with African-centered writers, film-makers, performance artists and debates.

Assessment: Seminar-based papers on readings/discussion (5) 25%; Seminar participation and contribution 30%; Short assignment (2,000 words) 10%; Major assignment (7,000-8,000 words) 35%.

AFS5112FS GENDER, LAND AND SPATIAL JUSTICE: A SENSE OF PLACE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor B Moolman

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide a critical study of gender, land, place and space through an African feminist geographical lens. Drawing on feminist theories of land, place, space and justice, students will engage with relevant readings and resources (video/podcasts, etc.) and experiences to examine how women and LGBTIQ+ communities engage and respond to questions of land, place, and spatial justice. The course will offer students an opportunity to examine local, continental and global contexts and politics in gender/race/class, land, place, space and justice through a focus on local and African continental contexts, diaspora communities and the global south. Areas covered will include historical and contemporary approaches to gender and land in Africa, the social production of space and place; borders/borderlessness, nation; migration and mobility and decolonial approaches to spatial justice.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes and completion of both short assignments.

Assessment: Two short assignments (3,500 words) 25% each. One term paper (7,000-8,000 words) 50%.

The Centre was constituted in 1976 and built on the work of the School of African Studies which had been in existence for over fifty years and was one of the oldest in the world. Current scholarship takes place within the context of the mission of CAS, which promotes scholarship in the various fields concerned with people in Africa. The brief remains focused on providing a critical comparative perspective between Southern Africa, Africa, and the globalizing world. The mission remains urgent, given the longstanding and continuing dominance of Western models and discourses. The Centre houses research projects, organizes a range of seminars, conferences, and talks, and runs a gallery open to a wide variety of cultural performances.

Course Outlines:

Please note that where the same course is offered for both the honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

The Faculty reserves the right to cancel course/s if there is insufficient student interest. Confirmation of whether the course/s will be offered will be published on Vula/Amathuba, Departmental and Postgraduate Faculty noticeboards by the first Friday of the semester in which the course begins.

ASL4200W RESEARCH ESSAY/PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

An appropriate research paper, chosen in consultation with the supervisor, of approximately 15,000 words in length must be submitted by no later than 27 October.

DP requirements: Attendance at seminars is compulsory, failing which students' papers may not be marked.

Assessment: Research/Essay Project.

ASL4201F DEBATES IN AFRICAN STUDIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr Z Msomi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours or postgraduate diploma programme.

Course outline:

This course focuses on the writings of a range of Africa's liberation intellectuals, from nationalist leaders and social scientists to cultural activists, theorists and writers. The main objective of the course is, first: to highlight the main issues that have preoccupied these intellectuals and to examine their ideas in relation to the contexts in which they were produced; and second, to conduct a close reading of their key texts in the light of contemporary theoretical approaches to questions of colonialism, post colonialism, cultural identity and modernity.

The course will cover topics such as Pan-Africanism, negritude and race, the politics and truth value of autobiographies, nationalism and national consciousness. Key authors such as Leopold Sedar Senghor, Chinua Achebe, Ngugi Wa Thiongo, Steve Biko, Walter Rodney, Samir Amin will be studied alongside Frantz Fanon, Amical Cabral, Julius Nyerere, Kwame Nkrumah, Nelson Mandela, Mamphela Ramphele and Zubeida Jaffer.

DP requirements: Attendance at seminars is compulsory, failing which students' papers may not be marked.

Assessment: Two essays (25% each): 50%; research project: 50%.

ASL4203F PUBLIC CULTURE IN AFRICA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr D Jethro

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme or equivalent.

Course outline:

This course explores issues in public culture affecting Africa in a global context. Detailed examples illustrate how public culture is shaped, and how public expressions of identity and difference manifest in spaces and buildings, heritage, music and literature. An interdisciplinary course, it introduces various theoretical perspectives on culture and uses evidence from archaeology, history, architecture, literature and cultural studies. Its empirical focus ranges from the archaeology of pre-colonial Africa to the public culture of the Internet.

DP requirements: Attendance at seminars is compulsory, failing which students' papers may not be marked.

Assessment: Two essays (25% each) 50%; major project 50%.

ASL4205S THE AFRICAN STUDIES ARCHIVE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr D Jethro

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme or equivalent.

Course outline:

In this course we take a look at some of the key collections in the Manuscripts and Archives division of the University of Cape Town Library, and at some of the bodies of scholarly work to which they have given rise. As one of the oldest university archives in Southern African the collections speak – in image and text – of the formation of a range of discipline-based knowledges dealing with Africa. On the one hand, this takes the form of the emergence, formatisation and institutionalisation of a range of collecting and recording practices, fieldwork methodologies and the like. On the other hand, it takes the form of the emergence of various disciplinary discourses and their associated “objects” and “fields”. The key source of insight in the course lies in exploring how these different objects and fields are not natural or given but have been formed and constructed in relation to specific social contexts and intellectual histories. Significant collections examined in this course include the Bleek/Lloyd collection, the Goodwin Collection and the Hahn Collection. Particular emphasis is placed on the many hundreds of photographic images that form part of these collections as a point of entry into larger disciplinary debates and concerns.

DP requirements: Attendance at seminars is compulsory, failing which students' papers may not be marked.

Assessment: Two essays (25% each) 50%; major project 50%.

ASL4206S DECOLONIAL THEORY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr Z MsomiCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.Course outline:

This course considers the growing body of thought from Latin America under the heading 'decolonial theory', and exemplified in the works of Walter Mignolo, Arturo Escobar, Enrique Dussel, Santiago Castro-Gomez, Nelson Maldonado-Torres and Anibal Quijano. This work has been significant in framing an approach to questions of knowledge, coloniality and globalisation that attempts to re-write the script of modernity (as colonial modernity) and that provides rich conceptual resources through which to re-think familiar issues. The course takes a key-word approach. Each two-week block considers a distinct set of key words or concepts and texts that introduce and discuss them. They include Coloniality (of power/knowledge/being); Geopolitics of knowledge; Colonial globality and global designs; Border theory and colonial difference; Modernity (colonial modernity, peripheral modernity, transmodernity); Global designs and the local; The Indigenous Movement and postcolonial ethnicities. Approaching decolonial theory from the perspective of the Cape, the course asks: How might a critique based on South/Latin American historical experiences translate to African contexts? How does it speak to the particularity of knowledge production and colonial engagement in the Cape? How does it connect with contemporary African Studies debates addressing questions of knowledge and epistemology?

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and attendance at all seminars.Assessment: One major project 100%.

ASL4207F RETHINKING AFRICA'S DEVELOPMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor H ChitongeCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.Course outline:

This course looks at the various development approaches and theories adopted by African states at different times. The course examines some of the most influential theories of development which emerged in the context of the post-Second World War situation focusing on how these theories have been used in Africa. In examining the different development theories, the course also investigates how Africans have responded to these theories. The course examines the question of whether African countries need to rethink these approaches and theories. Emerging views about Africa's development trajectory are also discussed. Critical questions about whether Africa can achieve sustainable economic growth and development by deploying conventional development and economic growth theory are discussed.

DP requirements: Attendance at seminars is compulsory, failing which students' papers may not be marked.Assessment: Class participation & presentation (10%); 3000-word research paper (35%); 5000-word essay (55%).

ASL4209FS LAND & AGRARIAN QUESTION

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor H ChitongeCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.Course outline:

The prevalence of large-scale land acquisition in the context of rising food prices since the 2008/09 financial and economic crisis has brought the issues of land and land use in Africa in the spotlight. As a result, land and agrarian matters in Africa are increasingly having a direct bearing on broader issues including food security, environmental sustainability, economic growth, social and political stability, social justice and rural livelihoods. By introducing the land and agrarian questions in Africa this course critically examines the different dimensions of land, including patterns of land ownership, types of land tenure, land reform types, issues of tenure security, means of accessing land, land administration structures and institutions forms of land use, and the challenges (and opportunities?) posed by the current large-scale land acquisitions in different African communities. The course will draw examples from selected countries on the African continent. This course examines these dimensions of the land and agrarian questions in Africa in both their historical and contemporary contexts.

Assessment: Participation: 15%; Short Essay: 35%; Main paper: 50%.

ASL4210FS PAN-AFRICANISM & REGIONAL INTEGRATION IN AFRICA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor H Chitonge

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course examines the political and economic theory and rationale for Pan-Africanism and regional integration, with particular focus on how this has played out on the African continent over time. Emphasis in the course is on understanding the origins of Pan-Africanism, the current initiatives and arrangements towards regional integration, and the link between the two. The course provides an overview of past and contemporary strategies, initiatives and programmes aimed at unifying the continent. Students are introduced to the key challenges and opportunities of integration and development in Africa. While the philosophy of Pan-Africanism is still cited in some quarters as the basis for regional integration today, economic, and to a lesser extent political rationale, has dominated the motive behind regional integration. There is more emphasis now on the economic gains that can come from integrating the African continent than on any other motives. Given this context the course examines whether Pan-Africanism plays any role in the current drive towards regional integration. In the course, students are encouraged to critically reflect on whether the current motives for regional integration are strong enough to overcome the tendency toward national sovereignty and individualism in the continent.

Assessment: Participation: 15%; Short Essay: 35%; Main Essay: 50%.

ASL4211F PROBLEMATISING THE STUDY OF AFRICA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor S Pillay

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course looks at the relationship between power and knowledge, within the context of the history of Africa since colonialism and the development of the disciplines that study this continent. It is a relationship that helps to explain the links between colonialism and the formation of disciplines, between imperialism and language studies, in ways that not only cut across disciplines, but were in fact, responsible for formulating those disciplinary boundaries in the first place. The writings of intellectuals who have contributed to the formulation of our understanding of how and why knowledge of the continent has developed and whose interests this knowledge has served, will be examined. The disciplines that will be interrogated are: history, gender studies, social anthropology and literary studies.

Assessment: Two essays (25% each): 50%; research project: 50%.

ASL4300W RESEARCH ESSAY/PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Deumert

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The research project is an independent piece of research conducted under the supervision of an academic staff member in Linguistics. Students work throughout the year under the staff member's guidance to produce a research paper of 10,000- to 15,000-words in length. Requirements for the Research Project must be satisfied by the end of October annually.

Assessment: Research/essay project 100%.

ASL4304S SPECIAL TOPIC: READING COURSE

(May not be offered in 2025)

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Deumert

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme. This course may only be taken with special permission.

Course outline:

This is a course involving independent study of a special topic within linguistics that is not offered as a regular course. Students will do independent readings based on a list of readings on a set topic that is related to their research interests, e.g. Biological Foundations of Language, Advanced topics in Code-Switching, etc.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and at least 75% attendance at seminars.

Assessment: Two essays of 5,000 words each, counting 50%.

ASL4320FS LANGUAGE AND RACE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr S Mpendukana

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course explores the relationship between language and race by introducing students to the theoretical and ideological developments of racial hierarchies and their implications for society. In multilingual and multicultural contexts, such as South Africa, Africa and the Americas, this often carries implication for speakers and their well-being. We will explore the conceptions of race and their linguistic and semiotic manifestation through using the decolonial lenses to look into the social, economic and political relevance of race and language. Broadly, the course aims to emphasize how race and language are physically experienced daily by language speakers. This brings into discussion the ideas of race, language and affectivity as a way of reading social politics and their implications.

DP requirements: 75% attendance at seminars, and submission of all assigned work.

Assessment: A minor essay of 1,500 words = 20%; major essay 4,500 words = 70%; A presentation = 10%.

ASL4321FS RESEARCH METHODOLOGY FOR LINGUISTICS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Deumert

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course will introduce students to research methods in Linguistics. This will include quantitative methods, qualitative methods, ethnography, fieldwork and ethics. The course will prepare students for the research component of their degree.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and at least 75% attendance at seminars.

Assessment: 100% coursework. Might include weekly tasks, compilation of a literature review of a given topic; development of research proposal.

ASL4322FS RESEARCH METHODOLOGY IN LINGUISTICS: ANALYTIC FRAMEWORKS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr M Thompson

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Co-requisites: AXL4321FS Research Methodology for Linguistics.

Course outline:

This course will introduce students to analytical frameworks in Linguistics. This will include discourse analysis, conversation analysis, thematic analysis, and content analysis. The course will prepare students for the research component of their degree.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work.

Assessment: 100% coursework. Might include weekly tasks and exercises.

ASL4325FS LANGUAGE ENDANGERMENT, ACTIVISM AND REVITALISATION

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: J Brown

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course looks at questions of language endangerment, language maintenance as well as language activism and language development. The course will compare how these issues have developed and been addressed in different parts of the world. The course will cover a number of important areas and concepts in sociolinguistics including, language shift, language maintenance and language 'death', as well as the politics and practice of language activism, language development and revitalisation.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and at least 75% attendance at seminars.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

ASL5201W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

A dissertation completed under supervision which shows thorough practical and/or academic knowledge of the approved subject and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical power in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered, may embody such original work of others as may be pertinent, may include the candidate's own published material on the same subject, if the prior permission of the Senate has been obtained. The dissertation must be the candidate's own work and any contributions to and quotations in the dissertation must be cited and referenced.

DP requirements: Attendance at seminars is compulsory, failing which students' papers may not be marked.

Assessment: A dissertation of no more than 25,000 words in length.

ASL5202F PROBLEMATISING THE STUDY OF AFRICA

ASL5203S CRITICAL ISSUES IN HERITAGE STUDIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr D JethroCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.Course outline:

In this course we examine a set of critical issues in the field of heritage studies, as they are currently unfolding. We take a case study approach to look at currently breaking issues in heritage theory, policy and practice. In particular, we are interested in those points at which heritage forms a cutting edge in broader contestations around culture, identity and history. In addition, as a way of making sense of heritage management discourses, we examine some of the intellectual histories and genealogies of formulations of heritage in South Africa.

DP requirements: Attendance at seminars is compulsory, failing which students' papers may not be marked.

Assessment: One major project 100%.

ASL5207F PUBLIC CULTURE IN AFRICA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr D Jethro

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course explores issues in public culture affecting Africa in a global context. Detailed examples illustrate how public culture is shaped, and how public expressions of identity and difference manifest in spaces and buildings, heritage, music and literature. An interdisciplinary course, it introduces various theoretical perspectives on culture and uses evidence from archaeology, history, architecture, literature and cultural studies. Its empirical focus ranges from the archaeology of pre-colonial Africa to the public culture of the Internet. The course interweaves and links engagement with theory with the development of skills that are useful in the worlds of film and media practice, heritage practice, business, advertising etc. The theory component considers key texts demonstrating "tools to think with", and allowing shifts between general propositions and real-world examples, thereby probing the socio-cultural world's underlying structures. The skills development component focuses on the conceptual planning and development of projects in the phase preceding final production. In particular, the course develops historically- and theoretically-informed, reflexive understandings of culture and identity, in contexts of diverse heritage and media practices. It offers a unique convergence of theory and practice, around a number of key sites of identity and contestation: "race", "public culture", "African-ness", and the like.

Assessment: Two essays: 25% each; Project: 50%.

ASL5208S THE AFRICAN STUDIES ARCHIVE

On the one hand, this takes the form of the emergence, formatisation and institutionalisation of a range of collecting and recording practices, fieldwork methodologies and the like. On the other hand, it takes the form of the emergence of various disciplinary discourses and their associated “objects” and “fields”. The key source of insight in the course lies in exploring how these different objects and fields are not natural or given, but have been formed and constructed in relation to specific social contexts and intellectual histories. Significant collections examined in this course include the Bleek/Lloyd collection, the Goodwin Collection and the Hahn Collection. Particular emphasis is placed on the many hundreds of photographic images that form part of these collections as a point of entry into larger disciplinary debates and concerns.

Assessment: Major project: 50%, Research proposal: 10%, Additional material: 40%.

ASL5209F DEBATES IN AFRICAN STUDIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr Z Msomi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master’s programme.

Course outline:

This course focuses on the writings of a range of Africa's liberation intellectuals, from nationalist leaders and social scientists to cultural activists, theorists and writers. The main objective of the course is, first: to highlight the main issues that have preoccupied these intellectuals and to examine their ideas in relation to the contexts in which they were produced; and second, to conduct a close reading of their key texts in the light of contemporary theoretical approaches to questions of colonialism, post colonialism, cultural identity and modernity.

The course will cover topics such as Pan-Africanism, negritude and race, the politics and truth value of autobiographies, nationalism and national consciousness. Key authors such as Leopold Sedar Senghor, Chinua Achebe, Ngugi Wa Thiongo, Steve Biko, Walter Rodney and Samir Amin will be studied alongside Frantz Fanon, Amical Cabral, Julius Nyerere, Kwame Nkrumah, Nelson Mandela, Mamphela Ramphele and Zubeida Jaffer.

Assessment: Two essays of 2,500 words each: 50%; One take-home exam essay of 5,000 words: 50%.

ASL5301W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Deumert

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master’s programme.

Course outline:

A dissertation completed under supervision which shows thorough practical and/or academic knowledge of the approved subject and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical power in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered, may embody such original work of others as may be pertinent, may include the candidate’s own published material on the same subject, if the prior permission of the Senate has been obtained. The dissertation must be the candidate’s own work and any contributions to and quotations in the dissertation must be cited and referenced.

DP requirements: Consultation with Supervisor.

Assessment: A dissertation of no more than 25,000 words in length.

ASL5320FS LANGUAGE AND RACE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr S Mpendukana

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master’s programme.

Course outline:

The course explores the relationship between language and race by introducing students to the theoretical and ideological developments of racial hierarchies and their implications for society. In multilingual and multicultural contexts, such as South Africa, Africa and the Americas, this often carries implication for speakers and their well-being. We will explore the conceptions of race and their linguistic and semiotic manifestation through using the decolonial lenses to look into the social, economic and political relevance of race and language. Broadly, the course aims to emphasise how race and language are physically experienced daily by language speakers. This brings into discussion the ideas of race, language and affectivity as a way of reading social politics and their implications.

DP requirements: At least 75% attendance at all lectures and seminars, and completion of all assigned work.

Assessment: A minor essay of 2,000 words = 20%; major essay 6,000 words = 70%; A presentation = 10%.

ASL5322FS RESEARCH METHODOLOGY IN LINGUISTICS: ANALYTIC FRAMEWORKS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr M Thompson

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Co-requisites: ASL4321FS Research Methodology for Linguistics.

Course outline:

This course will introduce students to analytical frameworks in Linguistics. This will include discourse analysis, conversation analysis, thematic analysis, and systemic functional analysis. The course will prepare students for the research component of their degree.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work.

Assessment: 100% coursework. Might include weekly tasks and exercises.

ASL5325FS LANGUAGE ENDANGERMENT, ACTIVISM AND REVITALISATION

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: J Brown

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course looks at questions of language endangerment, language maintenance as well as language activism and language development. The course will compare how these issues have developed and been addressed in different parts of the world. The course will cover a number of important areas and concepts in sociolinguistics including, language shift, language maintenance and language 'death', as well as the politics and practice of language activism, language development and revitalisation.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and at least 75% attendance at seminars.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

ANS4400W RESEARCH ESSAY/PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor F RossCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.Course outline:

An individually supervised research exercise that is based on directed reading, regular assessed participation in a graduate seminar and field-based research. The course culminates in an ethnographic research essay based on primary research and part of which may be an ethnographic film or submitted as new-media text. It must demonstrate that the student has been able to:

- conceptualise and design a field-based ethnographic research project that is informed by issues in the anthropological literature or that will use an anthropological perspective, drawn from the literature, to address policy or other practical/lived social-cultural concerns;
- develop a set of methods in order to gather apposite material using a range of interrelated ethnographic techniques; and
- structure and prepare a mini-dissertation/research essay (10,000 to a maximum of 15,000 words for submission by the end of October the year of registration) that demonstrates ability in the points bulleted above and is structured to develop a clear and consistently systematic argument.

DP requirements: Submission of chapter outline for research essay.Assessment: Research essay: 100%.

ANS4401F ETHNOGRAPHIC RESEARCH METHODS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor F RossCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme; a major in Anthropology or permission of Head of Department.Course outline:

Theory and practice in ethnographic research methods, including participant observation, interviewing skills and visual anthropology. Contextual qualitative data collection methods and analysis. Research proposal writing skills; preparing a proposal and research design. The course may include a fieldwork exercise based on a short field trip.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed assignments and satisfactory attendance and participation in coursework seminars by due dates.Assessment: Coursework 100%.

ANS4402S THINKING ANTHROPOLOGICALLY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr M SwaiCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme; a major in Anthropology or permission of Head of Department.Course outline:

This course was first developed in the context of South Africa's transition from apartheid to democracy. "Transition" dominated popular and academic discourse throughout the 1990s. Its multiple meanings continue to collide with its meaninglessness, especially now that several decades have passed since the country's critical transition and everyone agrees that democracy is not a moment, but a process. The course is anchored in enquiries about the multiple ways in which South African societies transitioned not only into democracy, but several other unfixed and impermanent processes such as demilitarization, land repossession, gender (in)equality, and so on. The structure of this course introduces a major "transition" type each week. For each week, participants will analyze a set of statistics that pertain to the transition, one or two anthropological texts and one piece of fiction. The rationale here is that each of these genres sheds a different kind of light into what we mean with terms such as modernization, westernization, globalization or decolonization. For each week, a reading assignment will guide the purpose for reading each text. The seminar format will consist of a brief lecture in which the lecturer will propose the parameters for discussion and provide context that will help connect the various themes. The bulk of each class will consist of rich discussion and engagement with the readings in order to arrive at tentative conclusions regarding each "transition" and how, as anthropologists, we contribute to both the transition itself and the discourse and thinking about it anthropologically.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed assignments and satisfactory attendance and participation in coursework seminars.

Assessment: Coursework 100%.

ANS4404FS SPECIAL TOPICS IN ANTHROPOLOGY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor F Ross

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme; permission of Head of Department.

Course outline:

Special-topic courses will normally include advanced work on an issue dealt with at the undergraduate level or emanating from current departmental research. Details of such special-topic courses will vary from year to year and they will only be offered if there is sufficient demand and adequate personnel.

DP requirements: Submission of work-in-progress.

Assessment: Coursework 100%.

ANS4405S MULTIMODAL AND VISUAL ANTHROPOLOGY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme; permission of Head of Department.

Course outline:

Multimodal and Visual anthropology is concerned with the analysis, the production of and the reception of multimodal and visual materials. To explore multimodality is to engage deeply with ways of knowing and to ask questions about how we perceive the world and how we re-present the world. In this course we introduce you to some of the grounding concepts, histories and contemporary debates in multimodal and visual anthropology. The course explores vision, the senses and affect as socio-historically located and the relationship to ethnographic representation. We also offer a taster of anthropological approaches to audiovisual research methodologies and anthropology-art entanglements, a 'bricolage' of sorts to link across and extrapolate from. Here, we focus on processes of making, agency and personhood, exploring 'making visible' from an anthropological perspective. Given the history of visual anthropology in colonial practices of othering, it is important to develop ethical relations to images and multimodal representations of lifeworlds. Through re-looking at the past, we will attempt to bring together what we have learnt about visuality, making and analysing images, material culture and film and ask how we can cultivate projects that are liberatory and ethical. This course will offer you the opportunity to produce a multimodal project such as a: short film, visual ethnography, photographic exhibition, graphic novel, podcast, audio-visual web-based project, an in-depth analysis of a visual project or other multimodal form.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed assignments and satisfactory attendance and participation in coursework seminars.

Assessment: Coursework 100%.

ANS4407FS MEDICAL ANTHROPOLOGIES: WELL-BEING IN A PRECARIOUS WORLD

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor F Ross

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course explores the subdiscipline of medical anthropology through a range of theoretical perspectives on well-being in relation to the body, medicines, and political economy. The overall theme of the course concerns the intertwining of body, sociality and illness. It seeks to demonstrate the ways in which illness and well-being are imbricated in a precarious world. Theoretical themes in medical anthropology are discussed alongside ethnographic work to inspire students in the importance of a detailed revisiting of local worlds and their global connections. Four major themes are: Phenomenological approaches to embodiment; Questions of power; Marginalisation, history and discourse; Knowledge and ethics in relation to biology, science, and biomedicine. The overall aim is to examine how well-being is constituted and to understand the ways in which contemporary arrangements of power, knowledge, resources enable or inhibit health, broadly understood. The course examines the entailments of practical medical anthropology.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed assignments; satisfactory attendance and participation in coursework seminars.

Assessment: Coursework: 2 essays (50%); term paper (50%)

ANS4502FS EARTH POLITICS: ECOPOLITICAL TRANSFORMATIONS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor L Green

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course aims to create a transdisciplinary space in which students from the sciences, applied sciences, health, economics, law, humanities and social sciences can meet and engage with questions of how to develop more effective engagements between scholarship on environmental crises, and environmental activism.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and submission of all assignments and weekly responses on time. This course does not have an examination but all marks are from submitted assignments. Therefore plagiarism and use of ChatGPT or other authoring services will be referred for disciplinary hearings, the result of which could be exclusion from completion of the degree.

Assessment: Weekly written reflection responses to course materials shared on class website. Max. ONE page. The purpose of these reflection papers is to formulate questions about the readings in relation to historical/current/future events. To be posted on Vula before each class commences: 30%; One essay of 2,000-2,500 words, reviewing materials taught in the first quarter, in relation to current events and/or your life experience: 30%; Course project of 5,000-6,000 words, based on environmental struggle/case study and a deep reading of the materials throughout the course: 40%.

ANS5401W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr K Mohamed

Course entry requirements: ANS5411W. Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

Master's specialising in Anthropology: Candidates undertake an approved and supervised anthropological research project based on engagement with appropriate literature and at least two months of field-based research (normally in southern Africa). It culminates in a 25,000-word ethnographic dissertation (part of which may be an ethnographic film or new-media text).

Programmes other than the above: Candidates undertake an approved project applying anthropological perspectives to a field of study appropriate to their programme of registration. It comprises a supervised research exercise based on directed reading, participation in a graduate seminar, and primary and/or secondary research. It culminates in a minor dissertation appropriate to the candidate's programme of registration.

DP requirements: Submission and approval of a consultancy report in terms of brief and a chapter outline for dissertation.

Assessment: A dissertation of no more than 25,000 words.

ANS5403F FURTHER SPECIAL TOPICS IN ANTHROPOLOGY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr K Mohamed

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme; permission of Head of Department.

Course outline:

Further Special Topics courses will normally include further advanced level work on an issue dealt with at the 4000-level or emanating from departmental research. Details of such further special courses will vary from year to year and they will only be offered if there is sufficient demand and adequate personnel.

DP requirements: Submission of work-in-progress.

Assessment: Coursework 100%.

ANS5407S ANTHROPOLOGY AND CONTEMPORARY THEORY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor F Nyamnjoh

Course entry requirements: ANS4402S plus candidacy in one of master's specialising in Anthropology or Practical Anthropology, or permission of Head of Department.

Course outline:

Beginning with the Archie Mafeje's critiques of anthropology, the course explores current theoretical interventions regarding coloniality and modernity in contemporary social sciences and humanities. With a particular emphasis on the possibilities that open when critiques of coloniality extend to the categories inhering in modernist thought, the course focuses on the possibilities for radical and innovative ethnographic accounts of the world. The course pays particular attention to modes of theorising relations and seeks to undo a Western epistemology that takes distancing, objectification and war as its primary modes of engagement.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed assignments; satisfactory attendance and participation in coursework seminars.

Assessment: Two 5000-word essays (40% each); presentation (20%).

ANS5409FS ETHNOGRAPHIC PROBLEMATIQUES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor H Macdonald

Course entry requirements: Candidacy in master's specialising in Anthropology or permission of Head of Department.

Course outline:

The course provides students opportunity to engage with ethnographic texts on selected anthropological themes and to develop an historical synthesis of ethnographic work pertaining to a selected anthropological research problem such as they will have to face in undertaking their own research for their minor dissertations. Students devise individual projects within a collaborative framework.

DP requirements: Submission of work-in-progress; oral presentation of final paper.

Assessment: Term paper 100%.

ANS5414FS RESEARCHING THE ANTHROPOCENE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr N Solomon

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

The term "Anthropocene", taken up by geologists to describe the era in which the effects of collective human action have become "significant on the scale of Earth history", compels a rethinking of the divides between the human sciences and the natural sciences. The implication: not only are conceptual divisions between society and nature to be rethought, but that new approaches to research are needed to speak to the challenges of comprehending the interconnections of human life, earth systems, and species. This course offers an introduction to research methods that are needed in order to bring these interconnectivities and parts and wholes, into public life and decision-making. Building on current conversations across the south on the engagement of decolonial literatures and the post-humanities, this course explores the research methods proposed by leading scholars in these fields.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed assignments; satisfactory attendance and participation in coursework seminars.

Assessment: Two 5000-word essays (40% each); prepared seminar presentation (20%).

ANS5417FS WATER, SOCIETY, ECOLOGY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr N Solomon

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This cross-institutional course aims to improve student understandings of social and ecological dilemmas around water, and water-related infrastructures. The goal is to support graduates capacity to think with liquid flows around hard surfaces; urban chemistries; multiple species, and the historical-political legacies of infrastructure and design, in order to work towards "planet-compatible", justice-based infrastructure interventions. This course also probes how we can build better collaborative practices across North-South divides – i.e. ones that are alert to histories of inequality and questions of environmental justice. It thus includes comparisons and discussions about ongoing relations at human-land-water interfaces in different hemispheres. To this end, the course is both transdisciplinary-- to prepare students to reach beyond traditional disciplines - and hemispheric - to facilitate, in a teaching context, a stronger understanding of north-south concerns and dialogics.

DP requirements: All coursework to be submitted. Attendance at all classes and field activities.

Assessment: 1 Essay (35%); 1 Project based on field research of a river (45%); 2 Seminar Presentations (2x10%).

ANS5418FS ANTHROPOLOGY OF DISABILITY AND DEBILITY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr K Mohamed

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a Master's programme.

Course outline:

Inequality and structural violence is frequently manifested by the capacity to debilitate populations, erase and normalise the impairing effects of precarity and subjugation. Taught from a decolonial, feminist perspective the course thus critically explores the connections between structural violence, and the experience and production of disabilities and debilities from a geopolitical, transnational and interdisciplinary perspective. To think about how those who inhabit unequal societies are made vulnerable to impairment and debilitation, we will engage with contemporary debates on race and coloniality, heteropatriarchy, gender and sexuality, toxic ecologies, and neoliberal capital amongst other world-making forces. The course will, in particular, consider the ways in which epistemic violence obscures the capacity to contend with the persistent and continual embodied and psycho-affective effects of inequality.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed assignments; satisfactory attendance and participation in coursework seminars.

Assessment: Coursework: 100% - 2 x long essays; 1 x presentation.

ANS5419FS THE MEAT OF THE MATTER - FOOD, GENDER, AND PLANETARY HEALTH

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor C Tsampiras

Course entry requirements: Completion of Honours level degree and acceptance for Master's programme.

Course outline:

How does a hamburger link to gender identities, violence, the planetary crisis and health? It is complex questions like this that the vibrant and growing field of Medical and Health Humanities (MHH) in Africa (and across the world) - underscored by concerns for inclusion, access, and social justice - is interested in addressing. The Meat of the Matter course contributes to these discussions and MHH, by exploring topics and theories linked to food access, systems, creation, production, preparation, and social significance. The course will consider the gendered nature of food and explore how this relates to the health of individuals, communities (of various species), and the health of the planet. The course will investigate the inter-relationships between food, gender, sexuality, 'race', class, species, and health and draw on theories and notions such as ecofeminism, queer ecologies, slow violence, and the capitalocene to examine them. It allows students to investigate and understand how food and health (human, non-human and planetary) has been shaped by socio-political, economic, and environmental concerns and promises to feed your intellect.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed coursework assignments, essays, or research work; satisfactory attendance and participation in seminars.

Assessment: Three strongest coursework assignments - 100% of final mark.

ANS5500W MINOR DISSERTATION IN ENVIRONMENTAL HUMANITIES SOUTH

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr N Solomon

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MPhil specialising in Environmental Humanities.

Course outline:

Candidates undertake an approved co-supervised and cross-disciplinary research project, based on engagement with appropriate literature, and one to two months of field-based research. It culminates in a 25,000-word ethnographic dissertation.

Assessment: A dissertation of no more than 25,000 words.

ANS5502FS EARTH POLITICS: ECOPOLITICAL TRANSFORMATIONS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor L Green

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

AGE4000W ARCHAEOLOGY HONOURS

Since the code AGE4000W will not carry a NQF credit value, students will be concurrently registered for AGE4003W (coursework component of 112 NQF credits) and AGE4004W (research project of 48 NQF credits).

160 NQF credits at NQF level 8; the combined credit value of both components.

Convener: Dr Y Sahlé

Course entry requirements: A Bachelor's degree majoring in Archaeology and an acceptable academic record. Students applying for admission to the Honours programme in Archaeology must satisfy the Head of Department that they have adequate fieldwork experience.

Course outline:

The purpose of the Honours programme in Archaeology is to look in depth at current issues in the discipline, both internationally and in southern Africa. Those taking part are expected to become fully involved in the academic life of the Department, attending such seminars as may be given by staff members, research students and visitors. In addition, they must participate in the structured programme of lectures and tutorials, and write a research dissertation. The dissertation is a central part of the Honours programme. Each student must prepare a project proposal, worked out with a supervisor and approved by the Head of Department. In addition, students must take part in one open seminar, where they present their project to the Department. All students are required to participate in two weeks of fieldwork.

Assessment: On average the course work component counts 70% (this includes 50% from final examinations) and the research project counts 30%. A sub-minimum of 50% is required for the research project. These component parts of the course will be combined in a final overall mark which will be reflected against the course code AGE4000W, with PA (pass) entered against the coursework and project codes; each of these components must be passed separately for the award of the degree.

AGE4001W ARCHAEOLOGY & ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE HONOURS

Since the code AGE4001W will not carry a NQF credit value, students will be concurrently registered for AGE4005W (coursework component of 112 NQF credits) and AGE4006W (research project of 48 NQF credits).

160 NQF credits at NQF level 8; the combined credit value of both components.

Convener: Dr Y Sahlé

Course entry requirements: A BSc degree with majors in both Archaeology and Environmental & Geographical Science. Acceptance will be at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

Using the resources of both the Departments of Archaeology and Environmental & Geographical Science, this Honours programme focuses on the palaeoenvironmental context in which humans lived during the long course of the Quaternary. Course requirements include modules from both Archaeology and from Environmental & Geographical Science and a research project (48 credits).

Assessment: On average the course work component counts 70% (this includes 50% from final examinations) and the research project counts 30%. A sub-minimum of 50% is required for the research project. These component parts of the course will be combined in a final overall mark which will be reflected against the course code AGE4001W, with PA (pass) entered against the coursework and project codes; each of these components must be passed separately for the award of the degree.

APG5089S CURATING URBAN REGULATION

23 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor E Pieterse

Co-requisites: APG5090W; APG5108F; APG5109F

Course outline:

This course aims to build on the practical and conceptual work focused on the challenges and urgencies of southern urbanism that students undertake in the first semester in the City Research Studio, Urban Everyday and/or Urban Theory, and zeroes in on the problem of adapting these lessons for the realm of urban governance and regulation. The central question then is this: What does critical policy look like from the vantage point of African cities? The course will seek to offer answers to this question primarily by adopting a design perspective: by applying a design lens to think about space and politics and what alternative modes of regulation are possible (given, for instance, constant technological innovation) and necessary (given the multiple and intersecting crises of access to water, food, housing and other basic needs). The central aim of the course is to facilitate students' process to map, interpret and devise regulatory modes and practices of urban intervention that are capable of meaningfully addressing the most pressing problems of our cities and transform the places where people live.

Lecture times: Refer to departmental timetable

DP requirements: Written course work and participation.

Assessment: 3 short 'response' papers to engage literature and visual materials brought into the class (30%), one long paper (40%), weekly journal reflecting on literature and new learning (20%), course participation and seminar presentation (10%).

APG5081S WORKING WITH HERITAGE RESOURCES

20 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Ms W Wilson

Course entry requirements: None

Co-requisites: None

Course outline:

This course aims to bring together the theoretical, historical and legal frameworks covered in the previous three modules to develop a hands-on understanding of how these shape conservation practice. It introduces the basic primary research and interpretive skills required to understand and critically assess heritage resources, and equips students to apply the ideas encountered in previous courses to practical examples.

Lecture times: Course runs on a block release system

DP requirements: 80% attendance of lectures and 100% completion of assignments.

Assessment: By examination of an assignment (100%).

Course Outlines:

ECO4006F MACROECONOMICS

16 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: At least 40% for ECO4112F

Course outline:

The course studies the principal macroeconomic approaches towards understanding short-run fluctuations in aggregate output and the longer-term determinants of macroeconomic performance. Business cycles are investigated from a traditional Keynesian and New Keynesian perspective, complemented by a discussion on monetary and fiscal policy options. For understanding economic growth, the course reviews the exogenous growth model as well as new growth theories and alternative perspectives.

Lecture times: Tuesday: 09h00-10h45

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 40% and examination 60% Note: A supplementary exam will only be offered for ECO4006F during the mid-year vacation.

ECO4007F MICROECONOMICS

16 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: At least 40% for ECO4112F.

Course outline:

This course covers topics in microeconomics that are fundamental to modelling the behaviour of economic agents, markets, and strategic interactions. The course starts with the analysis of individual decision making, which is often referred to as decision theory. It then covers individual interactions in “markets,” prior to focussing on game theory, which is the natural extension of decision theory to strategic interactions between economic agents. The course concludes by focussing on applications of game theory.

Lecture times: Wednesday: 11h00-12h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 50%, Examination 50%. Note: A supplementary exam will only be offered for ECO4007F during the mid-year vacation.

ECO4013S INTERNATIONAL FINANCE

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F. PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

The course provides an introduction to international finance and makes use of financial and open-economy macroeconomics modelling techniques to investigate topics that are relevant to this field of study. Topics covered may include but are not limited to an overview of the foreign exchange markets, the properties of exchange rate data, models for exchange rate determination, interest rate parity conditions, carry-trade and currency momentum models, measuring and managing exchange rate risk, as well as the role of deficits and current account imbalances.

Lecture times: Thursday: 09h00-10h45.

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: 4Coursework 30%, Examination 60%. Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4016F ECONOMETRICS

16 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: At least 40% for ECO4112F

Course outline:

This course is an introduction to econometric theory and practice. It provides the tools with which to test hypotheses and generate predictions of economic activity. The main focus is on causal inference with non-experimental data. The course has a strong lab-based component in which students work with the statistical computing packages Stata and R. The topics covered include omitted variable bias and measurement error in regression models; panel data methods; limited dependent variables and sample selection corrections; and regression analysis with time series data (covering stationarity, autocorrelation, forecasting and other similar introductory concepts).

Lecture times: Tuesday: 11h00-12h45 & 14h00 - 14h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 60%; Examination 40%. Note: A supplementary exam will only be offered for ECO4016F during the mid-year vacation.

ECO4020S ECONOMIC CHALLENGES IN AFRICA

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F. PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

After independence, many parts of Africa suffered serious relative economic decline. Recent growth rates have been very promising. This course is therefore about the challenges confronting economic development in Africa (generally excluding South Africa). It seeks to provide a detailed overview of African development, and exposes students to debates regarding past problems, current issues and future possibilities. The focus is applied and policy oriented. Topics include the state in Africa, challenges of managing capital flows, aid, resources and conflict, agriculture and industrialisation.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework only consisting of 4 essays, each 20%; 20% on panel performance and class participation. Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4021W RESEARCH & WRITING I

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: See entrance requirements for Honours in Economics. At least 40% for ECO4112F. If students do not pass ECO4006F, ECO4007F, and ECO4016F, they will have to deregister from ECO4021W.

Course outline:

The long paper is to take the form of an article intended for submission to the South African Journal of Economics. A student must follow their referencing style. Given that it is to take the form of an article, the long paper should be divided into sections rather than chapters, and a maximum of 8 000 words has been imposed. It must be written in an appropriate academic style.

Lecture times: None

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: 100% written work Note: Students that receive a subminimum of 40% for their research paper (ECO4021W), will be given one opportunity to revise and resubmit their paper before the start of the following academic year. The revised research paper will be eligible for a maximum grade of 50%. Any student who fails ECO4021W after re-submission fails the degree.

ECO4026S THE ECONOMY & ITS FINANCIAL MARKETS

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F. PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

This course is designed to help students appreciate the relationship between the economy and its financial markets so that they may better understand how the economy works, how financial markets behave and how they work and interact with each other. The programme is aimed at developing a feel for the rationality of 'the market' and the often discordant sounds and rhythms of financial markets. We hope to develop a stronger sense of how the financial market anticipate and influence economic policy. We will interact with the data on the economy and the markets using Econometric packages with which students should be familiar. We will use regression analysis and other econometric techniques to build and analyse models of the economy and the financial markets. As a result students will be expected to become more perceptive analysts of published financial data and economic events and of the role played by financial markets in promoting economic development.

Lecture times: Friday: 14h00 – 17h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 50%; examination 50%. Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4027S THE ANALYSIS OF SURVEY DATA

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F. PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

This course examines complex sample survey designs and issues that arise when using such surveys, including sampling frames and methods, weighting, variance estimation and missing data. The course presents methods that are used when producing and analysing complex sample survey data. These are applied mainly to household surveys but firm surveys with complex survey designs are also introduced and contrasted with household surveys. Economic development applications using survey data are presented. Weekly computer practicals using Stata accompany the theoretical material.

The aim of the course is to equip students with the tools to be able to understand and use complex sample survey data, as well as to critically assess the reliability of statistics produced from various sources of survey and other data that appear in academic work or more broadly.

Lecture times: Monday & Wednesday: 14h00-15h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 60%; Examination 40%. Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4028S POLICY ANALYSIS

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F. PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

Against the background of South Africa's "low growth trap" of the past decade, this course explores the economic evidence and analysis that might contribute to more rapid and inclusive growth in South Africa. Students will explore options for regulatory and public finance reforms and the evidence through which policy change can be assessed. The course takes a view of economic strategy that recognises the importance of history and context in shaping the challenges and opportunities that policies and public programmes have to confront.

Lecture times: Wednesday: 16h00-17h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 100%. Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4029S EXPERIMENTS IN ECONOMICS

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F. PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

This course is an introduction to the methodology of experimental economics and its application to specific topics such as decision making under risk and over time, the provision of public goods, and bargaining. We will primarily focus on laboratory experiments but we will also cover field experiments, and briefly discuss randomised evaluations, and natural experiments. The course will start with a consideration of the scope and role of experiments in economics. It then explores some basic principles of experimental design such as the role of randomisation and control in experimentation, the use of incentives, and the interplay of theory, experimental design, and statistics. Thereafter we will focus on specific examples of experiments from both decision theory and game theory.

Lecture times: Friday: 09h00-10h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework consisting of pre-class experiment (10%), class presentation (20%) and assignment (35%): 65%; examination 35%. Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4032S ECONOMICS OF INDUSTRY, REGULATION AND FIRMS

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F. PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

The course is an introduction to Industrial Economics and Competition Policy. It is fundamental to students interested in working as economists at the regulatory agencies, antitrust authorities, economic consulting firms or other firms which are involved in regulated activities. During the course students become familiar with theoretical economic models of price discrimination and product design by a monopolist, regulation of natural monopoly and oligopolistic competition. The courses covers the following topics: Monopoly and price discrimination, Natural monopoly and regulation, Models of imperfect competition, Tacit and explicit collusion, Horizontal mergers and Vertical relations and restraints

Lecture times: Tuesday: 14h00-15h45

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 100%. Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4051S DEVELOPMENT ECONOMICS

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F for economics honours students. PPE (Honours and Masters level) students will need to have passed equivalent 4000-level courses in political studies and/or philosophy.

Course outline:

This course covers a range of macro, micro and political- economic issues of relevance to developing countries. While precise topics vary from year to year, examples include the political economy of development, the nature and measurement of development, the role of the state, market and institutions in development, industrialisation and industrial policy, globalisation, climate change and poverty and inequality. Key theoretical issues and debates are covered and students will be introduced to central themes and controversies in the history of economic thought in development. The course also has a strong applied focus. Extensive use is made of actual historical and contemporary policy experiences in a wide range of developing countries. A strong emphasis is placed on class participation and critical engagement with course materials.

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework (60%); final examination (40%). Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4052S ENVIRONMENTAL ECONOMICS

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO1010 and ECO1011 or permission from convener. Basic knowledge in Economics, especially Microeconomics will be useful.

Course outline:

The aim of the course is introduced students to key ideas on environmental economics and policy relating to both local and global environmental issues. The course is designed to bring to light the relationship between economic activity and the environment, and the potential for environmental policy to improve the quality of life we and future generations can enjoy. Major topics covered in the course include externalities and the implication on market failure, Environmental Policy Instruments, management of common property resources, risk and uncertainty, environmental justice, Economic growth and the environment, Cost benefit analysis and valuation methods for environmental amenities, renewable and non-renewable resources, and the concept of environmental sustainability. In introducing students to these topics, considerable attention is devoted to key theoretical and policy debates relating to environmental challenges and their implication for sustainable development.

Lecture times: Thursday: 14h00-15h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 50%; Examination 50% Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4053S FINANCIAL ECONOMICS

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F. PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

This course seeks to introduce students to the principles of financial economics, and is a bridge to higher level courses in finance and economics. Topics covered include; a critical discussion of the efficient markets hypothesis, an application of quantitative methods in finance, risk aversion in the context of utility theory, examination of the mean-variance portfolio theory, the Capital Asset Pricing Model and multi-factor asset pricing models, modelling of the term structure of interest rates, introduction to Ito calculus, stochastic models for security prices, Black-Merton-Scholes analysis, valuation of futures and options, behavioural finance theory, introduction to the economics of financial crises, asymmetric information and limits to arbitrage. Emphasis is on meticulous coverage of existing and new developments in modern finance theory and their application in investment analysis and management.

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 40%; Exam 50% Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4112F MATHEMATICS AND STATISTICS FOR ECONOMISTS

16 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: See entrance requirements for Honours in Economics.

Course outline:

This course covers the basic tools and applications in order to prepare the student for the study of Macroeconomics, Microeconomics and Econometrics at an intermediate and advanced level. Material covered includes linear algebra, comparative statics, optimisation, integration and differential difference equations.

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 40%, Examination 60%. Note: Students who obtain less than 40% for ECO4112F will not be allowed to continue with the programme.

ECO4113S LABOUR ECONOMICS

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F. PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

The Honours course in labour economics introduces a number of topics that are important for the analysis of economies in developing countries as well as our own. The course focusses on reading and understanding applied research as well as interrogating econometric methods for labour market research. Topics covered in the course may vary, but generally include: minimum wages; labour regulation and labour market policies; trade unions and collective bargaining; growth, poverty and inequality; and others. Students will be expected to complete an applied research assignment related to the course content.

Lecture times: Monday, 09h00 - 10h45, 16h00-17h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 40%; Examination 60%. Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course..

ECO4114S THE ECONOMICS OF CONFLICT, WAR AND PEACE

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

Peace, war and international security is an area in which economists are often conspicuous by their absence, to a degree that rivals the importance of economic issues to the problems at hand. This course considers the contribution that economics has and does make to the understanding of conflict war and peace, with a focus on Africa. It covers topics such as: the causes and economic effects of military spending; the economic causes and effects of conflict and terrorism; the economics of post conflict reconstruction; the international arms industry; and the international arms trade.

Lecture times: Tuesday: 09h00-10h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework consisting of one project 40%; examination 60%. Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4131S DIGITAL ECONOMICS

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F. PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

The purpose of this course is to introduce the main topics in digital (or Internet) economics. During the course we will identify and formalize the main features of digital goods and discuss why they may lead to particular market outcomes (such as market dominance by a single firm). Next, we will discuss pricing and product design strategies used by firms in digital markets. During the lectures we will make references to relevant theoretical and empirical material in industrial organization and management science as well as discuss timely case studies. We will also discuss the role of government in the regulation of digital markets. At the end of this course, students should have understanding of the functioning of digital markets and be familiar with tools which can be used to analyse these markets. They should be also familiar with antitrust and regulatory challenges in digital markets.

DP requirements: Submitted homework assignments; Case study presentation

Assessment: Coursework 40%; Examination 60%. Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO4132S ECONOMICS OF INEQUALITY: CAUSES, CONSEQUENCES AND POLICY

14 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Hofmeyr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F, ECO4007F and ECO4016F. PPE (and other) students who do not have to complete the core as part of their degree requirements may be granted permission to register for this elective at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

This course aims to study the causes, consequences and policy implications of income inequality. Strong emphasis is placed on determining the mechanisms through which the persistence of inequality arises. While the primary lens used to analyse this phenomenon is economics, the course also considers the impacts of financial markets, credit and savings, health, education, social networks and political mechanisms. We complement the theory by reviewing relevant empirical findings where possible. The course includes an overview of global inequality, both within and between countries, as well as a strong emphasis on South African inequality.

DP requirements: The classroom presentation will be compulsory. This will be a 10-15 minute presentation on a topic of the student's choosing where they investigate some aspect of economic inequality.

Assessment: The course will have three assessment components. 1. A mid-term essay (30%) 2. A classroom presentation (20%) 3. A final essay (50%) Note: No supplementary exam is offered for this course.

ECO5000W MASTERS IN ECONOMICS FULL DISSERTATION

180 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a Master's programme in Economics.

Course outline:

The student undertakes, under supervision, a research dissertation of less than 50,000 words. The dissertation should be well conceived and acknowledge earlier research in the field. It should demonstrate the ability to collect, organise and analyse material to communicate effectively. It should illustrate the ability to replicate and/or critically evaluate existing research in the field.

Lecture times: None

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: 100% written work

ECO5003F GOVERNANCE & GROWTH

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: An undergraduate major in Economics and Honours degree or equivalent in a relevant discipline. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

This course explores governance and growth in two parts. The first part entails a critical examination of capitalism and the challenges it poses for inequality and sustainability, paying particular attention to the role of power in economics. We also discuss two opposing views on the future of capitalism, notably Paul Mason's Marxist analysis Postcapitalism: A guide to our future; and Branko Milanovic's Capitalism Alone: The Future of the System that Rules the World. The second part of the course looks at issues of governance and growth pertaining specifically to the political economy of economic development. We pay particular attention to the role of policy in shaping the growth path, and to the political underpinnings of growth episodes.

Lecture times: Monday, Wednesday: 11h00-12h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 100%.

ECO5011F QUANTITATIVE METHODS OF ECONOMICS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: ECO4112F Mathematics and Statistics for Economists or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department.

Course outline:

This course consists of three modules, namely Real Analysis (RA), Dynamic Optimisation (DO) and Probability & Statistics (PS). The course is intended to offer a solid grounding in the fundamental techniques of real analysis, dynamic optimisation, and probability & statistics. It assumes that students have taken the Honours level mathematics and statistics for economists. Therefore, it will be assumed that students have a very strong understanding of linear algebra and calculus. Students are also assumed to be comfortable with basic microeconomic and macroeconomic theory.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 40%; examination 60%.

ECO5020F ADVANCED MICRO ECONOMICS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: ECO4007F Microeconomics or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of the Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

This is a course in economic theory, covering consumer theory, production, uncertainty and general equilibrium with selected applications. The level, readings, and format represent a condensed version of what has become the international standard for the graduate sequence in core microeconomic analysis at the masters and doctoral level. Basic to intermediate mathematic tools (from calculus, linear algebra, basic probability, and some rudiments of analysis) will be used extensively in order to present economic ideas with clarity and conciseness. Candidates should note that the course is analytically demanding and relatively intense. Detailed reading lists will be provided by the instructors.

Lecture times: Tuesday: 14h00-15h45, Wednesday:09h00-10h45, Thursday: 14h00 - 15h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 40%; examination 60%.

ECO5021F ADVANCED MACROECONOMICS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: ECO4006F Macroeconomics or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

The course provides an introduction to the tools and methods in modern dynamic macroeconomics. The goal is to develop an advanced understanding of macroeconomic models that are based on microeconomic foundations, to describe the behaviour of an optimising agents that exhibit rational expectations in a coherent manner. Specific emphasis will be placed on the application of dynamic stochastic general equilibrium and overlapping generations approaches, where we will show how to solve these models, calibrate and/or estimate the parameters, stimulate dynamic responses, and interpret the results

Lecture times: Monday, Wednesday: 11h00-12h45, Friday:09h00-10h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 40%; examination 60%.

ECO5023W MINOR DISSERTATION

60 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: See entrance requirements for Master of Commerce Economics.

Course outline:

This is the final phase of the Masters programme, in which the student undertakes, under supervision, a research dissertation of 10,000 words. The dissertation should be clearly conceived and acknowledge earlier research in the field. It should demonstrate the ability to collect, organise and analyse material to communicate effectively. It should illustrate the ability to replicate and/or critically evaluate existing research in the field.

Lecture times: None

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: 100% written work.

ECO5030S APPLIED GROWTH THEORY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: ECO5021F Advanced Macroeconomics or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

The course will be centered around several topics covering growth theory. The topics are broadly categorised into three main sections: Productivity growth; Institutions and geography; and the link between productivity growth and institutions and geography. The course will cover both the international and South African empirical evidence related to these sections: (1) The Solow-Swan Model and the empirical evidence on convergence; (2) The Ramsey and Cass Koopman Models with special cases of the utility function; (3) Endogenous Growth: Externalities, R&D, Innovation; (4) The Political Economy of Growth.

Lecture times: Wednesday, Friday: 14h00-15h45

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 40%; examination 60%.

ECO5046F ADVANCED ECONOMETRICS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: ECO4016F Econometrics or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

This course is intended to equip students with practical econometric skills at an advanced level. The course covers the linear model, generalised linear models, instrumental variables, generalised methods of moments and an introduction to systems of equation. The skills developed in this course are foundational in empirical work involving econometrics, and constitute an essential ingredient in most jobs in the field of economics, whether in the public, private or academic sector. This course also provides skills that are useful in the dissertation phase of the Masters. The course balances theory and computer-based practical applications.

Lecture times: Monday, Wednesday: 14h00-15h45, 16h00-17h45, Thursday: 16h00-17h45

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 40%; examination 60%.

ECO5050S INTERNATIONAL FINANCE

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: Honours in Economics or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

This course exposes participants to the conceptual and methodological issues in international finance. Topics covered include (i) international asset markets (covering international money and capital markets, foreign exchange markets, international financial regulation); and (ii) contemporary issues in international macroeconomic policies (bearing on economic growth, debt, and foreign aid). A major emphasis is on empirics. The objective is to help participants develop research skills as well, particularly of the kind involving empirical methodologies that are more accommodating of the institutional settings from which the data sets are generated. The other closely related goal is to cultivate the ability to efficiently digest a wide range of scholarly publications in this field, learn how to conduct peer review of papers for publication, and possibly develop researchable topics of interest to the participant.

Lecture times: Friday: 09h00-10h45, Monday: 16h00-17h45

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 50%; examination 50%.

ECO5052S NATURAL RESOURCE ECONOMICS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: Honours in Economics or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

The course consists of a mixture of lectures, readings, seminars and practical/problem solving sessions. It combines theoretical analysis with discussions on specific environmental policies as applied to climate change, biodiversity, renewable and non-renewable resources. It is intended to familiarise students with important contributions of the theoretical and applied literature as well as current research in environmental and resource economics. Finally, the course provides students with a better understanding of current debates and issues in the environmental field.

Lecture times: Tuesday, Thursday: 11h00-12h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 50%; examination 50%.

ECO5057S LABOUR ECONOMICS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: Honours in Economics or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

The aim of the Masters course in Labour Economics is to cover many of the core theoretical approaches of modern labour economics as well as to explore how well these apply to the South African situation. Our intention is to be both theoretically rigorous and empirically relevant.

Lecture times: Monday: 11h00-12h45, Wednesday: 16h00-17h45

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 40%; examination 60%.

ECO5062S APPLIED INTERNATIONAL TRADE

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: Honours in Economics or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

The purpose of the course is the development of applied research skills in the area of international trade theory. There are two key components to this course: (a) an overview of international trade theory, and (b) the application of empirical research techniques and trade models in international trade theory. The first component covers topics relating to classical trade theory, trade liberalisation, trade and labour, new trade theory, regional integration and globalisation. The second component is largely computer based and covers the estimation of comparative advantage, the measurement of effective protection, the use of computable general equilibrium models and gravity/regional integration models. Assessment is largely project based.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 70%; examination 30%.

ECO5064S BEHAVIOURAL ECONOMICS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: Honours in Economics or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

Recent developments in behavioural economics, behavioural decision theory, experimental psychology, neuroscience and other fields challenges the behavioural assumptions embedded in neoclassical microeconomic theory and decision theory and suggests refinements to economic theory that promise to be more relevant to real world applications. The first major objective of the course is to delve into these recent developments. Topics covered include experimental design, social preferences, risk attitudes, loss aversion, probability weighting functions, cumulative prospect theory, and the neuroeconomics of altruism, cooperation, risk and trust.

The second objective of the course is to understand the interplay between psychology and poverty. Many of the conditions that worsen decision-making might actually be caused by poverty. If the poor have to live hand-to-mouth, this in itself is taxing and a preoccupation with these concerns leaves fewer mental resources for other decisions or concerns. This part of the course takes a critical look at frontier research on the causal relationship between cognition (fluid intelligence, executive functioning, planning, working memory) and poverty. The course concludes by examining the neuroscientific corroboration of the so-called system I and system II thinking that underpins this work.

Lecture times: Wednesday: 09h00-10h45, 11h00 -12h45

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Course presentations 10%; exams 60%; course paper 30%

ECO5066W MASTERS IN ECONOMICS HALF DISSERTATION

120 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a Master's programme in Economics

Course outline:

This is the final phase of the Masters programme, in which the student undertakes, under supervision, a research dissertation of less than 25,000 words. The dissertation should be well conceived and acknowledge earlier research in the field, if appropriate. It should demonstrate the ability to collect, organise and analyse material to communicate effectively. It should illustrate the ability to replicate and/or critically evaluate existing research in the field.

Lecture times: None

DP requirements: None

Assessment: 100% written work.

ECO5069S APPLIED TIME SERIES ANALYSIS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: ECO4016F Econometrics, STA5085F Introduction to Statistics or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

The course provides an accessible introduction to the application of time series methods. The topics covered may include an introduction to the dynamic properties of time series, structural breaks, univariate autoregressive moving average models, forecast evaluation, state-space models, various unit root tests, univariate volatility models, autoregressive distributed lag models, vector autoregression models, structural vector autoregression models, Bayesian vector autoregression models, dynamic factor models, cointegration and error-correction models, multivariate volatility models, regime-switching models, and deep learning models. The course will also emphasize recent developments in time series analysis and areas of ongoing research.

Lecture times: Tuesday, Thursday: 16h00-17h45

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 50%; examination 50%.

ECO5070S MICROECONOMETRICS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: ECO5046F (Adv. Econometrics) or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

The aim of the course is to develop the theoretical knowledge of microeconometrics as well as an understanding of the use of microeconometrics in economic empirical analysis. Students will develop the technical and practical skills in cross-section econometric empirical analysis and by the end of the course, the students will have both the theoretical, technical and practical skills required for Masters level empirical research. Topics covered in this course are basic linear unobserved effects Panel Data Models; Discrete and Censored Regression Models; Estimating Average Treatment Effects; Nonparametric density estimation and regression.

Lecture times: Monday: 09h00 - 10h45, 14h00 - 15h45, Friday: 09h00 - 10h45

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Tests 50%; Project 50%.

ECO5073S PROBLEMS OF GLOBALISATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: An undergraduate major in Economics and an Honours degree in a relevant discipline. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

This course exposes students to 'problem-driven' approaches (compared to method-driven or theory-driven approaches). The course focuses on a selection of significant global problems that especially confront the developing world analysing their global and local determinants and effects. Topics covered include globalisation and global value chains; industrialisation and structural change; globalisation and inequality, the determinants of China's rise and green transitions.

Lecture times: Tuesday, Thursday: 11h00-12h45

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Coursework 100%.

ECO5074F RESEARCH & POLICY TOOLS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: An undergraduate major in Economics and an Honours degree or equivalent in a relevant discipline. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.

Course outline:

This course aims to equip students working on development problems with conceptual tools for evaluating development projects and interventions. The objectives of particular projects or policy interventions vary and hence there is no single measurement tool applicable to all. Development is multi-dimensional, with some objectives more closely aligned to human rights perspectives, and others more amenable to narrow economic cost-benefit calculations. Since donor resources and government spending are both subject to budget constraints, understanding the economic consequences of development choices is essential, hence this course pays particular attention to cost benefit analysis and assessing productivity/efficiency. However, the key objective of the course is to introduce students to the profoundly problem-driven nature of developmental impact assessment where the important first stage involves framing the question and then determining the most appropriate assessment tool.

Lecture times: Tuesday, Thursday: 14h00-15h45

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 100%.

ECO5075S MACROECONOMIC POLICY ANALYSIS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A KerrCourse entry requirements: Honours in Economics or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.Course outline:

This course seeks to provide students with an introduction to the modern methods that are employed for empirical macroeconomic research and analysis. A significant portion of the course will focus on the construction of models that may be applied to the data of an African country. By the end of the course, students will have the theoretical, technical and practical skills that are required to construct their own models for empirical research.

Lecture times: Wednesday: 09h00-10h45, Friday: 11h00 - 12h45DP requirements: NoneAssessment: Coursework 100%.

ECO5076S DEVELOPMENT MICROECONOMICS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A KerrCourse entry requirements: Honours in Economics or equivalent or at the discretion of the head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.Course outline:

This course is about the application of microeconomic analysis to issues of development in low and middle income countries. The main objective is to undertake a critical reading of recent research on the empirical microeconomics of development. Topics covered are: (1) the econometrics of impact evaluation; (2) land contracts and land reform; (3) intra-household resource allocation and gender bias; (4) the evaluation of human capital programs; (5) the structure of labour and credit markets in developing countries; and (6) the microeconomic impacts of international trade.

Lecture times: Tuesday: 09h00-10h45, 11h00 - 12h45DP requirements: NoneAssessment: Assignments (30%); Written commentaries on selected articles (30%); Final exam (40%)

ECO5077S INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A KerrCourse entry requirements: Honours in Economics or equivalent or at the discretion of the Head of Department. Students not registered for an Economics Masters programme will need permission from the graduate convener.Course outline:

The objective of this course is to introduce recent quantitative techniques which are used to empirically implement and test models of consumer behaviour and competition between firms. These models are commonly applied to competition policy and regulatory proceedings, for instance to assess the effects of a merger on competition or to regulate telecommunication operators. During the course students should become comfortable with the application of these techniques and understand their limitations. This course should be of interest for students who intend to work as economists at antitrust authorities, industry regulators, and economic consulting firms or pursue a career as a researcher in academia.

The course will be divided into two interchanging parts. First, we will derive theoretical models in the classroom. Next, we will estimate these models using Stata and real data from different industries in the computer lab. About 50% of the course will be devoted to lab exercises. You will also receive regular take home computer exercises to be able to practice the applications by yourself.

Lectures notes and a reading list of relevant academic and policy papers will be provided for each topic. The following topics will be covered in the class: (1) Econometric methods for estimation of simultaneous equations models of demand and supply (2) Estimation of oligopolistic models of competition and tests for market conduct (3) Estimation of differentiated products demand functions (4) Merger simulation (5) Detecting collusion and estimation of damages (6) Estimation of models of market entry (8) Quantitative methods used to define markets in antitrust proceedings

Assessment: Coursework consists of 4 homework assignments (30%) and one presentation (10%); final examination (60%).

ECO6000W PHD IN ECONOMICS

360 NQF credits at NQF level 10

Convener: A Kerr

Course entry requirements: Acceptance to the PhD programme in Economics

Course outline:

A PhD thesis is required to be an original, coherent and consistent body of work which reflects the candidate's own efforts. The thesis may not be more than 80,000 words. A candidate will undertake research, and such advanced study as may be required, under the guidance of a supervisor or supervisors appointed by Senate.

Requirements for recognition of university degrees for teaching purposes

Students who are considering a career in teaching are advised that the entry requirements for the Postgraduate Certificate in Education are as follows:

- Recommended for all intending teachers: Introductory Xhosa course(s).
- Teaching in a high school:
 - Most teachers study two of the following school subjects in a Bachelor's degree: Language/s; mathematics; the natural sciences; geography; environmental science; historical studies; psychology; accounting; economics; music; fine arts; drama; dance; computer science. The normal requirement is a minimum of two years of degree study in each of the above school subjects, but 3 years of Psychology is the minimum for life skills teaching and a year of Mathematics can be accepted for Senior Phase and Mathematics Literacy.

Please consult the School of Education website for details: <http://www.education.uct.ac.za>. Visit our FAQs at FAQs for prospective PGCE students and FAQs for current PGCE students.

NOTE: Completion of a Certificate, Advanced Certificate, Diploma or Further Diploma is not normally sufficient qualification for admission into an honours programme.

Schools Development Unit (SDU)

The Schools Development Unit (SDU) is a unit of the School of Education located in the Neville Alexander Building, University Avenue, Upper Campus.

The SDU was established in 2000 with the goal of improving teaching and learning in the South African schooling system. It draws on academic research and teaching expertise to help tackle the systemic and structural challenges within our education landscape. Through teacher education, schools-based interventions, professional consulting services and dynamic materials the SDU works to develop quality education for all.

Note - for courses for HCert(Ed) (Adult Ed) only:

The first year will provide an introduction to learning theory, but this will be closely linked to the practical development of facilitation and design skills. The second year aims to enhance professional competence by locating practice theoretically and contextually. Academic development will be an important component of both years one and two.

Please note that these courses are not available to students doing general BA and BSocSc degrees.

Course Outlines:

Please note that where the same course is offered for both the honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

The Faculty reserves the right to cancel course/s if there is insufficient student interest.

Confirmation of whether the course/s will be offered will be published on Vula/Amathuba,

Departmental and Postgraduate Faculty noticeboards by the first Friday of the semester in which the course begins.

DOH1013W CHILDREN'S LITERATURE AND LITERACY IN MULTILINGUAL CONTEXTS

This course will be offered as an elective in the UG degree for students who intend registering for a PGCE. Students who are applying to the PGCE, and who cannot demonstrate via their academic record that they possess the required appropriate disciplinary knowledge for FP/IP teaching, will be required to complete this course.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 5

Convener: Dr X Guzula

Course outline:

This course provides a theoretical introduction to the field of children's literature. It aims to facilitate critical and creative engagement with the field of children's literature and to consider the role of literature teaching and storytelling in early childhood education. It aims to introduce students to multiple genres, i.e. oral, digital, visual and written literature, folk and fairy tales in Afrikaans and isiXhosa. It aims to stimulate debate and discussion on how such texts can be used in the teaching of literacy in multilingual contexts in early childhood education in South Africa. It will focus on close textual analysis of multiple genres as well as academic writing using process, genre and critical literacy approaches.

DP requirements: Completion of all course work assignments and 80% attendance of lectures.

Assessment: Students will be assessed through coursework (50%) and through an examination comprising essays. The examination counts 50%.

DOH1014W ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERACY

This course will be offered as an elective in the UG degree for students who intend registering for a PGCE. Students who are applying to the PGCE, and who cannot demonstrate via their academic record that they possess the required appropriate disciplinary knowledge for FP/IP teaching, will be required to complete this course.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 5

Convener: Dr X Guzula

Course outline:

The course focuses on English language and literacy. Students will be introduced to key theories of first language (L1) and second (L2) language acquisition and learning. The course will explore Behaviourist, Nativist/innatist, Cognitive, Socio-cultural theories of language acquisition and learning as well as theories of biliteracy pedagogies and multiliteracies pedagogies and the implications for teaching. It aims to build theoretical understandings and approaches to teaching home/primary language literacy. It explores psychological, socio-cognitive and socio-cultural approaches to language and literacy learning. Students will be exposed to an emergent approach to literacy learning as well as to phonics approaches, whole language approaches and balanced literacy approaches. Students will also be introduced to key South African texts on language attitudes and practices and debates on the role and status of English.

DP requirements: Completion of all course work assignments and 80% attendance of lectures.

Assessment: Students will be assessed through coursework (50%) and through an examination comprising essays. The examination counts 50%.

DOH1015W PSYCHOLOGY, SOCIOLOGY AND PHILOSOPHY OF CHILDHOOD

This course will be offered as an elective in the UG degree for students who intend registering for a PGCE. Students who are applying to the PGCE, and who cannot demonstrate via their academic record that they possess the required appropriate disciplinary knowledge for FP/IP teaching, will be required to complete this course.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 5

Convener: Dr R-A Reynolds

Course outline:

Psychology, sociology and philosophy of childhood is a cross-cutting subject that supports and strengthens the teaching of the core Foundation phase subjects namely Life skills, Languages (English, Afrikaans and isiXhosa) and Mathematics. It is concerned with the social, personal, intellectual, emotional, moral and physical growth of children, and with the way in which these are integrated. This course will explore the inter-related issues of learning, teaching and cognitive, emotional, cultural and physical change with the South African child as its focus. The aim is to develop an approach to theorising the process of learning and educational development, in relation to the specific educational problems/challenges generated in the South African context. The disciplinary knowledge for the teaching of this course is uniquely interdisciplinary and draws on Psychology, Philosophy, Sociology, Literary and Cultural Studies.

DP requirements: Completion of all course work assignments and 80% attendance of lectures.

Assessment: Students will be assessed through coursework (50%) and through an examination (50%).

DOH2004W MATHEMATICS FOR EDUCATORS

This course will be offered as an elective in the UG degree for students who intend registering for a PGCE. Students who are applying to the PGCE, and who cannot demonstrate via their academic record that they possess the required appropriate disciplinary knowledge for FP/IP teaching, will be required to complete this course.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 6

Convener: Y Johnson

Course outline:

The course explores mathematics for educators from an advanced perspective. General features of foundations of mathematics and mathematical structures (such as a set of numbers equipped with some operation(s)) will be examined. The natural numbers with their familiar associated arithmetical operations $+$, $-$, \times and \div will serve as useful, familiar reference and example. Fundamental ideas such as notions of collections (sets) and relations (including functions) will be used as the mathematical tools to construct and describe numbers systems. Measurement, Geometry, symmetry and transformations are given abstract and general treatment in that these are described via sets and functions.

In particular, the following content areas will be surveyed from the abstract mathematical perspective (as briefly described above):

- Number, Operations and Algebra
- Measurement
- Geometry
- Cartesian Coordinate System, Symmetry and Transformations
- Statistics and Probability

DP requirements: Completion of both tests and 80% attendance of lectures.

Assessment: 25% Test 1; 25% Test 2; 50% Examination.

EDN3200W EDUCATION

40 NQF credits at NQF level 7

Convener: Dr S Abdulatief

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a PGCE.

Course outline:

This core course addresses the foundations of education and professional studies. Starting with the moment of practice (when a teacher in front of a class decides what to do), the course addresses six questions in different courses across three teaching blocks, intentionally interspersed with school experience. 1. What is knowledge? (The intended curriculum and CAPS; Debates on knowledge; Curriculum theory.) 2. What is pedagogy? (Curriculum and pedagogy; Teaching for learning; Authentic learning environments.) 3. How do we understand learners and learning? (Learning and development; Social positioning of learners and social justice; Inclusive Education and barriers to learning.) 4. How do we understand teachers and teaching? (Ethical decision-making; Teacher professionalism and professional learning communities.) 5. How do we understand schools and the contexts within which we teach? (Schooling in South Africa; The policy context, SACE.) 6. How do we understand the relationship between language, literacy and learning? (Language and literacy development; Language and literacy across the curriculum.)

DP requirements: Submission and satisfactory completion of all assignments.

Assessment: Assignments and tests count 100%.

EDN3206W SCHOOL EXPERIENCE SP AND FET

32 NQF credits at NQF level 7

Convener: Dr W Lilley

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a PGCE.

Course outline:

The course is in two parts: teaching practice (24 credits) and submission of a teaching portfolio (8 credits). Teaching practice involves the placement of students in schools by the School of Education under the supervision of university supervisors. It comprises two weeks of structured observation after registration and two periods of five and six weeks respectively at two differently resourced schools. Weekly tutorials prepare students for the teaching practices. The portfolio requires reflection on professional growth over the year, based upon a selection of items of evidence from teaching practice.

DP requirements: Satisfactory fulfilment of the requirements for the qualification; completion of a teaching practice journal; 80% attendance at tutorials; and submission and satisfactory completion of the portfolio.

Assessment: Students are expected to satisfy the teaching practice supervisors appointed by the School of Education, the school in which they teach and the external examiner, who will visit schools during teaching practice. The assessment is based on the supervisors' reports, confidential reports by schools, a student report and the examiner's reports. Teaching practice (70%); teaching practice portfolio (30%).

Course outline:

Method courses consider aspects of pedagogy as they relate to curriculum at classroom level. Each course will examine the more theoretical aspects and rationale for teaching a subject and its knowledge structure. The courses cover practical applications for teaching a subject effectively, including knowledge and competence related to the following: 1) how to interpret a curriculum to design relevant, interesting and imaginative learning experiences, year, term and lesson planning and pacing; 2) teaching strategies and methods such as large class discussions, co-operative learning, pair work, role-play, learner-research, problem-solving, methods unique to the content and structure of a subject; 3) types and purposes of different types of assessment, marking memorandums and rubrics and feedback; 4) critical and creative design and use of teaching and learning resources in both well-resourced and under-resourced contexts. Courses will additionally include critical discussion of selected research articles about learning and innovation in the appropriate field.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments and projects.

Assessment: A course examination which counts for 50% is optional per course. Assignments and projects count for the remainder, or 100%.

EDN4500W EMERGING TECHNOLOGY IN EDUCATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor D Ng'ambi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the Postgraduate Diploma in Educational Technology.

Course outline:

The course will cover the history of educational technology before examining the general challenges that face education in the twenty-first century. We explore the contexts of African education from the level of the international to the national, to the institution to the discipline.

Then identify ways in which the affordances of emerging technologies can help educators' better respond to the teaching and learning challenges of twenty-first century.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and submission of all assessment tasks.

Assessment: An assignment to conduct a contextually specific situational analysis of the use of technologies to respond to challenges in twenty-first Century education counts 100%.

EDN4501W ONLINE LEARNING DESIGN

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor D Ng'ambi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the Postgraduate Diploma in Educational Technology.

Course outline:

This course prepares students to design, develop and formatively evaluate online learning interventions within a particular social and cultural context and to adequately explain their design assumptions. This course requires students to critically appraise various models of online learning design by examining their underlying epistemological (knowledge), psycho-social (learning theory) and pedagogical (teaching) assumptions and their associated learning strategies. Students are then required to design, develop and formatively evaluate a prototype online learning intervention using suitable technologies and defend their design choices in an electronic portfolio.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and submission of all assessment tasks.

Assessment: Assignment on online learning design and an electronic portfolio count 100%.

EDN4502W RESEARCH & EVALUATION OF EMERGING TECHNOLOGY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor D Ng'ambi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the Postgraduate Diploma in Educational Technology.

Course outline:

Drawing on global and African research, students will use theoretical perspectives evident in e-learning research as a lens through which to understand the implementation and evaluation of an educational technology intervention in an authentic context. This module adopts a Design Based Research (DBR) approach to explore education challenges, refine theory, define pedagogical outcomes then use emerging technologies to create a learning environment that supports the outcome. DBR acknowledges that any intervention in education embodies theoretical claims about teaching and learning. Thus, this module will prepare students to develop design principles for designing theoretically grounded eLearning interventions and be able to evaluate existing interventions to uncover underpinning design principles. Given the increase in the use of mobile devices, the module will also focus on mobile learning interventions. Among others, the following models will be used within DBR: the Conversational Framework and the Framework for the Rational Analysis of Mobile Education (FRAME).

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and submission of all assessment tasks.

Assessment: An evaluation of an online learning intervention counts 100%.

EDN4503W LEARNING, TEACHING & EMERGING TECHNOLOGY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor D Ng'ambi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the Postgraduate Diploma in Educational Technology.

Course outline:

This course will investigate the inter-related issues of learning, teaching and technology. It examines key theories of learning to understand how the twenty-first Century learners globally and specifically in the African context might best engage with various tasks before scrutinizing various pedagogical theories to justify why and in what ways specific teaching strategies and emerging technologies might best support learning.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record plus submission of all assessment requirements.

Assessment: An extended literature review constitutes 100%.

EDN4504F LEARNING & TEACHING IN HIGHER EDUCATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor K Behari-Leak

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the PGDip (Education).

Course outline:

This course provides participants with explanatory frameworks (theories and concepts) for understanding student learning and critically examining and improving their practice as educators in the HE context. It provides an induction into HE teaching practice which includes an orientation to transformative teaching approaches, relevant learning theories, course and task design, assessment, and curriculum change which are also explored in greater depth in elective courses. The course will draw on the current teaching experience of participants as well as case studies which focus on the learning and teaching challenges generated by epistemically, linguistically and culturally diverse classrooms.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record plus submission of all assessment requirements.

Assessment: A series of assignments, interrogating own practice in context and culminating in a reflective commentary on personal development during the course, as well as participation in class and on the LMS/ VULA will be assessed.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor J Hardman

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course investigates the interrelated issues of learning, teaching and cognitive change. It enables a deeper exploration of learning theories in relation to specific educational problems/challenges generated in the South African context, and in relation to broader questions of psychological change. It generates a view of learning and learners that negates the conventional isolation of educational issues from other psychological domains.

The course is structured around three core issues:

1. Cognition: theories of learning
2. Learning and identity: constructions of self
3. Learning and development: possibilities for mediation

DP requirements: 80% attendance at contact sessions and completed submission of assessment tasks

Assessment: Coursework (100%).

EDN4508W DOING RESEARCH IN EDUCATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr R-A Reynolds

Course entry requirements: Admission to BEdHons.

Course outline:

The purpose of the course is to develop students' capacity to design research in their field/specialism with a view to preparing them to conduct and report on independent research. In the first part of the course, students are introduced to the logic of research design and associated methods, with a particular focus on the relation between a research problem, a research question, a literature review, theory, data and analysis within a coherent design in their field/specialism. In the second part of the course, students will conduct and write up a small independent research study under supervision in their field/specialism.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at contact sessions and completed submission of assessment tasks

Assessment: Coursework (100%).

EDN4509W RESEARCHING PRACTICE IN EDUCATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor L Powell

Course entry requirements: Admission to PGDip (Education).

Course outline:

The aim of this course is to introduce students to methodological approaches to research in their field/specialism and enable them to develop competence in evaluating research reports. Students will read and critically analyse a range of research reports in order to discern the design logic of each study. This will include examining the relation between the research problem, the research question(s), the literature review, theoretical resources, data production methods, analysis and issues pertaining to validity, generalisability and reliability. Students who wish to proceed to the Masters will complete a supervised research study of 12,000 words.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at contact sessions and completed submission of assessment tasks
Assessment: Coursework (100%).

EDN4510FS HIGHER EDUCATION CURRICULUM & COURSE DESIGN

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor G Cox

Course entry requirements: Admission to PGDip (Education).

Course outline:

This course offers academic practitioners an opportunity to start designing or redesigning curricula and courses which are based on sound educational principles and respond to the contextual issues underlying curriculum and course design within the South African higher education system. Participants engage with teaching and learning concepts and guidelines that help them design/redesign their curricula and courses. Participants also get the chance to explore a range of modes of delivery in their curriculum or course design, including the appropriate use of blended learning or online provision. Participants engage in weekly seminars and regular tasks and assignments as part of the process of realising the course outcomes. Course assessments focus on the acquisition and understanding of conceptual tools and frameworks in the field and the application of these tools in participants' own teaching contexts.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at contact sessions and completed submission of assessment tasks
Assessment: Coursework (100%).

EDN4512FS CURRICULUM: THEORY, RESEARCH AND PRACTICE

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor U Hoadley

Course entry requirements: Admission to BEdHons or PGDip (Education).

Course outline:

The study of curriculum is the study of how dominant groups in society select and codify the knowledge they consider to be important for children to learn, the decisions that are made about how this knowledge is taught, and how it is assessed. The course focuses on issues of curriculum, pedagogy and assessment directly, as well as more broadly on the issue of social inequality and how this is reproduced or challenged through education. The course engages with a range of texts from sociological and educational literature, introducing students to major debates in curriculum studies. It moves from a macro focus on education and society to micro studies of curriculum, classroom pedagogy and assessment. The course also addresses the relationship between theory and practice, assisting students in moving between academic study and a consideration of professional practice. The intention of the course is to enable students to engage critically with curriculum reform in South Africa.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at contact sessions and completed submission of assessment tasks
Assessment: Coursework (100%).

EDN4513FS HISTORY EDUCATION: THEORY, RESEARCH, PRACTICE

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr K Angier

Course entry requirements: Admission to BEdHons or PGDip (Education).

Course outline:

This course aims to engage students critically with current theory, research and practice in the field of history education, and to develop their understanding of appropriate classroom practices for teaching and learning history in schools.

It explores key challenges and opportunities for the history curriculum in schools. It explores different philosophical and methodological approaches to the history curriculum; different curriculum models and their implications for history teaching; assessment; and materials development for history classrooms.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at contact sessions and completed submission of assessment tasks

Assessment: Coursework (100%).

EDN4514FS LANGUAGE & LITERACY IN SCHOOLING: THEORY, RESEARCH AND PRACTICE

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr X Guzula & Professor C McKinney

Course entry requirements: Admission to BEdHons or PGDip (Education).

Course outline:

The course aims to develop students' understanding of the language and literacy challenges in South African schooling; to develop students' knowledge of conceptual resources for analysing and intervening in these challenges.

This course explores key challenges in the field of language and literacy in schooling in South Africa. We focus on the complex possible relationships between language and failure in South African schooling from socio-political, socio-cultural and sociolinguistic perspectives. We examine the language of learning and teaching debate and the theoretical and empirical work underpinning this as well as the language policy and sociolinguistic context in South African education. In a second focus on literacy, we study writing and reading in education, developing the resources for understanding and intervening in key challenges around literacy in educational settings. We study literacy as sets of socially organised practices and skills and examine how aspects of social and linguistic diversity impact on the learning, teaching and assessing of the skills and practices associated with language, reading, writing and learning in education. We further explore dominant approaches to the teaching of literacy, analysing how reading and writing are conceptualised in these approaches.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at contact sessions and completed submission of assessment tasks

Assessment: Coursework (100%).

EDN4515FS KNOWLEDGE FOR PRACTICE IN MATHEMATICS EDUCATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr S Jaffer

Course entry requirements: Admission to BEdHons or PGDip (Education).

Co-requisites: None

Course outline:

The aim of the course is to expose students to a range of theoretical and methodological positions in the field of mathematics education, concerned with aspects of the reproduction of mathematics in pedagogic contexts. Key areas of focus are: (1) the structuring of curricula for the teaching and learning of mathematics; (2) the reproduction of mathematics in curriculum texts, like textbooks, workbooks and software; (3) the teaching of mathematics and the notion of mathematics for teaching; (4) the learning of school mathematics.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at contact sessions and completed submission of assessment tasks

Assessment: Coursework (100%).

EDN4516FS KNOWLEDGE FOR PRACTICE IN SCIENCE EDUCATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor R Laugksch

Course entry requirements: Admission to BEdHons or PGDip (Education).

Co-requisites: None

Course outline:

The course aims to consolidate and deepen students' understanding of the thinking, practice and research approaches in the specialist field of science education and thus engages with research on instructional strategies, content representations, student understandings, science practices and habits of mind associated with effective science teaching. Topics explored include the purpose of teaching science in South Africa and elsewhere; inquiry-based learning and its link to the nature of science and practical work in science education; as well as students' conceptual change. Gess-Newsome's model of Teacher Professional Knowledge and Skill is explored as a robust and predictive way to think about teacher knowledge and action.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at contact sessions and completed submission of assessment tasks

Assessment: Seminar presentation (15%); 5,000-word essay or the equivalent (85%).

EDN4517FS EDUCATIONAL MANAGEMENT AND LEADERSHIP

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr Y Omar

Course entry requirements: Admission to BEdHons or PGDip (Education).

Co-requisites: None. Candidates must have at least 2 years' experience in education.

Course outline:

Through an examination of key concepts in leadership styles and managerial practices the course aims to focus students/practitioners on ways to improve teaching and learning in schools. There are two main areas of focus:

- A consideration of different styles of leadership and how these might or might not contribute towards learner performance.
- A focus on possible 'managerial' responses to improve this within the context of school culture and leadership. In particular, the course will examine learner performance in South Africa; leadership in challenging circumstances; the role that teachers as leaders can play, and the means to enact change. The emphasis here will be on examining what it is that schools and teachers can do rather than on what it is not possible to do.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at contact sessions and completed submission of assessment tasks

Assessment: Coursework (100%).

EDN4520FS EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY IN CHANGING CONTEXT OF SA SCHOOLING

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr W Lilley

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

Educational Psychology in Changing Context of South African Schooling examines development and learning in South African schooling against the background of contemporary social and educational changes. Grounded on advances in psychological research on learning, pedagogical practices and human development, the course further explores the consequences that the changing sociocultural context of schooling in South Africa would potentially have on human development broadly, as well as on the development of specific psychological functions such as identity, personality, motivation and conceptual forms of thinking. The course will further examine the extant literature in psychology and education; introducing students to the foundations of contemporary debates and research agendas in psychology and education, and explore the relevance of key concepts and models in educational psychology for the contemporary, emergent debates and topics within the changing context of education in South Africa.

DP requirements: 80% lecture attendance, seminar participation and presentation of written tasks.

Assessment: 5,000-word examination equivalent assignment.

EDN5012F PSYCHOLOGY AND PEDAGOGY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor J Hardman

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

Grounded in developmental psychology and education, Psychology and Pedagogy examines the changing context of schooling in South Africa and the evolving practices of classroom teaching and learning. Employing contemporary advances in research in developmental psychology and education, the course further examines the challenges and problems that continue to confront pedagogical practices in South Africa's diverse schooling context, and explores theoretically informed and yet, empirically grounded solutions to problems and challenges of classroom teaching and learning--as well as human development, in post-apartheid South Africa's schooling.

The course begins by examining educational transformation in South Africa's schooling--embodied in, and expressed through, policy development processes that, in turn, inform and shape extant pedagogical practices within diverse institutional contexts of schooling and related educational institutions. The concept and practice of pedagogy broadly, is then explored through a systematic consideration of relevant and appropriate theories in developmental psychology and education.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance at lectures and seminars and satisfactory completion and presentations of prescribed seminar papers, as well as satisfactory participation in lectures/seminars.

Assessment: Exam Equivalent Assignment 8,000 words weighted 90% of total coursework. Lecture/Seminar participation and presentation weighted at 10% of the total coursework.

EDN5013S DEVELOPMENTAL LEARNING

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor J Hardman

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

Grounded in developmental psychology and education, Cognitive Development and Developmental Learning aims to develop an approach to theorising the process of learning and change, both in relation to the specific educational problems/challenges generated in the South African context, and in relation to the broader questions of psychological change. Such questions address how children develop cognitively from children into adults and how this developmental trajectory impacts on teaching/learning across the life span. The intention of the course is to generate a view of learning and learners that negates the conventional isolation of educational issues from other psychological domains, such as emotion and cognition.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance at lectures and seminars and satisfactory completion and presentations of prescribed seminar papers, as well as satisfactory participation in lectures/seminars.

Assessment: Exam Equivalent Assignment 8,000 words weighted 85% of total coursework. Lecture/Seminar participation and presentation weighted at 15% of the total coursework.

EDN5500W MINOR DISSERTATION

90 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr Y Omar

Course entry requirements: EDN5501W; Acceptance for the MEd.

Course outline:

Students are required to undertake and complete supervised research on an approved topic and field of research emerging from and relevant to their chosen coursework curriculum. This research must be embodied in a 25,000-word (maximum) dissertation, which may be submitted by 1 April in the year following the completion of coursework. A candidate may take no longer than 3 years to complete the degree. Students must ensure that they are available for regular meetings with their supervisors.

Assessment: 25,000-word dissertation.

EDN5501FS ADVANCED RESEARCH DESIGN

0 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor L Powell

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MEd.

Course outline:

The course takes students through the different stages in developing a research design – identifying a problem, formulating a question, conducting a literature review, identifying and recruiting appropriate conceptual resources, proposing strategies for data production and analysis and considering issues relating to validity and ethics. This process takes place at two levels: by reading reports of research done by others and by developing a design for the candidate's own proposed masters' study. The focus is on establishing coherence between the different facets of the research design.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.

Assessment: Development of a research proposal of approximately 6,000 words.

EDN5502FS KEY TRADITIONS IN ADULT EDUCATION RESEARCH

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr L-A Naidoo

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MEd.

Course outline:

This course introduces students to some of the key methodological approaches in the field of adult education research. It introduces the concepts of ontology and epistemology, and methodological approaches such as constructivism, interpretivism and realism, as competing (or complementary) ways of thinking about the world and how we produce knowledge about it. These concepts are drawn upon critically to analyse contrasting theoretical traditions in adult education research. The focus in each case is on their ontological and epistemological assumptions, and the methodological implications of these for research.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.

Assessment: 8,000-word essay or equivalent.

EDN5503FS ADULT LEARNING FOR SOCIAL CHANGE

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: L Pottier

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MEd.

Course outline:

The course provides an advanced introduction to key theoretical perspectives on adult learning and knowledge-production, where learning is directed primarily towards social change. The focus is on informal contexts of learning such as social movements, community development projects, the labour movement, arts/cultural work, and health education. Close attention is paid to the ways in which 'adult learning' and 'adult learners' fit and contest theoretical debates concerning 'intellectuals', and theoretical debates concerning 'everyday life' and 'social reproduction'. Theoretical resources will be drawn from feminist, radical pedagogy, postcolonial and cultural studies traditions.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.

Assessment: 8,000-word essay or equivalent.

EDN5505S CHANGING FRAMEWORKS IN CURRICULUM POLICY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor U Hoadley

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MEd.

Course outline:

The course is concerned with change and continuity in processes of curriculum reform. Three central ideas informing it. The first is an historical analysis of curriculum identifying reform swings between two poles, 'traditional' and 'reform' or progressive curricula. The second idea is the implications of these swings the 'message systems' of education – curriculum, pedagogy and evaluation (the intended, the enacted and the assessed curriculum). The third tenet is the centrality of knowledge in the consideration of curriculum policy, change and evaluation. The course begins with a broad scan of the political sociology and historical literature on curriculum and throughout it focuses on analyses within the sociology of knowledge. Fundamentally it is the nature and status of knowledge that shifts when the curriculum changes. The course aims to expose students both to the broader political context and processes of curriculum reform, as well as conceptual approaches to the analysis of curriculum forms.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.

Assessment: Academic essay (8,000 words).

EDN5506FS CURRICULUM THEORY AND RESEARCH

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor U HoadleyCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MED.Course outline:

This course focuses on curriculum and pedagogy. The course is particularly interested in how education knowledge is distributed unequally across different groups in society, including through different kinds of pedagogic practices. Being sociologically rooted, the course poses questions like ‘why do we go to school?’, ‘what is the purpose of education?’, ‘how do we understand knowledge?’, ‘what knowledge should we include in the formal curriculum?’, ‘is there an optimal pedagogy for learners from low-income communities?’ The course offers a broad introduction to the study of curriculum and pedagogy, and then focuses in particular on Basil Bernstein as the main theoretical resource in exploring questions around curriculum, knowledge, pedagogy and society. In each session we consider both theoretical texts and reports of empirical research that use the theory. In this way, the course is both an introduction to curriculum theory and theories of pedagogy and to their use in empirical research in education.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: Academic essay (8,000 words).

EDN5507F EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES & EDUCATIONAL PRACTICES

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor D Ng’ambiCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MED.Course outline:

This course investigates emerging technologies and educational practices in developing context. This course focuses on the discourse of learning with technologies and ways that these different forms are theorised. Some of the concepts to be covered include frameworks, taxonomies, and new representations of digital learning including mobile and authentic learning etc. This course will investigate the inter-related issues of learning, technology and cognitive change. The course focuses on theories of learning and cognitive change as well as developing an understanding of the effects of technology on cognition. Course members will be involved in constructing/designing curricula that incorporate technology, informed by the theories of learning that we cover during the course. The intention of the course is to generate a view of learning and learners that incorporates current approaches to computer mediated teaching and learning with a view to understanding and theorising potential shifts in pedagogical practices arising from the introduction of novel technology into classrooms

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: Academic essay (8,000 words): 60%; seminars, group task, and reflections: 40%.

EDN5508F RESEARCH IN EDUCATION TECHNOLOGY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor D Ng’ambiCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MED.Course outline:

The course presents an overview of past and present research in educational technology with particular emphasis on the teaching and or learning challenge; formulation of question, approaches adopted, and unanswered questions. The aim is to uncover issues, debate approaches, and to understand how context and researcher’s bias constrains research possibilities. The course is structured around the following themes: Global & local research in technology enhanced learning; Impact of educational technology research; E-learning policies; Emerging practices; Technology mediated communities and Social learning.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: Academic essay (8,000 words): 60%; seminars, group task, and reflections: 40%.

EDN5509S LEARNING WITH TECHNOLOGIES

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor D Ng'ambiCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MEd.Course outline:

The course focuses on the discourse of learning with technologies and ways that these different forms are theorised. Some of the concepts to be covered include frameworks, taxonomies, and new representations of digital learning including mobile and authentic learning etc. This course will investigate the inter-related issues of learning, technology and cognitive change. The course focuses on theories of learning and cognitive change as well as developing an understanding of the effects of technology on cognition. Course members will be involved in constructing/designing curricula that incorporate technology, informed by the theories of learning that we cover during the course. The intention of the course is to generate a view of learning and learners that incorporates current approaches to computer mediated teaching and learning with a view to understanding and theorising potential shifts in pedagogical practices arising from the introduction of novel technology into classrooms.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: Academic essay (8,000 words): 60%; seminars, group task, and reflections: 40%.

EDN5510S RESEARCH DESIGN & METHODOLOGY

0 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor D Ng'ambiCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MEdCourse outline:

This course focuses on ways of identifying and matching context, educational challenges, ubiquitous technologies, philanthropy and writing funding proposals. The course has a specific focus on technology-enhanced learning in resource-constrained environments. The course is structured around the following themes:

- Educational technology research;
- Identify key research problems;
- Research traditions / paradigms;
- Methodological choices;
- Validity issues;
- Academic integrity.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: Academic essay (6,000 words): 60%; Seminars: 10%; Group task: 20%; Reflections: 10%.

EDN5511F RESEARCHING IN HIGHER EDUCATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor D GachagoCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MEd.Course outline:

The course aims to provide an induction into the field of research in Higher Education through exposure of participants to Higher Education as the subject of research. The curriculum is planned to provide participants with a sense of resources provided by higher education research from early empirical psychological models to current sociological and cognitive psychological approaches. Participants will be encouraged to identify the strengths and weaknesses of such research. Participants will be made aware of the complexity of the field of higher education as a research subject in which little is as self-evident as it appears. The curriculum is intended to prepare participants to consider ways in which they can think of their own teaching practice and context as areas of research.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: Written reflections (10%), reflective paper (30%), final written essay (60%).

EDN5514FS KNOWLEDGE & CURRICULUM IN HIGHER EDUCATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: TBACourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MED.Course outline:

The course aims to assist students to develop a critically-informed view of the institution of the academy and to acquire ways of thinking sociologically about the higher education curriculum, knowledge and policy. At the beginning of the course students are introduced to Bernstein's sociology of education. Using the framework of the 'pedagogic device', the implications for the curriculum of global trends in higher education and more particularly of the policy context for South African higher education since 1994 are examined. The third section of the course focuses on Bernstein and his followers' theorisation of knowledge, with a focus on what this means for the higher education curriculum, innovation, identities, etc. The major assignment for the course involves some basic empirical research in which students analyse an aspect of a curriculum design or practice using concepts from Bernstein's sociology of education.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: 8,000-word essay or equivalent.

EDN5515FS THINKING CLASSROOMS & COMMUNITIES

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr R-A ReynoldsCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MED.Course outline:

The course focuses on the theory and practice of the 'community of enquiry' – the pedagogy of philosophy with children (P4C) for all phases of education (incl. early years). This internationally established approach to teaching thinking has proved to enhance self-esteem, critical literacy, democratic responsibility, IQ and EQ with students of all ages and in all subjects. Students will develop this thoughtful practice through a variety of experiential teaching and learning methods, and learn how the pedagogy can be implemented to develop democratic relationships, values, critical literacy, comprehension, good questioning and speaking and listening skills in a large variety of South African educational settings. The emphasis of this experiential course is to learn how the questions of one's own students can be used to teach critical, creative, caring and collaborative thinking and to stimulate enquiry-based learning through the use of a wide range of texts and communication resources (including children's literature).

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: A critical analysis of a self-selected example from practice: 75%. Response essays: 25%.

EDN5517F LANGUAGE & LITERACY IN THEORY & PRACTICE

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor C McKinneyCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MED.Course outline:

The course provides an engagement with key ideas, terms and resources in language and literacy studies in education, including shaping influences from linguistics, sociolinguistics, literacy studies, anthropological linguistics and discourse theory. It examines key influences on our understanding of language, language resources and literacy, particularly at the interface between language and social life. Areas focused on include language acquisition, use and development, multilingualism and mobility, critical discourse analysis, theories of language and literacy as social practices. We develop the resources for the study of inequality, success and failure that go beyond deficit views of language and literacy in education. These provide grounding for the work in the courses that follow.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: 8,000-word essay or equivalent.

EDN5518F LANGUAGE IN MULTILINGUAL SCHOOLS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor C McKinneyCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MEd.Course outline:

This course focuses on language learning and teaching as well as the relationship between language and learning in multilingual schools. The first part of the course theorises additional language learning in multilingual contexts. This includes an overview of the global and local contexts of English language learning, language ideologies, theories of second and bilingual language acquisition, and of classroom discourse. The second part of the course engages with language and literacy pedagogy including critical literacy and multiliteracies. Throughout the course we explore the relationships between language and power as well as identity and pedagogy and the implications thereof for providing learners with meaningful access to education.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: 8,000-word essay or equivalent.

EDN5519S EARLY LITERACY IN SCHOOL & HOME

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr X GuzulaCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MEd.Course outline:

The course offers an overview of the predominant approaches to early childhood literacy studies and in-depth engagement with social practices and critical literacy approaches to early literacy. We look at phonics first, whole language and 'balanced' approaches to early literacy pedagogy, as well as emergent literacy approaches to the study of literacy at home; reading practices; children's play and its links to learning; multilingual and bilingual studies; diversity studies; various early literacy interventions in school and out-of-school, their claims and accomplishments; policy perspectives and electronic media in the context of early literacy engagements.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: 8,000-word essay or equivalent.

EDN5520S ACADEMIC LITERACIES

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor A BangeniCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MEd.Course outline:

The course provides an introduction to the study of language and literacy in a range of academic settings, via the emerging area of 'academic literacies' in the New Literacy Studies field. Rather than a generic academic skill, academic literacy is studied as diverse, shaped by disciplines and subject areas. The course engages with two methodologies that shed light on academic texts and practices. Critical discourse analysis (CDA) focuses on texts, while ethnographic observation (including multimodal analysis) looks more closely at practices. These methodologies are used to explore the relationship between texts and their social-political-historical contexts. The course interrogates the politics of 'academic voice' to help us think about access questions in tertiary education settings locally and globally.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.Assessment: 8,000-word essay or equivalent.

EDN5522F RESEARCH IN MATHS EDUCATION: CURRICULUM

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr S JafferCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for the MEd.Course outline:

The central objects of concern in this course are: the constitution of mathematics curricula, the organisation of the teaching and learning of mathematics (including texts and resources), and the realisation of mathematics in schools. The course will familiarise students with theories and methodologies employed by researchers to study curricula and pedagogic texts, as well as to critically explore the recontextualising of mathematics to schooling with respect to: education policies and curricula; theories of teaching and learning used in the regulation of educational practice; and the regulation of the reproduction of mathematics in pedagogic situations.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.

Assessment: 8,000-word essay or equivalent.

EDN5523S RESEARCH IN MATHS EDUCATION: TEACHING & LEARNING

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr S Jaffer

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MED.

Course outline:

The course is concerned with the teaching and learning of school mathematics and the assessment of students' mathematical competence. The course will engage students in a critical review of the theoretical and methodological approaches currently used in the field to study the constitution of mathematics by school teachers and students in pedagogic situations, including assessment technologies.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.

Assessment: 8,000-word essay or equivalent.

EDN5529F LEARNING SCIENCE EDUCATION & TEACHING

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor R Laugksch

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MED.

Course outline:

Considerations for learning in science education and implications for teaching. The course aims to provide students with a conceptual framework for critically examining their own understandings of learning and how such understandings influence the design of curricula as well as the implementation of teaching strategies in students' own classroom/school contexts. Topics explored include the role and purpose of natural science in South-Africa (and elsewhere); conceptual change; a critical examination of constructivism and its application in high and low socio-economic-status learning environments. Learning science through inquiry is interrogated and its practical implications considered. Attention is given to the connectedness of the issues raised by these topics to a participant's own professional context.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.

Assessment: 8,000-word essay or equivalent.

EDN5530S CONTEMPORARY ISSUES IN SCIENCE EDUCATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor A Hattingh

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MED.

Course outline:

The course provides the students with an overview of the contemporary issues in the field from both African and international perspectives. An important focus is for participants to develop a critical awareness of the influence of historical and philosophical perspectives, diversity, culture, language and learning environments on learning and teaching natural science. Topics which are addressed include science as inquiry, nature of science, social justice, equity and culturally responsive pedagogy, ICT and virtual learning environments; pedagogical content knowledge (PCK) or any other prominently emerging focus area in science education.

DP requirements: 80% attendance record and completion of all tasks and assignments.

Assessment: 8,000-word essay or equivalent.

EDN5532FS DIGITAL LITERACIES ACROSS THE LIFESPAN

(May not be offered in 2025)

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course takes a critical perspective on the relationship between digital technologies and literacy and language learning across the lifespan. It reviews theoretical paradigms in the field of literacy studies (from Socrates' questions about writing through to post-humanism), examining the ways in which literacy, language and digital technologies (and their affordances and constraints) are viewed in each paradigm, and focusing on ontological, epistemological and practice-based questions in each. The pluralisation of the concept of literacy is problematised and concepts like media literacy, multimedia, multimodality, multiple literacies are mapped. The implications for how digital technologies are taken up in literacy practices in and out of educational contexts are explored. The course examines the dynamics and consequences involved in the use of digital technologies for addressing questions of language, literacy and learning in school and out of school, for young children, children and teenagers in schooling and younger and older adults in non-formal and formal provision and higher education. It addresses the implications of the research for questions of quality and systemic provision in schooling and in adult education. Students work in groups and are provided with reading packs related to their sites of practice in different phases across the lifespan.

DP requirements: Attendance at 80% of classes and all assessments submitted.

Assessment: 20% DP tasks and two essays each worth 40%.

ELL4001H RESEARCH ESSAY / PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr K B Highman

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

A research paper of 10,000 words on an approved topic in the field of English Studies is required, which will be submitted by an approved date.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and submission of all written work.

Assessment: Research essay or project of 10,000 words.

ELL4035FS DEBATES IN WORLD LITERATURE: PERSPECTIVES FROM THE GLOBAL SOUTH

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr K B Highman

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This elective will give students an overview of the current conversations and contestations around the idea of World Literature. It will explore what perspectives from Africa, the postcolonial world and the global south can contribute to these debates by troubling and unsettling the themes, conceptual frameworks, theories, genealogies, etc. currently dominant within the field and thus map new directions. The questions we will explore in this seminar include: what is the state of current debates in World Literature? How are these debates shaping the field at the moment? What is the place of voices from Africa, the postcolonial world and the global south in these debates? How do literatures in the 'minor' languages of the world count? Can we think World literature outside of capital and/or imperial or global languages? We will read a substantial amount of scholarly work, but also creative work that has been taken up as 'World Literature' or offers interesting perspectives on its theorization. In considering debates about World Literature, and how texts come to circulate as such, our focus is not only on individual texts, but also on various literary institutions, for example English departments, libraries, writers' organisations, literary prizes and publishing networks.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and at least 75% of seminar attendance.

Assessment: Class participation (including reading test): 10%. One researched class presentation: 10%. Accompanying essay (3,000 words): 30%. One research essay (5,000 words): 50%.

ELL4036FS LITERARY CITIES/ CITIES OF LITERATURES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor P Moji

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course addresses the intersections of literature and the African urban, examining the affective, aesthetic and material dimensions of African visuality, spatiality and temporality in literary imaginaries of the African city. It addresses the discursive anxiety produced by an African urban that imagined as a being characterised by excess, abjection and precarity. Combining urban theory, black geographies and cultural theory, it delves beneath spectacular imaginaries of the African city through narratives of “ordinary citizens in ordinary cities”. Adopting a comparative approach, the course problematises the circulation of terms such as ‘Afropolitanism’, ‘Afro-polis’ ‘Afro-modernity’ and ‘Afro-urbanity’, exploring questions located in the tension created by urban narrative forms as ones that not only document and comment on the development of cityscapes but are implicated in changing urban cultures. It is equally weighted between literary and theoretical texts, equipping students to develop critical perspectives on urban literary genres, urban flânerie, performative streetscapes and gendered imaginaries of the African city.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and at least 75% of seminar attendance.

Assessment: Submissions totalling 6,000 words for the semester.

ELL4061F THEORY IN PRACTICE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr K B Highman

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

Reading Contemporary Theory will introduce students to key topics in contemporary literary theory through the in-depth analysis of a range of essays by a selection of the most significant figures in the field. It is a team-taught seminar that concentrates on building students’ skills as close readers and critical thinkers by engaging with diverse strands of literary and cultural theory.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and submission of all written work.

Assessment: Assessments of 3,000 words per term (a total of 6,000 words for the course).

ELL4062FS LITERARY CRITICISM & THE ARCHIVE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr K B Highman

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course develops an understanding of some of the major debates and issues within the field of African literary and cultural studies. This seminar engages critically with fictional, non-fictional and popular forms of writing’. Students encounter African archival practice and popular cultures; aesthetics and materiality, as well as the spatial and temporal dimensions of the African literary imaginary, developing the necessary skills to undertake literary criticism and conduct independent archival research.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and submission of all written work.

Assessment: Assessments of 3,000 words per term (a total of 6,000 words for the course).

ELL4063H DIRECTED READING IN ENGLISH

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and agreement of the convener and supervisor prior to registration.

Course outline:

In consultation with the honours convener and with the agreement of a suitable supervisor, students may, in lieu of an elective course, pursue a programme of directed reading in a special subject spread over the course of a year or concentrated into either semester and under the supervision of a member of the English Department.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and attendance at agreed upon meetings.

Assessment: Written work of 8,000 words, at least 50% of which is devoted to a final essay and 50% devoted to shorter written assignments during the semester.

ELL4066FS GENDER & LITERATURE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor B BoswellCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.Course outline:

This seminar aims to introduce students to women's literary history in Africa and the theorisation of gender through literature. Drawing on transnational feminist literary theory, while centering feminist theory produced the African continent, it aims to historically locate women's literary production in Africa and the diaspora. It aims to critically examine African theorisations of gender, race, and sexuality in African feminist fiction and literary criticism. The course is broadly divided into seven sections: 'Mapping our Intellectual Terrain', 'Rethinking Gender in African Contexts', 'The Long Shadow of Colonialism: Race, Gender and Sexuality', 'Representations of Racialised Sexual Violence', 'The Work of African Feminist Literary Criticism', 'Black Feminist Imagination', and 'Reimagining Ourselves'. It asks of participants to study a history of intellectual engagement around race, gender and sexuality, centered around African feminists' knowledge production, while thinking of themselves as producers of knowledge with the power to imagine a different world.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and at least 75% of seminar attendance.Assessment: Written work of 8,000 words, at least 50% of which is devoted to a final essay and 50% devoted to shorter written assignments during the semester.

ELL4074FS MODERN AFRICAN LITERATURE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBACourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.Course outline:

This seminar will revisit debates that dominated discussions of the category 'Modern African Literature'. The seminar will engage with how sub-categories such as 'Oral Literature' or 'Orature' evolved into the development of the broader field of postcolonial theory and criticism, as African identities came to terms with the structural legacies of colonialism, which overdetermined the experiences of 'citizenship' in the new era of political freedom. In the background of these debates was an effort at canon-formation, which was articulated by a number of important conferences, events and publications – the Makerere Conference of 'Writers of English Expression' was one such event that fronted the question of language as central to the trends of thinking about what Modern African literature meant. In revisiting these debates the seminar seeks to ask what the category 'postcolonial' means today, in relation to categories such as 'diaspora' and in the context of South Africa the category 'post-apartheid'. Where are the lines of solidarity, and of flight amongst these categories? The seminar will therefore look at a range of 'archival' material such as documents related to the Makerere Conference, theoretical and critical material related to debates on 'Modern African literature' as well as the broader field of imagination that emerged to provide a critical platform of practice.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and at least 75% of seminar attendance.Assessment: Assessments totalling 6,000 words for the semester.

ELL4075S MEMORY, TRAUMA AND THE LIMITS OF LANGUAGE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor H L TwidleCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.Course outline:

This course investigates the ways in which language comes up against limits when attempting to represent trauma or 'unspeakable' pain. The field of trauma studies has been preoccupied with a paradox: traumatic experience seems to defy representation, while intensifying the imperative to bear witness. We will consider some of the literature that wrestles with this paradox, both fiction and non-fiction, as well as performance art and various forms of public memorialisation, specifically in relation to slavery, the Holocaust, and apartheid. Recent calls for the decolonisation of trauma studies have drawn attention to the 'multiplicity' and the 'sociality of pain', and to the place of visual and literary culture in making visible historical injustice. Cognisant of these calls to de-individualise the language of trauma, we will probe the role of personal narrative in public culture and in securing the claims of 'history'. We consider the impact of what is thought of as intimate and personal (the body, grief, pain, attachment) in the public archive that underwrites post-apartheid revisionist history. The dependence of history-making on testimonies, life narratives and visual art that presents the body in pain have turned the work of mourning and survival into a matter of public import.

Assessment: Response papers: 30%; First essay: 30%; Second essay: 40%

ELL4076FS CULTURAL CRITICISM, NON-FICTION AND THE ESSAY: WRITING WORKSHOP

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor H L Twidle

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This is a writing-intensive seminar for both 'academic' and 'creative' writers – a division that we will try to unravel in interesting ways as we explore how critical, academic and intellectual work can take shape in more creative forms and public voices. We will use contemporary essays, creative criticism and literary non-fiction to generate our own writing tasks. Students will also be required to write two stand-alone essays (on subjects of their own choice) and to keep a semester-long reading journal. Some writing exercises might include: reviewing imaginary books; using 'found' materials and tracing the lives of objects; working within artificial constraints; linking image, music and text; walking in the city and representing space; interviewing and telling the stories of others; researching biographical profiles and portraits; writing art and music journalism; exploring filmic, photo and documentary 'essays'. The primary aim of the seminar is to prepare students to write for a wider audience than that of conventional academic writing, and to allow them the space to experiment with 'voice' in this sense. It aims to foster a public kind of criticism, and to train students to become reviewers, cultural commentators and arts journalists both within and beyond the 21st-century academy.

Assessment: Reading and writing journal: 30%; First essay: 30%; Second essay: 40%.

ELL4077FS WAYWARD EXPERIMENTS AND HYBRID GENRES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: S Busuku

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

What are hybrid genres? What does it mean to write and experiment from 'in-between'? This elective blends both 'critical' and 'creative' writing practices. This interdisciplinary elective oscillates, at all times, between theory and practice. It is writing-intensive and demands lyrical richness and theoretical depth. This elective combines research, critical theory, fictional narrative and poetic language. Students will explore and experiment with form, genre and narrative techniques in a variety of ways. The elective, through selected readings, will explore the questionable dynamics of power that create and uphold boundaries around the so-called 'critical imagination' and the so-called 'creative imagination'. How might we disrupt such boundaries within the academy? How might hybridity reshape the academy? The course exists at the intersection of the lyric essay, various poetic forms and is deeply rooted in advanced scholarly work. Through a mixture of seminars and writing workshops, students will explore a range of prescribed reading as a means of developing their style and technique. Students will engage with authors such as Yvette Christiansë, Saidiya Hartman, Anne Carson, Claudia Rankine, Hélène Cixous, Theresa Hak Kyung Cha, Michael Ondaatje, Trinh T. Minh-ha, John D'Agata, Annie Dillard, Gloria Anzaldúa, and so on.

DP requirements: 75% attendance and all written work to be handed in.

Assessment: First research presentation (5%); First hybrid essay (30%); Second research presentation (5%); Second hybrid essay (60%).

ELL4078FS TOWARDS AN AFRICAN CONSTRUCTION OF GENDER AND SEXUALITY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr B Fortuin

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This seminar engages African scholars' contribution to the theoretical and literary discussion around sexualities and gender in Africa. Given its colonial history, performances of gender and sexuality on the continent became viewed through a homogenising lens. This view constructed African sexualities and gender performances as antithetical to northern-based western understandings and theorising thereof. It also suggested that African sexualities and gender performances are primarily heteronormative. The historical trajectory of African theories that engage gender and sexualities will be mapped and critically evaluated. The theoretical aspect of the course is supported by the reading of a variety of creative texts that seek to represent gender and sexualities performed in Africa from an African perspective. The course aims to provide students with an understanding of the relevant theories currently circulating about gender, gender identities and sexualities on the continent.

Assessment: Two essays of 3,000 words each. Students are expected to formulate a research question and apply it to a literary text of choice.

ELL4079FS EARLY MODERN RACECRAFT IN ENGLISH LITERATURE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr H Moosa

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This seminar will offer students an introduction to Premodern Critical Race Studies (PCRS) – a wide-ranging, interdisciplinary field that is concerned with manifestations of race and modes of race-making that prevailed in the premodern world (± pre-1750). PCRS is an intellectual tradition that developed from, and continues to be shaped by, scholars of colour who seek to resist the historical erasure of Black persons and other marginalised groups from premodern European literary and cultural archives. In exploring PCRS, this seminar will take as its focus race in literature and culture from the early modern period (1500-1750), a historical moment marked by heightened levels of global encounter as well as a steady increase in imperial activities amongst many of the world's small nations and superpowers. Over the course of our seminars, students will examine formative and recent scholarship in the field, together with a wide selection of early modern literature including drama, poetry, travel-writing, and political texts. By way of a cultural-historical exploration of the genealogies, vocabularies, intersections, and mechanisms of race, the seminar aims to provide students with an understanding of the complexities of racial ideology and of the historical role of literature as a vehicle of racial fashioning and imagining.

Assessment: (1) One group presentation conducted, focussed on assigned set-readings (total 20%). (2) A critical/reflective journal, in which students can regularly record observations and reflections on premodern critical race scholarship. This will include three short critical responses to question sheets, each 800-1,000 words. (3) An independently researched final essay of 2,500 words.

ELL4080FS BLACK AESTHETICS AND THE DEEP OCEAN

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: M Mohulatsi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course explores the ways contemporary black writing has contributed to the imaginaries of the deep ocean. Working with the black aesthetic, marine life forms as well as questions on ocean waste, the course looks into the deep ocean as an avenue to think with the aquatic environment's emergent future, and past, as well as the ways in which perceptions of the marine environment are influenced in turn. The course complicates received ideas of black intellectual traditions being cast as nationalistic, territorial or ‘landlocked’ and draws out the range of cultural, historical and artistic encounters with the sea, as both physical entity and mythic force. The course engages historical analysis (particularly with regard to the mapping of the ocean floor), decolonial studies, feminist epistemologies and cultural/oceanic materialism (in drawing attention to the ‘agentive’ character of the oceans) towards a more fine-grained, open-ended and literary/art-historical mode of interpretation in considering the work of writers and artists in the Black diaspora. The course explores the extent to which different cultural mediums (from poetry to visual art to the novel) are able to acknowledge or honour forms of agency where these have often been overlooked or denied by certain kinds of environmentalist, or even postcolonial, discourse.

Assessment: Students are required to submit two essays (2,500- 3,000 words), one at the end of the first block and the other at the end of the semester. Each of these have a weighting of 40%. Students will also be required to submit at least two reflection essays (750 words each) on a weekly topic of their choice. These have a weighting of 20% towards the final course mark.

ELL5001W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr B Fortuin

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master’s programme.

Course outline:

A dissertation completed under supervision which shows thorough practical and/or academic knowledge of the approved subject and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical power in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered, may embody such original work of others as may be pertinent, may include the candidate’s own published material on the same subject, if the prior permission of the Senate has been obtained. The dissertation must be the candidate’s own work and any contributions to and quotations in the dissertation must be cited and referenced.

DP requirements: Consultation with Supervisor.

Assessment: A dissertation of no more than 25,000 words in length.

ELL5033H DIRECTED READING PROJECT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: M Mohulatsi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master’s programme; agreement of supervisor and convener prior to registration.

Course outline:

In consultation with the MA convener and with the agreement of a suitable supervisor, students may, in lieu of an elective course, pursue a programme of directed reading in a special subject spread over the course of a year or concentrated into a semester and under the supervision of a member of the English Department.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and attendance at agreed upon meetings.

Assessment: Written work of 8,000 words, at least 50% of which is devoted to a final essay and 50% devoted to shorter written assignments during the semester

ELL5042F EARTH, ECOLOGY, HUMANITIES

26 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor S Daya

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MPhil specialising in Environmental Humanities.

Course outline:

The environmental humanities is the term for a dynamic and growing field in universities across the world, one promoting interdisciplinary scholarship that explores how we understand the relations between humans and the environment in all areas of cultural production. It ranges from social justice movements to the creative arts, from questions of scientific modelling to the language of government policy. In this course, we will ask how a critical, politically aware environmental consciousness of the South might be brought forth in the public sphere. What, after all, do we mean when we speak of the environment? This seminar considers the rich and difficult terrain where questions of ecological thought and environmental science interact with the humanities: with sociology, anthropology, history, imaginative writing, film, critical theory and the creative arts. This is a co-taught course, with modules including but not limited to: Environmentalism, public science writing and narrative non-fiction; Slow violence, development and the challenge of deep time; Imagining the deep ocean; The militarisation of conservation; The commons debate; Landscape and the gaze; Visual art from Arcadia to Apocalypse; Art and extinction; Capitalism in the web of life; Carbon democracy questions of infrastructure; The political economy of food in the global South; Petro-cultures and the oil encounter in West Africa; Extraction and the poetics of resistance; Film and environment in a new age; Environmental narrative and the media.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and at least 75% of seminar attendance.

Assessment: 1. A reflective essay 2,000-2,500 words (30%). 2. Research-based essay: 3,500-4,500 words (40%). 3. Portfolio of weekly writing exercises, drafts and journal entries (30%).

ELL5043FS DEBATES IN WORLD LITERATURE: PERSPECTIVES FROM THE GLOBAL SOUTH

ELL5045FS RESEARCH METHODS IN ENGLISH LITERARY STUDIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor B Boswell

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

The course aims to impart in students the knowledge and ability to conceptualise a research project in literary studies, teach different methods for conducting literary research, and enable students to construct a sound research proposal leading them to embark on Masters-level research in literary studies. The course aims to instruct students to incrementally write and assemble constituent parts of a research proposal, resulting in a completed research proposal by the end of the semester. The course will consist of various modules such as 'Constructing a research question and rationale', 'Writing a literature review', 'Choosing methodologies', 'Archival Research', 'Interdisciplinary methods for textual analysis', 'Writing a research methodology section', and 'Compiling a complete research proposal'.

Assessment: The course requires students to produce a number of assignments, which will be compiled into a research proposal after numerous rounds of feedback. These assessments are: 1) A literature review of 2,000 words (20% weighting); 2) A methodology section of 1,000 words (20% weighting); 3) An introduction, including research statement, aims, and rationale of 500 words (10%); 4) A timeline to completion of 500 words (10%); and 5) A final proposal (40% weighting).

ELL5047FS LITERARY THEORY FROM THE GLOBAL SOUTH

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor B Boswell

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course introduces students to key theoretical debates and fields of knowledge associated with postcoloniality and decoloniality, with an emphasis on reading and producing literary theory from the global South. We will consider how the conceptual framework of the global South impacts the field of literary studies and our own scholarly practice. Students will have the chance to think through and write about the meanings that derive from being situated in the global South as producers of knowledge. Students will be expected to draw on and synthesise the work of key postcolonial and decolonial theorists, with the aim of epistemologically orienting their own work as produced from the global South. We will cover various modules such as "Postcoloniality and Feminism", "Decolonial Theory", "Theory from the Global South", "Situated Knowledges" and "Engaging Historicity and Archive". This core course lays the theoretical grounding for the core course, "Research Methods in English Literary Studies".

Assessment: The course requires students to produce two assignments - one review essay at the midterm, and a final research essay. 1) A review essay of 4,000 words, surveying a terrain of global South theory relevant to the students' areas of research (50% weighting); 2) A final research essay, assessing a key "problem" in global South studies of 4,000 words (50% weighting).

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This seminar aims to introduce students to women's literary history in Africa and the theorisation of gender through literature. Drawing on transnational feminist literary theory, while centring feminist theory produced the African continent, it aims to historically locate women's literary production in Africa and the diaspora. It aims to critically examine African theorisations of gender, race, and sexuality in African feminist fiction and literary criticism. The course is broadly divided into seven sections: 'Mapping our Intellectual Terrain', 'Rethinking Gender in African Contexts', 'The Long Shadow of Colonialism: Race, Gender and Sexuality', 'Representations of Racialised Sexual Violence', 'The Work of African Feminist Literary Criticism', 'Black Feminist Imagination', and 'Reimagining Ourselves'. It asks of participants to study a history of intellectual engagement around race, gender and sexuality, centred around African feminists' knowledge production, while thinking of themselves as producers of knowledge with the power to imagine a different world.

Assessment: 1) 5 x 800-1,000 word reflection papers on readings covered, synthesizing different articles or chapters while inserting students' own scholarly 'voice' into analysis of the texts.

Assessment will be based on the rigour of engagement with writers' ideas, as well as student ability to articulate scholarly/activist responses to the ideas presented: (45%).

2) Final research essay of between 3,500 – 4,000 words, synthesizing and expanding on one or more themes of the course: (55%).

ELL5074FS MODERN AFRICAN LITERATURE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This seminar will revisit debates that dominated discussions of the category 'Modern African Literature'. The seminar will engage with how sub-categories such as 'Oral Literature' or 'Orature' evolved into the development of the broader field of postcolonial theory and criticism, as African identities came to terms with the structural legacies of colonialism, which overdetermined the experiences of 'citizenship' in the new era of political freedom. In the background of these debates was an effort at canon-formation, which was articulated by a number of important conferences, events and publications – the Makerere Conference of 'Writers of English Expression' was one such event that fronted the question of language as central to the trends of thinking about what Modern African literature meant. In revisiting these debates the seminar seeks to ask what the category 'postcolonial' means today, in relation to categories such as 'diaspora' and in the context of South Africa the category 'post-apartheid'. Where are the lines of solidarity, and of flight amongst these categories? The seminar will therefore look at a range of 'archival' material such as documents related to the Makerere Conference, theoretical and critical material related to debates on 'Modern African literature' as well as the broader field of imagination that emerged to provide a critical platform of practice.

Assessment: A total of 8,000 words, which could be made up of 2 equally weighted essays or a more varied set of research-related tasks.

ELL5077FS WAYWARD EXPERIMENTS AND HYBRID GENRES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: S Busuku

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

What are hybrid genres? What does it mean to write and experiment from 'in-between'? This elective b(l)ends both 'critical' and 'creative' writing practices. This interdisciplinary elective oscillates, at all times, between theory and practice. It is writing-intensive and demands lyrical richness and theoretical depth. This elective combines research, critical theory, fictional narrative and poetic language. Students will explore and experiment with form, genre and narrative techniques in a variety of ways. The elective, through selected readings, will explore the questionable dynamics of power that create and uphold boundaries around the so-called 'critical imagination' and the so-called 'creative imagination'. How might we disrupt such boundaries within the academy? How might hybridity reshape the academy? The course exists at the intersection of the lyric essay, various poetic forms and is deeply rooted in advanced scholarly work. Through a mixture of seminars and writing workshops, students will explore a range of prescribed reading as a means of developing their style and technique. Students will engage with authors such as Yvette Christiansë, Saidiya Hartman, Anne Carson, Claudia Rankine, Hélène Cixous, Theresa Hak Kyung Cha, Michael Ondaatje, Trinh T. Minh-ha, John D'Agata, Annie Dillard, Gloria Anzaldúa, and so on.

DP requirements: 75% attendance and all written work to be handed in.

Assessment: First research presentation (5%); First hybrid essay 2,000-3,000 words (30%); Second research presentation (5%); Second hybrid essay 3,000-4,000 words (60%).

ELL5078FS TOWARDS AN AFRICAN CONSTRUCTION OF GENDER AND SEXUALITY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr B Fortuin

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This seminar engages African scholars' contribution to the theoretical and literary discussion around sexualities and gender in Africa. Given its colonial history, performances of gender and sexuality on the continent became viewed through a homogenising lens. This view constructed African sexualities and gender performances antithetical to northern-based western understandings and theorising. It also suggested that African sexualities and gender performances are primarily heteronormative. The historical trajectory of African theories that engage gender and sexualities will be mapped and critically evaluated. The theoretical aspect of the course is supported by the reading of a variety of creative texts that seek to represent gender and sexualities performed in Africa from an African perspective. The course aims to provide students with an understanding of the relevant theories currently circulating about gender, gender identities and sexualities on the continent.

Assessment: Two essays of 4,000 words (80%). Students will be expected to develop their own research questions; class participation and short writing tasks (20%).

ELL5079FS EARLY MODERN RACECRAFT IN ENGLISH LITERATURE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr H Moosa

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This seminar will offer students an introduction to Premodern Critical Race Studies (PCRS) – a wide-ranging, interdisciplinary field that is concerned with manifestations of race and modes of race-making that prevailed in the premodern world (± pre-1750). PCRS is an intellectual tradition that developed from, and continues to be shaped by, scholars of colour who seek to resist the historical erasure of Black persons and other marginalised groups from premodern European literary and cultural archives. In exploring PCRS, this seminar will take as its focus race in literature and culture from the early modern period (1500-1750), a historical moment marked by heightened levels of global encounter as well as a steady increase in imperial activities amongst many of the world's small nations and superpowers. Over the course of our seminars, students will examine formative and recent scholarship in the field, together with a wide selection of early modern literature including drama, poetry, travel-writing, and political texts. By way of a cultural-historical exploration of the genealogies, vocabularies, intersections, and mechanisms of race, the seminar aims to provide students with an understanding of the complexities of racial ideology and of the historical role of literature as a vehicle of racial fashioning and imagining.

Assessment: (1) One group presentation conducted, focussed on assigned set-readings (total 20%). (2) A critical/reflective journal, in which students can regularly record observations and reflections on premodern critical race scholarship. This will include three short critical responses to question sheets, each 1,500 words (30%). (3) An independently researched final essay of 3,500-4,000 words (50%).

ELL5080FS BLACK AESTHETICS AND THE DEEP OCEAN

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: M Mohulatsi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course explores the ways contemporary black writing has contributed to the imaginaries of the deep ocean. Working with the black aesthetic, marine life forms as well as questions on ocean waste, the course looks into the deep ocean as an avenue to think with the aquatic environment's emergent future, and past, as well as the ways in which perceptions of the marine environment are influenced in turn. The course complicates received ideas of black intellectual traditions being cast as nationalistic, territorial or 'landlocked' and draws out the range of cultural, historical and artistic encounters with the sea, as both physical entity and mythic force. The course engages historical analysis (particularly with regard to the mapping of the ocean floor), decolonial studies, feminist epistemologies and cultural/oceanic materialism (in drawing attention to the 'agentive' character of the oceans) towards a more fine-grained, open-ended and literary/art-historical mode of interpretation in considering the work of writers and artists in the Black diaspora. The course explores the extent to which different cultural mediums (from poetry to visual art to the novel) are able to acknowledge or honour forms of agency where these have often been overlooked or denied by certain kinds of environmentalist, or even postcolonial, discourse.

Assessment: Students are required to submit two essays (3,000- 3,500 words), one at the end of the first block and the other at the end of the semester. Each of these have a weighting of 40%. Students will also be required to submit at least three reflection essays (750 words each) on a weekly topic of their choice. These have a weighting of 20% towards the final course mark.

Field work

All students attending courses in Environmental and Geographical Science are required to take part in fieldwork arranged during the year..

Postgraduate courses, ancillary activities and research

In addition to formal courses, students undertaking postgraduate courses are required to participate fully in other departmental activities of an academic nature. Such activities are regular seminars on environmental topics addressed by persons prominent in their fields, field camps and field exercises away from Cape Town, and study tours to obtain first-hand exposure to environmental problems and their solution. Graduate students who, in the opinion of the Head of Department, have not had adequate exposure to undergraduate courses with environmental content may also be required to attend specified courses.

Research in Environmental and Geographical Science embraces a variety of topics that are listed below. More detailed information can be obtained by writing to the Department of Environmental and Geographical Science or by consulting the departmental website, www.egs.uct.ac.za.

The Department undertakes research into numerous aspects of the environment but is particularly involved in studies of environmental and social change, human-environment interactions and sustainability. There is an active postgraduate programme. The department offers Master's and PhD programmes by research dissertation as well as Master's by coursework and research in Environment, Society and Sustainability and in African Climate and Development. Of major interest is the identification and evaluation of environmental problems, along with the assessment of environmental impacts. The Department is active in projects which involve assessing the impact of development projects on the biophysical and social environment. The Department is involved in ongoing research and teaching centred on the governance of social-ecological systems, including a specific focus on marine and coastal environments and their interface with communities. An active research programme considers the social and environmental dimensions of the bio-economy.

Of major interest are the socio-political and ecological drivers of environmental change in the past and present, and their likely impacts in the future. Biogeographical research is also pursued by staff and research students. The ways in which environmental change and human activities have shaped the landscape and vegetation patterns of southern Africa are interpreted through palaeoecological, remote sensing and geomorphological studies. Research in climatology focuses on Southern Hemisphere climate variability, regional implications of global climate change, climate modelling, precipitation controls, satellite climatology, and mesoscale meteorology.

Course Outlines:

Ancillary activities

In addition to formal courses, students undertaking postgraduate courses are required to participate fully in other departmental activities of an academic nature. Such activities are weekly seminars on environmental topics addressed by persons prominent in their fields, field camps and field exercises away from Cape Town, and study tours to obtain first-hand exposure to environmental problems and their solutions. Graduate students who, in the opinion of the Head of Department, have not had adequate exposure to undergraduate courses with environmental content may also be required to attend specified courses.

EGS4021X RESEARCH PROJECT IN ENVIRONMENTAL AND GEOGRAPHICAL STUDIES (BA HONS STREAM)

40 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr P Sabela-Rikhotso

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

Students conduct a research project in a topic related to Environmental and Geographical Science under the supervision of a member of the academic staff of the department. The course is examined through the submission of a dissertation.

DP requirements: Students must achieve a pass on their research project to pass the year.

Assessment: Research project: (5% proposal presentation; 5% proposal submission; 10% final project presentation; 80% final project submission).

EGS4023F/S RESEARCH METHODS FOR NATURAL SCIENTISTS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: To be advised

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

The course has a dual purpose. Firstly, a series of weekly lectures and hands-on practical seminars on the nuts and bolts of quantitative analysis. The analysis techniques investigated are (mostly) the fundamental methods found commonly in the literature; viz: Classification, time series analysis, EOF/PCA, non-linear analysis. In parallel to this are a series of seminars on "the Philosophy of Science" addressing issues of values, perception, the science community, etc.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: 100% Coursework.

EGS4030F/S CLIMATE MODELLING

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: To be advised

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

An introduction into the development and application of climate models for exploring climate dynamics, forecasting, and climate change. The course explores the inner workings of climate models, the use in operational seasonal forecasting in Africa (with hands-on work with the current forecasts), and actual running model experiments. Students are expected to have done EGS3012S or its equivalent.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: 100% Coursework.

EGS4031F/S INTRODUCTION TO CLIMATE CHANGE & SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr M Norton

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for EGS Honours and by agreement of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course provides a broad, integrated, knowledge on key issues in climate change and sustainable development, making students conversant across the spectrum of climate change issues and history. Topics covered include: sustainable development; the climate system, anthropogenic forcing and climate system response; African climate variability and change; international climate change legal frameworks, negotiations, and politics; the economics of climate change and climate change financing; the concept of climate compatible development. The course is lecture, seminar and group-work based. Each section of the course will involve basic framing lectures, supported by either an essay exercise or a group work exercise and seminar.

DP requirements: 80% of classes, and all assignments.

Assessment: Coursework 75%; examination 25%

EGS4032F/S CLIMATE CHANGE ADAPTATION & MITIGATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Drs M Norton and D Sparks

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for EGS Honours and by agreement of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course provides in depth coverage of (i) adaptation and (ii) mitigation from both a theoretical and practical/applied point of view. Adaptation and mitigation are the two key domains of academic and applied learning required for students to be qualified to undertake research and be employable in the climate change arena in the South African and developing country context. The issues are explored from a developing country, climate compatible perspective.

DP requirements: 80% of classes and all assignments

Assessment: Coursework 80%; examination 20%

EGS4034F/S INTERROGATING SOUTHERN AFRICAN LANDSCAPES

NB: enrolment to this course is by invitation only

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor S Daya

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

South African landscapes have always been contested. In the contemporary moment of global environmental crisis and deepening social inequality, it is critical that we build an interdisciplinary understanding of the histories, legacies and transformations playing out in particular places. Geography and allied disciplines offer many different ways of studying how the ecological and the cultural intertwine in shaping our landscapes. In this course, through foundational theoretical engagements and field-based activities, we explore some of the cross-cutting social, political, economic, ecological and biophysical dynamics playing out in the context of the rapidly changing Southern African region.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Assignments 60%; examination 40%.

EGS4038F/S CLIMATE CHANGE AND PREDICTABILITY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor B Hewitson

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

The course explores the theory of climate change, and then goes into the question of predictability, cross scale relationships and feedbacks in the climate system, the tools and techniques of prediction, and translation of predictions into the user community including impacts and vulnerability analyses and touching on the social dimension.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: 100% Coursework.

EGS4039F/S URBAN FOOD SECURITY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor J Battersby

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

Topics include an overview of poverty and urbanization in Southern Africa; urban food security, methods and issues; urban poverty and vulnerability debates; food security and health; managing urban food systems (ecological, regulatory and fiscal dynamics).

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Assignments 75%; examination 25%.

EGS4040F/S SPECIAL TOPIC IN HUMAN/ENVIRONMENT INTERACTIONS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr S Scheba

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

Issues and themes in contemporary aspects of the Human/ Environmental interface will be covered. Specific attention will be given to profiling core debates in a specialist field of human or environmental geography. The course will focus on using theory, but will encourage the use of case studies. Course outcomes will emphasize the development of conceptual and analytical skills.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: 100% Coursework

EGS4041F/S APPROACHES AND ISSUES IN PHYSICAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr S Scheba

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

Issues and themes in contemporary aspects of the Physical/ Environmental interface will be covered. Specific attention will be given to profiling core debates in a specialist field of physical or environmental geography. The course will cover theoretical, empirical and methodological concerns and will include a fieldwork component.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: 100% Coursework.

EGS4043F/S CLIMATE CHANGE ADAPTATION AND TRANSFORMATION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor G Ziervogel

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

The central question of this course is "Why does adaptation to climate change need to be understood from a social and governance perspective?" Climate change adaptation will be explored as a means for responding to global environmental change, at the local, national and international scale and from the perspective of individuals, organisations and government. Coming out of the course you will understand the complexity of adaptation and the relationship between reducing climate risk and broader socio-economic issues, how to position adaptation to climate change in the development context and as a means of transformation. Through the course you will develop skills to critically assess adaptation responses in terms of potential contributions and challenges and identify how the social and governance aspects of adaptation could be strengthened.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Assignments 60%; examination 40%.

EGS4045F/S GEOMORPHOLOGY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor F Eckardt

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

The aim of this course is to introduce students to the theory of geomorphological systems and apply this to an area or topic of their choice. The course is particularly targeted at Honours students who have selected physical geography topics for their dissertation. It gives them the opportunity to deepen some of their geomorphological literature relevant to their chosen project. Students are expected to interpret landscapes, identify formative processes and events, examine environmental changes at different spatial and temporal scales, place their area of study into the geological, Quaternary, climatic and applied context in order to appreciate geomorphologic concepts such as systems approach, complexity, relationships, feedbacks, thresholds, equilibrium and cycles.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Assignments 50%; examination 50%.

EGS4046F/S WATER RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr D Kibirige

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

The aim of the module is to develop a comprehensive understanding of issues and challenges in water resources management at both an urban and catchment scale, and with a primary focus on the South African context. The various themes in this module will present a fascinating interplay of tensions and challenges that play out in geographical space and over time, and will involve the consideration of factors such as the increasing demand that society places on scarce water resources; on efforts to meet the basic social need for clean, potable water; on the consequences of interventions and institutional arrangements involved in water governance; and on the role of the private sector in managing water risk in a particular catchment. The module also emphasises the value of an integrated understanding of theories and practices in water resources management and it does so by exploring the perspectives and approaches of sustainability science. Key themes in the module include water quality, monitoring and compliance; new directions in water research in South Africa; a consideration of biological treatment of water; participation in water governance; and how corporate enterprises are becoming leaders in water stewardship, shared water risk and value creation. These and other themes will be discussed in interactive seminar sessions. The course includes a three-week directed reading period, as well as a 4-day field camp.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Assignments 50%; examination 50%.

EGS4047F/S POLICY AND GOVERNANCE

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor Z Patel

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

This course looks at the underlying dynamics involved in the negotiation of environmental policy and its implementation. The assumption here is that unsustainable outcomes are not a result of a lack of will or intention, but rather due to vastly varying values, knowledge and data that are brought to bear on decision making for the environment. The approach of this course is to challenge the 'cultural embeddedness' of policy i.e. it critiques the cultural processes underlying environmental policy. A deeper understanding of the cultural politics of environmental policy and practice will deal with the processes through which institutions define and mediate policy outcomes; governance arrangements for sustainable development; the roles of power, rationality, knowledge and values in achieving environmental and social justice.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Assignments 60%; examination 40%.

EGS4057F/S URBAN POLITICAL ECOLOGY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr S SchebaCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.Course outline:

This course explores urbanisation dynamics with a particular interest in examining the role of political economic shifts, history, discourse, and new forms of techno-management in shaping the contemporary urban environment. It does this through drawing on urban political ecology as an interdisciplinary field of study that provides insights into the power relations underlying unequal access to urban space, resources and infrastructure. Situated in this rapidly evolving field of Urban Studies, the course aims to open up conversations about the dynamics underlying unequal access to cities as well as the possibilities that could support more just and equitable cities. Students will be expected to read set texts, both empirical and theoretical, in preparation for classes, which take the form of weekly, student-led seminars.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.Assessment: Assignments 70%; examination 30%.

EGS4058F/S CRITICAL PERSPECTIVES ON THE BIO-ECONOMY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor R WynbergCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS or cognate disciplines.Course outline:

Located at the interface of fast-changing genetic and information technologies, and the juncture of a range of social, environmental and ethical concerns, the so-called bio-economy has changed ways in which biodiversity is used, conserved and commercialised. Although often touted as a panacea for energy crises, livelihoods, environmental remediation and food security, critical questions have been raised about who stands to benefit, the involvement of local communities, and economic and political drivers behind the bio-economy "push". Using a political ecology framing, this interdisciplinary course aims to introduce key theories that situate the bio-economy and to deepen understandings about the nature of emerging debates. These range from contestations about genetically modified crops, and 'biopiracy' charges of patenting biodiversity and traditional knowledge, through to the potential of agroecology as a sustainable agricultural future. The course aims to deepen critical thinking around these questions, and to inspire a scholarship that explores possibilities for socially just and environmentally sustainable approaches, with a particular focus on the Global South. The course involves both theory and practice, drawing on research mostly from Sub-Saharan Africa. Students will be expected to read set texts, to watch set videos, and to prepare seminars. The course includes several short fieldtrips. For more information see bio-economy.org.za.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance and submission of all assignmentsAssessment: 1 exam - 40%, 1 essay (3000-4000 words) - 30%, 1 seminar presentation - 15%, 1 critique (response to a particular article, policy or media piece) - 15%.

EGS4059F/S ENVIRONMENTAL GOVERNANCE IN THE GLOBAL SOUTH

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr P MbathaCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.Course outline:

This course aims to introduce students to the theory and praxis of environmental governance relevant to global South contexts. It begins by outlining and discussing dominant historical and current environmental governance theories, models and approaches at the global level. The course then engages with various economic, political, historical, institutional and social drivers that influence environmental governance processes, practices and implementation, using the global South as a lens. It underlines symmetries and asymmetries of environmental governance by drawing on various natural resource use and governance sectors, i.e. biodiversity conservation, mining, forestry, tourism, etc. The course also engages the Sustainable Development Goals from a governance perspective, by critically analysing whether or not they can realistically be in conversation with and address issues relating to environmental governance practice in the global South.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Assignments 60%; examination 40%.

EGS4066F/S GEOGRAPHIES OF SEXUALITIES: IDENTITY, PLACE, & HEALTH.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Tucker

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

This course explores and critically engages with geographical research related to sexuality, with a particular focus on the interrelationships between identity, place and health. The course explores how geographical thinking on sexuality – and in particular on Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Trans (LGBT) groups – has evolved over time, and the key relationships that have emerged between the study of sexuality and the study of health needs and inequalities. Starting with an exploration of the historical roots of the geographies of sexualities literature the course will go on to explore the connections such work has had with wider post-structuralist queer theories, globalization debates, and research on sexualities drawn from sub-Saharan Africa. The course will then situate such work in relation to the development of work on HIV/ AIDS prevention, treatment and care, by considering how sexualities have been variously framed, and the at times limited conceptual space for an appreciation of diverse sexual identities. The course then draws together these various strands to consider the options and possibilities for current HIV programming in Cape Town for LGBT groups together with a critical examination of the epidemiological logics and conceptual challenges of the public health deployment of 'men who have sex with men'(MSM).

DP requirements: Class attendance (80%) and submissions of all assignments.

Assessment: 1 essay (4000-4500 words) – 35%, 1 seminar presentation – 5%, 1 24hr take-home exam – 60%.

EGS4067F/S AIR QUALITY MONITORING, MANAGEMENT AND PREDICTION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr J von Holdt

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

Compromised air quality is a major environmental concern, especially in urban environments and even more so in cities in developing parts of the world. This course explores the current state of global air quality but with a focus on examples and case studies from the global south, particularly Africa. We will investigate the factors and role players that have an influence on air quality, the distribution of polluted versus clean air and the impacts on people and the environment. This module will look at the different scales at which people are exposed to poor air quality and the data and tools we use to study and monitor the atmosphere at these different scales and explore the potential for locally developed interventions and solutions. We will also look at air quality management and how the current socio-economic situation is reflected in this space with specific reference to South and southern Africa. Students will be expected to identify an air quality issue of their choice, find and interpret relevant literature, appropriate datasets and methods and produce results which will culminate in a short research report with recommendations for interventions that can potentially result in improvements in the air quality at receptor sites.

DP requirements: At least 80% class attendance and 40% minimum in assignments.

Assessment: Assignments 60%; Examination 40%

EGS4068F/S DISASTER RISK SCIENCE

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr P Sabela-Rikhotso

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS.

Course outline:

The severity and frequency of disastrous events has been in the rise for the past two decades. In the South African context however, declaration of the state of disaster has become a bone of contention in its ability to encourage disaster risk reduction. A myriad of stereotypes and bad publicity has been built around the roles, responsibilities, and authority of government to efficiently manage disasters. Through a transdisciplinary lens, this course aims to explore broad concepts, legislative and policy framework, practical applications, tools, and skills influencing disaster risk science. The course begins by exploring different scholarly arguments about the unnatural state of natural disasters. It will further investigate theoretical models and case studies which will underscore the fundamentals of disaster impact minimisation. The course will interrogate various ways in which humans, through environmental and socio-economic factors drive vulnerability and subsequently create disaster risk.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Assignments 50%, Final exam 50%

EGS5000W ENVIRONMENTAL & GEOGRAPHICAL SCIENCE DISSERTATION

180 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr S Scheba

Course outline:

This course consists of an investigation of an approved topic chosen for intensive study by the candidate (student), culminating in the submission of a dissertation. The dissertation shall demonstrate the successful completion of a programme of training in research methods, a thorough understanding of the scientific principles underlying the research and an appropriate acquaintance with the relevant literature. It must be clearly presented and conform to the standards of the department and faculty. The dissertation will usually consist of a report detailing the conduct, and analysis of the results of, research performed under the close guidance of a suitably qualified supervisor/s. The dissertation should be well-conceived and acknowledge earlier research in the field. It should demonstrate the ability to undertake a substantial and informed piece of research, and to collect, organise and analyse material. General rules for this degree may be found in the front of the handbook.

EGS5031F INTRODUCTION TO CLIMATE CHANGE & SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

23 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr M Norton

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for EGS5012W and by agreement of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course provides a broad, integrated, knowledge on key issues in climate change and sustainable development, making students conversant across the spectrum of climate change issues and history. Topics covered include: sustainable development; the climate system, anthropogenic forcing and climate system response; African climate variability and change; international climate change legal frameworks, negotiations, and politics; the economics of climate change and climate change financing; the concept of climate compatible development. The course is lecture, seminar and group-work based. Each section of the course will involve basic framing lectures, supported by either an essay exercise or a group work exercise and seminar.

Assessment: Coursework 75%; Examination 25%

EGS5058F/S CRITICAL PERSPECTIVES ON THE BIO-ECONOMY

23 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor R Wynberg

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours or Master's specialising in EGS or cognate disciplines.

Course outline:

Located at the interface of fast-changing genetic and information technologies, and the juncture of a range of social, environmental and ethical concerns, the so-called bio-economy has changed fundamentally ways in which biodiversity is used, conserved and commercialised. Although often touted as a panacea for energy crises, livelihoods, environmental remediation and food security, critical questions have been raised about who stands to benefit, the involvement of local communities, and economic and political drivers behind the bio-economy "push". Using a political ecology framing, this interdisciplinary course aims to introduce key theories that situate the bio-economy and to deepen understandings about the nature of emerging debates. These range from contestations about genetically modified crops, and 'biopiracy' charges of patenting biodiversity and traditional knowledge, through to the potential of agroecology as a sustainable agricultural future. The course aims to deepen critical thinking around these questions, and to inspire a scholarship that explores possibilities for socially just and environmentally sustainable approaches, with a particular focus on the Global South. The course involves both theory and practice, drawing on research mostly from Sub-Saharan Africa. Students will be expected to read set texts, to watch set videos, and to prepare seminars. The course includes a short fieldtrip.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance and submission of all assignments

Assessment: 1 exam - 40%, 1 essay (4000-5000 words) - 30%, 1 seminar presentation - 15%, 1 critique (response to a particular article, policy or media piece) - 15%.

FILM AND MEDIA STUDIES, CENTRE FOR

The Centre for Film and Media Studies (CFMS) incorporates majors in Media and Writing and in Film and Television Studies, and the Undergraduate Programme in Film and Media Production.

At postgraduate level CFMS offers Honours specialising in Film and Television Studies (including Screenwriting), in Film Theory and Practice (with a focus on documentary film production), in Media Theory and Practice and in Political Communication. At the MA level, we offer specialisations in Film and Television Studies, Documentary Arts, Media Theory and Practice, and Political Communication.

The Centre also manages the UCT TV Studio. The letter code for the Centre is FAM.

FAM4000W DOCUMENTARY PRODUCTION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr J Cain

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the honours programme in Film Theory & Practice.

Course outline:

A group of 3-5 students work under supervision to make a 24-30-minute documentary on a topic (either historical or contemporary) to be negotiated with the programme committee. There is a combination of group and individual assessment throughout all phases of production on various practical and written outputs as well as a reflective component.

DP requirements: Full attendance and punctual submission of all classwork.

Assessment: 100% coursework: Assessment includes both individual and group marks (production team-based) throughout all phases of production. Pre-production deliverables (45%); production and post-production deliverables including a critical reflection assignment (55%).

FAM4001W RESEARCH ESSAY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor L J Modisane

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

An appropriate research paper of 15,000 words. The essay topic is to be negotiated with the programme committee, after the submission of a proposal.

DP requirements: Attendance at all consultations with supervisor; punctual submission of drafts; punctual submission of final essay or screenplay.

Assessment: Final essay 100%.

FAM4004S GENDER, RACE & POPULAR CULTURE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Haupt

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

In this course students will explore the intersection of gender and race in popular culture. We interpret popular culture broadly to include a wide spectrum of media forms including print media, screen media, social media, music and new media forms. The course, which offers flexible engagement with a range of genres and modalities, would be useful to both Media Studies and Film & Television Studies students in preparation for research projects and creative projects that involve a consideration of race and gender in relation to a range of media forms. Students will be introduced to key theories and debates relating to questions of race, gender and representation. A series of case studies will give students the opportunity to test and explore these ideas. While the course will consider the global relationships which construct identity through the media, we will also pay particular attention to the ways in which race and gender are articulated in the Global South. Classes meet once a week and students are required to read material and engage with key texts in advance.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes. Punctual submission of all written work.

Assessment: Class presentation (30%). Major assignment (40%) and minor assignment (30%).

FAM4007F NARRATIVE JOURNALISM

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Dadi Patel

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and permission of the convener.

Course outline:

This course is a theoretical and creative exploration of the practice of narrative literary journalism. Its aim is to explore the features of the genre, to introduce students to a range of quality writing, both global and local, and to develop their literary and journalistic writing skills. One part of the course will involve an intensive programme of reading and discussion during which students will read a range of narrative literary journalism as well as writing on the genre; the other part of the course will involve writing a series of interlinked features in a narrative literary style. Students are required to produce, along with other exercises, a formal analytical essay, a writer's notebook and a major journalism project employing literary journalism techniques.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of all written work.

Assessment: Essay 25%, writer's notebook 20%, writing exercise 15%, final journalism project 40%.

FAM4008F MEDIA THEORY & MEDIA RESEARCH

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor W Chuma

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course introduces students to theories and research methods commonly used in mass communication, journalism and media studies. The focus is primarily on qualitative research, though students also receive a brief introduction to quantitative methods. Students will be required to collect and analyse qualitative data for presentation in a final research paper.

DP requirements: Attendance at all sessions and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Short assignments including literature review and rationale of methods 50%; 6,000-word research paper 50%.

FAM4009W MEDIA RESEARCH PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor T Bosch

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

Students write a dissertation on an approved topic, under supervision.

DP requirements: Attendance at all scheduled consultations; punctual submission of all written work.

Assessment: 15,000-word essay/project (100%).

FAM4010F MEDIA AND BRAND MANAGEMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr R H Irwin

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course examines the basic elements around modern media and brand management. Students will be expected to work with a real-life brand to discover how brands are built and maintained. They will also have the option to build their own brand and present its functional attributes and symbolic values to the class. This is an excellent introduction for students who would like to enter the brand management and advertising industries.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of all written work.

Assessment: Two essays (6,000 words each), each counts 50%.

FAM4011FS MEDIA INTERNSHIP

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr R H Irwin

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

Students must spend a minimum of six weeks as an intern in the media industry. The course will have to be approved by the course convener in consultation with the business concerned as, together, they will have to propose an internship that is adequately varied and challenging. The business will also be expected to provide a written evaluation of the student.

DP requirements: Compliance with all demands of the internship.

Assessment: The student will be expected to submit a portfolio of work as well as an analytical evaluation of the internship: 100%.

FAM4012W MEDIA CREATIVE PRODUCTION

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Dadi Patel

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and production skills equivalent to Bachelors degree exit level in the creative area the candidate wishes to pursue. Please note that production skills are not taught in this course.

Course outline:

Students plan, develop and produce an approved research-based creative media work or portfolio under supervision. This must include a reflexive analytical component that counts 25% of the final mark.

DP requirements: Attendance at all scheduled consultations; punctual submission of creative work.

Assessment: A portfolio of written or other media work or video production (75%); 5,000-word scholarly rationale or short research paper to accompany creative production (25%).

FAM4018S CRISIS COMMUNICATION IN AFRICA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr R H Irwin

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course covers broad areas of strategic communication, security communication, as well as communication and surveillance in the Internet age. Cases may include crisis communication related to environmental, technological and health hazards, terrorist threats, including the management of conflictual communication and counter-extremism.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of written work.

Assessment: Research assignment (100%).

FAM4019W HONOURS SCREENPLAY PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr I-M Rijdsdijk

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course takes students through the story creation, construction and formatting of a feature length screenplay of 80-90 pages or a screenplay for a different platform (streaming series, web series) of equivalent length. The screenplay will be accompanied by an exegesis of 2,000-2,500 words in which the author examines the theoretical context and/or creative process of the screenplay project.

DP requirements: Timely submission of project pitch and Act 1.

Assessment: One feature length screenplay (approximately 80-90 pages) or a screenplay for a different platform (streaming series, web series) of equivalent length. Creative exegesis of between 2,000 and 2,500 words.

FAM4033FS WRITING FOR TELEVISION: HONOURS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: D Valley

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and permission of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course teaches students the skills needed for writing episodic broadcast television. The course is industry-oriented and students are taught how to construct and deliver pitches, work with series bibles and how to write within the constraints of a multi-camera studio set-up and to a brief. Team writing is a major component of the course. The teaching is undertaken through a series of workshops in which students will work in groups to produce a television episode.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of written work.

Assessment: 20% individual assignment; 20% continuous assessment; 5% pitch; 15% explication; 40% final group screenplay.

FAM4034S THEORIES & FORMS OF ADAPTATION

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr D Marco

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The scholarly interest in adaptation, especially filmic adaptation of fiction, has grown exponentially over recent years, although the practice of this form of adaptation is as old as film itself. The aim of the course is to build on the theoretical insights of a range of scholars and to apply these insights to the analysis of a variety of case studies, e.g. adaptations from prose fiction, plays, biography and the city to film. Use will be made of theories of authorship, authority and authenticity, origin, copy, intertextuality and genre. Consideration will, crucially, be given to the changing historical, cultural and aesthetic contexts within which the texts were produced.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of written work.

Assessment: Seminar presentation (20%), 2 research essays (4,000 words each) or 1 research essay (4,000 words) and 1 (25-minute) adapted script (80%).

FAM4036S FILM AND ENVIRONMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr I-M Rijdsdijk

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course examines several debates concerning the representation of the natural environment in narrative fiction and documentary film. Taking the ecocritical debate that has grown in scope and intensity in literary criticism since the early 1980s as a departure point, the course will investigate the value of this discourse and its applicability to films that either explicitly or implicitly use the natural environment as a key component of the film narrative. Equally important is the analysis of the films in terms of film language, and the extent to which film produces original representations of environmental debates that characterise the current age. In this second aspect of the course lies the history of the natural environment in film (its place in well-established and popular genres like the Western, for example), as well as the representation of people in relation to the nonhuman environment in environmental documentary. The course includes a practical exercise in which students will produce a visual artefact that applies the idea of the course to local situations.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of written work.

Assessment: Seminar presentation 10%; long paper (4,000 words) 40%; visual project 50%.

FAM4037F APPROACHES TO FILM & TV

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr V Suparsad

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into honours in Film and TV Studies or by permission of the convener.

Course outline:

The course aims to explore several currents in film and television theory. It pays particular attention to the medium-specific features of film and television storytelling while at the same time exploring the many ways in which film and television texts reflect upon, incorporate and translate other textual forms. Using a range of major theoretical insights, we shall engage with texts that offer opportunities to examine their identifiable aesthetic, generic, ideological and spectatorial concerns.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of all written work.

Assessment: One class presentation of 2,000 words (20%); two essays of 4,000 words each (40% each).

FAM4038F AUTHORSHIP IN CINEMA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr V Suparsad

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course offers students the opportunity to dive into debates about auteurs and auteurship in film and television studies. The course aims to look at the works of different contemporary auteurs across film and television. The course begins by building a foundational understanding of auteur theory and the varying debates on the topic. Following this the course engages the works of the different auteurs as part of unpacking their styles as well as how their works and perspectives offer diverse insights into contemporary life relating to issues of race, gender, identity and so on.

DP requirements: Attendance at all consultations; punctual submission of all written work.

Assessment: One seminar presentation (20%); 2,500-word essay (30%); 5,000-word essay (50%).

FAM4039F DOCUMENTARY FILM: FORMS AND THEORIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr J Cain

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

Documentary Film: Forms and Theories examines histories and innovations in documentary film, from early non-fiction film to contemporary experimentations, including a focus on South African films and filmmakers. You will develop an understanding of the various forms of documentary and its innovative possibilities; you will develop a knowledge of histories of documentary; and you will have a good grasp of documentary film and its practice in the South African context.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of all written work.

Assessment: 100% coursework: Minor project with peer-to-peer engagement (20%); Short research essay (35%); Case study research essay (45%).

FAM4040F WRITING FOR FILM: HONOURS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr I-M Rijdsdijk

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course provides advanced skills in writing for film and complements the second-semester course (which focuses on writing for television). The course will help students prepare for their feature screenplay through exercises in creative writing, dialogue, and writing for the camera, as well as the preparation of a step outline for their final project.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes, punctual submission of all written work.

Assessment: Short story (The Moth exercise) (30%); analytical essay (30%); Action not words exercise (10%); Writing for camera exercise (10%); Step outline for feature script (20%).

FAM4041S MEDIA AND THE PUBLIC DOMAIN

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Haupt

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The key point of departure for Media & the Public Domain is that free speech rights in a democracy can be undermined by two nemeses. On the one hand, too much state control of the media can stifle the free circulation of information and, thereby, impoverish the public domain. On the other hand, too much corporate control of the media can impede the unfettered flow of information and, thereby, limit citizens' ability to make informed decisions about the common good. This course pays particular attention to the ways in which corporate interests influence approaches to intellectual property and key changes in technology, often at the expense of the public interest. Media & the Public Domain explores debates about copyright, cultural appropriation and access to knowledge in relation to newer technologies like p2p platforms (e.g. Napster and Kazaa), social media platforms (Facebook, Twitter and YouTube) as well as the non-commercial sharing of cracked software, games, films and music. The specific focus of the course will be on the music and film industries' responses to what it terms "piracy" of its intellectual property in the digital age.

DP requirements: Class attendance and timely completion of all assignments. A DP warning will be issued if students miss two seminars without satisfactory explanation (e.g. medical certificates). Students will be denied a DP certificate if they then miss a third seminar.

Assessment: Major assignment (3,000 words): 40%; minor assignment (2,000 words): 30%; seminar presentation and essay (2,000 words): 30%

FAM4042FS MEDIA, DEVELOPMENT AND THE ENVIRONMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor T Bosch

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course deals with media, development and the environment within the African context. It provides an exploratory overview of the media's role in communicating, framing and reporting environmental issues, with a particular focus on the impact of the climate crisis on African countries.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of written work.

Assessment: Two research essays (50%) each.

FAM4043FS DIGITAL METHODS FOR SOCIAL MEDIA RESEARCH

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor M Walton

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

Research in the Humanities and Social Sciences increasingly relies on the analysis of visual media, often published and shared on social platforms. Computational and analytical skills in digital research methodologies are developed via a set project and scaffolded exercises which will equip students to approach certain “large qualitative” research questions, and help them to hone research questions focused on the role of visual social media content in user, company and branding practices, and in the interaction between platforms and publics. Exercises will guide students through (i) data collection using APIs, scrapers, still images and post metadata, (ii) sample construction and case study selection (iii) data cleaning and basic descriptive analysis and visualisation, (iv) documenting and motivating specific methodological decisions, (v) ethical decision-making throughout the project (vi) coding and query design for content analysis and/or qualitative visual analysis using NVivo and (vii) analysis and visualisation of the data using a range of computational and qualitative methods.

Assessment: Coursework exercises and assignments (100%).

FAM5006W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor T Bosch

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master’s programme.

Course outline:

Students will work on an approved topic with a supervisor. The dissertation should show evidence of original research and adequate theoretical and methodological preparation. It has a 25,000-word limit.

DP requirements: Attendance at all scheduled consultations; punctual submission of all written work.

Assessment: Submission of 25,000-word minor dissertation.

FAM5011S MEDIA AND THE PUBLIC DOMAIN

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Haupt

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master’s programme.

Course outline:

The key point of departure for Media & the Public Domain is that free speech rights in a democracy can be undermined by two nemeses. Assessment: Major assignment 40%, minor assignment 30%, seminar presentations 30%.

FAM5012W MEDIA CREATIVE PRODUCTION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr L Maasdorp

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme and production skills equivalent to Honours exit level in the creative area the candidate wishes to pursue. Please note that production skills are not taught in this course.

Course outline:

After approval of a project, students will work with a supervisor on a substantial film- or media-based production. This may take the form of, for example, a single project such as a screenplay or documentary film or travel narrative, or of a portfolio of media work. The project must include a theoretical and analytical section, in the form of a conventional academic essay of 8,000-10,000 words related to the focus of the creative project.

DP requirements: Attendance at all scheduled consultations; punctual submission of all written work.

Assessment: Project = 75%; Analytical essay = 25%. Note that students must pass both components.

FAM5013F ADVANCED MEDIA METHODOLOGY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor W Chuma

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course provides senior postgraduate students with an advanced grounding in qualitative and quantitative research methods. In addition, there will be a high degree of engagement with media theory and current debates in the field. A range of methodology elective options are offered for in-depth study, and for use in a pilot research project. Students are expected to select one of the available options offered that semester. Elective options may include Content analysis, Media ethnography, and Social media analysis.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of written work.

Assessment: Seminar presentations (5%); One-page research proposal (10%); Final research proposal of 3,000 words (30%); Research elective (20%); Research report on pilot study of 5,000 words (35%).

FAM5014FS MEDIA, DEVELOPMENT AND THE ENVIRONMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor T Bosch

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

The course deals with media, development and the environment within the African context. It provides an exploratory overview of the media's role in communicating, framing and reporting environmental issues, with a particular focus on the impact of the climate crisis on African countries.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of written work.

Assessment: Two essays (25% each) and a research paper (50%).

FAM5015W MAKING THE CRITICAL DOCUMENTARY

48 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr L Maasdorp

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into a master's programme. Students who wish to take the course as an elective must consult the convener and submit a portfolio of creative work before they may register for the course.

Course outline:

The course explores how documentary filmmakers endeavour to represent the world and make a difference with their work. We will look closely at exponents of and approaches to non-fiction storytelling; and students will produce original non-fiction short films. Intrinsic to the course is the understanding of the possibilities, politics and ethics of representing the pro-filmic world and the people who inhabit it. The aims of this course are to provide relevant Prompts and challenges that create opportunities for students to grow their conceptual and practical skills in documentary filmmaking; and encourage the development of original new voices in documentary film. Students will be expected to produce several practical exercises individually in preparation for taking a short film project through all stages of production, from development to screening.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of work.

Assessment: 100% coursework (practical, written & oral submissions).

FAM5019FS MEDIA INTERNSHIP

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr R H Irwin

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

Students must spend a minimum of six weeks as an intern in the media industry. The course will have to be approved by the course convener in consultation with the business concerned as, together, they will have to propose an internship that is adequately varied and challenging. The business will also be expected to provide a written evaluation of the student.

DP requirements: Compliance with all demands of the internship.

Assessment: Students will have to meet all internship requirement, create two papers and hand these in on time with complete portfolio of work and assessment from their supervisor.

FAM5020S ADVANCED BRAND MANAGEMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr R H Irwin

Course entry requirements: Admission to a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide students with a thorough understanding of the academic concerns and interests around the modern practice of brand management in South Africa. There is also a heavy research component to the course that permits students to learn more about local brand management practices in their own time using the facilities at UCT as well as their own explorations in the field.

DP requirements: Timely hand-in of all papers and presentations to course convener.

Assessment: Students will have to provide two papers of 2,500 words and 3,500 words, as well as present their research to the class. Students will also be encouraged to contact brand managers in the field.

FAM5038S DIGITAL METHODS FOR SOCIAL MEDIA RESEARCH

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor M Walton

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course introduces students to practical and analytical techniques for Internet-related research in African contexts. Practical training is informed by decolonial and intersectional feminist perspectives on data, infrastructure and artificial intelligence, as well as critical and ethical reflection on contemporary social issues. Students are also introduced to current industry practices and tools for social media analytics and given a grounding in relevant legal and ethical considerations for research with social media data.

Computational and analytical skills are developed via a set project and scaffolded exercises which will equip students to approach certain "large qualitative" research questions and help them hone research questions focused on user practices, social media content, companies, applications or the interaction between platforms and publics. Exercises will guide students through (i) data collection using publicly accessible data and tools, (ii) data cleaning and basic descriptive analysis and visualisation, (iii) data storage and encryption, and (iv) basic concepts for network analysis or multimodal content analysis.

The course also provides an overview of mixed methods and literature from the global South which will help students explore digital datasets in the context of local practices, political economy and infrastructural realities. A range of topics and qualitative methods are reviewed with the aim of contextualising online media and user practices, particularly in African contexts. These may include contextual enquiry, virtual ethnography, in-depth interviewing, app and device walkthroughs, heuristic evaluation as critical analysis, screenshot diaries, or other suitable user experience (UX) research methods (such as A/B testing).

Students will integrate the knowledge gained through exercises and their review of relevant studies and methods by preparing an original research proposal and dataset suitable for use in an MA dissertation.

DP requirements: Completion of all assessment items is required for a DP.

Assessment: Seminar presentation 20%; Research proposal 20%; Research paper 50%; Research presentation and press pack 10%.

FAM5039F APPROACHES TO AFRICAN CINEMA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor L J Modisane

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into the MA specialising in African Cinema or by permission of the convener.

Course outline:

The course explores a range of key African filmmakers, taking into account the historical, cultural and social contexts that inform their work. Crucial to this exploration is an appreciation and understanding of the theoretical and philosophical frameworks that may most usefully be deployed in uncovering the complexities of the films: from the ground-breaking thought of Frantz Fanon through the permutations of postcolonial theory to work on exilic and diasporic cinema and various postmodern and post-national investigations.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of written work.

Assessment: Weekly journal entries of 1,000 words each 20%; one seminar presentation of 2,000 words 10%; two 6,000-word essays 35% each.

FAM5045F DOCUMENTARY FILM: FORMS AND THEORIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr J Cain

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

Documentary Film: Forms and Theories examines histories and innovations in documentary film, from early non-fiction film to contemporary experimentations, including a focus on South African films and filmmakers. You will develop an understanding of the various forms of documentary and its innovative possibilities; you will develop a knowledge of histories of documentary; and you will have a good grasp of documentary film and its practice in the South African context.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of all written work.

Assessment: 100% coursework: Minor project with peer-to-peer engagement (20%); Short research essay (35%); Case study research essay (45%)

FAM5046S FILM AND ENVIRONMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr I-M Rijdsdijk

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course examines several debates concerning the representation of the natural environment in narrative fiction and documentary film. Taking the ecocritical debate that has grown in scope and intensity in literary criticism since the early 1980s as a departure point, the course will investigate the value of this discourse and its applicability to films that either explicitly or implicitly use the natural environment as a key component of the film narrative.

Equally important is the analysis of the films in terms of film language, and the extent to which film produces original representations of environmental debates that characterise the current age. In this second aspect of the course lies the history of the natural environment in film (its place in well-established and popular genres like the Western, for example), as well as the representation of people in relation to the nonhuman environment in environmental documentary. The course includes a practical exercise in which students will produce a visual artefact that applies the idea of the course to local situations.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes; punctual submission of written work.

Assessment: Seminar presentation 20%; short paper (2,500 words) 30%; long paper (4,000 words) and visual project 50%.

FAM5047FS CONTEMPORARY MOVING IMAGE THEORIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr V Suparsad

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

Contemporary Moving Image Theories investigates current discussions around film and television forms and ecologies, including audiences and fandoms, new film cultures, and revisits theories of race and gender in contemporary contexts. The course also examines research methodologies in film and television research in preparation for the mini-dissertation.

DP requirements: Completion and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: 100% coursework: Presentation (10 minutes); Journal; Research Essay (4,000-5,000 words); Video Essay (5 minutes)

FINE ART, MICHAELIS SCHOOL OF

The Michaelis School of Fine Art is the Fine Art Department at the University of Cape Town. Michaelis is staffed by some of South Africa's leading fine artists, curators and art academics. Internationally the school is recognised as one of South Africa's foremost institutions for the study of fine art and art history at an advanced level. The department offers undergraduate courses in Fine Art, and Art History and Discourse of Art. Courses offered include Photography, Painting, Print-media, Sculpture and Curatorship. At postgraduate level it offers numerous degrees, including the Masters in Fine Art, Masters in Art Historical Studies, Masters in Arts in Critical Practice and Curatorial Studies, and the Honours in Curatorship.

The School also houses the Centre for Curating the Archive, the Katrine Harries Print Cabinet and the Michaelis Galleries.

Students are permitted to use the facilities and studios after hours, with permission of the Director and sections.

Studio facilities are provided, but students must furnish themselves with other materials, tools, personal protective clothing and equipment that they may require. Students will be held responsible for the proper care of the studios and workshop equipment and are required to observe all safety instructions.

The letter code for the Department is FIN. E-mail: admissions.fineart@uct.ac.za, or telephone: 021 650 7111.

The Centre for Curating the Archive, which includes the Lucy Lloyd Archive and Research Centre (LLAREC) and Katrine Harries Print Cabinet, has been established as a vehicle for the conservation and creative use, through exhibition and publication, of both object, image and paper collections. It builds on UCT's dual institutional strength in its numerous and valuable research collections on which much critical research is based, and in its established, often innovative expertise in the area of presenting those collections.

The linked research, often revealed in the public domain, uses these collections to facilitate and enrich public engagement with curatorial practice. It also aims to open up novel combinations of the historically separated domains of the creative arts, and the truth-claiming discourses of history and the social and natural sciences.

In coupling the avowedly creative activity of curation with the seemingly objective site of archive the CCA signals its intention to draw attention to past and present processes of the making of archives and collections of all kinds and the creation of meanings that flowed, and yet flow, therefrom.

The CCA is engaged in several partnerships, notably through the Honours specialisation in Curatorship with Iziko Museums of South Africa. The work of the CCA is represented on its website and at www.cca.uct.ac.za

Course Outlines:

Please note that where the same course is offered for both the honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

The Faculty reserves the right to cancel course/s if there is insufficient student interest. Confirmation of whether the course/s will be offered will be published on Vula/Amathuba, Departmental and Postgraduate Faculty noticeboards by the first Friday of the semester in which the course begins.

FIN4050W RESEARCH ESSAY/PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr G Mahashe

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

An appropriate research paper of approximately 15,000 words in length, or project with catalogue, chosen in consultation with the convener of the Art Historical Studies Honours programme OR the Curatorship Honours programme. Draft chapters of the research essay must be submitted by stipulated dates and the completed project must be submitted by no later than 30 October (Curatorship – 28 October).

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Art Historical Studies -15,000-word essay, Curatorship – 15,000-word essay or project with 7,500 catalogue essay.

FIN4051S ART CRITICISM AND AESTHETIC THEORY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr T Monoa

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This is an elective course, which offers advanced knowledge in aesthetic theory and art criticism and how the two intersect at the level of discourse. This course aims to introduce to student's key concepts and methods prevalent in art criticism while interrogating artistic responses to social, historical, political, and cultural phenomena through aesthetic theory. The course equips students with critical thinking skills and generates awareness of debates pertaining to different approaches to contemporary art and different exhibition cultures. Fieldwork in the form of gallery, museum and other sites of art making is integral in this course; students will be expected to respond to exhibitions and texts through discursive engagements.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance of tutorials and lectures.

Assessment: Completion of one assignment weighing 40% alongside three formative assessments counting 20% each.

FIN4052F POLITICS & ETHICS OF COLLECTING

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr A Soudien

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course studies art-collecting practices in the West from the 18th century to the present. Inter alia it considers the 18th century arguments for the establishment of private art collections, the 19th century growth of public museums, the 20th century development of modern art museums, and recent post-modern developments in exhibitionary practice. Throughout the course these issues are situated in socio-political context.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Examined by combination of coursework (60%) and formal examination (40%).

FIN4053S STUDIES IN HISTORIOGRAPHY OF ART

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr P Malatjie

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course traces the evolution of art-historical writing from the early 20th century to the present, focusing particularly on the issue of the word-image relationship in the field of art and visual culture. The course builds on work done in the third year course FIN3028F, but may also be studied by those new to the area.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Examined by combination of coursework (60%) and formal examination (40%).

FIN4054F CRITICAL ISSUES IN CONTEMPORARY ART

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor N Makhubu

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course brings together a variety of theoretical texts that may assist in understanding the diverse production and complex character of the contemporary art world. Central to this inquiry stands the notion of identity, a concept that seems to inform much of contemporary art. We will trace shifting conceptions of this notion over the last three decades, from the initial moments of identity politics, to the articulation of identity as performative, to current ventures into a post-identitarian world.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Formal examination (100%).

FIN4055S READING COURSE IN ART HISTORICAL STUDIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr T Monoa

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course offers a series of reading seminars offering critical analysis of foundational texts. The texts explore key issues and approaches that have formed the basis of debate in art history and visual culture over the past century. Discussion arising from these texts is designed to facilitate research for the long research essay (FIN4050W).

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Formal examination (40%).

FIN4056F CRITICAL THINKING IN CURATORSHIP

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr G Mahashe

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The first part of this course will introduce students to the history and practice of curatorship, and interrogate the meaning of the term curatorship in different spaces and contexts with a focus on art collections and installations. Students will be exposed to curatorial practices and to the practicalities of mounting exhibitions and displays. Topics will include a history of art galleries and museums, with a focus on the twentieth and twenty-first centuries, as well as the role of the catalogue in translating the visual content of the displays. The course will also examine the responsibilities of the curator to the public with a strong focus on South African issues and communities. In the second part of this course, students will deepen their critical understanding of the various intellectual frameworks that inform curatorship practices. Special attention will be given to the history of the twentieth and twenty-first century artists who have engaged with museums, as well as critical texts on these works. Creative and imaginative approaches to the museum and strategies of display will be explored and specific case studies, both local and foreign, will be examined.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Each student will be required to prepare a presentation for a seminar meeting. They are also required to write seminar assignments and reviews of selected exhibitions. The seminar presentation and written reviews are worth 50% of the final mark. Students will also be required to complete a long essay of approximately 3,000 words, worth 50% of their final mark.

FIN4059F WORKING WITH COLLECTIONS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr G Mahashe

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course explores museum collections as resources for research, interpretation and exhibition. To be an effective curator of a collection requires a broad, holistic understanding of the collection, including its historical, social, aesthetic and scientific contexts. A curator also needs to acquire specialised knowledge to unlock the research and educational potential of the collection and make it accessible to broad audiences through exhibitions and public programmes. Iziko's art and social history collections will be used as a basis for elucidating multiple approaches to the understanding and interpretation of collections. The focus of the course is interdisciplinary and outcomes include: ability to apply research methodology in interpreting museum objects, tracing provenance and significance of collections; understanding of the relationship between the tangible and intangible aspects of collections, and hands-on experience of working with museum collections. Museum and site visits provide the basis for critical engagement with collections and curators. The course also introduces students to the ethical considerations and challenges that are presented by different objects in museum collections.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and workshops and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Presentation of a seminar/discussion on a selected topic and relevant readings with submission of a written summary of main issues (20%); Object studies – each student, or a group of students, will research and document an object or collection of objects and participate in a group project of annotated objects (30%); Research essay of up to 3,000 words (50%)

FIN4060S VIRTUAL DISPLAY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: F Saptouw

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

In this course, students will be guided to curatorship in the virtual domain and the ways in which curatorial practice can be extended through the utilisation of digital media. This involves an investigation of shifts in how curators may apply conventions of taxonomies, display and access through the utilisation of digital exhibition platforms. Practical training in web-based curation and technical support will be provided by a developer, in aid of the research component where students will conceive and produce an online exhibition.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Attendance, participation, presentations and regular submission (20%). Students will also be required to write a weekly update (minimum of 200 words) on their projects, and post these entries on their exhibition blog (which is part of the online exhibition). The update may include a reading list, images, personal reflection, or anything else that supports the project. Each student will be required to present a series of four projects using a variety of online platforms (80%).

FIN4061S LOCAL ISSUES IN CURATORSHIP

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr G Mahashe

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

In this course, students will focus on developing their engagement with local and contemporary issues around curatorship. Students will refer to existing collections in the Michaelis Collection, University of Cape Town collections, Iziko collections, as well as current events and developments in the local context. With this focus on local issues, students will be required to conceptualise the specific relationship between the museum and its publics in a way that is sensitive to the South African and African context. Field trips will be organised with on-site discussions about current exhibitions and displays.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Each student is required to prepare reviews of selected exhibitions. Written reviews (30% of the final mark). One long essay of approximately 4,000 words (70% of their final mark).

FIN5050W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor N Makhubu

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MPhil specialising in Environmental Humanities or the MPhil specialising in Theories of Justice and Inequality.

Course outline:

A dissertation completed under supervision which shows thorough practical and/or academic knowledge of the approved subject and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical power in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered, may embody such original work of others as may be pertinent, may include the candidate's own published material on the same subject, if the prior permission of the Senate has been obtained. The dissertation must be the candidate's own work and any contributions to and quotations in the dissertation must be cited and referenced.

DP requirements: Consultation with Supervisor.

Assessment: A dissertation no more than 25,000 words in length.

Director:

Professor A Mendelsohn

The Kaplan Centre was established in 1980 under the terms of a gift to the University of Cape Town by the Kaplan Kushlick Foundation and is named in honour of the parents of Mendel and Robert Kaplan.

The Centre, the only one of its kind in Africa, seeks to stimulate and promote the field of Jewish studies at the University, with a special focus on research into the South African Jewish community. Multidisciplinary in scope, the Centre encourages the participation of scholars from a range of fields at UCT and beyond.

The Centre serves as a coordinating unit in the university, using its resources to invite distinguished scholars to UCT, to initiate and sponsor research that includes largescale historical and sociological studies, and to strengthen the university's library holding of books, microfilms and archival sources. The Centre awards a limited number of undergraduate and graduate scholarships, as well as research grants.

The Centre organizes and hosts a regular roster of public lectures, symposia, and conferences. The latter includes an ongoing biennial conference series in partnership with the University of Southampton, University of Sydney, and Tulane University. It also has an active publications programme which brings out monographs and occasional papers.

HST4001H RESEARCH ESSAY/PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor S Field

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

An appropriate research paper, chosen in consultation with the convener of the Historical Studies honours programme, of approximately 10,000 words in length. Draft chapters of the research essay must be submitted by stipulated dates and the completed project must be submitted by no later than 30 October. Late submission will be allowed only in the most exceptional circumstances, at the discretion of the convener of the Historical Studies honours programme. May include one or more short fieldtrips.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: An essay/project of no more than 10,000 words in length.

HST4021H ADVANCED HISTORICAL METHODS AND APPROACHES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor B Kar

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This seminar course, compulsory for all honours students in the Department of Historical Studies, invites students to engage some of the key conceptual and methodological issues concerning the nature of the historical discipline and its modes of writing and enquiry. It is organised around the notion of 'archives', which we understand in its many different registers, both as an institutionalised order of evidence and as a shorthand for an entire epistemological complex. Taught by a team of historians, anthropologists, literary critics and sociologists over eight intensive weeks at the beginning of the first semester, this course aims at providing students with both a critical understanding of conceptual issues and a hands-on experience of the so-called primary sources. We engage with governmental, oral, ethnographic, mnemonic, statistical, literary, visual, digital, material, sonic and somatic archives in this course, trying to introduce students to the emergent styles of historical enquiry and reflect on the complex relationship between the academic discipline and its several popular and public variants. In the second semester students build upon these discussions to write customised course essays.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Five response papers (50%); class participation (15%); course essay (35%).

HST4026F SPECIAL TOPICS: HISTORICAL STUDIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Mendelsohn

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This special topic course is a shell course which exists to enable the Department to utilise at short notice the specialist expertise of visiting scholars and distinguished guests who could otherwise not be accommodated within the normal postgraduate teaching programme. For this reason, this course will only be offered when scholars with specialist knowledge are in the Department and willing to teach in their area of expertise. Such an eventuality is only likely to arise occasionally and cannot be predicted ahead of time. When offered, the course will follow the standard postgraduate format in the Department which is twelve double period seminars over the semester, with assessment by a mixture of seminar, essay and research papers with the possible addition of a two-hour written examination. All course material will be made available via the course Vula site and all written work will be submitted and graded via the Vula site as well. Where appropriate, the course may include off-campus excursions to relevant sites within the city and wider region at which attendance will be compulsory. For information on whether this course will be offered in any given academic year and on what topic, please contact the department directly.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Examined by a combination of coursework (50%) and a research paper (50%).

HST4032S ADDITIONAL TOPIC IN HISTORICAL STUDIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Mendelsohn

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

HST4034F ORAL HISTORY: METHOD, PRACTICE AND THEORY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor S Field

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This option offers hands-on training in oral history research and interviewing skills and is suitable for students from a wide range of disciplines. The central focus is on the relationship between a person telling oral stories and another eliciting and listening to those stories. There is no simple road map on how to do oral history interviewing. Rather, training in oral history methodology is a learning process of how to make a series of research decisions appropriate to specific social, cultural and historical contexts. Students will learn how to do interviews on audio and video, and will explore applied theoretical approaches to oral narratives and memories. We will also explore questions of copyright, ownership, audio-visual archiving and the ways in which oral history can contribute to development practice. All students will have to complete an oral history project which could become a pilot study for an honours, master's or doctoral dissertation.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Coursework (50%); research project (50%).

HST4041FS HISTORIES OF LAND AND LABOUR IN SOUTH AFRICA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: C Naicker

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme

Course outline:

How have South Africa's histories of struggle been told and what kinds of conceptual frameworks have made this retelling possible? This course explores how colonial discourses on difference came to inform colonial, segregationist, and apartheid modes of rule and responses to such rule. It invites student to think about how conceptualisations and notions of difference have shaped the production of histories of land and labour in South Africa. Rather than 'institutional' histories, i.e., the party, the trade union, the church, the state, the course explores some of the concepts which have shaped these institutions over time. The course therefore considers the conditions under which a series of binary oppositions – the rural and the urban; the traditional and the modern; the national and the popular – have been historically produced and as the myths which make this production possible. What can this tell us about different historical trajectories, experiences, and claims to citizenship and belonging in present-day South Africa?

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work

Assessment: Coursework (50%), Research Project (50%)

HST4042FS THEORY AND METHOD IN HISTORIES OF MEDICINE, HEALTH AND HEALING

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor M MbaliCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.Course outline:

This course aims to deepen students' understanding of the changing social and cultural forms related to biomedicine, health and healing both in Africa and globally. The socially constructed nature of biomedicine and healing will be explored with reference to institutions, practices, policies, diverse ways of knowing and subjectivities around the body and health. The course will also analyze the intersections between the social and material aspects of health (such as political economies and bodily systems and processes). Epistemologies of biomedicine and health will be explored with reference to: diverse views of disease ontology; biomedical professionalisation and therapeutic diversity; and, histories of mental health. The politics of health will be examined in relation to epidemics, public health and health policy and activism. Patient-focused histories of medicine and healing will also be central to the course, particularly those of: women; gender non-conforming and same-sex practicing individuals and groups; and disabled and racially marginalized people. Finally, students will be asked to engage with ethical issues in writing histories of medicine such as ensuring patient confidentiality and obtaining informed consent, addressing stigma and discrimination in relation to certain diseases and understanding healing traditions as described by historical figures on their own terms. May include one or more short fieldtrips.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.Assessment: Coursework (50%), Research Project (50%).

HST4043FS WRITING AND HISTORY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor S JeppieCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programmeCourse outline:

Historians take for granted that we have to use sources, most often traces from the past in the form of written texts. But what is the history of writing itself? What are the histories of writing in various parts of the world? What are the connections between the articulation of language/s and the surfaces upon which they were inscribed and then moved and mobilized for a multitude of purposes? And beyond this what kinds of readings and traditions of slow and close reader philology, interpretation emerged to make sense of these written texts? What kinds of writing supports have developed and how has the codex become the norm (or not)? Until recently the dominant way of telling this story has been to focus on the origins of writing in Mesopotamia and then to move on to the growth of writing systems, some attention to book before printing (but mainly after the print revolution), and ultimately the emergence of philology as a largely western enterprise. In this course we explore this tradition itself. However, this course is not concerned with origins as much with multiple centres and multiple traditions of inscription on a variety of supports (stone, bamboo, wood, paper). We look at numerous scripts and the styles of philological engagement with written works which have their own presuppositions. This interdisciplinary course will appeal to students who are interested in history in the longer-term, material histories, book history, and world history through objects and intellectual history. This course is formulated in the knowledge that in recent years there has been a rise of interest in manuscript studies and philology.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written workAssessment: Coursework (50%), Research Project (50%)

HST4055FS RACISM, COLONIALISM & GENOCIDE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A MendelsohnCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course examines the relationship between racism, colonialism and genocide in case studies focusing particularly on Africa. Where appropriate, the course will introduce a comparative perspective to elucidate global dimensions of the subject. The impact of a range of social phenomena including modernity, nationalism, war, revolution and social Darwinism are also considered. Course work will include theoretical engagement with the concept of genocide as well as with contending approaches to the subject. Filmic depictions of genocide will form a significant theme throughout the course.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: One 3,000-word essay (50%); class participation (20%); written assignments (30%).

HST4063FS DEBATES IN THE HISTORY OF THE INDIAN OCEAN WORLD

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr N Shivji

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course will provide students with an advanced understanding of the debates within Indian Ocean World Studies. These debates will be framed by focusing on -- and comparing -- the Indian Ocean world along the East African and Southern African coast in the pre-colonial period. Students will engage critically with literature that explores the relationship of the coast to the hinterland, as well as histories of the land, migration and state formation.

DP requirements: Attendance and participation in all seminars, completion of all written and other work, and completion of the course evaluation.

Assessment: 50% 3 Reading Response papers (1,000 words each); 50% 5,000-word course essay.

HST4064FS MATERIALITY AND POWER

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr L Mokwena

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course will focus on artefacts and material culture through a historical lens. Students will grapple with the techniques, concepts and analytical skills required to critically and creatively engage with debates at the intersections of historical inquiry, object-driven scholarship, and studies in political life and its cultures. Substantively, this course will introduce students to theoretical debates on and empirical exemplars of new and old materialist accounts of social change, illuminating objects as the physical locus of complex and often opaque technical, cultural, as well as economic entanglements within and between societies.

DP requirements: Attendance and participation in all seminars, completion of all written and other work, and completion of the course evaluation.

Assessment: 20% - 2x 1,000-word Reading response papers; 10% - Seminar discussion lead presentation; 20% - 2x Essay outline drafts; 50% - Final 3,000-word course essay.

HST5004H HISTORICAL RESEARCH

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Mendelsohn

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course is intended for students taking the MA in History Education Research. It provides an introduction to the methods and techniques of historical research as applied to the dissertation research undertaken by each student. Students examine methods used by recent historians such as textual and archival work, oral history interviewing, photographic, film and other visual resources, the use of material objects and residues, cartography and spatial mapping and electronic and online resources.

The course also examines recent debates about historical method and research techniques, especially in relation to postmodern and postcolonial approaches.

Practical assignments can include archival projects, oral history interview transcription and analysis, on site heritage projects and field work. A particular focus is placed on research work in the Western Cape region.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Coursework (100%).

HST5011W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Mendelsohn

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

A dissertation completed under supervision which shows thorough practical and/or academic knowledge of the approved subject and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical competency in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered. The Minor Dissertation can take two forms: either a standard academic essay of no more than 25,000 words in length, or, in selected cases, partial fulfilment of the dissertation requirement for the degree may be met, subject to approval by the Head of Department, by other appropriate forms of historical work. In such cases students will still have to submit a written essay, of no more than 10,000 words in length, reflecting on the accompanying research output. Students are advised that the weighting given to each component must be agreed in writing prior to registration with the Head of Department.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: A dissertation of no more than 25,000 words in length.

HST5034F ORAL HISTORY: METHOD, PRACTICE AND THEORY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor S Field

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course is aimed at both making the students acquainted with the growing historical literature across the world on the daily experiences and unspectacular practices, and teaching them the skills of formulating original research questions. Each year this course focuses on an object or a practice or a sentiment usually considered too ordinary, too universal and too familiar to be adequately or excitingly historical, and gradually unpacks the various histories unevenly woven into it. Through a systematic investigation of the experiential contexts and daily praxis, the students are encouraged to think imaginatively and across the boundaries of disciplines. In pointing the students towards the emergent approaches and sites of new research, the course also attempts to train them in moving responsibly and creatively between big theoretical questions and specific, concrete histories.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work

Assessment: Coursework (15%), Minor Essay (25%), and Research Project (60%)

HST5060FS HISTORY IN PUBLIC LIFE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Mendelsohn

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

History is thickly imbricated in our everyday lives. This course examines the multiple ways in which history is produced and circulates in public life. It does so by exploring how history manifests in different media, how histories of various kinds cross between distinct fields of public practice, and how they gain and lose appeal as their form and potency changes. The course will involve critical engagement with the idea of the production of history, as well as with theories of memory, publics, publicness, publicity, counter publics, the social imaginary of the public sphere and the role it is understood to play in a democracy, and the historicization of these concept qua concepts. Students will develop a theoretical understanding of how historical materials are made, assimilate into and mutate within the public imagination, and circulate in public life. May include one or more short fieldtrips.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Coursework (15%), Minor Essay (25%), and Research Project (60%).

HST5061H ADVANCED HISTORICAL METHODS AND APPROACHES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor B KarCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.Course outline:

This course invites students to engage some of the key conceptual and methodological issues concerning the nature of the historical discipline and its modes of writing and enquiry. The course is organised around the notion of 'archives', which we understand in its many different registers, both as an institutionalised order of evidence and as a shorthand for an entire epistemological complex. Taught by a team of historians, anthropologists, literary critics and sociologists, this course aims at providing the students with both a critical understanding of conceptual issues and a hands-on experience of the so-called primary sources. We engage with governmental, oral, ethnographic, mnemonic, statistical, literary, visual, digital, material, sonic and somatic archives in this course, trying to introduce students to the emergent styles of historical enquiry and reflect on the complex relationship between the academic discipline and its several popular and public variants.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.Assessment: Coursework (15%), Minor Essay (25%), and Research Project (60%).

It is important to retain professional contact outside the immediate area of one's particular work. The Library and Information Association of South Africa (LIASA) accepts applications for membership from any worker in a library or information service. Other information related local professional associations include the Association for Southern African Indexers and Bibliographers (ASAIB), South African Society of Archivists (SASA), International Council of Museums-SA (ICOM-SA) and Knowledge Management South Africa (KMSA).

Course Outlines:

Please note that where the same course is offered for both the honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

The Faculty reserves the right to cancel course/s if there is insufficient student interest.

Confirmation of whether the course/s will be offered will be published on Vula/Amathuba,

Departmental and Postgraduate Faculty noticeboards by the first Friday of the semester in which the course begins.

LIS4050W RESEARCH METHODS & USER STUDIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr A Mfengu

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a PGDip (Library & Information Studies).

Course outline:

The course introduces quantitative and qualitative research techniques in library and information studies research. Research ethics will be considered. In such a research context, students will also examine the cultural, social and educational role of libraries and how they may contribute to the development of communities through the design and provision of services meeting their needs.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Students are assessed throughout the course. A few practical assignments early in the course will be formative in nature as a means of orientation (15%). The formal assessment will consist of an examination project (in the form of a literature review) worth 25% and a substantial research proposal (externally examined) counting for 60%.

LIS4051W INFORMATION RESOURCES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: M Kahn

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a PGDip (Library & Information Studies).

Course outline:

This course develops a perspective on how, by whom and for whom knowledge is produced. It focuses on the methods and systems devised to organise knowledge and information for retrieval and use. It examines the role of the library in the dissemination of knowledge and it aims to equip the student with skills to provide support to people with information and research needs.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Students are assessed throughout the course. A few practical assignments early in the course will be formative in nature as a means of orientation (35%). The formal assessment will consist of an examination project (65%).

LIS4052W RESOURCE PLANNING & USE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: T De Young

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a PGDip (Library & Information Studies).

Course outline:

This course offers an introduction to planning, acquisition and evaluation of the use of resources within the context of information organisations in the 21st century. Part of the course includes a Work Integrated Learning (WIL) module where candidates will engage with professionals in a work environment while gaining hands-on experience of processes associated with an information organisation.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Students are assessed throughout the course. A few practical assignments early in the course will be formative in nature as a means of orientation. The formal assessment will consist of one major project worth 60%, assignments worth 20% and a Work Integrated Learning (WIL) report worth 20%.

LIS4053W RESOURCE DESCRIPTION AND COMMUNICATION

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr M Shongwe

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a PGDip (Library & Information Studies).

Course outline:

This course provides an introduction to the principles and standards of bibliographic resource description and authority control, with an emphasis on metadata schemas for a variety of resources and authority control. The application of digital technology in resource description including digital curation is covered as well as an examination of the construction and development of digital collections particularly institutional repositories and virtual libraries. Scholarly communication, open access and intellectual property rights also form part of this course.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Students are assessed throughout the course. A few practical assignments early in the course will be formative in nature as a means of orientation. The formal assessment will consist of two practical assignments worth 40% and an examination project worth 60%.

LIS4054W KNOWLEDGE ORGANISATION & MANAGEMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr M Shongwe

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a PGDip (Library & Information Studies).

Course outline:

This course introduces knowledge organisation structures and knowledge management theories and principles. It covers subject access in resource description and metadata, information retrieval systems, subject analysis and control, indexing languages such as thesauri, subject heading lists and classification schemes. Students learn the construction and application of taxonomies, folksonomies, ontologies and topic maps for knowledge organisation.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Students are assessed throughout the course. A few practical assignments early in the course will be formative in nature as a means of orientation. The formal assessment will consist of two practical assignments worth 40% and an examination project worth 60%.

LIS5025FS PRINCIPLES OF DIGITAL CURATION

48 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: R Higgs

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MPhil specialising in Digital Curation.

Course outline:

The course introduces the concepts of curatorial endeavour and of technology in context, and then expands on each of these as they are relevant to Digital Curation. Particular emphasis is placed on meaning and medium, ethics, change and evolution. The course also examines and problematises the specific power and responsibilities of the digital curator.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Formative projects (40%); externally examined research paper (60%).

LIS5026FS CURATING IN CONTEXT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: R Higgs

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MPhil specialising in Digital Curation.

Course outline:

A research project on an approved topic will form the assessable component of the course. The topic is proposed by the student in consultation with the host organisation and the supervisor. The supervisor will provide comprehensive guidance and direction before, during and after the one-month on-site experience. Students can be expected to present themselves for regular meetings for this purpose.

Assessment: An externally examined reflective research report of 5,000 to 6,000 words that critically discusses, and draws on published literature to analyse the issue identified, and to propose solutions. This work will not be replicated in the minor dissertation component of the programme. This assessment counts for 100% of the course assessment.

LIS5027FS CURATION FOR DIGITAL MEDIA & FORMATS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: R Higgs

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MPhil specialising in Digital Curation.

Course outline:

The various digital formats and encoding mechanisms are explored, and the distinction between born-digital and derivative artefacts is considered in detail, with consideration of the implications for rendering, preservation and persistence of each. Levels of granularity for artefacts and collections are discussed, and then the course draws on and presents specialist expertise and practice domains for image, sound and video management.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Formative projects (40%); externally examined research paper (60%).

LIS5028FS INFORMATION ARCHITECTURE & METADATA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr M Shongwe

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MPhil specialising in Digital Curation.

Course outline:

The course covers information architecture (IA) and creation of metadata for digital artefacts. It investigates components of the IA layer, namely, sourcing, storage and representation. Students are exposed to sourcing techniques such as harvesting, data mining and crowdsourcing. Students will investigate storage and representation options, including metadata schemas and standards, in order to design appropriate navigation architectures for content representation in a collective domain.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Essay (25%); reflective journal (15%); externally examined project (60%).

LIS5029FS RESEARCH DATA MANAGEMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: M Kahn

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MPhil specialising in Digital Curation. Also available to occasional students.

Course outline:

This second semester (4th term) course offers students who are interested in the area of research support an opportunity to explore the range of issues associated with data curation and research data management (RDM). There will be a focus on policy analysis and development, the management of research data throughout its lifecycle, and attendant cultural and disciplinary challenges. Roles and responsibilities associated with RDM will be explored.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: A formative project (30%); externally examined final project (70%).

LIS5030FS TECHNOLOGY ENABLERS FOR DIGITAL CURATION

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: T De Young

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MPhil specialising in Digital Curation.

Course outline:

The course introduces the generic tiered content management architecture, examines the detailed ideal functionality and interoperability of each tier, and how these are enabled through XML. It also stimulates reflection on the governance, forward compatibility and constraints of content management systems. Core and emerging standards for repositories, middleware, ingestion and dissemination layers are presented, in the interests of extensibility and sustainable networked collections. Basic business analysis principles for systems to support digital curation are considered.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Formative technology-based assignments (40%); externally examined final project (60%).

LIS5031W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr A Mfengu

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for MLIS or MPhil in Digital Curation.

Course outline:

A dissertation completed under supervision which shows thorough practical and/or academic knowledge of the approved subject and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical power in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered, may embody such original work of others as may be pertinent, may include the candidate's own published material on the same subject, if the prior permission of the Senate has been obtained. The dissertation must be the candidate's own work and any contributions to and quotations in the dissertation must be cited and referenced.

Assessment: A dissertation of no more than 25,000 words in length.

LIS5032FS LIS LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

48 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an MLIS.

Course outline:

This course equips students for leadership and management roles in libraries and information management by providing a grounding in the theoretical and practical aspects of the management of institutional assets (human, financial and information), and critical reflection on leadership in the LIS arena. Course topics include strategy, governance, human resources and labour practice, financial resource management, operations and process management, marketing and advocacy, and measurement and evaluation. Students engage with systems and complexity theory as well as critical discussion on power structures and leadership.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Formative exercises consisting of various written assignments (including the keeping of a weblog) will constitute 40% of the assessment. A summative assessment project will constitute the remaining 60%.

LIS5033FS RESEARCH LIBRARIANSHIP

48 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: M Kahn

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an MLIS.

Course outline:

This first semester course equips students to develop knowledge and skills required in support of the regional, national and institutional research agenda. It does this through exploring the research landscape; analysing macro and institutional policies relating to knowledge production; understanding knowledge structures of particular disciplines and changing patterns in scholarly communication; developing insights into the research process in various domains; assessing and addressing needs of scholars and creating active partnerships within the research community.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Formative assessments will consist of written submissions exploring relevant themes and issues throughout the course (30%). Final assessment consists of a project (5,000 to 7,000 words) that will demonstrate a sound theoretical understanding of the principles and practice of research librarianship and will focus on a specific, identified issue (70%).

LIS5034FS INTERNSHIP

48 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: M Kahn

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an MLIS.

Course outline:

A six-week internship under supervision to experience an aspect of work in an approved library or an information service which provides an opportunity to investigate specific problems in a site of professional practice. The objective of this is to foster a critical, reflective approach to experience, coupled with an ability to make comparisons of practice which are grounded in reality. Essentially, it provides a forum within which an action research project can be conducted. A research project on an approved topic will form the assessable component of the course. The topic is proposed by the student in consultation with the host organisation and the supervisor. The supervisor will provide comprehensive guidance and direction before, during and after the on-site experience. Students can be expected to present themselves for regular meetings for this purpose.

Assessment: Project work 100%. A written report of 7,000 to 10,000 words discussing and analysing the problem or issue identified and proposing solutions.

LIS5035FS DIGITAL CURATION

48 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: R Higgs

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an MLIS. Also available to occasional students who hold an Honours degree or equivalent.

Course outline:

The course is framed by the requirements of digital stewardship in archives, libraries and other repositories. It offers an overview of the theory and practice of digital preservation and stewardship. It investigates the curation lifecycle in all its stages, taking into account the changing scholarly environment driven by rapidly evolving technology. Metadata, access and standards will be considered, together with issues of intellectual property and licensing in an open-access environment.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments

Assessment: Formative assessment with class exercises throughout the course will count for 40%. Final assessment consists of a project (5,000 to 7,000 words) based on a problem emerging from the theoretical issues related to aspects of changing patterns in scholarly communication and their practical implications. The project counts for 60% of the assessment.

LIS5036FS TEACHING & LEARNING FOR LIS PROFESSIONALS

48 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: T De Young

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for MLIS. Also available to occasional students who hold an Honours degree or equivalent.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide the knowledge and skills for information literacy programme design, implementation and assessment for library and information services (LIS) professionals to enable effective teaching and learning in academic and public libraries. It covers pedagogical theory including a variety of teaching methods and content delivery specific to LIS in the digital landscape. The main areas of focus will be critical thinking and engagement in information literacy; information literacy curriculum design, delivery, assessment and evaluation, as well as teaching and learning information literacy in an online environment.

DP requirements: Submission of all assignments.

Assessment: A critique of an information literacy programme (20%); micro teaching and its assessment (20%). Final assessment is a report (5,000-7,000 words) demonstrating theoretical understanding of information literacy as well as its curriculum design, delivery and evaluation in an approved site of LIS practice (60%).

The Centre for Creative Writing at the University of Cape Town offers the premier creative writing specialisation on the African continent. Two Nobel Prize nominees have been part of its staff of committed, exceptional writers. Joining the University of Cape Town's Creative Writing specialisation offers students from around the world a chance to play a role in the cultural renewal of South Africa and work closely with some of the world-famous authors whose writings helped transform this country.

Course Outlines:

Please note that where the same course is offered for both the honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

The Faculty reserves the right to cancel course/s if there is insufficient student interest. Confirmation of whether the course/s will be offered will be published on Vula/Amathuba, Departmental and Postgraduate Faculty noticeboards by the first Friday of the semester in which the course begins.

SLL3114W XHOSA COMMUNICATION FOR EDUCATORS

12 NQF credits at NQF level 7

Convener: Associate Professor R Possa

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a PGCE.

Course outline:

A communicative course that will enable English speaking educators to use simple Xhosa in the classroom and in everyday interactions. The course is presented as a mix of grammar and useful classroom-specific phrases and vocabulary, focusing on the relationship development with students that learning Xhosa facilitates, as well as enhanced understanding of the role of language in education. The main texts for the course are provided on Vula, along with exercises and assessment. Students are provided with self-study material while they are on Teaching Practice in schools. Oral assessments may be conducted in order to assess students' ability to use the new language appropriately and with meaningful impact.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance record and submission of all assignments and projects.

Assessment: Tests and assignments count 60%. The final exam counts 40%.

SLL4060F FRENCH & FRANCOPHONE LITERATURES 1: THEORIES, IDENTITIES, RELATIONS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor M Arnold

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course - entirely taught in French - interrogates the complexities of postcolonial cultural and literary identities by focussing on several critical texts by Francophone African thinkers and selective works of 'Global South' literature written in French. Contemporary fiction by authors from the continent and the Indian Ocean will be discussed and read through the lens of notions such as 'Afropolitanism' (Mbembe 2005, 2010) and 'Afrotopia' (Sarr 2016) as well as associated concepts and ideas ('Relation', 'Littérature-monde', 'postcolonie'). Both political and poetic, these theoretical and creative works question conventional forms of belonging. They encourage the deconstruction of various 'grand' narratives and paradigms (modernism, nationalism, nativism, globalisation...) and call for the imagination of a new relational anthropology where circulation, plurality, and syncretism become key features. By engaging with the intersections between theory and literature, the course therefore addresses several challenges of thinking and writing (from) Africa and the 'Global South'. It will be explored to what extent the discussed authors make a significant contribution to contemporary debates - in the Francophone world and beyond - about questions such as collective and individual identity, history-memory, place-space, local-global.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance required. Participation in all types of assessment.

Assessment: Two essays (25% each); Class examination (25%); Oral presentation (25%).

SLL4061S FRENCH & FRANCOPHONE LITERATURES 2: NARRATIVES, DEBATES, POLITICS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr K Plaiche

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course - entirely taught in French - offers a detailed study of selected aspects of contemporary literatures in French, written by authors both from France and the Francophone 'Global South'. It interrogates literary production which addresses major issues pertaining to society, politics and identity in both national, international and transnational settings. Discussed topics in the works of these writers may include (determined by staff availability): the location of the individual within the collective (nation, culture, class, 'race'...); democracy and globalisation; capitalism and consumerism; violence and power relations; migration and diaspora; space, place and the environment; history, memory, testimony and life writing; gender and sexuality. Selective critical and theoretical approaches may range from traditional literary concepts (e.g. poetics & aesthetics, theories of fiction, discourse analysis, sociocriticism) to more contemporary perspectives (e.g. ethics, geocriticism, ecocriticism/ecopoetics) as well as interdisciplinary frameworks (e.g. feminism, postcolonialism, anthropology, psychoanalysis, trauma studies).

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance required. Participation in all types of assessment.

Assessment: Two essays (25% each); Class examination (25%); Oral presentation (25%).

SLL4063F THEORIES AND PRACTICES OF TRANSLATION

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr R de Oliveira

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course provides an understanding of the discipline of translation studies: its history and main theories, from Nida (20th century) to Venuti (21st century). At the end of the semester, students are aware of the problems of understanding and interpretation raised by translation practice and, thus, able to develop analytical, practical, evaluative and aesthetic skills that will serve to address these issues both in the applied and theoretical context.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance required. Submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: Theoretical and practical translation assignments to be completed by the due date (100%).

SLL4064FS TOPICS IN GERMAN STUDIES I

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr G Ortner

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course covers the necessary academic writing, language and linguistic building blocks which students need to produce academic texts written in German, in preparation for writing longer research papers. The focus will also be on applied linguistic techniques specific to GFL (for example, discovery-based learning of collocations using German corpora) and could include the theories and practice of translation, depending on staff availability.

DP requirements: 80% attendance of classes, 100% fulfilment of assignments, examinations, orals.

Assessment: Coursework assignments (40%), one compulsory oral examination (20%), one compulsory written examination (40%).

SLL4065FS TOPICS IN GERMAN STUDIES II

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor G Singer

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

Topics in German Studies II offers an advanced study of selected topics of contemporary German literature, to be determined by staff availability. Topics could include postcolonial approaches with a focus on Africa, as well as gender studies and intercultural approaches to contemporary German literature. This course also includes aspects of literary criticism, and intensified work with scientific texts and the development of more detailed analysis methods. Both oral and written skills are trained.

DP requirements: 80% attendance of classes, 100% fulfilment of assignments, examinations, orals.

Assessment: Coursework essays (40%), one research project of approximately 6,000 words (40%), one compulsory oral examination (20%).

SLL4066FS TOPICS IN GERMAN STUDIES III

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr G Ortner

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

Topics in German Studies III explores specific concepts and approaches to the subject German as a Foreign Language (GFL), with a focus on engaging with literature in the field of GFL. This course thus offers perspectives on theoretical research and actual concepts of teaching within GFL, with a special focus on literary texts.

DP requirements: 80% attendance of classes, 100% fulfilment of assignments, examinations, orals.

Assessment: Coursework essays (40%), one research project of approximately 6,000 words (40%), one compulsory oral examination (20%).

SLL4067FS TOPICS IN GERMAN STUDIES IV

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor G Singer

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

Topics in German Studies IV builds on surveying and analysing key German literary genres and texts. Topics covered may have a historical or contemporary focus, dependent on staff availability and student interest. This module also includes aspects of literary criticism, working with scientific texts, and shall enable the students' development of more detailed analysis methods in their research. Both oral and written skills are trained.

DP requirements: 80% attendance of classes, 100% fulfilment of assignments, examinations, orals.

Assessment: Coursework essays (40%), one research project of approximately 6,000 words (40%), one compulsory oral examination (20%).

SLL4072S FRENCH & FRANCOPHONE CULTURES & ARTS: BETWEEN TEXT & IMAGE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor M Arnold

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course - taught entirely in French - focuses on the study of forms of visual representation in cultural and artistic productions of French and Francophone authors. It draws on concepts from cultural and adaptation studies to explore the vibrant and expanding field of graphic literature (bande dessinée), but also the increased critical relevance of various forms of visual regimes (e.g. photography, the moving image, cinema). The course will lead to a critical understanding of the material and symbolic processes, the creative tensions, and the interpretational scope that can be observed in the intersectionality between text and image. What happens when a novel is 'augmented' with images? When a canonical text is 'updated' into a modern graphic narrative? How are regimes of representation and "language" affected in these processes? Both conventional modes (intertextuality, illustration, adaptation) and more complex processes (intermediality, inspiration, interpretation, transposition) will be used to address these questions. The in-depth study of several fictional and graphic works (e.g. by Flaubert, Le Clézio, Saint-Exupéry, Claudel, Alagbé, Larcenet, Baudoin, Sfar...) will reveal the discursive and representational processes at stake in these intertextual/-medial relations, but also its potential political and ethical implications (around 'readability' and 'visibility'). Through the discussion to what extent these visual representations contribute to a productive reassessment of traditional artistic hierarchies, French and Francophone literatures and arts will eventually appear as part of a multifaceted "continuum" of creative expression.

DP requirements: At least 80% attendance required. Participation in all types of assessment.

Assessment: Two essays (25% each); Class examination (25%); Oral presentation (25%).

SLL5024FS CREATIVE WRITING POETRY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor I Coovadia

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into the MA programme with a specialisation in Creative Writing; submission of a portfolio of Afrikaans or English poetry and after an interview with the Convener.

Course outline:

Students are required to attend two-hour long workshops weekly. Working around their own draft poetry, the classes require students to engage with a range of poetry that exemplifies diverse forms and shows the diversity of ways that a poetic mode can be used; and texts that explain how to write and re-draft poetry; critical works that analyse poetry and that demonstrate what constitutes publishable poetry and why. The course requires students to begin drafting poetry of their own and both auto-critiquing what they write and working with their peers and the lecturer in a process of mutual critique. The course requires a range of assignments that include commentaries sent to the lecturer about poetic works that have been sent to them in the periods between workshops.

DP requirements: Attendance at all workshops.

Assessment: 50% coursework assignments; 50% examination.

SLL5025W CREATIVE WRITING PART B

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor I Coovadia

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MA specialising in Creative Writing.

Course outline:

A novel, a collection of stories, a piece of creative non-fiction (preferably 60,000 to 80,000 words); or a collection of preferably forty poems accompanied by a 20,000- to 25,000-word expository essay. The creative work may also take the form of a text for delivery on an electronic platform (e.g. mobifiction). The size of the work will be decided in discussion with the specialisation Convener and supervisor. While an expository essay relating to the creative work and its contextual and theoretical underpinnings is required to accompany a collection of poetry, it may, at the discretion of the supervisor and specialisation Convener, be permitted or required where the creative work is a novel, a piece of creative non-fiction or a text for delivery on an electronic platform. In cases where an expository work is part of the dissertation, the two combined will be graded as a single whole although examiners will be guided as to the relative value of each. Although it is at times inevitable that the dissertation contains seeds of work produced in SLL5027FS, SLL5024S and/or SLL5002S, the dissertation has to be, in essence, original and new work.

DP requirements: Regular consultation with supervisor as per a Memorandum of Understanding agreed and signed at time of first and each subsequent registration for the course.

Assessment: Dissertation 100%.

SLL5027FS CREATIVE WRITING WORKSHOP

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor I Coovadia

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MA specialising in Creative Writing.

Course outline:

The workshop is a core to the creative writing programme. Its intention is to introduce students to writing as a self-conscious art, learned by doing, and to prepare them to begin their creative dissertation. It is organised around discussion and improvement of student creative work rather than the transmission of knowledge, although creative writers who are invited to lead a seminar/workshop will direct discussion around particular themes – like narrative point of view, the construction of scenes and dialogue, poetic metre, and authorial voice – as they are raised in the practice of members of the class. At each workshop the submissions of up to four class participants will be discussed. Each student is expected to submit a minimum of 40 pages of writing during the course of the semester. Students perform as readers of each other's work, to write new material of their own, and to revise their writing.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work.

Assessment: Assessment: 25% based on participation; 75% based on writing submitted during the course.

SLL5041F PROBLEMS IN CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE/CULTURE THEORY I

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor I Coovadia

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

TEXT AND POWER (FREUD/LACAN). A reading of the unconscious of the text from Freud to Lacan. Modern Freudian and Lacanian approaches will be discussed. The text as analyst or analysand? Texts of relevant psychoanalysts (Alice Miller, Jacques Lacan and Slavoj Zizek) will be read. Selected Freudian texts (The Dora Case and The Interpretation of Dreams) will be read. The student will select a Lacanian text and analyse the implications of psychoanalysis for language theories.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work.

Assessment: Two essays (50% each).

SLL5042S PROBLEMS IN CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE/CULTURE THEORY II

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor I Coovadia

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

THE HISTORY OF LITERARY THEORY. A focus on the historical development of literary theory, namely a shift from writer to text to reader in the 20th century and a critical reading of the new millennium with the relevance of the internet and a re-defining of writer/text/reader. Literary compendiums will be read to assess why certain literary theoreticians (for instance Jung and his followers) are omitted after the 1960's? The impact of feminisms, reception theories, poststructuralism, postmodernism and Marxist theories on modern theory will be analysed. The work of David Lodge or Terry Eagleton as an influential compiler will be discussed in this course.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work.

Assessment: Two essays (50% each)

SLL5083FS INTERNATIONAL CONTEMPORARY FICTION & PROSE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor I Coovadia

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course will introduce students to the texts and debates of contemporary prose and short fiction, putting together the perspectives of writers as well as critics to understand the styles, ambitions, and contexts of recent literary work. While the focus of the reading will be on recent American work (Carver, Ben Lerner, Harold Brodkey, Updike, Denis Johnson, and Wells Tower), the reading will also draw extensively on hyphenated-American writers (Lahiri, Diaz), and on the international work that informs it or is informed by it (Babel, Calvino, Munro, Daniyaal Mueennudin). Students will be expected to reflect on their own writing practices and will be asked to produce creative as well as critical work in the course of the semester.

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: One short paper (10 pages) at mid-semester followed by a longer research paper (20 pages) at the end of the term, or one longer paper (30 pages) developed through the course of the semester.

PBL4804F CRIME AND CRIMINOLOGY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr L Sadiki

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours programme.

Co-requisites: None

Course outline:

This course enables students to understand the multifaceted nature of crime, justice and policy in South Africa through a criminological lens. The course's central goal is to examine societal factors linked to criminal activity, encouraging a thorough critique of the criminal justice system, the processes by which criminal behaviour is defined and the societal reactions to crime and deviance. Firstly, the course engages with key criminological discussions by addressing the question of what constitutes crime – challenging conventional perceptions of crime and exploring the arguments surrounding the social construction of crime and deviance. Secondly, the course delves into what we know about crime, including the range of crime data sources, definitions and measurement, including official crime statistics and alternative means of gathering this information. Lastly, the course investigates the structure and substance of crime policy, highlighting the influence of global perspectives on policy-making and examining decolonial approaches to shaping crime policy. Through innovative learning methods the course therefore encourages students to engage with real-world criminological challenges and enables them to critically evaluate the discourse on crime and justice in South Africa.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at and participation in all scheduled course activities, completion of all written assignments by due dates and completion of the examination are required.

Assessment: Coursework: 50%, Examination: 50%

PBL4806H HONOURS RESEARCH PAPER

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr L Sadiki and Dr R Nunlall-Hiralal

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Honours programme

Co-requisites: PBL4810F Research Methods in Criminology

Course outline:

Using an inquiry-driven methodology, this course emphasises critical thinking and the practical application of research skills, preparing students for future endeavours and postgraduate research in criminology and associated fields. Candidates are expected to demonstrate the ability to produce a well-researched, rigorous and thought-provoking piece of work of 10 000 words addressing a prescribed problem in the field of criminology. The course supports students through project design, data collection and analysis and presentation of research findings, and encourages to engage with potential impacts for policy and practice.

DP requirements: Submission of research paper by due date.

Assessment: Coursework: 40%, Research Paper 60%

PBL4807S THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE ECOSYSTEM

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor I Kinnes

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an Honours or Master's programme.

Course outline:

The aim of this course is to offer to students an understanding of the criminal justice ecosystem, covering key aspects such as policing, the court system and corrections. In theme and perspective, it provides an analysis of the various actors involved in the administration of justice in South Africa, extending beyond the state system to understand the role of actors like civil society, the private sector and other actors' significant influence on the justice system landscape. During the course students will also be introduced to traditional African systems of conflict resolution as historically rooted alternative justice mechanisms. The course aims to discuss access to justice and security in the broader context of development, offering a holistic view of the wider criminal justice ecosystem and the actors who take part in the criminal justice process.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at and participation in all scheduled course activities, completion of all written assignments by due dates and completion of the examination are required.

Assessment: Coursework: 50%, Exam: 50%.

PBL4809S CRIME AND SOCIAL CONTROL IN AFRICA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr L Sadiki

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an Honours programme.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide an in-depth examination of contemporary crime issues and their control on the African continent, emphasising the connections between crime, social control, policy and development from different perspectives. The course will examine the implications for regulating social control in developing contexts, and will equip students with a thorough understanding of contemporary crime at regional, national, and local levels within Africa, incorporating an analysis of significant crime debates and traditional and modern African systems of conflict resolution and justice. The course seeks to familiarise students with key concepts and theoretical perspectives relevant to the field, and to examine the contribution of criminology in studying crime and control in Africa. The course will examine specific crime trends prevalent on the continent, and engage with state failure and the challenges it poses to crime control and social regulation. In doing so the course examines the security-development nexus and its implications for crime control and policy development in Africa.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at and participation in all scheduled course activities, completion of all written assignments by due dates and completion of the examination are required.

Assessment: Coursework: 50%, Exam: 50%.

PBL4810F RESEARCH METHODS IN CRIMINOLOGY AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor K Moul

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an Honours programme.

Course outline:

This course will provide an overview of the research enterprise in criminology and criminal justice; differentiate between types of research designs; consider a range of data collection techniques and develop critical skills for evaluating research. The course focuses on issues relevant to the practice of criminological research with the view to building research literacy and instilling a robust grasp of the principles and goals of social research. Through practical engagement with the logistics, politics and ethics of various research techniques the course is designed to develop students' skills as critical consumers of research and enhance their ability to identify practical and methodological challenges and employ strategies to address these.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at and participation in all scheduled course activities and completion of all written assignments.

Assessment: Coursework: 50%, Exam: 50%.

MUZ4022FS SELECTED TOPICS IN MUSICOLOGY A

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor S Bruinders

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into BMus Honours.

Course outline:

This course enables Honours students to undertake intensive, guided reading in an area that has bearing on their research topic or performance and that is not available in other courses. It is subject to the availability of the requisite expertise among lecturers of the SA College of Music and individual lecturers' availability. The topic is to be arrived at by the lecturer and student in consultation. The scope of the topic and the content is to be decided on by the lecturer.

DP requirements: 100% attendance and completion of all coursework

Assessment: Weighting: 60% coursework, 40% exam. Mixed Methods: in-class participation, tests, assignments, research paper, examinations

MUZ4025H MAJOR RECITAL - HONOURS

48 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor F Du Toit

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the BMus honours specialising in Performance.

Course outline:

This course provides mentored postgraduate musicianship development. It aims to reward the exceptional musician with a qualification of excellence and prestige. Students are required to perform a recital (50-60 minute duration) of selected material in order to demonstrate high proficiency musicianship, at postgraduate level, in either vocal or instrumental solo work, or in voice and/or instrument accompaniment, or in ensemble work on the chosen instrument. Emphasis is placed on advanced performance skills, both solo and ensemble. The various streams offered are: Western Classical solo instrumental; Western Classical chamber music and accompaniment; Jazz Recital; African Music Recital. Opera and Western Classical vocal students have a choice of recital, complete role presentation or role in a staged opera (if casting allows), according to the course guidelines published by the Higher Degrees Committee. The recital programme must be submitted to and approved by the SACM's Higher Degrees Committee and the performance must take place at a time and venue decided by that Committee. No item played in an earlier performance may be repeated in the recital.

See internally distributed SACM document for further details.

DP requirements: 100% attendance at practical lessons.

Assessment: Performance to be examined by a panel approved by the Higher Degrees Committee (100%).

MUZ4027H MINOR RECITAL I - HONOURS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor F Du Toit

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the BMus honours specialising in Performance.

Course outline:

The recital programme must be submitted to and approved by the HDC and the performance must take place at a time and venue decided by the HDC. The recital must demonstrate high proficiency in either vocal or instrumental solo work, or in voice and/or instrument accompaniment, or in ensemble work on the chosen instrument. Chamber music and ensemble performances must include entire works (not excerpts), and all works must be for three or more performers, except in the case of keyboard players and guitarists, who may present duos.

Orchestral reductions are not considered as chamber music.

- a. Western Classical solo instrumental: a concerto;
- b. Western Classical chamber music and accompaniment: a solo recital consisting of 20 minutes of actual music;
- c. Western Classical vocal: a recital of ensemble repertoire consisting of 20 minutes of actual music. A candidate may request that a public performance of a solo part in an opera or oratorio be substituted for the ensemble part of this recital.

NOTE: The two minor recitals (MUZ4027H and MUZ4028H) may be presented in a single session with a 5-minute break between them. In this case the student must register for both minor recitals in one year.

DP requirements: Western Classical concerto: viva voce on principles of form and instrumentation.

Assessment: Performance to be examined by a panel approved by the Higher Degrees Committee (100%).

MUZ4045FS ADVANCED MUSIC ANALYSIS D

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: T Herbst

Course entry requirements: A 70% Pass in MUZ4371H Music Technology IV or an equivalent course from another institution. Acceptance for a BMus Honours.

Course outline:

This course is rooted in the undergraduate Music Technology courses offered at the SACM. It extends and amalgamates the vocational and theoretical skills and expands on the content explored in MUZ4371H Music Technology IV. In this course, 20th- and 21st- century global compositional and musicological trends are traced and explored. Against this backdrop, representative electro- acoustic musical compositions are selected for investigation and analysis. This is done in a manner that exposes the student to broader technical and aesthetic currents that accompany the application of technology to musical composition and performance. Throughout this process, careful attention is paid to putting into practice the technical procedures identified and studied in the musical compositions under investigation.

DP requirements: 100% attendance.

Assessment: One written assignment - 100%.

MUZ4050H INTERIM MAJOR RECITAL - PGDIP

48 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor F Du Toit

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for PGDip in Music Performance.

Co-requisites: MUZ4053H Minor Recital I – PGDip. For singers: MUZ3377H Lyric Diction III, unless the course (or an equivalent from another university) has been completed previously.

Course outline:

At the end of the first year of study a candidate shall perform a public recital. The recital need not be representative of all styles but is expected to be wide-ranging. Normally 60 minutes of actual music should be performed. The duration indicated should be accurate for the candidate's own performance. Wind players, Classical vocalists and chamber musicians may transfer up to 15 minutes of music from this recital to one of the minor recitals. Opera and Western Classical vocal students have a choice of recital, complete role presentation or role in a staged opera (if casting allows), according to the course guidelines published by the Higher Degrees Committee. The programme for all performances must be submitted to the Director of SACM for approval two months prior to the recital. No work played in its entirety in an earlier examination at this or any other institution may be repeated in any other examination without permission from the SACM Higher Degrees Committee. For further details please consult the SACM's internally distributed document.

DP requirements: 100% attendance at practical lessons.

Assessment: Performance to be examined by a panel appointed by the higher degrees committee (100%) who may, on the recommendation of the examiners, require a candidate to repeat once, any or all the performing requirements. NOTE: If the examiners' reports for the Interim Major Recital do not indicate proficiency, the candidate may be refused permission to continue with the programme.

MUZ4054FS SELECTED MUSICOLOGICAL TOPICS IN MUSIC TECHNOLOGY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: T Herbst

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for BMus honours or equivalent.

Course outline:

Building on the pivotal role of over a century's dialogue between music and technology in the creation, dissemination and appreciation of sound and music, the course considers components of what has come to be called Music Technology and the reasons no single, homogenous definition of Music Technology has emerged. In considering how distinctive but vibrant industries and research fields, ranging from audio engineering to film-sound practices, have come to be seen as distinct fields or specialisations, and are served by their own distinctive programmes, the course mimics that trend whilst building on practical skills and theoretical knowledge introduced in undergraduate and honours level Music Technology courses. In order to be able proficiently to merge research and vocational skills in sound-related occupations that demand critical thinking along with practical abilities, the course guides and encourages learners to:

- (i) define and critically investigate key concepts and their definitions;
- (ii) study the impact of technology-driven aesthetics on diverse musical composition styles;
- (iii) contribute to the scholarly debates linking musicology and technology, and
- (iv) become proficient at using soft- and hardware tools.

DP requirements: 100% attendance and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Four written assignments 25% each = 100%.

MUZ4055FS TOPICS IN HISTORICAL MUSICOLOGY A

(May not be offered in 2025)

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor R Sandmeier

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

These courses expose students to the methods of Historical Musicology through the in-depth study of a selected topic (such as, for example, a composer's contribution to a particular genre or the music of a stylistic school). The courses may cover areas which include the identification and evaluation of primary and secondary sources; the relationship of the music to the other arts; the function of the music: why, how and for whom the music was written; the role that the music played in the creative life of the composer(s); analysis of works with the aim of tracing the main stylistic features and the contribution of the composer(s) to the evolution of the genre; and performance practice. Students who wish to study additional topics in the field of Historical Musicology may register for Topics in Historical Musicology B and Topics in Historical Musicology C.

DP requirements: 100% attendance and the completion of all assignments.

Assessment: Continuous assessment (research projects, assignments, weekly reports, etc.) counts 100%

MUZ5003W INTERIM MAJOR RECITAL - MMUS

MUZ5061FS ETHNOGRAPHIC MUSIC METHODOLOGY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor S Bruinders

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into a MMus Programme.

Course outline:

This seminar is a fundamental Ethnomusicology research methodology course in which the particularities of musical ethnography are taught. It aims to introduce practical, ethical and theoretical issues relating to ethnomusicological field research. Students will be required to do fieldwork for their research projects, which can be based on their thesis proposals and will be presented in class in the form of a conference paper.

DP requirements: 100% attendance and completion of all assignments.

Assessment: Continuous assessment (class participation, weekly reports, assignments, research essay, etc.) counts 100%.

MUZ5062FS SELECTED TOPICS IN ETHNOMUSICOLOGY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr R Deja

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into an MMus Programme.

Course outline:

This coursework option is intended for students specialising in ethnomusicology and students of other subjects requiring knowledge of the field. It aims to provide the students with a theoretical base in ethnomusicology by investigating the major intellectual developments in ethnomusicological theory and praxis through critical reading of established and nascent scholarly literature.

DP requirements: Participation in every class; completion of all assignments

Assessment: Continuous assessment (class participation, weekly reports, assignments, research essay, etc.) counts 100%.

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor S Bruinders

Course entry requirements: Acceptance to an MMus or equivalent.

Course outline:

This course enables masters students to undertake a theoretical course in an area that has bearing on their research topic or performance and that is not available in other courses. It is subject to the availability of the requisite expertise among lecturers of the SA College of Music and individual lecturer's availability. The topic is to be arrived at by the lecturer and student in consultation. The scope of the topic and the content is to be decided on by the lecturer.

DP requirements: 100% attendance and completion of all coursework.

Assessment: Mixed: assignments, essays, class participation, examinations.

MUZ5064FS ADVANCED ANALYSIS OF ELECTROACOUSTIC MUSIC

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: T Herbst

Course entry requirements: A 70% pass in MUZ4371H Music Technology IV, or an equivalent course from another institution. Acceptance for an MMus or master's programme.

Course outline:

This course is rooted in the undergraduate Music Technology courses offered at the SACM. It extends and amalgamates the vocational and theoretical skills and expands on the content explored in MUZ4371H Music Technology IV. In this course, 20th and 21st – century global compositional and musicological trends are traced and explored. Against this backdrop, representative electro-acoustic musical compositions are selected for investigation and analysis. This is done in a manner that exposes the student to broader technical and aesthetic currents that accompany the application of technology to musical composition and performance. Throughout this process, careful attention is paid to putting into practice the technical procedures identified and studied in the musical compositions under investigation.

MUSIC, SOUTH AFRICAN COLLEGE OF 326

DP requirements: 100% attendance.

Assessment: 4 written assignments 25% each.

PHI4004H PHILOSOPHICAL TEXTS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor E Galgut

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course involves a guided reading of certain key philosophical texts over a period of year. Students are required to select two of the texts offered during the given year. The course is jointly offered by the members of the Philosophy Department and teaching takes the form of tutorials that structure and guide the student's own close reading of the texts. The emphasis is firmly on self-study and first-hand engagement with the set text itself.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Two essays, weighted equally, (each about 3,000 words) on each of two philosophical texts. Essays must demonstrate knowledge of, engagement with and an understanding of the texts considered in the course.

PHI4010S FORMAL LOGIC

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor B Weiss

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

The course will extend undergraduate work in formal logic in three ways. First, it will look at richer systems of logic, including systems which represent the logic of modal notions such as necessity and possibility. Second, it will look at alternative presentations of familiar systems of logic. And third, it will look at proofs of consistency and completeness for propositional and predicate logic. That is, the course presents the meta-theory for these logics. Finally the course sketches Gödel's limitative results for logical systems rich enough to express arithmetic. Throughout it keeps an eye on relevant issues in the philosophy of logic.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Two tests (20% each) and one final examination (60%).

PHI4015FS TOPICS IN THEORETICAL PHILOSOPHY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor R Nefdt

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course will explore a number of concerns lying at the intersection of issues in philosophy of language, epistemology and the philosophy of mind. Topics vary from year to year, and may include some of the following: the nature of concepts, the distinction between sentience and sapience, reasons and the first person, rule-following, the normativity of the mental and the relationship between perspectivity, objectivity and knowledge.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Oral presentations and participation in weekly seminars (10%), and three essays of approximately 3,000 words each (30% each). Essays must demonstrate knowledge of, engagement with and an understanding of the topics considered in the course.

PHI4017F AESTHETICS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor E Galgut

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course will examine various issues in contemporary analytic aesthetics, which may include a subset of the following: expression, formalism, metaphor, the ontological status of art, narrative, the relationship between art and morality, the relationship between art and truth, the beautiful and the sublime, the pathetic fallacy, aesthetic emotions, emotional responses to works of fiction, the imagination, and art and psychoanalysis.

Assessment: Oral presentations and participation in weekly seminars (10%), and three essays of approximately 3,000 words each (30% each). Admittance to the course is at the discretion of the course convener.

PHI4018F PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor J Ritchie

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course will explore some core issues in contemporary philosophy of science. Topics covered will include some of the following: contemporary theories of confirmation; the realism-anti-realism controversy; models, theories and representation in science; naturalised philosophy of science; reductionism, physicalism and the unity of the sciences; and issues in the philosophy of physics including the interpretation of quantum theory.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Class participation (10%) and 3 x 3,000 word essays (30% each).

PHI4019W HONOURS RESEARCH ESSAY/PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor E Galgut

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for Philosophy honours programme.

Course outline:

At honours level, students must submit an independent Research Essay of not more than 10,000 words. This essay may be written on any topic of interest to the student, on condition that the Department has the capacity to provide supervision in that area and that the topic is approved by either the Postgraduate Convener or the Head of Department.

DP requirements: Submissions of essay by due date.

Assessment: 10,000 words on an approved subject.

PHI4021FS TOPICS IN RATIONAL DECISION MAKING

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor G Hull

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

How should we make decisions? This problem confronts groups of people who must find a procedure that allows for dissent while still reaching some fair and definite choice. It also challenges agents who need to consider the motives and possible actions of their competitors. Various theories offer formal and informal accounts of rational choice in a range of contexts. We will consider and evaluate some of these theories, and apply them to cases of social, political, and individual decision-making.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Three essays of approximately 3,000 words each, weighted equally. Essays must demonstrate knowledge of, engagement with and an understanding of the theories considered in the course.

PHI4022FS MORAL PHILOSOPHY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: O Mogomotsi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course will explore a connected set of topics in the area of moral philosophy. In some years the subject matter will be theoretical and will examine one or more ethical theories or general questions in moral philosophy. In other years, the course will have a more applied orientation and will be devoted to a range of practical moral problems in some or other area of applied ethics.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Oral presentations and participation in weekly seminars (10%) three essays of approximately 3,000 words each (30% each). Essays must demonstrate knowledge of and engagement with the topics considered in the course and understanding of how to apply what they have learned to practical moral problems.

PHI4023F HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor T Angier

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course critically examines a cluster of topics from the history of philosophy. Topics will vary from year to year. If the course focuses on the work of one philosopher (e.g. Plato, St. Augustine, Descartes, Spinoza, Kant, Kierkegaard, Heidegger, Sartre), competing interpretations of several key writings by this figure will be studied as well as those writings themselves. The course might alternatively focus on a particular school of thought or tradition rather than just one past philosopher: e.g. Ancient Greek approaches to Teleology; Scholastic Metaphysics; Early Modern theories of Legitimacy and the State; the Idealism of Kant, Fichte, Schelling and Hegel; French Existentialist theories of Freedom; Critical Theory and the development of Western Marxism. In this case, as well as assessing the different arguments and views studied, the course will examine how philosophers from different times and places have (mis)interpreted and reacted to one another's work.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Oral presentations and participation in weekly seminars (10%) three essays of approximately 3,000 words each (30% each).

PHI4024FS PPE TEXTS

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor G Hull

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course involves a guided reading of a key text from the fields (often overlapping) of Politics, Philosophy and Economics. The course is jointly offered by the members of the Philosophy Department and teaching takes the form of tutorials that structure and guide the student's own close reading of the text. The emphasis is firmly on self-study and first-hand engagement with the set text itself.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Two essays, weighted equally, (each about 3,000 words) on the classic text studied.

PHI5001W MASTERS IN PHILOSOPHY: COURSEWORK COMPONENT

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor E Galgut

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into the Philosophy master's programme.

Course outline:

Four areas of intensive study are chosen in consultation with the Postgraduate Convener or the Head of Department. These may be chosen from the postgraduate courses offered by the Philosophy Department in the given year. For PHI5001W the student will be required to write twelve substantial research papers over the course of the year.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.
Assessment: Twelve substantial research papers over the course of the year.

PHI5002W MASTERS IN PHILOSOPHY: MINOR DISSERTATION COMPONENT

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor E Galgut

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into Philosophy master's programme.

Course outline:

A dissertation completed under supervision which shows thorough practical and/or academic knowledge of the approved subject and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical power in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered, may embody such original work of others as may be pertinent, may include the candidate's own published material on the same subject, if the prior permission of the Senate has been obtained. The dissertation must be the candidate's own work and any contributions to and quotations in the dissertation must be cited and referenced.

DP requirements: Submission of dissertation by due date.

Assessment: A dissertation of no more than 25,000 words in length.

PHI5005S FORMAL LOGIC

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor B Weiss

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

The course will extend undergraduate work in formal logic in three ways. First, it will look at richer systems of logic, including systems which represent the logic of modal notions such as necessity and possibility. Second, it will look at alternative presentations of familiar systems of logic. And third, it will look at proofs of consistency and completeness for propositional and predicate logic. That is, the course presents the meta-theory for these logics. Finally the course sketches Gödel's limitative results for logical systems rich enough to express arithmetic. Throughout it keeps an eye on relevant issues in the philosophy of logic.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Two tests (20% each) and one final examination (60%).

PHI5006H PHILOSOPHICAL TEXTS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor E Galgut

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into a master's programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Co-requisites: None

Course outline:

This course involves a guided reading of certain key advanced philosophical texts over a period of year. Students are required to select two of the texts offered during the given year. The course is jointly offered by the members of the Philosophy Department and teaching takes the form of tutorials that structure and guide the student's own close reading of the texts. The emphasis is firmly on self-study and first-hand engagement with the set text itself.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Two essays, weighted equally, (each about 3,000 words) on each of two philosophical texts. Essays must demonstrate specialist knowledge that engages with and critiques the texts considered in the course.

PHI5007F PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor J Ritchie

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course will explore some core issues in contemporary philosophy of science. Topics covered will include some of the following: contemporary theories of confirmation; the realism-anti-realism controversy; models, theories and representation in science; naturalised philosophy of science; reductionism, physicalism and the unity of the sciences; and issues in the philosophy of physics including the interpretation of quantum theory.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Class participation (10%) and 3 x 3,000-word essays (30% each).

PHI5008FS MORAL PHILOSOPHY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: O Mogomotsi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into a master's programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener who may preclude admission of students who have previously completed PHI4022F/S.

Course outline:

This course will explore, at an advanced level, a connected set of topics in the area of moral philosophy. In some years the subject matter will be theoretical and will examine one or more ethical theories or general questions in moral philosophy. In other years, the course will have a more applied orientation and will be devoted to a range of practical moral problems in some or other area of applied ethics.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Oral presentations and participation in weekly seminars (10%) three essays of approximately 3,000 words each (30% each). Essays must demonstrate specialist knowledge that engages with and critiques the topic considered in the course, and ability to evaluate contemporary applications of ethical theories.

PHI5009FS TOPICS IN RATIONAL DECISION MAKING

NOTE: Students who have completed PHI4021FS will not be permitted to register for PHI5009FS.

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor G Hull

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into a master's programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

PHI5010FS TOPICS IN THEORETICAL PHILOSOPHY

NOTE: Students who have completed PHI4015FS will not be permitted to register for PHI5010FS.

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor R Nefdt

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into a master's programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course will explore, at an advanced level, a number of concerns lying at the forefront of the intersection of issues in philosophy of language, epistemology and the philosophy of mind. Topics vary from year to year, and may include some of the following: the nature of concepts, the distinction between sentience and sapience, reasons and the first person, rule-following, the normativity of the mental and the relationship between perspectivity, objectivity and knowledge.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and submission of written work on time.

Assessment: Oral presentations and participation in weekly seminars (10%) three essays of approximately 3,000 words each (30% each). Essays must demonstrate specialist knowledge that engages with and critiques the topics considered in the course.

PHI5017F AESTHETICS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor E Galgut

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme and requisite philosophical background relevant to this course. Admission is at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course will examine various issues in contemporary analytic aesthetics, which may include a subset of the following: expression, formalism, metaphor, the ontological status of art, narrative, the relationship between art and morality, the relationship between art and truth, the beautiful and the sublime, the pathetic fallacy, aesthetic emotions, emotional responses to works of fiction, the imagination, and art and psychoanalysis.

Assessment: Three coursework essays of 2,500-3,500 words, each counting for a third of the marks.

PHI5023FS HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY

POL4007H RESEARCH PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor Z Jolobe

Course entry requirements: Compulsory for all honours students in Political Studies.

Course outline:

POL4007H is a whole year course in which students are expected to submit a research essay of 10,000 – 15, 000 words (30-50 pages) by the 1st of November. The topic and format of the project is to be mutually agreed upon between the student and the designated supervisor. By the end of this course students should be able to use appropriate research methods to formulate and coherently answer a research problematique in the thematic area of Politics.

DP requirements: Participate in departmental seminars and workshops. Meet and submit to the designated supervisor drafts according to a mutually agreed upon schedule.

Assessment: Research Project 100%.

POL4059FS POLITICAL THEORY: AFRICAN POLITICAL THEORY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor T Reddy

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an Honours programme.

Course outline:

This course aims to introduce students to key debates, texts, questions, concepts and traditions in African political theory, including its engagements with Western political theory. Through a survey of ancient and more contemporary texts students will be encouraged to critically analyse points of resonance and tension in the ontologies, epistemological claims and normative commitments of thinkers writing against the canon, and those who define it. For example, students will be introduced to the work of thinkers like Ibn Khaldun, Cabral, Ake, Emecheta, Amadiume, Mudimbe, Biko, Mbembe and that of their intellectual interlocutors.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Coursework (50%) and examination (50%).

POL4060FS COMPARATIVE POLITICS AND GOVERNMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor V Naidoo

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an Honours programme.

Course outline:

This course surveys major topics and theoretical contributions in the field of comparative politics and government. The course examines: the formation and evolution of the modern state, government institutions and their role in the policy process; democracy; authoritarianism; revolution and political stability; theories of transitions; nationalism; voters and parties, constitutional arrangements and their effects, and macro theories of political change. With the explicit goal of exploring how research in comparative politics should be pursued in the future, each session assigns readings from both traditional macrohistorical and methods of comparison, and more recent analytical models.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Coursework (50%) and examination (50%).

POL4061FS GLOBAL POLITICS: INTERNATIONAL AND TRANSNATIONAL RELATIONS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor H Scanlon

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an Honours programme.

Course outline:

This graduate course introduces students to key political debates, theoretical approaches and empirical cases of international and transnational politics to analyse the dynamics of global political processes. It includes interactive elements in which students train their analytical and practical skills in order to gain more in-depth knowledge about key geopolitical problems. The course will also examine the more functional and institutional problems in today's diplomacy (e.g. security, human rights, trade, environment & biodiversity, social diplomacy) as well as the efficacy of strategies used by societies to deal with the legacies of political atrocities and gross human rights violations.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Coursework (50%) and examination (50%).

POL4062FS RESEARCH METHODS IN POLITICS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor Z Jolobe

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an Honours programme.

Course outline:

This course is designed to introduce postgraduate students to the logic of social science inquiry, strategies of research design, and a variety of research methods. The course aims to explore both quantitative and qualitative approaches to social science research in terms of their epistemologies, their research design strategies, and the tools they offer for carrying out social science research.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and submission of all written tasks/assignments.

Assessment: Coursework (100%).

POL5001F COMPARATIVE POLITICS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Z Lategan

Course entry requirements: Admission to a master's programme, and by permission of the course convener.

Course outline:

This seminar surveys the major topics in comparative politics and is intended to familiarise graduate students with the qualitative aspects of the subfield. From feminist political thought to theories of nationalism and social revolution, the course will introduce students to classic works as well as recent contributions that build upon those works, and will consider works of theoretical importance that deal with the politics of the 'Global South'. Drawing from leading theoretical approaches, each week will discuss a subsection of the scholarly literature, focusing on a major question and debate. Key methodological issues in comparative politics are addressed in the context of these substantive and theoretical works.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Seminar participation (10%), seminar presentations (20%); critical essay (25%); final paper (45%).

POL5005H INTERNSHIP COMPONENT 2

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor H Scanlon

Course entry requirements: Admission to the Justice and Transformation master's programme, and by permission of the Convener.

Course outline:

Provision is made for a student to serve an internship with an approved outside organisation, under the supervision of his/her programme convener. The student is required to intern two days a week for thirteen weeks or the equivalent hours. A detailed report of the work engaged in during the internship is required on its completion.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: This course is graded as Pass or Fail. The outcome will be determined by the convener/course lecturer after consultation with the organisation and assessment of written work.

POL5006F PUBLIC MANAGEMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor V Naidoo

Course entry requirements: Admission to a master's programme, and by permission of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course is an analysis of the major issues and trends in Public Administration and Management. It looks at traditional Public Administration approaches to service delivery; the New Public Management (NPM) approach which attempts to incorporate business-type principles into the running of government; the governance approach which takes a broader view to the study of Public Administration; the non-hierarchical network literature and Joined up/Holistic government, which calls for a more centralised core in the delivery of services. An examination is also undertaken of the Public Value and Neo-Weberianism schools which both can be classified as post-NPM approaches.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Coursework 70%; examination 30%.

POL5007FS POLICY IMPLEMENTATION & EVALUATION

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor V Naidoo

Course entry requirements: POL4006F, or by permission of the course convener to eligible master's students. Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

Public policy is being subjected to greater scrutiny around how well it is 'implemented' and 'evaluated'. Implementation and evaluation have become buzzwords to either express the success or failure of policies, or to defend a government's commitment to them. The challenge for students of public policy is to learn and employ a set of analytical tools to systematically assess the efficacy of implementation and evaluation processes, without falling into the rhetorical trap of simply blaming policy failure on 'lack of implementation', or poor monitoring and evaluation. This course will deconstruct the implementation and evaluation components of the policy cycle. This will include a survey of theories and concepts employed to critique implementation and evaluation processes, and their application to policy cases in South Africa and other contexts.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Coursework 70%; examination 30%.

POL5008FS THEORIES OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor Z Jolobe

Course entry requirements: Acceptance to a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course introduces students to some of the key theories in the study of International Relations and to the intellectual history of the field. The course also deepens students' ability to read critically, and to think about real-world problems in an abstract way. The first part of the course offers an overview of the main theories and debates which constitute the field, and asks how they apply to international politics. The second part of the course explores the western-centric nature of IR as a discipline, and investigates the resultant problems in applying IR theory to the developing world, and Africa in particular.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Two essays - 50%; Three response papers (10% each) - 30%; Group presentation - 10%; Participation - 10%

POL5010W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor Z Jolobe

Course entry requirements: Admission to a master's programme.

Course outline:

At master's level, students must submit a supervised dissertation on an approved topic not exceeding 25,000 words. Students are required to present a dissertation proposal for approval prior to the allocation of a supervisor. Residential master's students are required to participate in the Departmental Master's/PhD seminars. (Additional modules of the Research Methods course may be required in conjunction with the dissertation project.)

DP requirements: Completion of minor dissertation by Faculty deadline dates, on an approved topic not exceeding 25,000 words (excluding referencing and bibliography).

Assessment: By dissertation assessed by two Faculty-approved external examiners.

POL5030FS DISCOURSE, TEXTUALITY & IDEOLOGY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr G Maxaulane

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

The course will explore various interpretative methods in the social sciences and human sciences field through the study of the concepts of textuality, ideology, discourse analysis, etc. Firstly, we will examine what has become known as the Saussurian revolution in the fields of linguistics and philosophy. This involves a familiarisation with Saussure's Course in General Linguistics, in particular his notion of differential relations. From then on we will examine the extensions of Saussure in areas such as Derridian deconstructionism, and psychoanalytic theory that concern the status of the signifier, the signified, and the sign. We will explore how these attempt to present the realm of the social as though it were structured like a language, viz those of structuralism (Althusser), poststructuralism (Foucault), post-Marxism (Laclau). In the case of Althusser, this involves in particular, a consideration of concepts of overdetermination, structural – metonymic causality, and ideology. In the case of Laclau, discourse, articulation, antagonism and hegemony. The status of the human subject (vis-a-vis its structural constitution – determination) in Althusser's theory of ideology and Laclau's theory of the discursive construction of subjectivity will be a guiding thread of our inquiries. We then examine the critique of the Althusserian concept of the subject developed by Zizek, then move on to Badiou's 'set theoretical turn' and the theory of the event and of the subject he proposes on this basis.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: One long essay – 50%; Exam – 50%. Assignments for Masters students should be at 4,500 words.

POL5032FS INTERNATIONAL POLITICAL ECONOMY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor Z Jobobe

Course entry requirements: Admission to a master's programme; previous studies in IPE or related subjects and by permission of the course convener.

Course outline:

This course provides a graduate level survey of the fundamental issues in International Political Economy (IPE). The aim of the course is to familiarise students with the theoretical concepts that are central to the study of IPE as it relates to Africa, and to encourage students to practice academic debate on complex political and economic issues. The course takes an interdisciplinary approach to the study of IPE; drawing on literature from several fields such as political science, economics, sociology and history. It utilises both theoretical and policy approaches to examine the interactions of states, markets and society in the era of globalisation. The course is designed to be accessible to all but requires students to spend time reading core literature and following current events (on the continent and beyond) to broaden their knowledge.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Coursework 60% and Exam 40%.

POL5040F COMPARATIVE TRANSITIONAL JUSTICE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor H Scanlon

Course entry requirements: Admission to a master's programme. Relevant background studies in the areas of human rights, conflict and conflict-resolution, social and political theory.

Course outline:

This course will explore the field of transitional justice in a comparative and critical perspective. In recent decades the development of peace-building initiatives to resolve conflict and address human rights violations have been mirrored by the expansion of various models of transitional justice. These encompass a range of judicial and non-judicial approaches adopted by post-conflict and post-authoritarian societies to address human rights abuses of the past. The course is intended to confront some of the central moral and political debates around transitional justice such as the relationships between peace and justice, accountability and reconciliation. The first part of the course examines the notion of 'transitional justice' in relation to various theories of justice including restorative, retributive, reparative and social justice. Part Two will examine the "pillars" of transitional justice: truth seeking, criminal justice, reparations and institutional reform and will consider the relevance of these processes in post-conflict transformation. Part Three will examine some of the cross-cutting concerns of transitional justice, including the role of children and gender issues.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Each student will be required to complete three response papers (30%), one seminar presentation (20%) and a research essay of approx. 6,000 words (50%).

POL5042FS INTERNATIONAL MEDIATION

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor Z Jolobe

Course entry requirements: Admission to a master's programme, and by permission of the course convener.

Course outline:

Mediation is one of the most common methods of dealing with and resolving social and political conflict. Irrespective of the society, conflict, or type of organisation, and location in time, mediation has always been a method of managing conflict and practice of settling disputes through third parties. Since the field of mediation is so extensive, this graduate course is limited to the concept of international mediation (i.e. mediation by international actors) in the context of armed conflict, between representatives of the main conflicting actors, and dealing with conflicting issues or incompatibilities. It examines the theory about, research on, and practice of international mediation, and its efficacy and consequences for the peace-making process. It will deal with questions of strategy in mediation, and how to conceptualise success.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: A minimum of five assignments of 2,500 words each (50%); one course paper of 6,000-8,000 words (50%).

POL5044FS SOUTH AFRICAN POLITICS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Butler

Course entry requirements: Admission to a master's programme, and by permission of the course convener.

Course outline:

This advanced course explores South African politics through a variety of historical, theoretical and comparative lenses. The early weeks of the course draw on historical, sociological, and other materials to investigate the 20th century political history of the country. Students will address conflicts that have unfolded between traditional, liberal, popular and quasi-Marxist conceptions of how a society ought to be governed. The middle sections of the course investigate the causes, significance, and implications of the 'democratic transition' using a diversity of scholarly resources. In the final sections, students will explore some key issues in South Africa's contemporary political life. They will focus on the party system; the nature of the post-apartheid state; the relationships between party, state and business; contests over the meaning of democracy; and the changing character of the ANC. There will be a core of essential readings. Beyond these, however, the course will be centred around student-led, independently researched, seminars and discussions.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Two long essays (45% each) and a student presentation (10%).

POL5045F THIRD WORLD POLITICS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor L ParemoerCourse entry requirements: Admission to a master's programme, and by permission of the course convener.Course outline:

This course critically evaluates prominent discourses about development, modernity, independence and solidarity in the Third World. We will address the following questions: How and why did the Enlightenment and the processes of colonialism and imperialism give rise to the idea of the Third World? What, if anything, was distinctive about the characteristics and ambitions of the Third World governments in comparison to other blocs in the international community of sovereign nation-states? Which power relations associated with the "West", "First World" or "Second World" did Third World elites critique, and which power relations did they try to replicate in their own states after attaining independence? What are the prospects for producing scholarship on the Third World that is critical, reliable, embedded in the experiences of Third World peoples, original and transformative?

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.Assessment: Three response papers (15% each); Term paper (55%).

POL5047FS ADVANCED FOREIGN POLICY ANALYSIS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor Z JobeleCourse entry requirements: Admission to a master's programme or by permission of the course convener.Course outline:

This course introduces students to the field of foreign policy analysis and seeks to answer several key questions: What are the foreign policy goals of states? What are the different factors and actors that influence foreign policy making? What are the tools available to states? The course will cover different approaches to foreign policy analysis as well as case studies, with a focus on the emerging powers.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.Assessment: Presentations and a research project (60%); examination (40%).

POL5048FS GLOBAL POLITICAL THOUGHT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor T ReddyCourse entry requirements: Admission to a master's programme, and by permission of the course convener.Course outline:

The emergence of capitalism and the ideas associated with the 'Enlightenment' forced all societies to confront, adapt, and think through the values, practices and key institutions of capitalist-modernity. This course in Political Theory locates the contest of ideas in the historical context of Western global domination and resistance to it, tracing the sources of modern political ideas, and debates surrounding their relevance and influence in diverse settings.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.Assessment: Students present and lead discussion on weekly readings (10%); write four response paper assignments to key themes identified in the weekly readings (40%), submit a research paper (20%), and take a 2 hour in class test (30%).

POL5053FS COMPARATIVE LOCAL GOVERNMENT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr T ZondiCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.Course outline:

This course provides an advanced exposure to the historical literature, global comparative practices, and selected themes in the comparative study of local government. Local government around the world represents the front-face of the state; the level of government which is closest to responding to the everyday needs and challenges of citizens. It is also the level of government which bears the brunt of increasing environmental and demographic pressures to sustain the livelihoods of millions of people. This is particularly acute in developing countries, which exhibit massive spatial inequalities between urban and rural communities and are forced to innovate their modalities of public service delivery. In the first part of the course, we will study the historical evolution of literature on local government globally, including major theoretical and conceptual questions about the role, size and function of local governments. We will also look at selected themes in the transformation of South Africa's local government system following the end of apartheid, and the functioning of local governments across Sub Saharan Africa. In the second part of the course, we will discuss contemporary policy challenges facing local governments around the world, and examine the nature of the threats these issues pose along with possible solutions. These include climate resilience, urban densification and housing, public transport, public participation and accountability, and water and sanitation.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Assignment (1) 20%; Assignment (2) 30%; Exam 30%; Participation 20%.

POL5056F GENDER, PEACE & JUSTICE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor H Scanlon

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

The development of peace-building initiatives in Africa has been mirrored by the expansion of various models of transitional justice. These encompass a range of judicial and non-judicial approaches adopted by post-conflict societies to address human rights abuses of the past such as war crimes tribunals and truth and reconciliation commissions. Despite increased attention by the international human rights community to the gender dimension of violations perpetrated during conflict, gendered experiences of conflict have generally received inadequate attention in transitional justice processes. Neglecting gendered patterns of abuse ultimately affects both women and men in their access to justice. This course will explore the evolution of transitional justice mechanisms in Africa and will analyse their successes and failure in addressing gender-based human rights violations.

DP requirements: Submission of all written coursework and satisfactory attendance of seminars.

Assessment: Two essays - 50%; Three response papers (10% each) - 30%; Group presentation - 10%; Reflective journal and participation - 10%.

POL5058FS TRANSNATIONAL FEMINISMS

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr G M Maluleke

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course examines transnational feminist scholarship engaged in challenging the legacies of Eurocentric feminist theory to interrogate old and newer forms of racism, capitalism/nationalist projects and, postcolonial/decolonial studies. Examining theoretical texts, films/videos, literature and social media, we will focus on cross-cultural knowledge production, labour organising, the relationship between sexuality and citizenship, global care chains and the commodification of women's bodies to develop a deeper analysis of the politics of knowledge and representation that emerge out of engaging in transnational feminisms.

DP requirements: Completion of all work as stipulated by the course convener.

Assessment: Students are expected to complete three short assignments (50%) and a research essay of 5,000 words (50%).

Professional Registration

To become a Psychologist in one of the recognised areas of Psychology, namely Clinical, Counselling, Educational, Organisational, Neuropsychology, or Research Psychology, a student must complete a recognised Master's degree in Psychology and an appropriate internship at a recognised training institution. The duration of an internship is 12 months. Persons registered from 1 January 2002 have to write an examination set by the Professional Board for Psychology. In addition, to register with the Professional Board for Psychology as a Clinical Psychologist, a one-year period of community service must be completed.

The Department of Psychology at the University of Cape Town provides training leading towards registration in Clinical Psychology or in Neuropsychology. The School of Management Studies in the Faculty of Commerce provides training leading towards registration in the field of Organisational Psychology.

Course Outlines:

Please note that where the same course is offered for both the Honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and Masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

The Faculty reserves the right to cancel course/s if there is insufficient student interest. Confirmation of whether the course/s will be offered will be published on Vula/Amathuba, Departmental and Postgraduate Faculty noticeboards by the first Friday of the semester in which the course begins.

PSY4025W HONOURS IN PSYCHOLOGY: COURSEWORK

96 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr M Malinga

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the honours programme: minimum requirement is 70% average in third year psychology courses.

Course outline:

This suite of courses aims to provide students with an opportunity to study aspects of the discipline in greater depth. Completion of six semester courses is required:

1. Compulsory semester courses:

Research Methods in Psychology
Statistics for Psychological Research
Philosophical and Theoretical Issues in Psychology

2. Electives: three of the following semester courses must be chosen:

Social Psychology of Inequality
Counselling Practice and Theory
Neuropsychology
Developmental Psychology
Psychology and Law
Critical Psychology of Gender
Affective Neuroscience
Prevention Science
Neuropsychological Rehabilitation
Political Psychology

Courses may be added to or subtracted from this list, depending on the availability of staff. All course requirements must be satisfied by October annually.

DP requirements: Completion of all written work by due dates specified; attendance at all seminars.

Assessment: 100% coursework; students will be assessed primarily via essay-style written work for each module.

PSY4026W HONOURS IN PSYCHOLOGY: RESEARCH PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr M Malinga

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the honours programme: minimum requirement is 70% average in third year psychology courses.

Course outline:

The Honours research project aims to provide students with practical competence in research. The student will be required to select an area for systematic empirical study, using qualitative or quantitative research methods. Students learn how to plan and conduct an empirical project, involving the collection and analysis of empirical data. In doing so students are familiarised with statistical or qualitative analyses used in psychological research. The research project is an independent piece of research conducted under the supervision of an academic staff member in the Department. The maximum length of the report is 8 000 words for projects using quantitative methodology and 10 000 words for projects using qualitative or mixed methods methodology. Requirements for the Research Project must be satisfied by October annually.

DP requirements: Presentation of research project at the annual Honours Colloquium.

Assessment: A research report (the requirements of which are specified to students) counts approximately 25% towards the overall Honours mark.

PSY5002W COURSEWORK - CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY

NOTE: Students who fail PSY5002W Coursework – Clinical Psychology will have failed the Masters degree. A candidate who is deemed unsuited to a clinical career may be advised accordingly by the Head of Department. Such a candidate, if withdrawing from the course after the first semester of clinical practice and before the first Friday of the second semester, will not be liable for second semester course fees.

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr A Maw

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for master's programme and satisfactory performance in PSY5003W.

Course outline:

The first year of study involves undertaking and completing a research project, attendance of case conference presentations, Professional Development and Prevention Science seminar series as well as participating in community projects. The second year programme entails a whole year of study in Clinical Psychology (8.30 to 18.00), Monday to Friday, with occasional evening and weekend workshops based at the Child Guidance Clinic. The course covers practical and academic aspects of psychological assessment, psychodiagnostics, trauma interventions, psychotherapy (including psychodynamic, family, group and cognitive behavioural approaches) with children, families and adult clients, and ethics, in weekly 1-and-a-half to 2-hour seminar classes. There is weekly off-site clinical individual and group supervision, as well as fieldwork, relating to case management, psychological assessment and psychotherapy. The course is orientated throughout to the particular issues of clinical work in South Africa. Students are strongly advised to be in personal psychotherapy from the beginning of the second year of the two-year programme, in order to enhance and support the development of clinical skills.

DP requirements: June and November exams – all psychometric reports must be completed and signed off within five weeks from final assessment administration session.

Assessment: The candidate will be evaluated through: a) an assessment of clinical skills development (30% of final mark); b) written assignments (20%) and c) written and oral clinical examinations (50%).

PSY5003W MINOR DISSERTATION - CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr A Maw

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for master's programme.

Course outline:

The course aims to develop the candidate's ability to competently conduct a research study in the area of clinical psychology and to write this up in the form of a mini-dissertation. The following guidelines apply:

- 1) The minor dissertation, based on research completed during the first year of study, must be written on a clinical or clinically-related topic.
- 2) The length of the dissertation should be approximately 25,000 words, including references. Formal application may be made by the supervisor to the Head of Department of Psychology to exceed this maximum.
- 3) As a general guideline, the minor dissertation should address a question or problem, requiring research, and should employ a methodology appropriate to the problem. This may include, for example, single case studies, empirical investigations requiring statistical treatment of results, or conceptual or theoretical investigations relevant to applied clinical psychology.

Assessment: The candidate will be assessed by way of a dissertation that must be passed by two examiners.

PSY5004X INTERNSHIP - CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY

0 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr M Spedding

Course entry requirements: PSY5002W; PSY5003W.

Course outline:

The clinical internship is completed at various internship sites over the period of a year. The degree will only be awarded once the HPCSA-approved clinical internship has been satisfactorily completed.

In order to register with the Professional Board for Psychology after the award of the degree, HPCSA National Board Exams followed by one year of community service must be completed.

Assessment: The nature of the assessment is determined by each internship site and is on a pass/fail basis. Internships may also be extended at the discretion of the internship site.

PSY5015W MINOR DISSERTATION - NEUROPSYCHOLOGY

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor S Malcolm-Smith

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into MA Neuropsychology.

Course outline:

Students specialising in the MA in Neuropsychology must submit a supervised dissertation on a piece of appropriate empirical research in neuropsychology, not exceeding 25,000 words. Students are required to present a dissertation proposal for approval by a departmental dissertation committee and by its ethics committee prior to commencing with the research.

DP requirements: To be agreed between individual students and supervisors.

Assessment: 25,000-word dissertation.

PSY5019W MINOR DISSERTATION - PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH

144 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor C Tredoux

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into the MA specialising in Psychological Research. Successful completion of PSY5026W Research Design.

Course outline:

For the MA specialising in Psychological Research, students must submit a supervised dissertation on an approved topic not exceeding 40,000 words. Students are required to present a dissertation proposal for approval by a departmental dissertation committee prior to commencing with the research. Students are required to participate in the Department's seminars.

DP requirements: Presentation of a research seminar prior to the submission of the dissertation for examination.

Assessment: 40,000-word dissertation.

PSY5022F INTRODUCTION TO NEUROPSYCHOLOGY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor S Malcolm-Smith

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into MA in Neuropsychology.

Course outline:

The aim of this first block is to lay the preliminary foundations for competency in neuropsychological assessment. It does so by grounding students in neuropsychological nosology and diagnosis, the theoretical background to modern conceptualisations and classifications of the major categories of neuropsychological disorders, the principal clinical and psychometric features of those disorders and the methodological, technical, and theoretical bases of neuropsychological assessment in both adult and paediatric patients.

Adult neuropsychology topics include: introduction to psychometric and hypothetico-deductive assessment techniques; a theoretical model of brain behaviour relationships; disorders of language; disorders of visual recognition and other agnosias; disorders of skilled movement; disorders of memory; disorders of spatial cognition; disorders of executive control; non-localising disorders.

Paediatric neuropsychology topics include: introduction to paediatric neuropsychology as a subspecialty; syndromes in paediatric neuropsychology with a particular focus on pathologies that are common in Africa: epilepsies in childhood; meningitis and encephalitis; cerebral malaria; neurocysticercosis; Foetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder; psychometrics – statistical underpinnings and standardised assessment; principles of clinical assessment; intelligence testing in SA.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Coursework 30%; Capstone assessment 70%.

PSY5023S NEUROPSYCHOLOGY DISORDERS

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor S Malcolm-SmithCourse entry requirements: Acceptance into the MA in Neuropsychology.Course outline:

The aim of this second block is to continue to provide detailed knowledge of the theoretical background to modern conceptualisations and classifications of the major categories of neuropsychological disorders and the principal clinical and psychometric features of those disorders. Students will also be introduced to the assessment tools and techniques that are used to identify, differentiate, interpret and measure these disorders. Special care is taken to ensure that the manner in which these disorders present in different age groups (child, adult, geriatric), and with different neuropathologies (in both medical and surgical conditions), is adequately covered. In addition, students will be introduced to the fundamentals of some neighbouring (mainly medical) disciplines, knowledge of which is pre-requisite for competency in neuropsychological assessment.

Adult Neuropsychology topics include: Traumatic brain injury; The epilepsies; The dementias; Neuropsychiatry; Neuropsychological assessment: test administration and interpretation; Observation of clinical assessment.

Paediatric Neuropsychology topics include: Brain Development; Neuropsychological Rehabilitation; HIV infection and exposure pTBI; Autism Spectrum Disorder. Students are taught assessment of children's language, learning and memory, attention, executive function and assessment of literacy and numeracy; assessments of preschoolers.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.Assessment: Coursework 30%; Capstone assessment 70%.

PSY5025W CLINICAL PRACTICALS

NOTE: Students who fail the final practical examination will have a fail result for PSY5025W and will have failed the master's degree. A candidate who is deemed unsuited to a clinical career for reasons of a personal nature may be advised accordingly by the Head of Department. Such a candidate, if withdrawing from the course after the first semester of clinical practice and before the first Friday of the second semester, will not be liable for second semester course fees.

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor S Malcolm-SmithCourse entry requirements: Acceptance into MA in Neuropsychology. Successful completion of PSY5022F, PSY5023S and PSY5028W.Course outline:

This course provides clinical knowledge and training of fundamental importance. The seminars are conducted at the bedside (and in other assessment settings), with constant didactic reference to the theoretical knowledge acquired during the first semester.

The sessions are divided into two sections. The aim of the first section is to provide students with direct casework with patients suffering from the disorders and pathologies that are taught in the academic and clinical seminars, and of the neuropsychological assessment process, including report-writing, feedback to patients, and liaison with referring professionals. The patients are assessed by one of the lecturers, who explain their clinical reasoning while they read the referral letter and clinical records, plan and conduct the assessment, reach their conclusions, counsel the patient, and write their report. The aim of the second section is to provide students with an opportunity to take the first steps in conducting neuropsychological assessments, under supervision, to pave the way for independent practice. This training component includes fieldwork relevant to ongoing case management. Special care is to be taken to ensure that students see patients children, adult and geriatric patients, with a wide range of pathologies (functional, medical and surgical), in both acute and chronic settings (including out-patient and rehabilitation).

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars.Assessment: Adult continuous evaluation 15%; Paediatric continuous evaluation 15%; Neurorehabilitation 5%; Final practical examination 65%.

PSY5026W RESEARCH DESIGN

(Non-credit bearing)

0 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor C Tredoux

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into MA specialising in Psychological Research.

Course outline:

The course is designed to provide supervision for candidates registered for the master's degree mentioned above. Its goal is to assist students to design their research dissertations, prepare research proposals and to obtain ethical clearance for the research.

DP requirements: Submission of work-in-progress; oral presentation of final paper.

Assessment: Approval of an appropriate research proposal which must satisfy the Department by explicitly addressing methodological and ethical concerns that might arise in the process of undertaking the research. Note: While this is not a credit-bearing course, it is a pre-requisite for PSY5019W.

PSY5028W CLINICAL NEUROANATOMY, NEUROPATHOLOGY AND NEUROIMAGING

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor S Malcolm-Smith

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into the MA in Neuropsychology or MA specialising in Psychological Research.

Course outline:

This year course spans three interrelated subjects: clinical neuroanatomy, neuropathology and neuroimaging. This course is designed as an intercalated series of seminars where each lecture builds on the material covered in prior seminars. The first semester is dedicated to a detailed and systematic study of the normal structural organisation of the human brain. The second semester is devoted to the pathologic basis of disease in the central nervous system and clinical neuroimaging as diagnostic technique for interrogating normal and pathological anatomy.

The course components involve weekly 2-hour long seminars where the course content will be covered with an emphasis on the most complex and salient aspects of the material. The seminars are didactic; the course material is presented to the students who are invited to discuss and interact with the lecturer in dialogue. A high degree of self-study is required, and all students are expected to prepare the relevant sections ahead of each lecture. Assessment is continuous throughout the year and will take the form of class tests and/or assignments.

The following areas are covered:

1. Introduction to clinical neuroanatomy;
2. Clinical neuroembryology;
3. Cerebrovasculature;
4. Brainstem surface anatomy and cranial nerves;
5. Brainstem internal anatomy;
6. The cerebellum;
7. The basal ganglia;
8. The hypothalamus;
9. The limbic system;
10. Introduction to clinical neuropathology;
11. Introduction to clinical neuroimaging;
12. Neurotrauma;
13. Cerebrovascular disease;
14. Infections of the central nervous system;
15. Demyelinating, toxic and acquired metabolic diseases;
16. Neurodegenerative diseases;
17. Neoplasia.

DP requirements: Brain dissection after Block: A is compulsory. Full class attendance is compulsory.

Assessment: Continuous assessment (class participation, weekly reports, assignments, research essay, etc.) counts 100%.

PSY5029F ETHICS FOR NEUROPSYCHOLOGY PRACTITIONERS

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor S Malcolm-Smith

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MA in Neuropsychology; to progress to PSY5029F, students must pass PSY5022F, PSY5023S and PSY5028W.

Course outline:

This course focuses on the principles and regulations central to ethical clinical practice in neuropsychology, covering the core ethical principles based on human rights and other legislative frameworks, and within the current HPCSA rules and regulations pertaining to ethical practice. Topics covered include: introduction to ethical case studies; introduction to South African law and HPCSA regulations /scope of practice of neuropsychologists; issues of disability and curatorship; business practices and payment; ethical principles: competence, confidentiality and informed consent; complex or conflicting dual relationships (including sexual and boundary issues)/termination of therapy; ethics, health and human rights; conduct of colleagues/treatment records; ethical dilemmas and ethical decision making when working with children; familiarity with Child Act 2005 and neuropsychologists' responsibilities in terms of this act.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars and completion of all written work.

Assessment: Assessment will comprise 50% coursework and 50% capstone assessment at the end of the semester.

PSY5031H PSYCHOLOGY RESEARCH COURSEWORK I

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor C Tredoux

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into the MA specialising in Psychological Research.

Course outline:

Students choose ONE of the following modules: Multivariate Statistical Methods and their use in psychological research, emphasising practical applications; OR Critical Qualitative Psychologies: Theoretical, practical, logistical, ethical, and methodological implications of conducting psychological research in the global south. OR Students choose one of the following modules: Social Psychology of Inequality; Counselling Practice and Theory; Neuropsychology; Developmental Psychology; Psychology and Law; Critical Psychology of Gender; Affective Neuroscience; Prevention Science; Neuropsychological Rehabilitation; Aging and the Human Brain; Political Psychology. Courses may be added to or subtracted from this list, depending on the availability of staff. Should students have an Honours degree from UCT, they may not repeat a course they took at Honours level. Students at Masters level will be expected to read more and to complete assignments of greater complexity than is required of Honours students. Assessment may be via written or oral assignments, or tests.

DP requirements: The student has to complete all coursework, including oral presentations where specified by individual course outlines.

Assessment: Students will be assessed primarily via essay-style written work (100%).

PSY5032H PSYCHOLOGY RESEARCH COURSEWORK 2

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor C Tredoux

Course entry requirements: Acceptance into the MA specialising in Psychological Research.

Course outline:

Students choose ONE of the following modules: Multivariate Statistical Methods and their use in psychological research, emphasising practical applications; OR Critical Qualitative Psychologies: Theoretical, practical, logistical, ethical, and methodological implications of conducting psychological research in the global south. PSY5033X INTERNSHIP - NEUROPSYCHOLOGY

0 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor S Malcolm-Smith

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the MA in Neuropsychology; to progress to PSY5033X, students must pass PSY5025W and PSY5029F.

Course outline:

The internship aims to provide students with the opportunity to practice and develop a range of clinical skills associated with the scope of practice for Neuropsychologists, as determined by the Health Professions Council of South Africa, under supervision. Broadly, the aim is to provide students with the necessary clinical competencies for ethical practice in the field. Students should be able to competently perform a range of clinical duties pertaining to both adult and paediatric neuropsychology, including but not limited to:

- Conducting an intake history of new patients;
- Conduct reliable assessments and derive appropriate conclusions;
- Make appropriate referrals to other health professionals when indicated;
- Develop appropriate rehabilitation programs;
- Write reports, case notes, referral letters;
- Communicate assessment findings to other professionals as well as to patients and families;
- Work collaboratively within a multidisciplinary team.

DP requirements: Attendance at internship sites with full engagement in training.

Assessment: Ongoing individual performance is monitored at the sites. Result is Pass/Fail. Internships may be extended at the discretion of the internship site.

Professional registration and conduct

Practice in the field of Social Work is regulated by the South African Council for Social Service Professions, with which all Social Workers must register. The Council lays down the minimum standards of both academic and practical training requisite for professional registration, and the Department of Social Work and Social Development provides training according to these standards. The University offered a 3-year BSocSc degree in Social Work for students who first registered before 2007. These students were required to complete an appropriate Honours degree offered by the Department of Social Work and Social Development in order to obtain professional registration with the South African Council for Social Service Professions. From 2007, students registered for a 4-year Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) degree in order to obtain professional registration with the South African Council for Social Service Professions.

Students registered for the professional degrees in social work are required by statute to register from their second year of study with the South African Council for Social Service Professions as a student social worker. As such they are bound by the Council's professional code of conduct. Students who do not adhere to this code of conduct may be required to terminate their registration in the Faculty. Should a student in the course of his/her studies or who qualifies for the award of the degree that allows for professional registration with the said Council be deemed unfit to practise as a social worker following a professional assessment, the Dean will report the outcome of such professional assessment to the Council and inform the student accordingly.

Course Outlines:

Please note that where the same course is offered for both the honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

The Faculty reserves the right to cancel course/s if there is insufficient student interest. Confirmation of whether the course/s will be offered will be published on Vula/Amathuba, Departmental and Postgraduate Faculty noticeboards by the first Friday of the semester in which the course begins.

SWK4000F SOCIAL RESEARCH

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr K Kubeka

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme in the Department of Social Work and Social Development.

Course outline:

This course is designed to introduce students to research methodologies grounded in the knowledge, skills and values required for research within a Southern African developmental context. The course will familiarise students with social research as a method of systematic enquiry, emphasising the inter-related nature of research and practice within the social service professions. The generic basis of research will be emphasised, whilst field and specialism specific issues will be accommodated.

The course will include the following:

- An introduction to epistemological and methodological perspectives in research;
- The research process;
- Research design;
- Gathering data - survey research, qualitative research methods;
- Analysing data - quantitative and qualitative;
- Evaluative research;
- Participatory research; and
- Writing a research proposal.

DP requirements: Attendance of at least 80% of lectures/seminars and submission of all written work by the due date.

Assessment: One group presentation (10%), quantitative test and reflection paper (15%); literature review (25%); one written examination (50%).

SWK4001S RESEARCH ESSAY/PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr K Kubeka

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme in the Department of Social Work and Social Development.

Course outline:

Honours students are required to engage collaboratively in designing and executing research on a limited scale in a specialist field. Specialist convenors facilitate the discussion of strategically focused research areas that are aligned with various specialist fields which may include Probation & Correctional Services; Social Development, Social Policy & Management and Clinical Substance Abuse. This approach allows for the integration of specific coursework - linked theoretical models which could inform the conceptual underpinning of the actual research problem. Quantitative, qualitative or mixed methodologies may be utilised depending on the scope and purpose of the study.

The practice research project requires students to write a research report of no more than 10,000 words, typed in double spacing.

DP requirements: Submission of written work by due dates and attendance of workshops.

Assessment: Final research report counts for 100%.

SWK4013F SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT: THEORIES AND APPLIED APPROACHES

SWK5000F COMPARATIVE SOCIAL POLICY IN AFRICA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor S Abdullah

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme in the Department of Social Work and Social Development. The course is open to master's students in cognate fields.

Course outline:

This course is designed to provide students with an understanding of the contemporary debates and issues in the field of social policy, with special reference to the South African context. It highlights theoretical as well as technical concerns in the process of public policy analysis and formulation. The course encourages students to understand policy within the broad arena of governance and emerging democratic practice in South Africa. The impacts of globalisation on policy processes and outcomes are also analysed.

Given the changes in the geo-political landscape at a global, regional and national level, the course challenges students to understand the linkages between the international and national factors that contribute to social policy developments. It also attempts to focus attention on the complex nature of policy processes, content and outcomes within the political economy of change. The relationships between the public, private and civil society sectors and issues of participation and power are examined.

DP requirements: Attendance of at least 80% of lectures/seminars and submission of all written assignments by the due date. Field visit to Parliament.

Assessment: Individual assignment 25%; group assignment 25%; one written examination 50%.

Course outline:

The outcome of this course is a dissertation, completed under supervision, which shows thorough knowledge of the approved topic and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical thinking in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered. The dissertation should demonstrate a good understanding and appropriate use of theories and theoretical approaches taught at both honours and master's levels in the stream concerned.

DP requirements: As agreed in the Memorandum of Understanding.

Assessment: A dissertation of no more than 25,000 words in length.

SWK5003F FORENSIC PRACTICE IN SOCIAL WORK

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor L Holtzhausen

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme in the Department of Social Work and Social Development.

Course outline:

This course aims to equip professionals with a broad-based understanding of basic legal and criminological principles of forensic social work in the South African Criminal Justice System. The section then builds on this knowledge by examining key areas involving the interaction between mental health and the law, and examining the role of the 'expert witness' in court. The aim of this course is to introduce practitioners to the scientific investigation and assessment of an individual or individuals involved in a criminal case and the presentation of these assessments to courts of law or to legal authorities in order to assist the court to understand the psychosocial functioning of a specific victim or witness. Secondly, it equips practitioners to provide expert testimony in courts of law, in the form of professional opinions based on evidence aimed at enlightening the court with regard to factors such as the psycho- social factors that influence human behaviour and that could lead to social problems. Lastly, competencies in developing and evaluating evidence-based practice models and programmes for offenders, victims and community safety will be developed. Upon completion of the course students will be able to:

- Describe the criminal justice system, its purpose, and the population it serves.
- Explore the ethical dilemmas inherent in forensic social work. For example, ethical obligation to advocate for a clients' self-determination contrasted with the needs of the community for safety, order and justice.
- Develop competencies in evidence-based practice models and critically evaluate the effectiveness of existing programs for offenders, victims of crime, and families.
- Describe the development of the criminal personality and its relationship to the justice system.
- Understand how biological and environmental risk and protective factors lead to antisocial trajectories (micro, mezzo and macro).
- Utilise risk assessment instruments with criminal offenders and trauma assessment with victims of crime including the appropriate use of and limitations of psychometric and risk assessment tools.
- Utilise standardised Forensic Interview Protocols during forensic investigations and interviews.
- Apply the Code of Ethics to practice in the criminal justice system.
- Develop competencies and skills in working within the courts and judicial system including testifying in court and in collaboration with other professionals.

DP requirements: Attendance of at least 80% of lectures/seminars and submission of all written assignments by the due date.

Assessment: Two assignments of 25% each; one written examination 50%.

SWK5010H CRIMINAL JUSTICE SOCIAL WORK INTERNSHIP

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: Acceptance on the master's programme in Criminal Justice Social Work.

Course outline:

This supervised internship of 12 weeks is designed to integrate advanced Criminal Justice Social Work knowledge and skills in a practice setting relevant to the field of Criminal Justice. It offers students an opportunity to acquire knowledge of the structure, functions and management of agencies and institutions delivering services in probation, forensic and correctional practice environments. The supervised practice for the course is a maximum of 24 hours per week, and the weekly timetable is negotiable between the student and agency so that maximum use is made of learning opportunities.

As such the internship is viewed as a capstone experience where all previous learning is brought together as a unified whole.

DP requirements: Completion of internship and submission of written work.

Assessment: Practice 40%; organisational report 10%; comprehensive report 30%; presentation 20%.

SWK5011H CLINICAL SOCIAL WORK INTERNSHIP

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: R Addinall

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for the master's programme in Clinical Social Work.

Course outline:

A supervised clinical internship of 16 weeks (400 hours), which is designed to integrate and apply the psychodynamic and psychiatric knowledge and skills with depth psychotherapeutic practice. It offers students an opportunity to acquire and master knowledge of psychiatric assessment, differential diagnosis and psychodynamic formulation, and to apply psychotherapy with individuals, couples, families and groups in a milieu clinical setting. In the psychotherapy with individual's component, students intervene directly with clients/patients which includes a psychiatric clerking assessment with a mental status examination, a formal formulation of the case, and differential diagnosis, leading to psychotherapy planning and intervention. Students should demonstrate their ability to engage clients from intake through therapeutic intervention to termination. In the group psychotherapy component, students run one supervised therapeutic group. The group may take the form of a closed group of 10 sessions or the clinical social work intern may act as a co-facilitator in the group therapy component of a psychiatric milieu programme.

DP requirements: Completion of the internship hours, submission of clinical reports and successfully passing an unseen exam and formal group psychotherapy presentation.

Assessment: Psychotherapy with Individuals/Couples/Families 40%; Group Psychotherapy 45%; clinical unseen examination and oral presentation 15%.

SWK5012H SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT INTERNSHIP

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr S Hoosain

Course entry requirements: Acceptance on the master's programme in Social Development.

Course outline:

It will consist of a 12-week programme within an approved organisation. The programme will be scheduled in accordance with the tasks required and the parameters of the organisation. During this period, the student will be required to observe, record and analyse the links between poverty eradication and social development policy and programmes practised by the organisation. Students will have to critically analyse how the organisation attempts to address poverty and how development needs link to a national development planning framework. The internship should contribute to an understanding of how social development professionals can work in non-governmental and government agencies to promote people centred development. Students will also have to show evidence of their understanding of development theory and development planning processes influencing transformation in South Africa.

In addition, students will be required to describe and analyse a particular aspect of policy in depth and to make recommendations regarding programmes and projects in that field.

DP requirements: Completion of internship and submission of written work.

Assessment: Process reports, presentation and final report – 100%.

SWK5013H SOCIAL POLICY AND MANAGEMENT INTERNSHIP

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr E Campbell

Course entry requirements: Acceptance on the master's programme in Social Policy and Management.

Please note that where the same course is offered for both the honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

The Faculty reserves the right to cancel course/s if there is insufficient student interest. Confirmation of whether the course/s will be offered will be published on Vula/Amathuba, Departmental and Postgraduate Faculty noticeboards by the first Friday of the semester in which the course begins.

SOC4000H RESEARCH ESSAY / PROJECT

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: N Mabandla

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

An appropriate research paper, on a topic chosen in negotiation with the supervisor, of no more than 15,000 words in length must be submitted by no later than 30 November. Where appropriate, the research project may be based on empirical research arising from an internship in a relevant field.

DP requirements: Regularly meet with and submit drafts to a supervisor according to a mutually accepted schedule; participate in departmental Research Essay/Project workshops.

Assessment: Research paper: 100%.

SOC4003S WORLDS OF WORK

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr B Tame

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course explores the global reality of deteriorating employment opportunities in relation to key debates on occupational citizenship, labour regulation and precarious livelihoods. These debates are situated in the context of addressing the decent work deficit and understanding its impact on households. By focusing on a few key themes we will pay special attention to the various claims, tensions, and contradictions that emerge in different contexts and among those seeking livelihood opportunities.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: Seminar presentation/s and submissions (20%); response paper (30%); long essay (50%).

SOC4004S POLITICAL SOCIOLOGY

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor R Chaturvedi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course revolves around the relationship between state and society. It proceeds from the understanding that state and society are not two radically separate realms but fields of action and meaning that continually make and unmake one another. Thus on the one hand this course will examine the nature of ideas, and the network of institutions and practices that make up the modern nation state especially in postcolonial Africa; on the other hand it will study the formation of socially embedded agents of power who have not only lived out their own aspirations of self-determination, democracy and justice but also revolted against nationalist and neo-liberal concordances. Popular protests in Africa and other parts in the global south will be our special focus of attention here. The ways in which state and society have mutually constituted one another will be a key concern. In order to understand that, the course will draw on classical and contemporary theories as well as sociologically grounded ethnographies of political life particularly in the global south.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: Class participation, presentation and short report (35%); long essay of up to 7,000 words (65%).

SOC4013F SOCIAL RESEARCH METHODS: QUANTITATIVE

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr T Meyer

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The SOC4013F course introduces the primary theoretical and real world considerations in survey research and quantitative methods. The survey research portion covers research design, sampling design, measurement construction and psychometric properties. The statistics portion covers the nature of data and distributions, measures of central tendency and dispersion, and univariate and bivariate and hypotheses testing.

Assessment: Research design assignment (25%); mini-term paper (25%); written examination (50%).

SOC4015F SOCIAL RESEARCH METHODS: QUALITATIVE

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: N Mabandla

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course introduces qualitative research by focusing on qualitative interviews and qualitative data analysis, with reference to social research methods and research design. Students learn about the basic conceptual, methodological and technical aspects of conducting qualitative interviews and analysing qualitative data. They also begin to develop the ability to read critically and assess qualitative research reports. Classroom sessions combine theory and practice in the form of lectures, discussions, exercises and instruction on how to use NVivo computer software.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

SOC4019F GENDER, FAMILIES & THE STATE

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor E Moore

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course will examine the interrelationship between families, state and gender relations in the context of changing welfare policy and family law. The course pays particular attention to claims of use and abuse of state powers and resources in relation to families and personal life. The course will include a discussion of the relationship between responsibility and obligation, rights and rewards in the context of changing families and state intervention. The course will include detailed South African and international case studies which highlight different aspects of state-family engagement. Contrasting models of state-family relations will be outlined to help identify the idiosyncrasies of the South African context.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: Seminar participation (25%); short seminar assignments (10%); examination (65%).

SOC4021S INTRODUCTION TO POLITICAL ECOLOGY

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor F Matose

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme. Please note that places in the course are limited. Students in the Development Studies and Environmental Humanities streams will be given preference. Space permitting, students in other programmes will be admitted.

Course outline:

This course examines the intersection of society, natural resource management and development practice from a social science perspective. The course lays the ground for students in examining the nature of environmental issues that are faced by society today, with a particular focus on Africa. This is an introduction to a political ecology approach to environmental issues. The rest of the course then examines a select five sectoral issues that Africa faces beginning with land, followed by forests, wildlife and rangelands, wetlands and riverine commons. For each weekly seminar students will be exposed to each environmental issue within the human dimensions of natural resource use by engaging with a diverse range of empirical scholarship for each set of natural resource commons.

DP requirements: Class participation, seminar presentations and submission of all weekly assignments.

Assessment: Class participation (10%), presentation (10%), weekly hand-ins (30%), 3,000-word research paper (50%).

SOC4028F SOCIAL THEORY

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor N Gama

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

In this course we will first explore a number of philosophical, theoretical and political debates that have influenced Sociology (and, when appropriate, social studies more generally). Thereafter, we will examine the implications of these debates for researching, teaching and interpreting social phenomena in South Africa as well as other countries.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: One essay (50%), seminar presentation (30%) and class participation (20%).

SOC4037S CONTEMPORARY SOCIAL THEORY

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor F Garba Muhammed

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course is designed to aid postgraduate students in thinking about the theoretical aspects of their projects and theses. In doing so, it introduces students to recent theoretical works that attempt to think old and new social questions in Africa and beyond, from the vantage point of the present. Most of the works that the course engages look at what have come to be known as the “canons” of social theory. Course participants are invited to think about their immediate (geographically and socially) surroundings as a way of understanding societies and experiences that may appear distant and different. Key themes in the course include global inequality; the universal vs the particular; knowledge production, decolonisation and its limits; identity and its workings; and social differentiation.

DP requirements: Class attendance and the fulfilment of all course assignments is a requirement.

Assessment: Seminar presentation, attendance, and participation – 30%; Long paper – 70%: a long paper of 3,000 words connecting their project work to their final paper. Their final paper will hence draw on both the course materials and their thesis work.

SOC4053F IDENTITY, SUBJECTIVITY AND DIFFERENCE

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr N Vally

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme

Course outline:

The seminar will encourage debate around race, class, gender, and sameness/difference and the ways that these concepts and identities entangle and knot. We will challenge dualistic thinking that delineates ‘insiders’ and ‘outsiders’. In doing this we will be attentive to how historical thinking is inseparable from some of our most contemporary concerns. The seminar will pay attention to voices on the margins and will place emphasis on thinking decolonisation.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: Paper presentations (50%); thematic long essay (50%).

SOC4055F ADVANCED DEVELOPMENT THEORIES

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: N Mabandla

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course examines influential theories of development and their relationship to colonialism and global capitalism. The course emphasises historical context and ethnographic approaches for understanding the contemporary period, particularly the postcolonial developmental state.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: 100% Coursework: This might include weekly tasks, blogs and reviews of a given topic. Students will be assessed primarily via essay-style written work. Honours assignments should average 5,000 words.

SOC4056F RACE, CLASS AND IDENTITY

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor A Benya

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course explores how scholars have conceptualised class, race, and identities and the role that these have played in the subjugation of people in society. Using an intersectional approach, we pay attention to how race, class and identities are constructed, for what purpose, their consequences, how they are negotiated and contested in particular socio-political contexts and historical junctures. The course is appropriate for students in general and industrial sociology/psychology and other social sciences/humanities disciplines.

DP requirements: Participants are required to attend all seminars and participate actively in discussion in class.

Assessment: Attendance and participation (10%); Presentation and discussion facilitation (10%); Reflection Paper (1,000 words) (20%); Media Reaction paper (1,000 words) (20%); Argumentative long paper (3,000 words) (40%).

SOC4057S ACTION, RESISTANCE, ALTERNATIVES

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr B Tame

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme

Course outline:

The World Social Forum and many social movements and other organisations organise and mobilise around the slogan: “Another world is possible”. This course examines key features of working class experience in the context of globalisation. It examines the development of unions, social movements and protest action, focusing on the collective responses of the ‘discontents’ of globalisation. The central concern is acts and processes of resistance in the context of recurring capitalist crisis, and visions of alternative central to that resistance. Though a focus on selected organisations, events and issues, the course aims to contextualise and historicise working class resistance in the lived experience of globalisation and examine major debates within and about such resistance. Particular attention will be paid to issues of alienation and commodification in the struggle for alternatives in everyday life. Specific examples are drawn from recent South African history while the issues and questions are explored in the global context in which they exist.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: Essay (70%); seminar presentation and participation (30%). The following criteria for all graduate assessment: Accuracy; Relevance; Coherence; Cohesion. At Master's level, the final criteria of cohesion which requires the deepest level of analysis will be given the highest weighting in allocating the final mark.

SOC4058S SOCIOLOGY OF GENDER AND GLOBALISATION

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Pande

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme

Course outline:

This course will examine how definitions of gender and sexuality are reproduced, negotiated and deployed in the context of globalisation. Through a reading of theoretical texts about globalisation and ethnographic case studies of real people experience these processes, we will ask: What can we learn about gender, nation states, labour markets and globalisation from studying the encounter between them? The course is loosely divided into three sections. After an introduction to the theoretic debates around engendering globalisation, we will critically analyse the centrality of gender in national security, sovereignty of nation states and in policing national borders. In the next section we will discuss one of the most striking features of the contemporary global order: the feminisation of the global labour force and the concomitant commodification of intimacy. The class will end with some hopeful visions: alternative discourses and transnational alliances possible in the context of this globalised and gendered world.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all assignments.

Assessment: Seminar presentation (30%); long paper (70%).

SOC4059S WORKERS, CHANGE AND CONTINUITY

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor F Garba Muhammed

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme

Course outline:

The transition from Apartheid was accompanied with hopes and promises of “a better life for all”. This course explores the development of the workers movement in the struggle against Apartheid for that “better life for all”. It examines central aspects of the lived experience of the working class post-Apartheid, exploring the role of working class organisation and action. It is concerned with the question of change and continuity and the key issues which have emerged out of the struggle for change. These include visions of change held in the past, the meaning of such visions in the present, and their legacy for the future. Through a focus on selected organisations, events and issues, the course aims to contextualise and historicise processes of organisation and mobilisation, and examine major debates within and about these processes. Particular attention will be paid to practices and visions of collectivism, solidarity and sharing in the context of competitive individualism.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work, seminar preparation and presentation and tasks assigned in seminars.

Assessment: Essay (70%); seminar presentation and participation (30%). The following criteria for all graduate assessment: Accuracy; Relevance; Coherence; Cohesion. At Master's level, the final criteria of cohesion which requires the deepest level of analysis will be given the highest weighting in allocating the final mark.

SOC4060FS THEORISING JUSTICE FROM THE SOUTH

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor R Chaturvedi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course will focus on responses of various judicial and state institutions, and civil and political society to experiences of injustice and inequality in different parts of the postcolonial world—especially Africa, South Asia and Latin America. Students will be trained to glean understandings of a just world, freedom, self and community that underlie their institutional and discursive interventions, interrogate as well as draw upon them as conceptual resources. They will hence be prepared to undertake the work of generating new theories of justice and equality that abide by social and political life of the global south, and offer more inclusive, rich and democratic normative content than the prevailing paradigms.

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and at least 80% course attendance.

Assessment: Group project framed as a public intervention on selected topic (30%); Annotated bibliography on selected topic (20%); 1x Long paper (45%); Course participation (5%)

SOC4061FS FEMINIST SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY AND SOCIETY

12 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Pande

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

The course aims to introduce students to the field of Science, Technology and Society (STS). While we will acclimate students to the field, this is not intended as an exhaustive overview of the themes and issues in STS. Rather, we aim to explore some materials and methodologies in the field that allow us to better grapple with the 'social' of science. This course will be based on the intersections of feminist theory and STS. Instead of focusing on gender as the sole axis of Feminist STS, we will engage with how debates have developed over time around STS and the conversations with postcolonial, queer, disability studies and critical race theory.

Assessment: Assessment will include seminar participation (20%), a book review (30%), a presentation (25%), and weekly peer reviews (25%).

SOC5003FS IDENTITY, SUBJECTIVITY AND DIFFERENCE

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr N Vally

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

The seminar will encourage debate around race, class, gender, and sameness/difference and the ways that these concepts and identities entangle and knot. We will challenge dualistic thinking that delineates 'insiders' and 'outsiders'. In doing this we will be attentive to how historical thinking is inseparable from some of our most contemporary concerns. The seminar will pay attention to voices on the margins and will place emphasis on thinking decolonisation.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: Paper presentations (30%); long essay (70%).

SOC5007F ECONOMICS AND SOCIAL CHANGE

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor J Seekings

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course explores social and economic change through the lens of debates over 'development' and 'welfare' in contemporary Africa. We focus specifically on how social and economic changes - including deagrarianisation, urbanisation, change in kinship relations, cultural shifts and the changing global economic context - have challenged deep-rooted understandings of 'development' and 'welfare' in Southern and East Africa.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: Two essays (40% each); class participation (20%)

SOC5008S CONTEMPORARY SOCIAL THEORY

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor F Garba MuhammedCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.Course outline:

The course is designed to aid postgraduate students in thinking about the theoretical aspects of their projects and theses. In doing so, it introduces students to recent theoretical works that attempt to think old and new social questions in Africa and beyond, from the vantage point of the present. Most of the works that the course engages look at what have come to be known as the "canons" of social theory. Course participants are invited to think about their immediate (geographically and socially) surroundings as a way of understanding societies and experiences that may appear distant and different. Key themes in the course include global inequality; the universal vs the particular; knowledge production, decolonisation and its limits; identity and its workings; and social differentiation.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.Assessment: Seminar presentation, attendance, and participation – 30%; Long paper – 70%: a long paper of 4,000 words drawing on course materials and other related materials focussing on major theoretical debates, and an annotated bibliography of the scholarship around their chosen topic.

SOC5010F ADVANCED DEVELOPMENT THEORIES

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: N MabandlaCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.Course outline:

The course examines influential theories of development and their relationship to colonialism and global capitalism. The course emphasises historical context and ethnographic approaches for understanding the contemporary period, particularly the postcolonial developmental state.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.Assessment: 100% Coursework: This might include weekly tasks, blogs and reviews of a given topic. Students will be assessed primarily via essay-style written work. Masters assignments should average 6,500 words and the essay should be prepared in the style of a journal article.

SOC5011S SOCIETY AND NATURAL RESOURCES

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor F MatoseCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme. SOC5058S or equivalent.Course outline:

This course examines the intersection of society, natural resources management and development practice from a social science perspective. The course links an academic training in developmental sociology to the needs of non-profit organisations within the environmental sector in Cape Town. As part of the course, students undertake a short-term review of NPOs, government agencies or private sector organisations located within the Cape Town metropolitan area as a means for them to develop an understanding of the 'real world' challenges in policy and practice.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.Assessment: Oral presentations (20%); draft project submission (30%); final project report, up to 5,000 words (50%).

SOC5013S ACTION, RESISTANCE, ALTERNATIVES

Assessment: Class participation (10%), three long essays (30%).

SOC5024S DEVELOPMENT THEORY & PRACTICE

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr J de Wet

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme. Please note that places in the course are limited. Students in the MPhil Development Studies programme will be given preference. Space permitting, master's students in other programmes may be admitted.

Course outline:

This course links an academic training in Development Sociology to the needs of development practitioners working in non-profit organisations (NPOs) in Southern Africa. It explores the interface between academic knowledge and practitioner knowledge from a people-centred perspective. It contributes to personal and organisational effectiveness of middle and senior level personnel by developing, for example: analytical, policy formulation, financial management and evaluation skills. As part of the course, students undertake supervised internships in NPOs operating in the Cape Peninsula.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: Internship project evaluation report (30%); weekly contributions to seminars (10%); oral presentations (10%); two essays (50%).

SOC5030F IN-DEPTH INTERVIEWING AND ANALYSIS

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor E Moore

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme. SOC4013F or equivalent

Course outline:

This module uses seminars and fieldwork assignments to address some of the methodological and technical aspects of conducting in-depth interviews and analysing the results. Students will learn the techniques involved in interviewing for life histories, lived periods, situations and on-going personal experiences. The focus of this course is primarily on analysis of qualitative data. Qualitative data requires close interpretation which can be accomplished in a number of ways depending on the objectives of an investigation. This module will focus on thematic and narrative analysis and students will learn how to apply thematic and narrative analytic methods to qualitative data.

DP requirements: Students are required to do the reading for, attend and participate actively in all of the weekly seminar classes; to write short assignments for every seminar class; to write two short essays; and to complete the final assignment at the end of the course.

Assessment: Coursework (40%); take-home exam (60%).

SOC5032W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: N MabandlaCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.Course outline:

A dissertation completed under supervision which shows thorough practical and/or academic knowledge of the approved subject and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical power in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered, may embody such original work of others as may be pertinent, may include the candidate's own published material on the same subject, if the prior permission of the Senate has been obtained. The dissertation must be the candidate's own work and any contributions to and quotations in the dissertation must be cited and referenced.

DP requirements: Adhere to the MoU signed by the student, supervisor and Head of Department; participate in departmental Dissertation workshops.Assessment: A dissertation no more than 25,000 words in length.

SOC5034S GPNS DEVELOPMENT & DECENT WORK

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor A BenyaCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.Course outline:

This course will explore mainstream and alternative ideas and theories that have shaped Global Production Networks (GPNs) discourse. In the context of GPNs, and from a Global South perspective, we will grapple with a number of unresolved debates concerning decent work and development. Global shift in production and consumption trends, 'new' employment regimes, trade union strategies and collective resistance will be discussed.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.Assessment: Four essays (20% each); class participation (20%).

SOC5052F SURVEY DATA ANALYSIS

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr T MeyerCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme. SOC4013F or equivalent.Course outline:

The SOC5052F course applies intermediate level statistical techniques in the analysis of quantitative survey data. The course is not a statistics course per se but rather concentrates on the application of these techniques in the analysis of survey research data. The emphasis is thus on the following: the conceptualisation of research questions from theory and available research literature, engaging with survey datasets using multiple linear regression, logistic and factor analysis and reporting the results. The course also introduces students to a nuanced understanding of ethics and social justice in quantitative survey research. Students attend a weekly two-hour seminar and a two-hour practical which introduces them to computer-software assisted data analysis (SPSS).

Assessment: Class participation (10%), Assignment 1 (20%), Assignment 2 (20%), final research paper (50%).

SOC5054S WORLDS OF WORK

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr B TameCourse entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.Course outline:

This course explores the global reality of deteriorating employment opportunities in relation to key debates on occupational citizenship, labour regulation and precarious livelihoods. These debates are situated in the context of addressing the decent work deficit and understanding its impact on households. By focusing on a few key themes we will pay special attention to the various claims, tensions, and contradictions that emerge in different contexts and among those seeking livelihood opportunities.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: Seminar presentation/s and submissions (15%); response paper (25%); long essay (60%).

SOC5056S POLITICAL SOCIOLOGY

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor R Chaturvedi

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme

Course outline:

This course revolves around the relationship between state and society. It proceeds from the understanding that state and society are not two radically separate realms but fields of action and meaning that continually make and unmake one another. Thus on the one hand this course will examine the nature of ideas, and the network of institutions and practices that make up the modern nation state especially in postcolonial Africa; on the other hand it will study the formation of socially embedded agents of power who have not only lived out their own aspirations of self-determination, democracy and justice but also revolted against nationalist and neo-liberal concordances. Popular protests in Africa and other parts in the global south will be our special focus of attention here. The ways in which state and society have mutually constituted one another will be a key concern. In order to understand that, the course will draw on classical and contemporary theories as well as sociologically grounded ethnographies of political life particularly in the global south.

DP requirements: Attendance of all seminars and submission of all written assignments.

Assessment: Class attendance and participation (10%); presentation (25%); 6,000-words final essay (65%). Masters students should draw on at least 2 whole books and 4 articles for their final paper.

SOC5058S INTRODUCTION TO POLITICAL ECOLOGY

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor F Matose

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme. Please note that places in the course are limited. Students in the Development Studies and Environmental Humanities streams will be given preference. Space permitting, students in other programmes will be admitted.

Course outline:

This course examines the intersection of society, natural resource management and development practice from a social science perspective. The course lays the ground for students in examining the nature of environmental issues that are faced by society today, with a particular focus on Africa. This is an introduction to a political ecology approach to environmental issues. The rest of the course then examines a select five sectoral issues that Africa faces beginning with land, followed by forests, wildlife and rangelands, wetlands and riverine commons. For each weekly seminar students will be exposed to each environmental issue within the human dimensions of natural resource use by engaging with a diverse range of empirical scholarship for each set of natural resource commons.

DP requirements: Class participation, seminar presentations and submission of all weekly assignments.

Assessment: Class participation (10%), presentation (10%), weekly hand-ins of 2-page reflections on assigned readings (30%), 5,000-word research paper (50%).

SOC5059FS THEORISING JUSTICE FROM THE SOUTH

DP requirements: Submission of all written work and at least 80% seminar attendance.

Assessment: 1x short submission framed as intervention in public and academic debates (35%) 1x Long research paper (50%); Course participation and seminar presentation (15%).

SOC5060FS COMMONS GOVERNANCE IN AFRICA

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor F Matose

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

The course offers both critical and propositional perspectives, to equip graduates, practitioners, policy makers and officials to improve governance and wellbeing in African countries' integrative commons governance to address contemporary crises, and how the knowledge economy may be refocused on innovation that supports the commons and sustainability.

DP requirements: Attendance/engagement of seminars and submission of assigned tasks.

Assessment: Initial short essay of 2,500-3,000 words in which each student situates their commons problematic; Weekly reflections on materials shared on seminar website; Final long essay or project of 5,000-6,000 words on a selected commons case study from Africa.

SOC5061FS FEMINIST SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY AND SOCIETY

12 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Pande

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

The course aims to introduce students to the field of Science, Technology and Society (STS). While we will acclimate students to the field, this is not intended as an exhaustive overview of the themes and issues in STS. Rather, we aim to explore some materials and methodologies in the field that allow us to better grapple with the 'social' of science. This course will be based on the intersections of feminist theory and STS. Instead of focusing on gender as the sole axis of Feminist STS, we will engage with how debates have developed over time around STS and the conversations with postcolonial, queer, disability studies and critical race theory.

DP requirements: None.

Assessment: Assessment will include seminar participation (20%), a book review (30%), a presentation (25%), and weekly peer reviews (25%). Masters students will be expected to submit longer assignments and will be graded with a different rubric.

Convener: Dr M Mtshali

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course is an intensive consideration of theory and philosophy in historical and contemporary theatre, dance and performance texts. Through this course the student will develop critical, analytical skills for reading performance texts, a comprehensive understanding of world theatre, dance and performance, and understand the influence of broad socio-political movements on performance. The course will focus on a specific geopolitical region and timeframe, e.g. Africa and South African theatre and performance, 1960-2010. Regular theatre attendance locally, and attendance at key theatre/dance festivals is desirable.

DP requirements: Regular attendance at all seminars and other class meetings, as well as successful and timely completion of all assignments and essays.

Assessment: Formative written assignments and seminar presentations 50%. Written Examination and written assignment, 50%, externally examined.

TDP4023W DIRECTING

48 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr M Mtshali

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course explores directing theory in depth, and offers the students opportunity to develop their directing practice for the stage. Coursework is by extensive reading of directing theory, regular studio workshops, and observation of an experienced director at work, practical directing tasks and written assignments. Assessment will consist of formative directing tasks, analytic written assignments, a directing examination piece and the Director's Book.

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars, practical workshops, and completion of all practical and written assignments.

Assessment: Formative written and practical tasks 40%. Director's Book and Directing task 60%, externally examined.

TDP4024S READINGS IN PERFORMANCE B

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr M Mtshali

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course is an intensive consideration of theory and philosophy in historical and contemporary theatre, dance and performance texts. Through this course the student will develop critical, analytical skills for reading performance texts, a comprehensive understanding of world theatre, dance and performance, and understand the influence of broad socio-political movements on performance. The course will focus on a specific geopolitical region and/or timeframe, e.g. European and Asian theatre and performance. Regular theatre attendance locally, and attendance at key theatre/dance festivals is desirable.

DP requirements: Regular attendance at all seminars and other class meetings, as well as successful and timely completion of all assignments and essays.

Assessment: Formative written assignments and seminar presentations 50%. Written Examination and written assignment, 50%, externally examined.

TDP4036W TECHNICAL THEATRE MANAGEMENT

48 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: J-L Crewe

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course explores the challenges of technical theatre management through fortnightly class tutorials in theoretical and practical aspects of technical work in the theatre. The theory and practice is applied through the work completed in at least two (major) assignments, in the fields of stage management, lighting, costume, properties and sound or audio/visual design. These assignments are accompanied by a fully theorised and written explication of this work, including visual support materials as appropriate (such as design sketches, photographs, lighting plans, ground plans, prompt copy, lighting or sound cue sheets, a CD/DVD of lighting or sound material utilised).

DP requirements: Attendance at all seminars, practical workshops, and completion of all practical and written assignments.

Assessment: Contribution to tutorials, readings and reports (15%); practical contribution and written explication of involvement in one production (35%). Examination task (production assignment, written explication, portfolio), externally examined (50%).

TDP4042W DANCE

48 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor G Samuel

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for BA Hons specialising in Dance.

Course outline:

This course explores several discourses in Dance through practical studios, workshops, field trips and masterclasses. The boundaries and interstices between the professional lives of dancers is a central axis of this course. Attendance at a wide range of Dance performances and seminars is expected.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes, performances and rehearsals. Completion of all projects.

Assessment: Participation in studios, workshops and masterclasses, together with the final live presentation and portfolio count 100% of the final mark.

TDP4043W LIVE ART

48 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for BA Hons (Live Art Stream).

Course outline:

This course investigates through practice and theory, notions of 'live art' or 'performance art'. Live art as a term is used here, to encompass performance practice that cannot be defined as dance, drama, visual art or music. The field draws from these disciplines as well as others such as writing, architecture and film to such disciplines as anthropology, ecology, sociology and political science. Theoretical perspectives consider the history of such interdisciplinary practices in the West with the development of performance art at the turn of the twentieth century as well as the roots of elements of live art in classical African tradition. The course focuses on the practice of live art in contemporary South Africa and the conceptualization and production of a Live Art work.

DP requirements: Attendance at all classes, performances and rehearsals. Completion of all projects.

Assessment: Assessments consisting of seminar presentations, the examination of the live art production and a written assignment will together count 100% of the final mark.

TDP5003W THEATRE & PERFORMANCE PART A

48 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: M Kabwe

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

In support of the student's research, the candidate will be required to attend and contribute to:

- The weekly seminar and workshop programme (MA studio and incidental workshops)
- Undergraduate tutoring and possible tutoring methods classes
- The performance forums of the department
- The candidate may attend practical classes for the purposes of skills development as appropriate and allocated.

DP requirements: Completion of all projects, seminars and coursework.

Assessment: The student will propose, undertake and present for: Theatre Making: A supervised minor project; a supervised medium project; a seminar paper; Theatre Practice - Directing: A directed scene or project of 20-30 minutes, one act play or equivalent thereof, a seminar paper; Theatre Practice - Theatre Voice: Two voice workshops and a one-on-one session of 20-30 minutes each OR a creative voice project of 20-30 minutes, a vocal coaching project OR a creative voice project of 60-90 minutes, a seminar paper. Provided the student has completed the required coursework, the student will be awarded an unclassified 'Pass', and will be allowed to proceed with TDP5013W.

TDP5010W THEATRE AND DANCE STUDIES: RESEARCH

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr M Mtshali

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

Candidates will undertake and complete supervised research on an approved topic and field of research emerging from and relevant to their study in the coursework. Students must ensure that they are available for regular meetings with their supervisors.

The research, which will probably be submitted by April or September in the year following the first registration, must be embodied in a 25,000 (maximum) word dissertation,

DP requirements: The candidate will abide by the supervision and submission arrangements as agreed between the candidate and supervisor in their memorandum of understanding at the start of the process of writing the minor dissertation.

Assessment: By minor dissertation of 25,000 words, externally examined.

TDP5013W THEATRE AND PERFORMANCE PART B

Mission Statement

The Department for the Study of Religions is committed to the study of religions which will contribute to public life in our local, regional, national and continental contexts. It is dedicated to:

- the open, plural, intercultural, and interdisciplinary study of religion in all its forms;
- the in-depth study of African religious traditions;
- the creative and critical analysis of religion as a force in personal, social, economic and political life;

THE STUDY OF RELIGIONS, DEPARTMENT FOR 380

- the promotion of quality education and research in the study of religion as a vital contribution to the transformation and development of South Africa.

The mission statement is implemented through degree specialisations that focus on the broad themes of religion, culture, identity and ethics. The Department offers a systematic study of religion in public life, its meaning and significance in South Africa in particular and Africa in general. These themes are explored in core courses team-taught by faculty members and also reflected in various research projects and institutes presently housed in the Department.

Core courses provide the thematic, methodological and theoretical foundations for all students who choose to pursue degrees in this department. Additional courses continue this focus within the established areas of specialisation: African Studies, Christian Studies, Comparative Studies, Islamic Studies, Jewish Studies, Buddhism and Japanese Religions, and Critical Theory.

Centre for Contemporary Islam (CCI)

The CCI is located in the Department for the Study of Religions, Leslie Social Science Building, Upper Campus.

Website: www.cci.uct.ac.za

Director and Co-Director: Professor S Shaikh (Study of Religions) and Associate Professor Fatima Seedat (African Feminist Studies).

The CCI was founded in 1995 to bring attention to the scholarly study of Islam and Muslim societies and communities. From Oct 2021, under the new leadership of Prof Shaikh and A/Prof Seedat, the CCI functions as feminist, decolonial research and teaching hub for the study of Islam, gender and sexuality in Africa and globally. The CCI has housed numerous research projects over the last 26 years including Muslim Scholars in the History of the Lake Chad Area (Dr Andrea Brigaglia); Islam and Public Life in Africa and Biographies of Religious Engagement (Prof Abdulkader Tayob); South African Muslim Women: Sexuality, Marriage and Reproductive Choices and Theorizing Experience Subjectivity and Narrative in Studies of Gender and Islam (Prof Shaikh). The CCI provides a place for established and emerging researchers, as well as the general public to share ideas and develop insights about Islam and Muslim societies. Over the next five years CCI will develop research, teaching and advocacy on contemporary Muslim feminist approaches to ethics and law, to expand the pistemological foundations for gender justice and social transformation in Muslim communities.

African Centre for Religion, Ethics and Society (ACRES)

African Centre for Religions, Ethics and Society (ACRES) is headed by Professor Asonzeh Ukah as director and Professor Abdulkader Tayob as deputy director. Based in the Department for the Study of Religions. ACRES was established in 2021 as an amalgam of two pre-existing research units. These units were the Research Institute for Christianity and Society in Africa (RICSA) and a research project pioneered and Chaired by Professor Abdulkader Tayob on Islam, African Publics and Religious Values. The latter project is a core enterprise of the NRF Chair in the Department for the Study of Religions. After several years of working in silos, the coming together of these research strands was to give force and impetus to the place of African religions (Indigenous religions, Christianities and Islam) as a transforming and transformative force in African societies. ACRES is a pluridisciplinary think tank of eminent scholars from varying academic disciplines with the mandate to conduct empirical research on the changing character and the transformative potential of religion in contemporary African societies and elsewhere around the world. The undergirding philosophy of practice of ACRES is the rarely acknowledged historical understanding that in the past hundred and fifty years, the greatest, most pervasive, and most far-reaching socio-cultural transformation in Africa has been religious in character. Understanding the multi-faceted implications of this historical fact would shed light on different aspects of social, economic, cultural and political life in Africa and how these are connected to the global arena. The intellectual mandate of ACRES is the mapping out of the modes of religious epistemologies as an engine of socioethical transformation and a (potential) driver of social change in Africa and elsewhere. To this end, ACRES provides a platform for the development of research on the intersection of African religions, projects of development and transformation, moralities in the making and other aspects of social life. Scholars working in the centre investigate how religious knowledge and ethics intersect with other spheres of social experience and life, and further the collaboration and network among researchers in Africa, and at the international level on the critical study of African religions and their ethical doctrines and practices in contemporary society.

The Centre for the Study of Asian Religions (CSAR)

The Centre for the Study of Asian Religions (CSAR) is headed by Associate Professor Elisabetta Porcu and aims to promote and systematize both the study of religious aspects of Asian culture in historical and contemporary perspective, and the interactions of Asian religions with South African culture and society. The CSAR coordinates the research of scholars and postgraduate research students based at the University of Cape Town, with the aim to foster the academic study of Asian religions and their interplay with society and culture within South Africa and beyond; foster collaborations and networks among colleagues within South Africa and at the international level for the study of this topic, among other objectives.

Course Outlines:

Please note that where the same course is offered for both the honours (HEQSF level 8, 4000 level) and masters (HEQSF level 9, 5000 level) degrees, students must register for the course appropriate to their current qualification level. Students who have completed the 4000-level version of a course are excluded from enrolling on the 5000-level version of the same course and vice versa.

The Faculty reserves the right to cancel course/s if there is insufficient student interest. Confirmation of whether the course/s will be offered will be published on Vula/Amathuba, Departmental and Postgraduate Faculty noticeboards by the first Friday of the semester in which the course begins.

REL4010F METHODS AND THEORY IN THE STUDY OF RELIGIONS 1

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr A Alhourani

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course introduces students to the field and discipline of The Study of Religions as it has developed in the West and imposed itself in this and other departments for The Study of Religions. The main part of this course will be a critical reading of core texts describing and analysing the making of the discipline of The Study of Religions, focusing on laying bare the foundations, theoretical frameworks, disciplinary questions and central concerns of The Study of Religions that has dominated the academy. The course will critically interrogate some of the defining parameters, epistemological and political assumptions that have historically defined the discipline. Selected postcolonial and decolonial readings will be used to read against the dominant narratives to enable a creative rethinking of current possibilities in the field of The Study of Religions.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed assignments by due dates. Regular attendance and participation in class.

Assessment: Response papers (50%). Final essay of 4,000 words (50%).

REL4011H RESEARCH PROJECT / ESSAY

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor S Shaikh

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

An appropriate research paper, on a topic chosen in negotiation with the Head of Department and written under the supervision of a staff member. The paper needs to be of approximately 15,000 words in length, and it must demonstrate the student's ability to engage with the theory and methodology of religious studies.

DP requirements: Submission of essay.

Assessment: Research essay 100%.

REL4012S METHODS AND THEORY IN THE STUDY OF RELIGIONS 2

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor E Porcu & Professor A Ukah

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course focuses on applying the theoretical frameworks and methodologies introduced in Methods and Theories 1 to the research project in the Study of Religions in terms of research proposal, selection of methodological and theoretical frameworks, literature review, thesis development and data analysis.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed assignments by due dates. Regular attendance and participation in class.

Assessment: Response papers (50%). Research project of 4,000 words (50%).

REL4046FS BUDDHISM IN CONTEMPORARY SOCIETY

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor E Porcu

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course will examine Buddhism as a living tradition in its relation to society and culture. Students will be exposed to different Buddhist traditions both in their historical and contemporary developments, their teachings and practices. We will, for example, explore issues of orientalism and hegemonic power in the construction of Buddhism, Buddhism and gender, Buddhism and popular culture, Buddhism, art and the media, and the transmission of Buddhism to the West and Africa, as well as Buddhism-based new religious movements. Particular emphasis will be placed on East Asian Buddhism.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed assignments by due dates. Regular attendance and participation in class.

Assessment: Class presentations (10%). 4 weekly response papers (40%). Final essay of 4,000 words (50%).

REL4049FS ISLAMIC STUDIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr A Alhourani

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course provides postgraduate students with tools to study Islam as a religious tradition-spanning through changing historical context(s). Using the tools of the phenomenological and historical study of religion, the course enables the students to analyse the beliefs, practices and institutions of Islam in their variety, historical development and various contexts. Themes explored include the life of the Prophet Muhammad; the transmission of the foundational sacred texts of Islam (Quran and Hadith); the development of Islamic law and jurisprudence, the formation of schools of theology and philosophy; Islamic mysticism (Sufism). Each of the above themes is addressed through a combination of phenomenological and critical historical method.

DP requirements: Submission of all prescribed assignments by due dates. Regular attendance of weekly seminars.

Assessment: Weekly response papers (50%) and one 4,000-word essay (50%).

REL4054FS RELIGION, GENDER AND SEXUALITY: EXPLORING CONTESTED TERRITORIES

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor S Shaikh

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course explores the dynamic interplay between gender, sexuality and religion. Using diverse feminist theoretical lenses, we examine how social norms, ethics, and symbols intertwine with sexuality and gender across different religious landscapes. With sensitivity, we navigate through the evolving landscapes of contemporary religious practices, laws, spirituality, texts, and interpretations. The course investigates the rich tapestry of gender theorizations, the evolving concept of personhood and subjectivities, ethics and social dynamics, across selected religious landscapes. Immersing ourselves in vibrant and shifting religious imaginaries, the course invites us to be both critical and constructive in thinking through the boundaries and transformations of gender and sexuality perspectives emerging in the contemporary period.

DP requirements: Regular participation to weekly seminars; submission of all prescribed assignments by due dates.

Assessment: Response papers/short essays (40%), oral presentation (10%), and final research essay, 3,500 words (50%).

REL4113FS ISSUES IN CONTEMPORARY JEWISH THOUGHT

24 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr L P Blond

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for an honours programme.

Course outline:

This course raises issues that affect much of 20th century and contemporary Jewish thought as they affect religious and secular life. The Jewish experience of the twentieth century is marked by emancipation, holocaust and the re-establishment of the State of Israel. We will explore a selection of thinkers who have attempted to come to terms with the consequences of these events as they affect secular and religious life. The thinkers selected will be major figures in Jewish thought who have wrestled with the political, philosophical and religious questions raised in Jewish experience, such as Hannah Arendt, Emil Fackenheim, Richard Rubenstein, Theodor Adorno, Emmanuel Levinas, Jacques Derrida, Yeshayahu Leibowitz. We will also address themes such as post-holocaust thought, religious freedom and the law, and the relationship of Jews to the European tradition and the concept of otherness.

DP requirements: Regular attendance at all seminars and timely completion of all assignments and essays.

Assessment: Weekly response papers (50%) and a 4,000-word essay (50%).

REL5003W MINOR DISSERTATION

96 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor S Shaikh

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

A dissertation completed under supervision which shows thorough practical and/or academic knowledge of the approved subject and methods of research, and evidence of independent critical power in the handling and interpretation of material already known or newly discovered, may embody such original work of others as may be pertinent, may include the candidate's own published material on the same subject, if the prior permission of the Senate has been obtained. The dissertation must be the candidate's own work and any contributions to and quotations in the dissertation must be cited and referenced.

DP requirements: Regular consultation with supervisor.

Assessment: A dissertation of no more than 25,000 words in length.

REL5018FS RELIGION, GENDER AND SEXUALITY: EXPLORING

REL5111FS READING RELIGIOUS TEXTS

(May not be offered in 2025)

24 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr A Alhourani

Course entry requirements: Acceptance for a master's programme.

Course outline:

This course is designed to give students exposure to religious texts and their commentarial literature in the religious traditions studied in the department. It will introduce hermeneutical and analytical tools for reading these texts in translation or, skills permitting, in their original languages. With these tools, students will undertake a close reading of selected texts in light of their social and religious contexts. They will also develop the skills to address relevant issues about canon, authenticity, orality and writing, intertextuality and interpretation. This course will prepare masters students for the critical contextual reading essential to undertake new research in these traditions.

DP requirements: Regular attendance at all seminars and timeous completion of all assignments and essays.

Assessment: Weekly seminar papers (50%). A final essay of 6,000 words (50%).

The Institute for Creative Arts (ICA) is an interdisciplinary institute in the University of Cape Town's Humanities Faculty – formerly the Gordon Institute for Performing and Creative Arts (GIPCA). The ICA facilitates research projects in the creative and performing arts that disrupt boundaries, while underscoring creative education and practice across discipline and faculty. Interdisciplinarity, Live Art and Public Spheres are key themes of the Institute, and projects are imbued with innovation, collaboration and a dialogue with urbanism and community.

Institute for the Humanities in Africa (HUMA)

Located in the Faculties of Humanities and Law, HUMA takes a broad view of the humanities, encompassing the social sciences and law.

Director:

TBA

Staff:

TBA

The humanities have long been vital to the creative and critical energies of societies in the throes of profound change. HUMA – the Institute for the Humanities in Africa – is a new initiative at UCT, intended to create a space of dynamic interdisciplinary community for scholars and students in the humanities at large. Fostering top-end academic research, HUMA seeks also to draw on that work to nurture critical public debate, promoting UCT’s vision of itself as a civic university contributing to the making of democratic citizenship. HUMA’s intellectual agenda is driven by two inclusive research themes ‘on being human’, and ‘circuits of consumption’, which inform and structure three primary objectives:

- to conduct and promote research that is historically grounded and theoretically engaged, with an eye to the ‘big’ theoretical and ethical questions that anchor South African issues in wider fields of experience and analysis. The combination of intellectual focus and breadth provided by HUMA’s research themes is intended to open up spaces for dialogue, collaboration and argument across disparate theoretical, epistemological and methodological traditions, and in ways that help examine the project of interdisciplinary work.
- to nurture the expertise and enthusiasm of graduate students interested in an academic career, through a combination of intensive and supportive doctoral supervision, and a broader programme of seminars, symposia and workshops that help develop the intellectual versatility and confidence which an academic career requires. A doctoral fellowship programme is central to the pursuit of this objective.
- to bring scholars and graduate students into conversation with interested publics, around issues of shared and topical concern. HUMA hopes to promote what public intellectuals in the humanities do best, which is to de-familiarise and unsettle established ways of seeing, think creatively about pressing social and political questions, and keep the imagination of alternative futures alive.

This mission is embedded in a particular understanding of our location in Africa. Africa is a landmass with a deep and complex history of connection and disconnection amongst its many inhabitants; being African means being party to formative relationships of connection and disconnection that shape the ways we think and act. Our scholarship and debate, then, will be positioned in Africa, even if the focus of our deliberations is not limited to the continent.
