As a project of the African and Italian Languages and the Translation and Interpreting Studies disciplines at University of Cape Town and University of the Witwatersrand, and with the cooperation of the Italian Cultural Institute and the Consulate of Italy in Cape Town:

WE ARE SEEKING SHORT STORIES IN ITALIAN, ISIXHOSA AND ISIZULU FOR INCLUSION IN A VOLUME TO SHOWCASE YOUTH WRITING FROM SOUTH AFRICA, AND ILLUSTRATIONS TO THE SAME END.

*Do you live in South Africa?
Are you strictly between 18 and 25?
Do you want to be published?*

The stories and illustrations we are looking for will be on the topic of freedom as you interpret it. It could be political or social freedom, it could be freedom in nature, or something much more personal.

Stories should be roughly 3500 words and should be accompanied by an English translation. Illustration/s should be A5, 600dpi in black and white or colour.

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED, SUBMIT YOUR STORY (IN ONE OF THE TARGET LANGUAGES) OR YOUR ILLUSTRATION.

Note that not all submissions will be published. A selection committee will consider stories and illustrations rigorously and select 3 or 4 stories for each language and 10 illustrations from among them.

The chief incentive is publication but the best adjudged story in each language will receive a prize of R 10000. The same will apply for the best illustration.
